Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 1, 1869. No. 26.

The So-called French Canadian Exodus.

We are indebted to Mr. Brydges for the following statement of facts :—

The question of Emigration to Canada is naturally one of very considerable interest to the Grand Trunk Railway Company, and equally so is the question of the asserted exodus—as it has been called—of residents of Lower Canada, from this country to the United States. Feeling a great interest in this question, and having seen the remarks which have been made in the newspapers upon the subject, I thought it to be a matter of considerable importance to ascertain the actual facts in regard to the assumed departure of large numbers of Lower Canadians to the neighboring republic. I therefore on the 10th inst., addressed the following circular to all the Agents of this Company, at our stations in Lower Canada, extending from Coteau, west of Montreal, to Quebec, Riviere du Loup, and as far as the Boundary line, near Island Pond—as usual every Spring.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY OF CANADA.

Managing Director's Office

MONTREAL, May 10, 1869.

Circular No. 132.

I wish to have from you, as soon as possible, a statement as to whether there has been during the present season, any unusual number of persons leaving your vicinity permanently for the United States. It has been stated that there has been, during the present season, a much larger emigration than usual from places in Lower Canada to the States.

I want to know how far your knowledge of this fact extends, as to whether there has been more people leaving this year than usual, and, if so, what is the cause that is producing the extraordinary exodus.

Give me, as far as possible, figures from your Returns, and show the number of tickets sold this year, as compared with previous ones; and if you have any information in regard to the departure of people from your vicinity by any other means than the railway, I shall be glad to know it.

Have you any reason to suppose that any of the people who are now going, or have been going, to the United States, are simply going for the purpose of working during the summer, or for any particular period, intending to return again to their homes in Canada.

I should like a reply to this Circular to be sent in as soon as possible.

C. J. BRYDGES.
Managing Director.

All the replies from places where considerable population exist, state that every year for many years back, there has been a regular flow of people in the Spring, to the United States, for the purpose of working in Factories, Brick yards, &c., there, the great majority of whom return in the Fall; with the proceeds of their earnings during the season. The replies to my circular state that Agents from different places in the States are in the habit every Winter of visiting certain portions of Lower Canada, and engaging for specified rates of wages, people to work in the Cotton Factories of New England, and the Brickyards in the neighborhood of Boston, and New York, and that these people so engaged, and so employed, invariably return to their homes, and remain in Canada during the winter, bringing with them the wages they have earned. This is the general effect of the replies which I have received.

I will now give the exceptions to those statements showing how far the departure of residents of Lower Canada has this year been exceptional, and likely to be a permanent depletion of the people of the country.

The agent at Coaticooke reports: "nearly every train from the South (i. e. from the United States) brings back French Canadians, who are returning and settling down upon lands in this and the adjoining Townships."

The agent at Compton states that the stage line from Compton to Stanstead and Derby has not carried many passengers since the 1st of January, and is discontinued—during the week in which he wrote.

The number of tickets sold at that station in 1869 was rather less than in 1868.

From one or two of the stations on the Riviere du Loup line, there are reports of about 20 families in all having left their homes to go west of Chicago.

From L'Islet the agent reports, since 1864, or during the last [illegible] years, about 20 families have left for the United States.

From St. Hyacinthe, the agent reports that there have been a larger number left this year than usual; but the total increase in the sales of his tickets, in 4 months and a half, only amounts to 1,300; and he puts down only a small proportion of that number as being anything more than the usual number of those who leave that vicinity every year for the purpose already mentioned, and who came back again in the fall.

From one or two places the remarks is made that a few (I cannot trace the number to amount in all to more than than 800 or 400) have gone, because they have been informed it is the intention of the Government to make a draft upon the people for military purposes.

They appear to have been afraid that they were to have been engaged in war, and to be drafted for that purpose, and have gone away [illegible] avoid such a contingency.

From our Bonaventure Street Station, in Montreal, the agent has made a very careful report, from which it would seem that from all sources, between the 1st of Jan. and the middle of May, there have been about 2,600 more tickets sold for places in the United States then was the case last year.

The great majority of this increase went by way of St. Johns, in the direction of New York and Boston, comparatively few having gone to the Western States; but of those who have gone to the Western States, the agent reports that considerable numbers are now returning by every train—finding their anticipations of profitable employment were not realized when they got there.

The agent also reports that the excess this year of those going to Boston and New York is on account of the greater demand for employment in those localities, and that the greater part of those that have gone, have expressed their determination to return after working in the summer, and to bring back the proceeds of their labor.

He also states that he is informed by the travellers themselves, that they have been induced to go by agents who have gone through the parishes, making contracts to employ the people, at certain specified rates of wages, and which rate of pay is a good deal lower than the price which was in general use at the points at which they are engaged to work. Many of the young men who have gone to the States have been engaged at $20 a month and their board. They bring back nearly the whole of the money which they receive in cash.

From St. Johns the agent reports that between the 1st of Jan. and 15th of May, about 800 people have taken tickets at that station for various points along the Vermont Central Railway. He states that a large number of those have gone as usual for summer employment, and will return in the Fall of the year," but that there are also a good many of the 800 who have left to become permanent settlers in the United States, having taken their families and all their property with them.

This is the result of the replies to the enquiries which I have made. The agent at the 90 places to which I sent the circular have of course, had no communication with each other, and their replies are all spontaneous, and I have no doubt whatever are a correct representation of the facts existing in their localities.

If gather, by a general examination of their replies, that there has been, this year, a departure of somewhere about 200 to 300 families by the Grand Trunk Railway from the whole of Lower Canada to the United States, who have no apparent intention of returning to their homes; that, in addition, there has been an excess to the usual emigration of people to work in factories and brickyards of probably not less than 3,000 persons, beyond those who have gone for similar purposes at various periods during this time of the year; and that it is the intention of nearly the whole, if not all, of those who have thus gone, to return during the Fall, bringing with them the products of their industry for the time they have been away. It also further shows that of those who have gone to the Western States, intending permanently to settle there, a considerable number have already returned, and that every train is bringing back more, owing to those who have gone not finding their expectations realized. My object of course in making these enquiries has been simply to ascertain the facts.

I think this careful abstract of the replies which I have received to my circular, proves that the statement which have appeared in many newspapers in regard to the "exodus" of Lower Canadians to the United States have not been justified by the actual facts. Of course I can only speak of the movement of people by railway; but I think it will be admitted that not many, from the 1st of January to the middle of May, could have left except by using the Grand Trunk Railway.

C. J. BRYDGES.
Managing Director,
Grand Trunk Railway.

Montreal, May 28th, 1869.

There is found on the coast of British Columbia, Russian America, and Vancouver's Island a little fish, not larger than a smelt, clad in glittering armor, which is fat almost beyond conception. Its scientific name Salmon Pacificus—probably is called the candle fish. It is next to impossible to broil or fry them, for they melt completely into oil. They are so marvellous fat that the natives use them for lighting their lodges. For this purpose the dried fish are perforated from head to tail by a piece of rush pitch by means of a long needle made of hardwood. The wick is then lighted, and the fish burns steadily with sufficiently good light to read by.

A Terrible Death.

(From the London Free Press).

A sad and melancholy accident occurred to-day at the crossing of the Grand Trunk switch, on Main street, Lucan. As the Buffalo Express was going west, at 6 o'clock this evening, (Thursday) an old resident by the name of James Atkinson, (Major) aged about 50 years, was returning to his home rather the worse of liquor; and just as he got to the crossing the train came along at full speed and struck the unfortunate man on the head, dashing out his brains and otherwise mutilating his body. He was carried on a stretcher to the Queen's Hotel, and word sent to the bereaved family, who immediately repaired to the place (a sad spectacle to behold) and conveyed his body home. He left his home in the morning in good spirits, but returned a mutilated corpse. He leaves a wife and seven children to mourn his loss.

—There are in the British Parliament 16 Scotch and 28 Irish Representative Peers. Nominally they are elected. but really the Scotch Peers are nominated by the Duke of Buccleuch, and the Irish Peers by Lord Derby. Consequently, no Liberal Irish or Scotch Peer has a chance of admission, a system additional hard upon Scotch Peers because they may not sit in the Commons. Mr. Stapleton, member for Berwick, proposes to remedy this justice by a bill introducing the minority principle into the elections, and Mr. Gladstone on Tuesday hinted his adhesion to the principle. Mr. Stapleton will scarcely get his Bill through the Lords, more especially as the Scotch and Irish Peers have not surrendered their hope of entering the Peers in a body.—London Spectator.

AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST.—We have received the April number of this excellent journal, which is as usual full of instructive and profitable reading for farmers and others. Although still retaining its well earned reputation as the leading agricultural journal of America, it is sold for $1.50 per annum. American currency. Published by Orange Judd & Co., 245 Broadway, N. THE OLD FAVORITES COMING.—Mr. Waldron, the agent for the Alleghanians, Vocalists and Swiss Bell Ringers, arrived in town yesterday. The troupe are now reorganized, and present new quartettes, songs, duetts, and new pieces upon the Swiss Bells. Every one will be pleased to learn that they are to appear at Ontario Hall on Friday evening, June 11th, and we bespeak for them a full house. We understand that "Comical Galloway" is still with the company, and we advise all to have their buttons well fastened before going. "Laughing," it is said, "helps digestion," if so, all dispeptics should hear and see Galloway sing "Lord Lovel." Their advertisement will appear in a few days.

MANUFACTURER AND BUILDER.—We have received the fifth number of a journal called "The Manufacturer and Builder," published monthly in New York, by Western & Co., at the low price of $1 50 a year. It is a large quarto, contains 22 pages, is beautifully printed, handsomely illustrated, is filled with valuable reading matter, and gives evidence of being ably managed. By Balloon to Europe.

The New York Tribune of the 25th gives a lengthy account of a proposed trip to Europe by balloon from New York, by the famous aeronaut Chevalier, with descriptions of the great enterprize, &c. We have not room for the entire article, which is one full of interest to the scientific world, but give a synopsis of its most important features. This Chevalier came to New York about three months ago, and announced his intention of making an aerial voyage to Europe, but he was dismissed from the public mind as a humbug. The aeronaut, however, little recked what was said or thought about him, but went quietly to work to perfect his plans. He communicated with some of the principal scientific men of the country, and the result is today the great enterprise is in a most auspicious state—the balloon and its appurtenances in complete order, the connection with the gas pipes made, and the period for departure definitely fixed for about the middle of July.

Chevalier is a Russian by birth, is about 38 years of age, and claims close relationship to the Czar of Russia. He has had a great penchant for aerostation, and has lavished his patrimony on balloons of all shapes and varieties—fish-shaped, bird-shaped, cigar-shaped, cylindrical, with machinery and without, but beyond the gratification of his taste for ballooning study, and no result save the reduction of his fortune. He finally made one invention in his art, however, which will give him an enduring fame, and which goes far toward assuring the success of his perilous enterprise of traversing the wide Atlantic.—This was the "compensator" balloon—a small reservoir balloon placed beneath the mouth of the main balloon to receive the gas which escapes by expansion in high altitudes, and which in ordinary balloons is lost. It was during his stay in Paris with Nadar that Chevalier engaged in the greatest ballooning feat in history, the voyage of the famous balloon "Le Geant."

The remarkable incidents of the ascent of "Le Geant," which took place in Paris in 1864, are doubtless fresh in the memory of many of our readers. It was 195 feet in height, held 650,000 cubic feet of gas, and was of such tremendous power that previously to the final start it took up 54 soldiers of the National Guard, or as many as could be packed into the car and its rigging.

"Le Geant" left Paris at 5 p. m. on the 16th of September. The same night, at 10 o'clock, its electric lights attracted the attention of the guard on a boundary post between Holand and Germany, who informed the balloonists that they were 700 miles from home. They then ascended again and during the night Chevalier had the proud pleausure of seeing the value of his compensator balloon practically demonstrated, as it was at one time half full of gas that would otherwise have been lost, and rendered further progress impossible. The landing was effected the next day at 5 o'clock, not without serious casualties, however as the Princess, Nadar, St. Felix, Delessert, and Chevalier, all had limbs broken, and were otherwise seriously hurt. The balloon had traversed 1,500 miles in 15 hours.

Several other ascents of Chevalier's have become historical. In 1867 he crossed the English Channel from Dublin, landing in Westmorland, after a sail of 154 miles done in four hours. In 1868, he ascended from Hull, England, and attained the altitude of 30,000 feet, a height which, he claims, has never been equalled, and beyond which he believes it is not given to man to go. He was priveleged to witness on this occasion phenomena hitherto unrecorded, but it was at the expense of the most acute suffering. At the height of 14,000 feet breathing became difficult, and some pigeons he had with him were unable to fly; at 30,000 feet the blood started from from every pore of his body, as well as from nose, eyes, and ears, and his clothes were saturated.

Mr. Chevalier has made 165 balloon voyages, and may be presumed to have a moderately good understanding of the difficulties liable to a voyage across the Atlantic. The peculiar difficulties of this voyage are in maintaining the buoyancy of the baloon and keeping to a direct course. A lengthy description of the means by which he expects to overcome these difficulties is given, but quite too long for our columns. Suffice it to say, he believes the means he has adopted will enable him to overceme these difficulties and make a safe and pleasant voyage.

"L'Esperance," for that is the name of the balloon, has a capacity for 3,900 feet of gas. By means of his "compensate" and rope ballast, the aeronaut is confident elevation could be maintained for one month should circumstances require it. As to directing his course, and preserving it, the aeronaut has great faith in currents.—In every ascent during his career, he says, he found on reaching an altitude anywhere between 3,000 and 10,000 feet that the wind was invariably from the west or rather from the north-west; however way the wind was blowing near the ground; in each case of his one hundred and sixty-five ascents he found a north-west current in the upper atmosphere. Chevalier believes this current to be a discovery of his own, and it is for the glory of establishing his theory, rather than of sailing three or four thousand miles over the water, (which he regards quite an every-day affair), that he undertakes his baloon voyage from North America to Europe.

Application for this rare, yet perilous journey, have been pouring in upon him by hundreds, but he has not determined who or how many he will take.

A life raft has been presented to "L'Esperance" which will be suspended beneath the car of the balloon in readiness for use should the aeronaut find it desirable to take to the watery element. The balloon is 95 feet high, 65 feet in diameter, and has a buoyancy capable of sustaining 8 tons.

Will this be the next wonder of the world? A voyage to Europe by balloon! We may laugh at the idea, and set down such men as Chevalier, as fool-hardy, as visionaries, as madmen, but after all, we may be mistaken. Those who talked of ploughing the ocean with steamboats, of transmitting intelligence by electricity, of spanning the great Atlantic with a telegraphic cable, of connecting the Atlantic and the Pacific by a Railway, were called visionaries, enthusiasts, madmen, even in our day, and yet we have seen these great wonders accomplished. Is it not possible that a voyage to Europe by balloon may be of frequent occurrence, before the close of the nineteeth century?

Confederation Seals and Medals.

The London Daily News of the 8th inst. gives the following account of the seals for the Dominion and Provinces and the medal to commemorate the Confederation of the Province. Messrs. J. G. and A. B. Ryon have now on view at 287 Regent Street, says an English paper, impressions from the seals of the four Provinces of Canada, and the Great Seal of the Dominion, just completed, with the gold medal that has been struck in commemoration of the union of the Provinces. They are all designed and executed in a very high style of art. Of the seals, that for the Dominion is, of course, the largest. It represents the Queen, seated under a Gothic canopy, and holding the ball and sceptre, while the wings of the canopy contain the shields of the Province—two on either side—hanging on the stem of an oak. These Gothic canopies occupy nearly the whole of the middle space of the seal; the ground between them and the border is covered with a rich diaper, and a shield bearing the Royal Arms of England fills the space beneath the centre canopy. The border of the seal bears the inscription, "Victoria, Dei Gratia, Britannise, Regina, F. D. Is Canada Sigillum." This work would add to the reputation of any other seal engraver, though it can hardly do so to that of the Messrs. Wyon, whose productions have long enjoyed a high and deserved celebrity. The seal is well filled, as it should be in a Gothic design, but it is not crowded; the ornaments are all very pure in style, and the whole is in the most perfect keeping. The executions is not less rmarkable: the relief is extremely high in parts (although it does not at first appear to be so, owing to the breadth of the composition), but, in spite of this difficulty, the truth, sharpness, and finish of every part have been preserved as well as they could possibly be on a medal, or even on a coin. The smaller seals for the Provinces are engraved on one general design. The crown surmounts a central shield bearing the Royal Arms, below which is a smaller shield, bearing the arms of the particular Province—New Brunswick, Ontario, Quebec, or Nova Scotia. The Royal motto on a flowing riband fills up the space at the sides; a border adapted to the outline of the design runs outside this, and touches the circular border of the seal, containing the legend. These seals are no less remarkable for carefulness of execution than the one to which we have referred.

The medal which has been struck to to commemorate the confederation of the Provinces is in solid gold, and is so large and massive that its value in metal alone is 50*l*. On the obverse there is a head of the Queen, for which Her Majesty recently gave Mr. Wyon sittings; the reverse bears an allegorical design—Britannia seated and holding the scroll of confederation, with figures representing the four Provinces grouped before her. Ontario holds the sheaf and sickle; Quebec the paddle; Nova Scotia, the mining spade; and New Brunswick, the forest axe. Britannia carries her trident, and the lion crouches by her side. The following inscription runs round a raised border:—"Juventas et Patrius Vigor Canada Instaurata, 1867." The relief on this side is extremely bold, and the composition, modelling, and finish, are such as to leave little to be desired. The treatment on the head on the obverse is broad and simple; the hair is hidden by a sort of hood of flowing drapery, confined by a plath coronet, and the surface is but little broken any where. The ornaments are massive rather than rich; there is a plain pendant in the ear, and a maniature of the Prince Consort is attached to a necklace of very chaste design.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

OTTAWA, May 31.

INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE CO.

On motion of Mr. Walsh the House went into Committee on the Bill respecting the International Bridge Company. The Bill was reported without amendment.

PENSIONS.

Mr. BLANCHET enquired whether it was the intention of the government to provide for the payment of the arrears of pensions due to the militia men wounded during the war of 1812?

Sir G. E. CARTIER said the law had been carried out so as to allow pensions only from the date of application, for it was presumed that, until application was made, the applicants were not disabled from work.

NAVIGATION.

In reply to Mr. Stephenson,

Sir JOHN A. MACDONALD said the question of jurisdiction in matters relating to navigation and the improvement of rivers was now engaging the attention of the Government.

THE IRISH CHURCH.

Mr. HOLTON moved that the House go into committee of the whole to consider certain resolutions upon which to found an address to Her Majesty expressive of the satisfaction of the House with the measure now before the Imperial parliament, for the disestablishment and disendowment of the church in Ireland. He stated that he had not proposed to take up the subject without due consideration. He thought it perfectly compatible for a member of the Colonial parliament to take up the question in the manner he proposed. We were all Englishmen in the largest sense of the term, and he could not doubt that the illustrious body, swayed as it was by the opinions of the people of the empire—of England, Ireland and Scotland, would attract considerable importance to an address passed unanimously by the parliament of the new Dominion.

Sir JOHN A. MACDONALD replied that he did not doubt that the hon. gentleman was influenced by patriotic motives, but it was quite certain that his object was just as mischievous as his mode of bringing it up. Now the question suggested itself, where was the necessity for the present motion? The measure had been approved by the public opinion of Great Britain. It had been sanctioned by an overwhelming majority of the House of Commons, and the hon. gentleman himself had been certain that the House of Lords, in due submission to the popular sentiment, would agree to its passage.

Mr. HOLTON—I said on a question of supreme importance.

Mr. HOWE said the House had lately been increasing its sphere of labors enormously. He found in this country Protestants and Roman Catholics dwelling together in accord, and believed this motion was calculated to cast a firebrand among them.

After a lengthy discussion a division took place on the amendment that the question be now put. The amendment was lost. Yeas 49; nays 89.

The following is the division:

AMERICAN MINISTER.

LIVERPOOL, May 31.—Mr. Motley, the new Minister of the United States, received the address of the Chambers of Commerce at his hotel this morning.

In reply to that of the American chamber of Commerce, he returned thanks for the welcome he had received as the representative of the United States. He said it was the earnest hope and chief desire of President Grant's Administration and the people of America, to cultivate faithfully, friendly and equitable relations with the Government and people of Great Britain. The happiness of the world, the advancement of civilization, and the best hopes of humanity depended on the concord of all branches of the human family, more especially on that of the leading nations, both connected by personal and public interests, allied by bonds, addicted to commerce and the cultivation of the arts of peace. Mr. Motley concluded as follows:—My most strenuous efforts shall be directed to further good understanding on the basis of enduring friendship and kindly relation in accordance with the great principles of justice and honor, which are the immutable and only safe unerring guide in the conduct of nations.

In answer to the address of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Motley expressed his high appreciation of their friendly sentiments expressed towards America, and assured them that during the period of his office, he should endeavor to promote good understanding between two nations of the same race, bound by a unity of interest hitherto unequalled, the best and highest purposes of both were furthered by faithful friendship. The American people and the American Government desired amicable relations with Great Britain on the basis of justice and dispassionate regard for the rights and duties of both. It was the earnest wish of America to extend Commerce, but the question of Free Trade was beyond the limits of his function, its settlement being vested by the people, in Congress.

THE IRISH CHURCH.

LONDON, May 31.—In the House of Commons to-night Mr. Gladstone moved the third reading of the Bill for the disestablishment of the Irish Church.

A large number of petitions against the passage of the Bill was then presented. After which, Mr. James Maden Holt, member for North East Lancashire, made, and Lord Elko, member for Haddingtonshire, seconded a motion that the Bill be rejected.

A long, but uninteresting, debate followed, terminating in the refusal of the House to accept Mr. Holt's proposition, and the passage of the Bill by a vote of 361 against 247. The result was received with uproarious cheers from the Ministerial benches. The House then adjourned.

SUEZ CANAL.

VIENNA, May 31.—It is said that Ismael Pacha's tour, which will extend throughout Europe, is for the purpose of determining the question whether the Suez Canal is to be considered a subject for the neutrality of all nations and for all time.

PROTESTANT CONGRESS.

WORMS, May 31.—The Protestant Congress which assembled here to-day was attended by 20,000 people, including representatives from all the States of Germany. The Congress by a unanimous vote resolved against the Papal extortion to return to the Roman Church, and in condemnation of the Encyclical letter and Syllabus, the idea of the formation of a United German Church is mooted.

A HEAVY CABLE ITEM AGAINST THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT.—A bill contracted by Secretary Seward in telegraphing over the cable to Reverdy Johnson, has been presented to Secretary Fish by the agent of the telegraph company for payment. It consists of a single item, and amounts to $40,000. Mr. Seward, it seems, was allowed cheap rates on his messages, and so become rather verbose. When this bill came in he refused to pay it. It then fell to the succeeding administration. Secretary Fish declined to pay it, and when it was presented to President Grant he sent it to Attorney-General Hoar for an opinion, which he is now engaged on.

A Miner's Romance.

The English papers report that a pretty story came to light in the colliery village of Thornley, near Durham. About twelve years ago a pitman, hearing of the marvelous auriferious discoveries in Australia, determined to proceed thither. He set sail, leaving behind him a wife and two children at Thornley, and arrived in due course in the colony; and forthwith went to the gold fields and commenced "digging for nuggets." At the expiration of about eleven years he found himself in possession of the handsome fortune of £15,000, honestly and industriously obtained. During this long period of absence from England, he communicated with his wife, desiring that she and her family—two girls—should join him, and sent the necessary tickets for their transit to the new world. She, however, never went. The successful miner discovered the cause on his arival at his native village. His faithless partner had become enamoured of an itinerant rag merchant, and the owner of a wooden leg, to whom she had two children. The returned gold miner at once discarded her, not, however, before making himself known to his two daughters, who were children when he left them for Australia. These he took from their mother, and afterwards equipped them in an a manner suit to his altered position.

Unpleasant Reflections.

A few miles from Little Rock, Pa., lived a family who had in their employment a daughter of Erin. The lady having cause to doubt her honesty had a mirror hung in the sitting room, so that while idling away her time in her boudoir, she could watch the movements of the unsuspecting Biddy in the kitchen. One day while watching her make away with a large quanty of choice preserves she rushed into the presence of the unsuspecting girl.

How dare you eat up all my nice preserves in this way.

Although she still held the jar and spoon she replied—

Sure, missus, you must be mistaken, I've not tasted the first blessed mouthful; I was only fixin' them for tay.

O'Biddy! how can you deny it for I saw you from my room? Look, and she pointed to the glass that reflected the centre of her easy boudoir, in that glass I can see all you are doing in the kitchen, and I saw you eat my preserves. If this occurs again I shall discharge you.

Biddy stood in amazement, then staring at the glass a few moments, then rubbing her hand over her forehead as if trying to comprehend the extent of the magical glass, cried out,—

Och, and sure; tis meself that has been watching (in the same place), an I've my opinion that if the master was to see how you welcome that same gentleman partner of his in your own private parlour, 'twould be yourself that would be after bein' discharged.

It is not necessary to add that the glass was removed, and Biddy kept at an incresed salary.

CRUEL SELL.—A country paper is responsible for the following story:—A short time since a man appeared at the police station, requesting an interview with the superintendent. 'What can I do for you?' inquired the official. 'Can I speak to you privately?' 'Yes' speak out.' 'Will any one hear us?' 'No.' 'Are you sure?' 'Yes.' 'Well, then, listen. At I was crossing the common last night, about twelve o'clock, I saw a woman approach the pond with a baby in her arms, looking carefully around all the while to see if she was followed, and then, when right at the edge, stooped, and——' 'Threw the child into the pond!' exclaimed the appalled officer, his face white with horror. 'No,' replied his visitor: 'washed its face!'

—Here is the wail of 'Jim's' 'Lost Love':—

I met her by the seller dore—
The Look she guv was cold and sturn;
Her eyes looked pitchforks into mine—
And mine looked pizon into hern.

For we had loved in dase gone by;
Her daddy said that I might take her;
But alas! for my dreme of wedded blis,
She got up and got with a Dutch shoemaker.

No more girls for me if I know it—
No more frauds, me luv to dim;
In the words of the poet, 'Not for Joseph,'
And he mite had added, 'Not for Jim.'

—A telegram from Port Colborne, May 28th, says: The three mast schooner Joseph Cochrane of Chicago, loaded with coal, from Oswego for Chicago, sprang aleak yesterday evening coming in the canal, and sank soon after docking into harbor. Her deck is partly under water.

The Appetite for Tobacco Destroyed.

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed Tobacco.

ORTON'S PREPARATION!

ESTABLISHED 1866.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for Tobacco, in any person no matter how strong the habit may be. If it fails in any case the money will be refunded. Perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. It is almost impossible to break off the use of tobacco, by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature in overcoming a habit so firmly rooted. With the help of the Preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that Orton's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for tobacco, and leaves the person as free from any desire for it, as before he commenced its use. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobacco and through these upon the blood thoroughly cleansing the poison of tobacco from the system and thus allaying the unnatural cravings for tobacco. No more hankering for tobacco after using Orton's Preparation. Recollect it is warranted.

The time taken to allay all desire for Tobacco by the use of this Preparation varies slightly in different persons, the average time being about Five days. Some have no desire for Tobacco after using the Preparation Two days.

The Health and Purse of every Tobacco user in the country call loudly, ABANDON THE USE OF TOBACCO.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have used Orton's Preparation for the purpose of destroying the appetite for Tobacco, and can assure those who are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparation will certainly destroy the appetite for Tobacco quickly and permanently, without any bad effect upon the health, and without creating an appetite either for the Preparation or any substitute.

☞ Beware of counterfeits and all articles purporting to be like this, of the same name or otherwise. The great popularity of Orton's Preparation has induced unprincipled persons to attempt palming upon the public counterfeit and inferior articles. Purchasers will please order directly from the proprietor, or his duly authorized Agents.

The price of Orton's preparation is $2.00 per box, or three boxes for $5, sent by mail to any part of the country, securely sealed from observation, with passage paid on receipt of price.

HOW TO SEND MONEY BY MAIL.—Enclose the amount in a letter, seal carefully, register the letter, and take a receipt for it of your Postmaster. Money sent by mail as above directed at my risk. An Agent wanted in every town.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroberant for delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the frame has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.

OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 20 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Particulars of the Loss of the "Margaret" and "Zetus."

Terrible sufferings and death of the crews —Miraculous escape of the only survivor —Thirty-one lives lost—Names of the crew of the "Margaret."

(From the Quebec Chronicle.)

CARIBOO POINT, 16th May, 1869.

An account of the wreck of the barks Margaret, of Aberdeen, and Zetus, of Leith, which were wrecked on Cariboo rocks, on Sunday morning, May 16, by James Donald, chief mate of the Margaret, and only survivor of both crews.

"On Saturday night we were running with a strong wind from E.N.E., under the topsails and foresail, at the rate of seven miles an hour. We had a strong sea at the time, but did not feel it much, as we were running before it. At 1 a.m. on Sunday the bark Zetus came within hailing distance, under the same sail and steering the same course. She gradually went ahead of us, as she sailed faster; but, when she got about three or four times her own length ahead, she was on the rocks—it being, at the time, very thick and raining. The consequence was that next minute we were on the rocks also, with the sea making a clean breach over us. As we were the last to break up, I witnessed the last of the Zetus. She was scarcely half an hour on the rocks when her main and mizen masts went by the board, and her foremast and bowsprit went soon after—the sea by this time breaking mountains high. She went to pieces immediately after, when all on board must have perished. About ten minutes after our main and mizen masts went by the board. But before they went, when we tried to get the jolly boat out, a sea broke on board, which knocked the stern and after part of the cabin in, and smashed the boat to pieces.

"We next tried to launch the long boat, the sea like a mountain breaking on board with great violence, when one heavy sea broke on board, smashed the boat to pieces and washed us all down to the main deck. When we all got forward the second mate's leg and ribs on the right side were broke, and six or seven more of the crew had their limbs broken and were otherwise entirely disabled. The weather was very cold. We then tried to get the pinnace over the side, but the sea was determined to take her also—a sea smashing her up against the foremast. It was then our main and mizen masts went. The after part of the ship was by this time broken up, and the foremast working from side to side. We then constructed a raft of the deck planks as they were washed forward. Then the foremast went. We were then fifteen souls clinging to the bowsprit—. Then with a short prayer, commending our souls to the mercy of God, the bowsprit went and all hands with it. After I got to the surface, one of the men caught me by the legs and hauled me under, by which means he raised himself, and let me go.—When I got up I caught a piece of bulwark plank about three feet four inches long; but a short time after I got hold of a piece of deck beam, which floated me, and enabled me to look round, when to my sorrow, I saw all the people lying over their little pieces of wood, with their head in the water, apparently resigned to their fate. Those who had not their limbs broken, were fairly benumbed with cold, being mostly in their under clothing. There was no struggling for life except the captain and myself. He had a piece of deck beam the same as I had, but he did not cling to it long. When I had a chance to look for him, about ten minutes after, I could not see him. I was washed several times from my piece, but always got hold of it again. I received some very severe strokes about the shoulders. At last a piece of wood struck me on the head, which laid the forepart open, and the blood flowed profusely, but I still had my senses. At last I got on to the rocks, when through some accident my piece of wood turned round and put me up before it, and felt very heavy three or four times on my breast, and fairly disabled me, but I managed to crawl clear of it, and tried to get on my feet, but had not strength to stand, and fell again, the blood running down my face. I tried to crawl on my hands and knees, but my senses were leaving me, when two men came running down (named Mr. MacGloire Boucher, and Mr. Josedh Levesque), and carried me in their arms to their cabin, where they treated me very kindly, and put me to bed, where I slept for three hours, and waked greatly refreshed. I enquired if any more people had come on shore, but they told me no. I asked if there were any from the other ship, but they said no. They said there was none came ashore but me.—I put on some clothes (against the peoples will,) and went down among the rocks to see if I could see any of my shipmates; but there was not a sign of any of them.—The wreck was laying dry among the rocks, in pieces. Thus, in about two and a half hours from the time that both ships struck, about 31 men perished, and the ships were among the rocks in pieces. At half-dry among the rocks in pieces. At half-past one we struck, and about a quarter past four I was carried into the kind Canadian's cabin, where every attention was paid to me by them and their kind wives. Both ships were coal laden.

The missing of the Margaret's crew are: Capt. Allen, Aberdeen; Wm. Gorman, second-mate, do: Wm. B. Don, carpenter, do; Geo. Gibson, A. B., do.; Richard Corbet, A. B., do.; John McWilliam, O. S., do.; J. P. Johnson, steward, Gothenburg, but married in Sunderland; Thomas Mason, A. B., Sunderland; Jas. A Thrilling Scene.

We briefly announce the terrible calamity which occurred to the canal boat M. G. Weatherby, at the Fort Miller dam, on Wednesday last, by which the wife and child of Capt. Clark, the commander of the boat, were drowned. The particulars of the affair possess a thrilling interest. It appears the Weatherbee, which was loaded with coal, was on the point of crossing the river, and Capt. Clark, with two hands, stepped ashore with a rope to keep the stern of the boat near the dock, leaving no one on board except Mrs. Clark, and her young child about eighteen months old. As the boat approached the break in the dam, where the current was very strong, the stern swung out into the stream, and got beyond the control of the Captain and his men, as their ropes were too short for the snubbing posts. The Captain's wife made every possible effort to give out more line, but owing to excitement, failed of success. They then tried to hold the boat with the tow line, but were compelled to cut it to keep from drawing the horses into the water. As the boat came into the break Mrs. Clark took her child in her arms and cried "Save me! save me! save me!" At this time some fifty or more men were on the shore near the boat, some telling her to stick to the boat, and others to sit down. The lock-tender, Martin Freeman, in a truly brave spirit, started for her in a small rowboat. When he came near, Mrs. Clark hugging her child to her breast, jumped for the boat but failed to reach it. Freeman sprang for her, but without success. The canal boat then went over the dam, followed by the small boat. Freeman saw Mrs. Clark but once after he went over the dam. His boat was capsized, and he got on top, and so went over the second falls. He was several times thrown from the boat, the water striking with such force in his face that the blood gushed out from his nostrils. He floated down the river half a mile, and was rescued by some men on the opposite shore. Captain Clark fainted and fell as his wife went over the dam. It is believed that his wife would have been saved if she had remained on the boat, as the boat grounded a short distance below the dam. —Troy Times.

A Little of Everything.

The Marquis of Bute has built a hospital for lepers, at Jerusalem, in token of gratitude for his conversion to Roman Catholicism.

The humorous papers of Denmark are publishing caricatures of Uncle Sam in the garb of a penniless confidence man, who buys everything and then refuses to pay for the goods.

The immortal hammer which drove the last spike in the Pacific Railroad is now on exhibition in 17 of the principal cities in the United States. The spike itself being of gold, is considered too costly to duplicate.

James Webb, jr., of Portland, Me., working before the war for $3,50 per week, saved regularly $1.00 of that sum. Five years ago he bought a shoe-shop and tools with $150 of his earnings. He is now making 20,000 pairs of ladies' shoes per year.

The hop mania is not eradicated in Wisconsin, notwithstanding the disaster of last year. Every one then bitten, thinks that every other person so bitten, except himself, will be discouraged, and so not put in any hops this year, and the consequence is the hop fever is again prevalent.

The termination of the last meeting of the Quebec City Council, was even worse than reported by telegraph. After the adjournment the members came so near having a free-fight in the street, that the police had to interfere and disperse them at the point of the club to their respective domiciles.

The horse John Stewart failed in his attempt to repeat his feat of trotting 20 miles within an hour in Portland, Me., on Wednesday afternoon. At the conclusion of the 19th mile the time was 57 06¼, and the horse was stopped on the first half of the 20th mile. He appeared entirely fresh at the finish. The fifth mile was done in 2 55, and the tenth in 2 59. The miles average from 3 01 to 3 20.

Mrs. Stanton is getting up her petition for female suffrage, to be presented at the next session of Congress. She says it will be the largest petition the world has ever seen, and "decorated with flowers and the American flag, will be carried into the National Capitol by a troupe of girls dressed in the National colors, one from each State, District and Territory, of twenty-one years of age. The one chosen for this high honor should be large and well developed, as the petition will be a very heavy one."

A marine velocipede is the centre of attraction on the wharf at Saginaw, Mich.—It is made of tin, about twenty-five feet long, very sharp and pointed at the ends, not more than fifteen inches wide, and is propelled by a wheel under the middle, similar to the screw propeller of large crafts. The motion is given to the wheel by cranks attached to the shafting by bevel gear.—The steering apparatus is also in the centre of the boat, and worked by the feet. The boat, for the space of ten feet from each end, has airtight chambers.

FIRE IN NAPANEE.

By Special Telegram to the Daily Intelligencer.

NAPANEE, June 2nd, 4.30 p. m.

A fire originated in a carpenters shop adjoining a new building being erected by Mills & Son, close to the Campbell House. Five or six building have been destroyed, and also a lot of fine lumber and Cordwood. The Campbell House had a narrow escape. The whole town came near being burned down, there being no fire engine in town.

SECOND DESPATCH.

FIVE O'CLOCK, P. M.

The fire originated in a Carpenter shop belonging to Mills & Son, who are putting up a large building, and extended to a wooden building belonging to Briggs & Waddle.—Briggs was insured for $800. His loss will amount to about $1,500. Waddell was not insured; part of the building was occupied by Fralick, a grocer. Fralick lost most of his stock. Dunning's barn, containing several tons of hay, and several other small wooden buildings, together with a quantity of lumber, were destroyed.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

OTTAWA, June 1, 1869.

PETITIONS.

Mr. Harrison presented a petition from the inhabitants of Toronto, to authorize the Royal Canadian Bank to amalgamate with any other Bank or Banks. Also one from Toronto against limiting the rate of interest.

DOMINION BANK.

Mr. Crawford introduced a Bill to incorporate the Dominion Bank of Canada. Second reading to-morrow.

INTERCOLONIAL RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS.

The orders of the day having been called,

Mr. Mackenzie again asked the leader of the Government for information respecting the salaries of the Intercolonial Railroad Commissioners.

Sir John A. Macdonald said as to the salaries, the Government thought that the Chairman of the Intercolonial Railroad should get $4,000 a year for the three or four years that it would last, and the others $3,000 a year.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

Hon. Mr. Langevin moved the third reading of the Bill for the better management of Indian affairs.

The Bill was read a third time and passed.

BANKING.

Mr. Rose moved the House into committee to consider his resolutions respecting Banking.

Mr. Holton at some length, argued that although the present Banking system was not perfect, yet it should not be too hastily abandoned, and moved an amendment that the consideration of the motion be laid over till next Session.

In seconding the amendment, Mr. Mackenzie stated he believed the policy of the Financial Minister would be disastrous to the whole country, and regretted that the measure should be pressed as he believed the recent Financial disasters had been caused by the Government policy.

Mr. Cartwright in a long and eloquent speech stated that experience had shown every civilized community the extreme risk that must arise from the Government rashly interfering with currency, and the result of the measure in the case of Ontario would be the withdrawal of a very large sum from that Province.

Hon. Mr. Galt thought as many Banks would fall under the new system as under the old, and considered the new system would have a disastrous effect on Ontario, and Ontario he held to be the backbone of Confederation, and if it was not prosperous all the rest would suffer.

An amendment was moved by Hon. J. H. Cameron, and seconded by Mr. Gibbs, that as it is impossible immediately to obtain uniformity of the currency, it is expedient that the charters of the Banks about to expire be extended to such a period as the House shall determine.

Sir John A. Macdonald then moved an adjournment. The House adjourned at midnight.

—The forty-sixth Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, began to-day in Toronto.

The Cuban Revolution.

Word comes daily from Cuba of the atrocities committed their in connection with the revolution, but, few ever give the subject more than a passing thought, yet, if the following letter from the New York Tribune's Cuban correspondent be true, Cuba must be anything but a desirable place to live at the present time:—

HAVANA, May 22nd.

"The few who condemn the Cuban Revolution do so chiefly on the grounds of its having been commenced at a period when the sole causes of discontent the only grievances—had disappeared, when, after her own glorious revolution, Spain had generously tendered a friendly hand to Cuba, giving her the same rights and privileges which she had won for herself, when, in fact, nothing remained for Cuba to desire. She would be a colony no longer, but a province of Spain. Cuba should forget and forgive. Spain was to amend.

"Cuba a province of Spain! What a sarcasm! As facts and figures are the most convincing of arguments I will endeavor briefly to show how the word "Province" was substituted for that of "Colony," without in the slightest degree affecting the condition of this ill governed country.—Cuba, you are daily told by the Havana press, is an integral a part of Spain as is Castille, Catalura, or Aragon.

"Universal suffrage was established in Spain. All the provinces elected their members to the "Cortes," to decide upon the form of Government. Was this privilege made extensive to Cuba? No. The Provinces of Spain, by the fact of their being represented at the "Cortes," have a direct share in their own taxation and expenditure. Is this the case with Cuba? The Madrid Government levies heavy contributions subject only to the fancy or caprice of its representatives here; and moreover, in the Budget of Spain is invariably inserted an important item called "Sobrants," or surplus" from Cuba, which this poor Island must yield in addition to an expenditure of $33,000,000—acknowledged, but in reality nearer $66,000,000.

Liberty of the press and of worship; Liberty of speech; Liberty of Association; the inviolability of private dwellings and correspondence; trials by jury; abolition of capital punishment for all political offences! These were the recognized principles of Revolutionary Government guaranteed to all provinces in their liberal manifest. They have been granted to Spain; but, may I ask which has been granted to Cuba? Only the partial liberty of the press, and liberty of association or right to hold public meetings, both with the most iniquitous design, as will be shown hereafter.

"Gen. Dulce having attained his object by inveigling Cuban writers into an open avowal of their feelings, suddenly changes his tactics, and suppresses the liberties granted, on the plea that they have been abused, and that the country was unprepared to receive them. With regard to the liberty of association, I will merely state that the few who availed themselves of it only succeeded in becoming conspicuous in the eyes of the Government with similar results. Thus it is shown that the two meager liberties granted by Gen. Dulce, proved merely to have been a measure on his part to entrap those who unwisely trusted to his good faith.

"Cuba has often been deceived, yet I cannot recall a more base or treacherous proceeding than the one resorted to in this instance.

"The late quarrel between Gens. Escalente and Letona has been accounted for as follows: Gen. Letona gave, previous to the battle of Sabana, a safe conduct to five individuals to pass his lines into the interior. When they came up to where the forces of Escalante, another Spanish General were, the latter, though below the former in rank, ordered their arrest, and had them shot, without trial. This act displeased Letona, who said that he would have to report this affair to the Captain-General. Escalante replied that it would be better, in order to save trouble to that worthy, that the two, as such had a sword, should fight it out between them. How the matter was finally arranged no one knew, but it is a question of but little consequence to the murdered men.

"Gen. Dulce arranged to leave for the Cinco Villa on the 10th, but his very bad health prevented it. Others say that it was ascertained that the volunteers intended to arm the ragmuffins of the town and forcibly resist his re-entry into the palace. He is in very bad health, and can live but a very few days. His disease is a cancer in the breast. But why did he wish to go to the Cinco Villas? The news is received that various chiefs in the army are thinking more of promotion than of love of country, just as it was the case in St. Domingo. There is, consequently, much wrangling among them.

"If the report turns out to be true that the destination of the Fernando Po prisoners has been changed, we may expect great riots to follow. The Government keeps back the truth as to all such matters as long as possible. It rains every day, and the sick abound in the hospital. The vomite is killing very many.

"Nobody is willing to pay the money subscribed for the expenses of the mobilized troops, or volunteers, who serve in the Cabanas, but the Government continues to accumulate accounts as though all would be settled.

"During a sojourn of only a month in "the ever faithful isle," from whence I returned less than a fortnight ago more atrocities perpetrated by the Spanish soldiery came to my knowledge, and under my observation, than I could chronicle in a week. But I cannot refrain from briefly recounting one of them. On the 29th of April, about midway between Manzanillo and Bayamo, two Creole ladies, accompanied by two youths, one of them under 15 years of age, were riding, driven by a negro, late in the afternoon, on the outskirts of the plantation of Joaquin Arias, the father of one of the girls. The other young lady, and the eldest of the young gentlemen, were brother and sister, and nephew and niece of Senor Arias, whose residence they had for many months made their home.—The other youth, a boy of only 14 years, resided on a neighboring plantation, and was on a short visit to the young friends just referred to. As they were returning home they were halted by a party of Spaniards, who, without asking a question, dragged them from the carriage, and told them to prepare for death. Young Arias and the ladies remonstrated, contending that they did not come within the letter or spirit of Valmaseda's decree, as three of their number were, in point of fact, then at their home, though not in the house, and that the boy (whose name I do not remember) lived near by, and was only 14 years of age. During the discussion the officer in command of the barbarians struck young Arias down with his sword, after which, being unable to stand, the doomed young man was strapped to a wheel of the vehicle, while the boy was placed at his side, when both were shot. The discharge of musketry and shrieks of the girls frightened the horses, and they started off with the terified driver at a furious rate, dragging and mangling at every bound the lifeless remains of the unfortunate Arias.

"The young ladies were then carried to a negro cabin, where they were the victims of nameless outrages, of which one of them died.

"I was present at the plantation of Senor Arias when his nephew, who had been dragged by the affrighted team to the family mansion, was hurried, and heard the narratives I have given, from the lips of Mr. Arias, and afterward from the negro driver, and one of the colored women above referred to. The bodies of Miss Arias and the murdered boy had not been recovered, and were supposed to have been sunk in a swamp near the point where the atrocities were committed.

"A few weeks since Gen. Lutona made a visit in person to some plantations near Villa Clare for the purpose of levying contributions on citizens who had, it was suspected, a couple of days previously given provisions to a raiding party of insurgents. The citizens, in answer to the General's complaint and demands, declared that they had ever been neutral, and at heart loyal, and that the rebels had helped themselves to provisions contrary to the owner's wishes. 'Well,' replied Letona, who affects to be a scholar. 'I must say to you, much as Brutus did to the Pergamenians,' 'I hear you have given provisions to the rebels. If you gave them willingly, you must own you have injured me if unwillingly, show it by giving willingly to me.' Of course so reasonable a judgment could not be appealed from, and the planters bled freely; but notwithstanding this, two days later several of them were sent to Havana, and are now prisoners in the Morro, where they will be apt to bleed more freely still."

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

SIR,—It is a pity that the celebration of the Birthday of our gracious Sovereign should be made the means of abuse of some of our respectable villagers. An article in the 'Mercury' of last week, endeavored to make it appear that the fire-balls used on the evening of the 24th were purchased by a select few of the villagers, whereas a collection was made all through the village by Messrs. M. Mayhee, N. Hodgins, Allan Moon, and P. Beggs for the purpose of getting the money to purchase the materials with, and the so-called 'roughs,' of the 'Mercury,' contributed by far the greater amount of the money. It often happens, however, that some persons, in cases even of this sort, endeavor to clothe themselves with a little brief authority, and such was the action of a person in our midst, who desired to add to his rather unenviable notoriety, by endeavoring to constitute himself the manager of the subscription fund and of the proceedings generally, in a manner that most of our villagers considered impertinent and unwarrantable.

He threatened the whole crowd of young men on the field, and dared them to touch the fire-balls, and as they had assisted in getting up the subscription, and considered that the balls were for the celebration, they naturally took possession of them and illuminated the field.

Nothing was done to offend or frighten the ladies on the ground or to injure property. A fire-ball struck one lady but did not hurt her seriously; she was annoyed, and every one felt sorry, but further than this the proceedings were not of a rough or ungentlemanly character, except the conduct of the self-constituted manager and the remarks on the celebration in the 'Mercury.' Yours truly,

ONE OF THE ROUGHS.

Madoc, May 31st, 1869.

The Pennsylvania Legislature, at its recent session, passed an act to prevent the publication of obscene advertisements and the sale of noxious medicines. Through some trickery the bill disappeared, and did not receive the approval of the Governor.

THE WEATHER.—There can be no doubt that sudden changes in the weather have a peculiar effect upon some systems. The way, then, to become prepared against atmospheric influence is to tranquilize and invigorate the constitution by a systematic plan of temperance avoiding hot and rebellious liquors, and take moderately Gianelli's Royal Italian Bitters, which tend to counteract the condition of the nervous system, and to fortify the body against the numberless diseases which variable weather may have a tendency to produce on the various degrees of strength and the peculiarities of organization of different individuals.

NOT
"The Song of the Shirt,"
BUT SOMETHING ABOUT SHIRTS.

W. JOHNSON

Has a large stock of London made

White DRESS SHIRTS,

THE "CORAZZA,"
"NAPIER,"
"PICCADILLY,"
being the leading shapes.

W. JOHNSON has also a large stock of COLORED COTTON SHIRTS, WINCEY SHIRTS and FLANNEL SHIRT, suitable for Summer wear.

W. JOHNSON is now prepared to take orders for all kinds of SHIRTS, and as he intends making this a speciality of his business, will devote considerable time and thought to the wants of the "shirt less."

Now a passing word about SILK HATS. As W. Johnson first drew public attention to the extraordinary value of his SILK HATS, by labelling them in the window, and as other houses have now imitated him, he no longer labels them, but he still has them at his prices, $2. This extraordinary low price has created quite a demand for them, and the sale of Silk Hats during the past three weeks, has been unprecedented in Belleville.

FINALLY.—His Paper Collars are good shapes. His White Vests are well made. His Neckties are beautiful colors, and his Window is attractive.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

MR. MOTLEY'S RECEPTION.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The Herald's London special says :—" The London Star in alluding to the reception of Mr. Motley in Liverpool, says that it is assured on the best authority that Mr. Motley comes charged with a mission of peace, and for the the purpose of conciliating and binding closer the ties of friendship between the two nations. The writer entirely repudiates the statements that have been promulgated to the effect that Mr. Motley comes armed with an authority to demand an immediate settlement of the Alabama claims. This statement is regarded as merely newspaper bosh, the Star not having the slightest authority to speak for the minister. Mr. Motley arrived in London at half-past five and is stopping at Maurige's hotel, in Regent street.

The Herald's St. Petersburg special says :—The Emperor of Russia has signified his intention of sending an envoy extraordinary to Washington for the purpose of congratulating President Grant on the success of his election, and also to express the value that his Majesty sets on the maintainance of friendly relations between the two countries."

THE LATEST,

IRISH CHURCH BILL.

LONDON, midnight, June 1.—The Irish Church bill was read for the first time in the House of Lords to night. It was agreed that the bill should come up for the second reading, on the 14th inst.

TAXING BILLS OF EXCHANGE.

BERLIN, June 1.—The North German parliament, have passed a law, taxing bills of exchange, malt and sugar.

FLORENCE.

FLORENCE, June 1.—The rejection by Parliament of financial plans, proposed by Count Digny, Minister of Finance, will probably lead to his withdrawal from the Cabinet, and to further ministerial changes.

MR. MOTLEY IN ENGLAND.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The Herald's London special says: Mr. Motley, it is understood to-day, addressed a letter to Lord Clarendon, informing him of his arrival in London, and officially requesting the appointment of a day for the presentation of his credentials. As the Prince of Wales holds a levee to-day, to-morrow has been named as the more fitting time for the ministerial introduction.

The burden of the newspaper articles published here to-day on the subject of Mr. Motley's arrival, is generally to the effect that the writers find in his speech in Liverpool an indication of the spirit of the instructions given to him by President Grant.

The London Star publishes a highly complimentary article, in which it says that the character of Mr. Motley is of sufficient identification that the United States will treat the pending subject honorably, while the presence of Mr. Bright in the Cabinet, with, Mr. Gladstone at the head of the Ministry, are an equally sufficient guarantee for England love peace, and that a determination to do justice animates the Ministry.

The Telegraph thinks Mr. Motley will for the present devote himself to the discharge of ordinary duties, and in that capacity he will consolidate that cordial alliance which ought to exist between the two countries. It will be a reproach to English politicians and journals if for the sake of pandering to popular prejudice they throw difficulties in the way of the mission of good-will and peace which Mr. Motley declares he comes to carry out.

The Times understands that no new demands has been addressed to England. Mr. Motley enters upon his duties without any prospect of controversy, but at the same time says the English Government should listen to any new proposals, and see if they promise a just and equitable solution. If the neutrality proclamation is made a subject of grievance we are bound to listen to the arguments adduced, though it is improbable any good purpose would be served by raising such a discussion.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DYSPEPSIA.

There is no disease which experience has so amply proved to be remediable by the

PERUVIAN SYRUP,

(a protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron) as Dyspepsia. The most inveterate forms of this disease have been completely cured by this medicine, as ample testimony of some of our first citizens prove.

FROM THE VENERABLE ARCHDEACON SCOTT, D. D.

DURHAM, Canada East.

* * * "I am an inveterate Dyspeptic of MORE THAN 25 YEARS' STANDING."

* * * "I have been so wonderfully benefitted in the three short weeks during which I have used the Peruvian Syrup, that I can scarcely persuade myself of the reality. People who have known me are astonished at the change. I am widely known, and can but recommend to others that which has done so much for me." * * *

ANOTHER CLERGYMAN WRITES AS FOLLOWS :

"My voyage to Europe is indefinitely postponed. I have discovered the "Fountain of Health" on this side the Atlantic. Three bottles of Peruvian Syrup have rescued me from the fange of the fiend Dyspepsia."

A pamphlet of 32 pager, containing a history of this remarkable remedy, with a treatise on "Iron as a medicine," will be sent free to any address.

Green Leaves.

Sunny Spring is here at last,
Breathing hints of buds and clover;
Frosts and snows and storms are past;
Winter's dreary reign is over;
Not a thought in nature grieves,
All things 'babble of green leaves.'

I can hear the zephyr sigh
Over height and through the hollow;
Lark-notes raining from on high;
Hum of bee and song of swallow;
Lilyils that the mavis weaves
In this 'babble of green leaves.'

Sandy nook and grassy dell,
Daisy, crocus, snowdrop, pansy,
Hawthorn blossom, cowslips bell—
All come crowding on my fancy;
Balmy mornings, blessed eves—
In this 'babble of green leaves.'

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

SIR,—I observed in your weekly of the 16th of April last, a letter over the signature of P. C. Dempsey, and in which he gave his past seven years' experience in the cultivation of new seedling potatoes. After describing his mode of culture, he says he planted 4 varieties, viz:—1st, 'Early Rose,' 2nd, 'Early Goodrich,' 3rd, 'Harrison,' 4th, 'Garnet Chili.' Each row was 25 feet long and 3 feet wide, being equal to 93½ square yards, and the yield was as follows:—'Early Rose,' 1 lb. of seed planted produced 161 lbs.; 'Early Goderich,' 92 lbs.; 'Harrison,' about the same as 'Early Rose.' Mr. Dempsey says that from a piece of land 25 ft. long and 3 ft. wide he raised 161 lbs. of 'Early Rose,' which he says is at the rate of about 517½ bushels to the acre. Certainly this is a pretty large yield for so small a piece of land, and it might be well to examine his 'mathematical calculations' on this subject. Drop the fraction of ½ square yard, and the question according to his letter will stand thus:—If 8 square yards will produce 161 lbs. of 'Early Rose,' what will 4840, being the number of square yards in an acre, produce? and the result is 1623-20/60 bus. per acre. Mr. Dempsey produced the 161 lbs. from one pound of 'Early Rose,' but not on a piece of land 25 ft. long and 3 ft. wide—it was 75 ft. long and 3 feet wide, being equal to 25 square yards, and which will produce 519-20/60 bus. per acre, instead of 517½ bus., according to Mr. D.'s own showing, and it is very evident that Mr. D.'s report is characteristic of himself—not very reliable.

In your article on the new seedling potatoes, in the weekly INTELLIGENCER of the 9th of April, Mr. Dempsey rather disputes the yield of the 'Harrison' by the Messrs. Peck, and gets of the following,—"I should judge that there must be some mistake concerning the yield of the 'Harrison,' by the Messrs. Peck. I have been informed by them both that they planted one barrel of seed and harvested therefrom 110 bus. of potatoes. Now, at the rate of 110 bus. from one barrel, it would take seven barrels to produce 810 bus., and that (he says) we all know would be double the seed that should be planted to the acre." Here Mr. D. volunteers to correct your article; rather a generous act on the part of Mr. D., certainly.

As for the yield of the 'Harrison' by the Messrs. Peck, there is ample proof to show that the report as given by you was correct. It was not a mere matter of supposition on the part of Mr. D.

As for the 'Harrison' being 'water-bags,' the following will show. Mr. Dempsey tried to purchase 'Harrisons' from the only parties in the vicinity that had them, and he could not get a chance at his own price, and had no more than he wanted for seed. Hence the 'water bags,' and Mr. D. would like to give them another year's trial before he could recommend them, and by that time he will have some of his own and the 'Harrisons' will be all right then. And at the same time that Mr. D. caused that article to be written, he had ample proof in his possession that would have convinced any person except himself that the 'Harrison' was a first class potatoe, and took the first prize at the State Fair of Michigan, held at Detroit last fall, over the 'American Peach blow,' 'Shaw's Early Mercer,' and several other valuable varieties. Mr. D. had the report of his "reliable man, Mr. D. S. Hertle," to prove that fact, in his possession at the time his article was written.

I am informed that the Messrs. Peck are much obliged to Mr. D., as his letter caused them more sales than their advertisement in the town of Belleville.

The number of bushels necessary to plant an acre depends entirely upon the manner the seed is prepared. If potatoes are large and planted whole, it would take far more seed than if cut to one or two single eyes, and planted one or two pieces in a hill. The amount necessary to plant an acre, properly prepared is from 8 to 10 bushels.

"HORTUS."

There's a world of old maxims in use by mankind,
But few of the whole, sir, are made to my mind;
The best of them all, for the high and the low,
Is the old-fogy maxim of 'pay as you go.'

The maxim is short, but 'twill ever be sweet;
'Tis easy to learn, and 'tis quick to repeat;
'Tis suited to all, rich or poor, friend or foe—
This true progress maxim of 'pay as you go.'

The orange crop of St. Mary's Parish, La., this year will be heavy. The orange trees are so full of young fruit that the limbs cannot possibly hold the crop when full grown. They grow almost in clusters like grapes.

—There is a movement to be made soon on the Otawa to erect an hospital for shantymen who become sick and destitute in the lumber region. Pembroke will likely be the locality.

—A young lady, the other day, in the course of a lecture, said, 'Get married, young man, and be quick about it, too. Don't wait for the millenium, hoping that the girls would turn angels before you trust to one of them. A pretty thing you would be alongside of an angel, wouldn't you, you brute.'

—A little fatherless boy at school was one day writing the following copy in his book:—'Honor thy father and mother.' After writing a few lines he laid down his pen and began to weep. He began again, and wrote a few lines more, but his memory was at work recalling to his mind the happy days he had passed with his dear deceased father, and he wept anew. He could not go on, but sobbed aloud. 'What is the matter, my boy?' said the teacher. 'Oh! Mr. Blake, I cannot write this copy, for my father is dead. Please give me another copy, for my father is dead. Please give me another page, and cut this leaf out; I cannot write it. My young reader, do you honor your parents?

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee to table, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why not? No longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the sample extracts or herbs or plants and trees, as tea and coffee are?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medicinal properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession the highest testimonials as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz.:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For convenience it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroberant for delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; it should be taken after the disease has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable appetizer stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.

OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, fevers and fever, headache, pain in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pain—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Relievs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a liniment. Sold at 25 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Society Among the Mormons.

THE EVILS OF POLYGAMY.

Another evil beginning to show itself is the mixing of kindred blood. The marriage of cousins is too common, and I am told that several cases have occurred where uncle and niece were married, but know personally of no such case.

There are several cases of a men marrying both mother and daughter, and the marriage of two or three sisters by one man is quite common. Robert Sharkey, a merchant of this city, married three sisters, one of whom was divorced from her first husband to marry him. They all lived in one house, and quite happily, it is said, for several years, when all became convinced that polygamy was wrong. One of the sisters started East, but soon returned and endeavored to make some arrangement for him to put away the other two. There were difficulties in the way, and Sharkey's troubles was so great on the subject that his mind became disordered, and last August he committed suicide by shooting himself through the head.

The widowed sisters still live together, and are determined opponents of polygamy. Two of Brigham Young's favorite wives Clara Decker and Lucy Decker Seely, are sisters, the second having been the widow of Dr. Isaac Seely, of Nauvoo, Illinois. The Mormon leaders advise a man to marry sisters whenever it can be done, as they usually agree better than others.

One family within my knowledge consists of two men and four women, the men's first wives being sisters, and their second wives each a sister of the other man, all living in one house. Or to state it mathematically, A and B first marry sisters, then B marries A's sister and A, B's. Here is no marriage of blood relation, and yet it looks like a terrible mixture somewhere. The question arises for lawyers; suppose each of the women to have children, what akin are they respectively? And which of them could lawfully marry according to Leviticus and Chancellor Kent? If polygamy continues, these mixtures are nothing to what must take place in the next generation, for without a chemical analysis no "heraldy Harvey" could ever succeed in finding the consanguinous circulation, to say nothing of the collateral. "As it now is, it seems like half the children in the city are related in some way or another to the Kimballs, the Pratts or the Youngs, and many of them to all three." Among my acquaintances is a middle-aged lady, living just over the Jordan river, who was the widow of an apostate who died in California, but is now the third wife of a Mormon. The brother of her first husband, now living here, is also an apostate, and a personal friend of mine. The lady has a handsome daughter, now seventeen years old, the offspring of her first husband, and niece of my friend.

This city already shows its bad effect on the offspring. The site is four thousand feet above the level of the sea, in a dry and bracing climate, equally free from extremes of heat and cold, and consequently it should be one of the healthiest cities in the world. Exactly the reverse of the fact. The death rate of all ages is a little more than twice that of the State of Oregon, and greater than that of New York or New Orleans. When we come to children, the display is still more frightful. By actual statistics it is shown that the mortality among the children is greater in Salt Lake City than any other in America, except in New Orleans, and the death rate of Utah is only exceeded by that of Louisiana.

Two thirds of the polygamists do not, and cannot, attend properly to their children. Heber C. Kimball had sixty-three sons, of whom only forty-eight are now living. The Bishop of our ward, the fourteenth, has thirty children living, and nearly twenty dead. Joseph Smith had half a dozen spiritual wives; but two sons survived him—both of his legal wife.

There are five men in this city who have together, seventy wives; they have, all told, less than a hundred and fifty children.

A Mormon graveyard is the most melancholy sight on earth. One bishop here has seventeen children buried in one row, and the longest grave is not over four feet! If these men have but the common feelings of humanity, how fearfully are they punished for the crime of polygamy. Brigham's children are generally healthy, except that the girls mostly have weak eyes, and two of them are nearly blind; but they are well fed, housed and clothed. But such is the exception, and I could mention a dozen men whose houses are full of women, but their children are in the grave.

—While others are waiting for an opening in Salt Lake City, an Episcopal Missionary, Mr. Foote, has begun a successful work. He reports within the last sixteen months, "Confirmations, 31; communicants, 44; Sunday School scholars, 15; teachers, 13; grammar school scholars, 100; teachers, 6. contributions for church purposes, $3,970.68. We have built a commodious rectory, in which all the clergy and their families are living. We are vigorously pushing on parochial and chool work."

Murder in New York.

The hot blood of the street ruffians has again caused the death of a citizen, and again the authorities are called upon to decide who shall rule this city. The last case is the murder of William Kiernan, a young man who resided in 103 Sheriff street. It appears that at fifteen minutes after nine o'clock last evening a fight occurred in Sheriff street between William Kiernan and William Purcell. Words led to blows, and a large crowd of ruffians collected to witness the affray, when the crowd and the residents in the vicinity were startled by the ringing report of a pistol. Simultaneous with the report, an agonizing scream rent the air, and the body of William Kiernan fell to the earth mortally wounded. Instantly a man broke away from the crowd and rushed up the street, smartly pursued by Officer Fitzmaurice of the Eleventh Precinct. The greater part of the crowd followed at a rapid pace, shouting 'Stop him!' 'stop the murderer,' and the night was made hideous with the yells of the gang. The fugitive, who proved to be John Purcell, a brother of William Purcell, the man who commenced the fight, finding himself so closely pursued that escape was impossible, rushed up the long stairway and into the police station of the Eleventh Precinct, flourishing a double barrelled pistol over his head. Sergeant Johnson, who was behind the desk, leaped to the front and wrenched the pistol from the murderer's hand. The barrel was yet warm from the effects of the discharge. Officer Fitzmaurice, close on the heels of Purcell, entered the station and promptly informed the Sergeant of the state of the case, and secured his prisoner. The Sergeant asked Purcell "if he shot the man, when the bloody ruffian answered, with the coolness of a hardened villian, "Yes, I intended to do so, and am willing to swing for it.

The excited crowd who had followed the chase here entered the station, filling the room, and necessitating extra details at the door, to keep them from tearing the criminal to pieces.

KIERNAN'S BODY RAISED.

In the meantime some friends of Kiernan had raised his dead body from the street and removed it to a place of safety. It appears further that a long standing quarrel between the two Purcells and Kiernan had brought the men into such a state of excitement that their friends have long anticipated some such end to the affair, and while William Purcell was engaged in his combat with Kiernan, John Purcell quietly made his way through the crowd, and when close to Kiernan, drew a double-barrelled pistol and fired a ball that instantly went crashing through Kiernan's brain, and passed out at the opposite temple from where it entered. The murderer was locked up, and his brother, Wm. Purcell, and a man named John Tracy were arrested and confined in the station. The wildest excitement prevailed during the night all over the ward, and groups in every barroom were busy discussing the horrible affair. Coroner Keenan was notified, and will hold the inquest to-day.—N. Y. Star.

THE WINNER OF THE DERBY.—Pretender ran four times as a two-year old, and won once—the thirteenth North of England Biennial Stakes of 511 sovereigns, at York August, by half a-length, beating Standard-Bearer, colt by Parmesan—Ravioli's dam, the Bajab, and Wellington. He made his debut at Stocton in the Hardwick Stakes, where he was second to his stable companion, Lord Hawthorn, with whom Mr. Johnson declared to win. The same day he was third in the Lampton Plate, won by Minaret; Thorwaldsen second. At Newmarket, Second October was third, carrying 8 st. 13 lbs., in the Middle Park Plate, won by Gomez, (8 st. 6 lbs.); Scottish Queen (8 st. 3 lbs.) second. His first appearance this year as three year old was in the Two Thousand Guines Stakes at Newmarket, which he won by a length, defeating Belladrum, (second;) Perry Down, (third,) and sixteen others. He is by Adventurer (a son of Newminster and Palma) out of Perina by Venison, and is owned by Mr. Jardine, who runs his horses under the turf name of Mr. Johnstone. His present owner purchased him for $2,000, when a yearling. He is a great raksih-looking brown colt, full 16 hands high, of great length, capital loins and back, good gamelooking head, muscular well-framed neck, nicely joined to uncommonly good shoulders, his arms are long and strong, hocks and knees large, well shaped, and free from blemish, wiry legs, and capital feet.

Luther, in his writings, is frequently and fervently thankful for being enriched with love of music. He says: 'It is one of the fairest and most glorious gifts of God, to which Satan is a bitter enemy; for it removes from the heart the weight of sorrow and the fascination of evil thoughts. Music is a kind and gentle discipline; it refines the passions and improves the understanding. Those who love music are honest and gentle in their tempers.' This latter assertion, we fear, will not be confirmed by those who have had anything to do with fashionable church choirs.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY, JUNE 3.

FIREMEN'S PIC NIC.—The Firemen of Belleville intend holding their Annual Pic Nic to Lake View Point, on Wednesday, the 16th June. The popular steamer Rochester has been chartered. For particulars see large posters.

ACCIDENT.—A number of little boys were playing last evening on the railroad Bridge, near the Seminary, when one of them, a son of Mr. Thomas Van Allen, accidentally fell from the bridge to the track beneath. Dr. Burdett being called in, reported his collar bone broken. The little sufferer is doing as well as could be expected.

NEW DRUG STORE.—We are pleased to see that the large and commodious store, lately occupied by Mr. Peard, near the lower bridge, is being fitted up for a Drug Store, by Mr. L. H. Yeomans, who, absent from town for a number of years, has decided to return to the town of his birth. He intends keeping a full assortment of everything in his line and the public will do well to give him a call.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—We are sorry to have to record a very serious accident which happened to Mr. John Ross of this town. It appears that while driving from here to Brighton on Tuesday last he was run into when near Brighton, by an engine on the Grand Trunk Railway.—The buggy was riddled to pieces and Mr. Ross received very serious injuries, being cut in the face and neck, as also receiving internal injuries. The engineer stopped the train as soon as possible, took Mr. Ross to Brighton, where he now lays under the treatment of Dr. Fife.

DEATH BY LIGHTENING.—An accident of rare occurence happened at Hemmingford on the 14th inst. Mr. John McNaughton was working on a field of his farm, along with a hired man, who was driving the team. A thunder storm coming on, they made preparations to return to the house, and while on their way, the lightning struck Mr. McNaughton. The hired man, who was a little in advance, was knocked down by the shock, and the horses ran away from him. When he sufficiently recovered, he followed them to the house. Surprised at not finding his master there, as he expected, he returned to the field, where he found Mr. McNaughton lying dead, and his clothes smouldering with fire. The lightning had struck him on the head, and ran down his left side to his foot.—Ottawa Citizen.

ORPHAN'S HOME.—The annual meeting of the above institution was held in Toronto at the Home. Proceedings were opened with prayer offered up by Archdeacon Fuller. The Archdeacon then read the annual report, from which it appeared that during the year 89 children had been admitted; 3 apprenticed; 1 adopted; 4 taken by their friends and 1 dead. There is at present in the Home 51 boys and 36 girls. The matron, Mrs. Large, has been obliged to retire, her place being filled by Miss Wheelwright. It has been decided to buy a piece of land in the rear of the Home, on which the boys will be employed in gardening. Gratitude was expressed to the butchers, confectioners, market gardeners, and the members of the Loyal Orange Institution, and to Directors of the Northern Railway for bringing down wood at half price.—Toronto Telegraph, June 2nd.

—Mr. Justice John Wilson died at his residence, Westminster, London, Ont., at nine o'clock this morning. The funeral will take place to-morrow.

—The house of James Lowrie, Esq., of St-Catherines, narrowly escaped destruction by fire, on Wednesday last, caused by the explosion of a coal oil lamp.

—All the banks of Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick, with one exception, oppose the Government banking scheme. The Bank of Montreal and the Bank of Nova Scotia favor it. Mr Galt opposes it.

—A fashionable wedding in Poughkeepsie was celebrated last week over the open coffin to which lay the bridegroom's father. It was done in accordance with the direction of the spirit of the old gentleman.

—A New York genius proposes to employ the waves of the ocean as a motive power for running mills, factories, &c. His plan is to build on the beech (at Long Branch Rockaway or elsewhere) a dike several hundred feet in length, against which the waves of old ocean are privileged to break as widely as they will, but they are not allowed to recede. In the sea face of the dike are the openings of conduits which conduct the water to the Reservoir within the dike. A canal from the reservoir reconducts the water by a circuitous route to the ocean, turning on its way the wheels of as many mills as can be built on the canal beech. This plan is probably more ingenious than practicable.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

OTTAWA, June 2.

QUEEN'S PRINTER.

Sir JOHN A. MACDONALD introduced an act for the appointment of Queen's printer and for the management of public printing. He explained that it was the intention to make the Queen's printer a salaried officer of the government, whose duty it would be to superintend the publication of the Official Gazette and the statutes, and also the departmental printing generally.

Mr. MACKENZIE thought that confidential printing and all printing should be done in the same way. He found that printing had been sent to newspapers, the political supporters of the government, hundreds of miles away, and newspaper proprietors were in the habit of dogging ministers and members of the House for a share of this printing.

Sir JOHN A. MACDONALD then moved that to-morrow the House go into committee to consider the following resolution :—

"That it is expedient to appoint a Queen's printer for Canada, and to pay him an annual salary of not more than $2,000. The motion was carried.

PATENTS OF INVENTION.

Sir GEORGE CARTIER moved the House into committee on the act respecting patents of invention, and explained that to carry out the suggestions of the previous speaker would involve considerable expenditure. The act merely provided for granting patents to original inventors who were residents of Canada, and the manner of doing this was arranged on a most economical plan, and considered that reciprocity in patents with the Americans would be more beneficial to them than to us. And thought the privilege should be reserved for the present as it would be of advantage in negotiating a reciprocity treaty.

Mr. GALT said he would defer his amendment extending the right to obtain patents to American inventors until the third reading of the bill.

Mr. J. S. MACDONALD said that amendments to the third readings were seldom considered. He was himself opposed to patents altogether, and was glad to learn that similar views were spreading in England.

Mr. JOLY suggested an addition to the amendment of the hon. member for Sherbrooke, to the effect that if a patentee from a foreign country did not put his invention into operation within one year, the patent should lapse and any one be allowed to use his invention.

Mr. MCDOUGALL considered the new law more liberal than the present law; it allowed foreigners to take out patents here, the sole condition being that they had been resident in the country for a year.

Mr. HARRISON said that everything was under patent. He suggested that the fees should be increased after the first few years, because if the patent was good it could bear to pay them.

After a short discussion the House then went into committee on the bill—Mr. Harrison in the chair.

After debate the third clause was amended by striking out the provision making the commissioner's regulations a true interpretation of the act, it being held that it virtually gave him power to interpret it as he pleased.

Mr. Tupper suggested that the first line of the 6th clause be amended by inserting the words "any British subject or" before "any person," in order to settle the objection raised that the clause required all persons, whether British subjects or not, to reside one year in Canada before making an application for a patent.

At six o'clock the House rose.

After recess,

The House again went into Committee on the patent bill, and the sixth clause was carried without amendment. On the 12th clause being moved

Mr. BLAKE suggested that it should be amended by adding that there be a special declaration of place or places of residence of the applicant, if the provision for residence was meant to be real; if intended for a sham, the clause should stand as it was.

Sir GEORGE CARTIER said that because the provision for residence was real, he could not accept the suggestion of his hon. friend.

Mr. BLAKE said he would take the sense of the House on his suggestion at another stage of the bill.

On the 16th clause,

Sir G. E. CARTIER moved an amendment providing the the examination of all patents by the Minister of Justice and his certificates that all the conditions of the law have been fulfilled.

The amendment was carried.

At the suggestion of Mr. Blake Sir Geo. E. Cartier agreed to amend the 31st section so as not to exclude British subjects and render them liable to reside for one year in the Province.

The remaining clauses of the Bill then passed through committee.

The committee then rose and reported the bill, the report to be received on Friday.

IMMIGRATION.

The House then went into committee on the bill introduced by Mr. Langevin respecting emigration and immigration.

The bill passed and the committee rose and reported. The bill was then read a third time and passed.

SUPPLY.

The House then went into committee on supply.

Mr. OLIVER said that he saw among the items provision for petroleum inspectors, and wished to know if there was any necessity for such office.

Mr. TILLEY said that oil inspection at St. John had paid $800 more fees into the treasury than the amount of the salary.

Mr. HOWE would not support any unnecessary expenditure, and intended looking carefully into all the departments with which he was not yet perfectly familiar.

After some further remarks on the question of the collection of customs and inland duties.

The item passed.

In answer to a question put by Mr. Holton,

Mr. ROSE said that the Government knew of several cases of illicit distillation. There could be no doubt that such improper practices were yet too common, but the government were exercising every vigilance and he hoped the evil would soon be entirely abandoned.

Several other items were carried and the committee rose.

The House then adjourned at 1.10.

The Ottawa Lumber Trade.

The following extracts taken from the Ottawa Times, will give some idea of the vastness of lumber trade in that district :

"It is not uncommon for 180 rafts of square timber to be taken in one season from the Upper Ottawa forests; each raft, on an average, is made up of 80 cribs or subdivisions, and each crib has, say 20 sticks of timber 40 feet long, 15 in. x 15 in.; the number of cribs then, in a season's cutting, would be 14,400, and of single pieces or sticks 288,000; the contents of a raft would be 100,000 cubic feet, and of the whole (18,000,000) 18 millions of cubic feet, which, if sold at 15c. per foot, would yield $2,700,000. The area of a crib, exclusive of loading sticks, may be considered 24½ x 40 feet—980 square feet, and of a raft 1 sc. 3 r. 8 pls., so that if the whole 180 rafts were brought together they would occupy 324 acres of the surface of the Ottawa. The pieces of square timber it placed in a continuous line, end to end, would form a boom 2,181 (statute) miles, and 1,440 yards in length, or little more than the distance between the stations at the extremities of the Atlantic cable.

"It is estimated by those who are in a position to be well informed that a million of saw logs have been cut above the Chaudiere Falls, and are now being floated to or sawn by the extensive and well appointed mills in the vicinity for the season's business. A million of saw logs—say on an average of standard dimensions 12 feet long and 21 inches in diameter closely packed, would, if placed in a reach of the river such as that opposite the city where they could lie one tier deep, occupy an area of 482 acres; and supposing the Ottawa at this place to be a half a mile in width, they would extend up and down stream upwards of a mile and a half; their contents would be 28,863,450 cubic feet, and the weight to be overcome in drawing them from the river would be 515,428 tons (2,240 lbs. to the ton.)" Place these logs end to end, or in the shape of a boom, and they would extend 2,272 miles and 1,280 yards.

"It is generally allowed that five standard logs are required for the production of 1,000 feet B. M. of Lumber, so that from a million of logs 200 millions of feet B. M., will be obtained, which, at $10 per B. M., will yield $2,000,000 as the value of the manufactured article; this, of course, does not include lumber of small dimensions cut from slabs, edgings, and other scraps that can be turned out in large quantities, and readily disposed of. A fairsized barge will carry 10,000 feet B. M., 200 millions, therefore, in being transported to market, would furnish 2,000 cargoes for such a craft. On an average one steamboat tows 10 of these barges laden, then on the supposition that the whole of the lumber is to be handled at one shipment; that the barges and steamers measure each 100 feet over all, and that no allowance is to be made for tow lines, there would be a fleet of 2,200 river crafts, (barges and steamers,) forming a continuous tow of 41½ miles in length, or more than two-thirds of the distance between the capital and Greenville, and earning $8 00 per M. for the service, or $600,000 in the aggregate.

"A million of saw logs would furnish lumber enough, exclusive of foundation timbers and waste, for the construction of a plank road 16 feet wide 3 inches thick and 789 miles in length, or in other words, a road fully equal to the length, of the Ottawa River itself.

"As the foregoing remarks apply to the produce of the forest taken annually from above this city only, the vast quantities of lumber manufactured on the Lower Ottawa and tributaries, such as the Gatineau, Blanche, River aux Lievre, Nation, and Rouge, must not be lost sight of. It is estimated that below this point 600,000 saw logs and a number of rafts of square timber are taken out and disposed of during the season.

People with thin heads of hairshould use Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer to make their hair grow out thick.

"Their Name is Legion," may be applied to the innumerable diseases to which the skin is subject. It would be well for those who are afflicted with apparently incurable ulcers, old sores, erysipelas, and eruptions, to use Grace's Celebrated Salve, which cures, in a very short time, cuts, burns, scalds, flesh wounds, &c.

San Francisco to New York.

The distance between New York and San Francisco is as follows:—New York to Omaha, 1,890 miles; Omaha to San Francisco 1,882 miles; total, 3,682 miles.

This distance, it is estimated, may be performed by express in six days, at a charge of $150. There will be a second-class for $100 and emigrant trains for $50. But what will most interest our merchants are the prices of freight. The owners of the Company aver their intention of reducing the freight to a low standard, in order to induce traffic, and they will no doubt be successful. The freight will be divided into about a dozen classes, the first of which is bullion, and the second expensive goods, as silks, teas, etc. The general freight will cost about three cents per pound, and the time taken for transportation ten days. For instance, the saving of time this railway will achieve may be illustrated in the following calculation. If a cargo of 100,000 pounds of tea, valued at $75,000, be sent from Canton to London, overland, the cost will amount to the following :

	Time, days.	Freight.	Total. cost.
Canton to San Francisco	30	3c.,	$3,000
San Francisco to New York	10	2c.,	2,000
New York to London	10	½c.,	500
Total	40	4½c.,	$4,500

Therefore, the cargo of 100,000 pounds of tea valued at $75,000 could be sent in 40 days from Canton to London across this continent, at a freight of 4½ cents per pound, which would amount to $4,500. Now, suppose this cargo had been sent by clipper ship, at 2 cts. per pound, which would amount to $2,000, and take 160 days in performing the journey, and during all that long time no advices could be sent. Now, if we take the difference in time, we may see how freights will be nearly equalized :

TRANSPORTATION

By rail	$4,500
40 days' interest at 7 per cent on $75,000.	575
Total	$4,650
By clipper-ship	$2,000
160 days' interest at 7 per cent on $75,000	2,800
Profit of 20 per cent on $75,000 ($15,000)	350
Total	$4,650

The difference, therefore, would only amount to $425; but, as four cargoes could be landed in the same time by rail that one is by clipper ship, a merchant would not require so much bank accommodation, and insurance would be considerably less; so that the various charges saved would more than make up the difference between the two freights.

Business Notices.

THE WEATHER.—There can be no doubt that sudden changes in the weather have a peculiar effect upon some systems. The way, then, to become prepared against atmospheric influence is to tranquillize and invigorate the constitution by a systematic plan of temperance avoiding hot and rebellious liquors, and take moderately Ginnelli's Royal Italian Bitters, which tend to ameliorate the condition of the nervous system, and to fortify the body against the numberless diseases which variable weather may have a tendency to produce on the various degrees of strength and the peculiarities of organization of different individuals.

TOM THUMB ECLIPSED.—We read there has been a race between the New York Showman to obtain possession of one George Washington Nutt, who is said to be several inches shorter than General Tom Thumb, and that P. T. Barnum has succeeded in getting him for three years for 30,000, board, and expenses. Is it not a great thing to be a small man! and is it not equally as great to have a medicine that can be depended upon for curing colds rheumatism, burns, bruises, summer complaints, cholic, &c., if so get at once a supply of the 'Canadian Pain Destroyer,' at the nearest Medicine dealers at 25 cts per bottle.

Has a large stock of London made

W. JOHNSON has also a large stock of COLORED COTTON SHIRTS, WINCEY SHIRTS and FLANNEL SHIRT, suitable for Summer wear.

W. JOHNSON is now prepared to take orders for all kinds of SHIRTS, and as he intends making this a speciality of his business, will devote considerable time and thought to the wants of the "shirtless."

Now a passing word about SILK HATS. As W. Johnson first drew public attention to the extraordinary value of his SILK HATS, by labelling them in the window, and as other houses have now imitated him, he no longer labels them, but he still has them at his prices, $3. This extraordinary low price has created quite a demand for them, and the sale of Silk Hats during the past three weeks, has been unprecedented in Belleville.

FINALLY.—His Paper Collars are good shapes. His White Vests are well made. His Neckties are beautiful colors, and his Window is attractive.

BRITISH COLONIAL POLICY.

LONDON, June 2.—In the House of Commons last evening, in response to an enquiry as to the government policy toward the American colonies, Mr. Monsell, speaking for the colonial department, replied that while he declined to enter on the general subject of the colonial policy of the government, he intimated that part of the policy was to throw the cost of self-defence on each colony. Measures to that effect had been partially taken and they would be extended next year. He had no doubt that the arrangement of the cession of the Hudson's Bay Company's territory would receive the ratification of the Canadian government. The question was not one of purchase only, but also of the development of colonization and civilization, which had hitherto been virtually closed. If the scheme were successful the Dominion of Canada would be able to extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He believed that all the interests of British Columbia lay in connection with those of Canada and every facility would be given to forward them.

Sir Stafford Northcote, member for North Devon, thought that the Canadians were better able to decide for themselves what action they would take in the matter than to act on the advice of the government. Still, he believed that this question would soon be satisfactorily settled.

Viscount Bury regarded Canada as the future highway to the Indies and the east. Much had been said and written about the incorporation of the British possessions with the United States. He ridiculed this idea, and said that by such a course the colonies had everything to lose and nothing to gain.

Mr. Adderly, member for North Staffordshire, and formerly under secretary for the colonial department, regarded the arrangement as detailed and explained by the government as eminently satisfactory. On principle, he generally disapproved of the system of government guarantees, yet he would vote in favor of this.

OCEAN POSTAGE.

LONDON, June 2.—In the House of Commons last night, Mr. Seely, member for Lincoln, made some remarks on ocean postage. He urged that in future contracts for carrying the mails to the United States be made for no longer a time than three years; that payment for the service be regulated by the mails carried. He advocated ocean penny postage, and hoped negotiations would be entered into with the United States for the establishment of that system.

The Marquis of Harrington, Postmaster General, defended the late mail contracts made by the Government. Although he sympathized with the sentiments of Mr. Seeley, he was opposed to his proposals, which, if carried into effect, would lead to uncertainty in the service, and to disinclination on the part of steamship companies to compete with each other. He thought the present contracts would be the last which would be made with a fixed subsidy; but was altogether doubtful of the success of any negotiations for the establishment of penny postage across the ocean.

At the conclusion of the Postmaster General's reply, the subject was dropped.

IRISH POLITICAL PRISONERS.

Mr. Moore moved that a special Committee be appointed to inquire into the treatment of the Irish political prisoners.

Mr. Fortescue, Chief Secretary for Ireland, believed that the complaints made of the ill treatment of these prisoners were exaggerated; but he thought political prisoners awaiting trial should be held under the supervision of the Government officers and not kept in county jails.

After remarks from Messrs. Gray and Maguire, condemning the present system of holding untried prisoners in confinement, the House divided on the motion, and refused to appoint the committee, by a vote of 2 to 84.

Bathing.

Once a week is often enough for a decent white man to wash himself all over, and whether in summer or winter, that ought to be done with soap, warm water, and a hog's hair brush, in a room showing at least seventy degrees Fahrenheit. If a man is a pig in his nature, then no amount of washing will keep him clean, inside or out. Such a one needs a bath every time he turns round. He can do nothing neatly.

Baths should be taken early in the morning, for it is then that the system possesses the power of reaction in the highest degree. Any kind of a bath is dangerous soon after a meal, or soon after fatiguing exercise. No man or woman should take a bath at the close of the day, unless by the advice of the family physician. Many a man, in attempting to cheat his doctor out of a fee, has cheated himself out of his life, aye, it is done every day.

The safest mode of a cold bath is a plunge into a river; the safest time is instantly after getting up. The necessary effort of swimming to shore compels a reaction, and the effect is delightful.

The best, safest, cheapest and most universally accessible mode of keeping the surface of the body clean, besides the once-a-week washing, with soap, warm water, and hog's-hair brush, is as follows:

Soon as you get out of bed in the morning, wash your face, hands neck and breast; then, into the same basin of water, put both feet at once, for about a minute, rubbing them briskly all the time; then, with the towel, which has been dampened by wiping the face, feet, &c., wipe the whole body well, fast and hard, mouth shut, breast projecting. Let the whole thing be done in about five minutes.

At night, when you go to bed, and whenever you get out of bed, buring the night, or when you find yourself wakeful or restless, spend from two to five minutes in rubbing your whole body, with your hands, as far as you can reach in every direction. This has a tendency to preserve that softness and mobility of skin which is essential to health, and which too frequent washing, will always destroy.

That precautions are necessary, in connection with the bath-room, is impressively signified in the death of an American lady of refinement and position, lately, after taking a bath, soon after dinner; of Surgeon Hume, while alone, in a worm bath; and of an eminent New Yorker, under similar circumrtances, all within a year.—Hall's Journal of Health.

That Tarnal Everlasting Stuff.

A long, lean, gaunt Yankee entered a drug store and asked:

'Be you the drugger?'

'Well, I s'pose so, I sell drugs.'

'Well, hev you got any of this here scent stuff as the gals put on their handkerchers?'

'O, yes.'

'Wal, our Sal is goin' to be married, and she guv me ninepence and told me to invest the hull amount in scentin' stuff, so as to make her sweet, if I could find some to suit, so if you've a mind I'll smell around.'

The Yankee smelled round without being suited until the druggist got tired of him; and taking down a bottle of hartshorn, said: 'I've got a scentin' stuff that will suit you. A single drop on your handkerchief will last for weeks, and you can't wash it out, but to get the strength of it you must take a big smell.'

'Is that so, mister? Wal, just hold on a minit, till I git my breath, and when I say neow, you put it under my smellers.'

The directions were of course followed, and the Yankee was nearly knocked off his pins.

But recovering himself he exclaimed—

'Chain litenin', Mr. Drugger, is the top of my head on? Sal don't want nothin' like that; it would break up a camp meeting in ten minits. You hain't got the right kind of scentin' stuff.'

Puzzling Name.

An Englishman on the continent had hired a smart travelling servant. On arriving at an inn one evening, knowing the stringency of police regulations in Austria, where he was, he called for his usual registrar of travellers, that he might duly inscribe himself therein. His servant replied he had anticipated his wishes, and had registered him in full form as an "English gentleman of independent property."

'But how have you my name?'

'I can't exactly pronounce it, but I copied it faithfully from Miller's portmanteau.'

But it is not there. Bring me the book."

What was his amazement at finding, instead of a very plain English name of two syllables, the following portentous entry of himself: 'Monsieur Warrantedsolidleather.'

The Dominion Government intend to make a grant for the expenses of taking observations of the great solar eclipse in August next. As the cost will be small, we have nothing to say against this appropriation in aid of an inportant and interesting scientific object.

—A statute of a full sized man in a sitting posture with hands by his side, carved from the heart of a yellow pine, has recently been found in a natural grotto upon one of the peaks of the Log Mountain in Bell co., Kentucky. The contons of the ribs and of every muscle of the body is perfectly displayed, while the face of the image is beautifully wrought and every feature perfectly delineated. In the ears are holes for the insertion of ornaments.

The Appetite for Tobacco Destroyed.

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed Tobacco.

ORTON'S PREPARATION!

ESTABLISHED 1866.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for Tobacco, in any person no matter how strong the habit may be. If it fails in any case the money will be refunded. It is almost impossible to break off the use of tobacco by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature in overcoming a habit so firmly rooted. With the help of the Preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that Orton's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for tobacco, and leaves the person as free from any desire for it, as before he commenced its use. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobacco and through these upon the blood thoroughly cleansing the poison of tobacco from the system and thus allaying the unnatural cravings for tobacco. No more hankering for tobacco after using Orton's Preparation. Recollect it is warranted.

The time taken to allay all desire for Tobacco by the use of this Preparation varies slightly in different persons, the average time being about Five days. Some have no desire for Tobacco after using the Preparation Two days.

The Health and Purse of every Tobacco user in the country call loudly, ABANDON THE USE OF TOBACCO.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have used Orton's Preparation for the purpose of destroying the appetite for Tobacco, and can assure those who are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparation will certainly destroy the appetite for Tobacco quickly and permanently, without any bad effect upon the health, and without creating an appetite either for the Preparation or any substitute.

☞ Beware of counterfeits and all articles purporting to be like this, of the same name or otherwise. The great popularity of Orton's Preparation has induced unprincipled persons to attempt palming upon the public counterfeit and inferior articles. Purchasers will please order directly from the proprietor, or his duly authorized Agents. ☜

The price of Orton's preparation is $2.00 per box, or three boxes for $5, sent by mail to any part of the country, securely sealed from observation, with passage paid on receipt of price.

HOW TO SEND MONEY BY MAIL.—Enclose the amount in a letter, seal carefully, register the letter, and take a receipt for it of your Postmaster. Money sent by mail as above directed at my risk. An Agent wanted in every town.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroberant for delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the frame has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.

OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 20 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

The Pacific Railroad.

AN HISTORICAL VIEW OF THE WORK ACCOMPLISHED.

(From the New York Sun.)

The first blow was struck in 1863, but that was about all. Money was hard to get, and no contractor would touch the work until August, 1864. Then, one chilly day in the fall of the year, a few of the State, City and Railroad officials put some boards across a dirt car, spread buffalo robes across them, and rode from Omaha to the crossing of the Papilion river, and drank a bottle of champagne in honor of the opening of twelve miles of the Pacific Railroad. In the next year—1865—twenty-eight miles were built, making forty miles in a year and a half. It was one thousand miles to Salt Lake Valley. At that rate how long would it take to get there? It was a sum of simple division, with an unpleasant quotient of thirty-seven years.—That would never do. Government might authorise them to issue bonds, but who would buy the notes of a railroad feebly crawling thirty miles a year into the wilderness? Rapid work was the essential. The fast coach takes the passengers; the man of nerve and dash has the sympathy of the crowd. There was a waking up.

To do rapid work where every step was under difficulties which builders of Eastern railroads know nothing of, book money—piles of it. Dillon, Durant, Bushnell, Allay, the Amicses, startled their bankers with their magnitude and frequency of their checks for Pacific Railroad expenditures. Durant was made general manager, with a whole set of instructions in two words: 'Push things.' He pushed them as no railroad builder had ever done before. When T. W. Kennard built the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad for James McHenry and Sir Morton Peto, at the rate of a mile a day, it was the wonder of the mechanical world. Durant averaged three, four, and five miles a day for weeks, and one day seven miles and nineteen hundred feet of rails were laid, spiked, and put in running order. He swept through the Psain and run over the Rocky Mountains. The country was scoured for all the necessary stock of tools, of laborers, and of the best men for the responsible places. The bair of a noted plough maker of New York was made to stand on end by the receipt of an imperative order for three thousand plow points. His largest customers had rare y ordered one hundred points at a time, and he thought the purchasing agent of the Union Pacific was crazy. But every six mule team, drawing a plough through the disintegrated granite of the Black Hills, ground one of those points to pieces in two hours, and the three thousand were needed.

Two hundred and sixty five miles were built in 1866, two hundred and sixty five in 1867; while since January 1, 1868, five hundred and sixty miles have been built, equipped, and put in operation. One thousand and eighty miles in three years and a quarter! That will do to brag of.

Meanwhile, the western part of the work had been pushed with similar energy. The heavy grades of the Sierra Nevada were encountered soon after leaving Sacramento, and within eleven miles of the summit of the mountain range. Early in 1868 the summit tunnel was completed, and during that year and the four months of 1869 the road has been carried rapidly down the Truckee and Humboldt valleys, and to the meeting point at the head of the Great Salt Lake.

Domestic Infelicities in Georgia—an Atrocious Case.

The Macon (Ga.) Journal tells the following terrible story:

It seems that a young lady from an adjoining State was visiting the country seat of a neighboring county last year, and while there was courted by, and engaged to a young lawyer of that place.

All was smooth sailing until she returned home. Then she learned for the first time, that her parents had other plans for her future. She was told that her hand was sought by a very wealthy old man, and that she must prepare to receive him as her future husband. To her remonstrance and disclosure of her love for and engagement to another, her parents turned a deaf ear. They had determined she should marry the old man, and at last by arguments, threat, and importunities, brought her to the point of writing to her lover and breaking off the engagement.

Immediately upon receiving her letter he left for her home, and on arriving there soon had an interview. Then was concocted the horrible plot. It was settled between them that she was to marry the old man, and after getting him to settle his property on her, the young man was to have him murdered! Back home came her lover, and commenced his preparations. He soon found a willing tool, who for the sum of one thousand dollars, to be paid when the guilty pair were married, agreed to go to the old man's house and murder him. The marriage, in the meantime, had taken place, and the would be assassin found the old Benedict in the first flush of his honey moon.

The assassin, from some cause, did not or could not, find an opportunity to do the deed, and finally either relented or became doubtful as to the safety of the job. He then sought an interview with his intended victim, and told him of the plot, first binding his victim to pay him $4000 in gold and to hold him harmless. The feelings of the old man can better be imagined than told in words. He hardly knew what to do, but at last concluded to go home and confront his young wife with the terrible revelation. He did so, and was met of course, with an indignant denial. The old man was staggered but not entirely convinced, and fearing that he would invoke the law and have the matter thoroughly sifted, the wife wrote to her lover all that had happened. He realised his peril, and made preparations to fly.—In a day or two he disappeared, and there the matter stands at present.

A Canadian Kills himself that his Children might derive the benefit of Insurance on his life.

(From the Chicago Tribune.)

A suicide under rather peculiar circumstances, and one of the incentives to which was obviously a desire to bestow on relatives a large sum of money to be obtained on a life insurance, was committed in this city either on Monday night or yesterday morning. The particulars are as follows:—Several weeks since a middle aged man, named E. Stephenson, with two little children, arrived in this city, evidently from Canada, and took lodging at a boarding house kept by a lady named Mrs. Eliza Clark, located at No. 137 Adams Street. He stated that he was an engineer, and in a day or two, made a trip on one of our lake steamers. During his absence the children were well provided with money by him, and such comforts as they could reasonably desire. On Saturday night he returned, and stated that he had concluded to send his children back to Canada. On Monday evening he took the little ones and placed them on board a Canada propeller. He returned to the house about 9 o'clock, and immediately sought his room. When he did not make his appearance at breakfast, a servant was sent to call him, but she found the door closed, and nothing more was done about the matter until noon, when a carrier brought a letter for him. The proprietress of the place and the carrier both visited his room, and, finding it locked, with the key on the inside, the door was forced open. On entering the room a ghastly sight met their gaze. On the bed, undressed to his underclothing, lay the body of Stephenson, with his throat cut from ear to ear with a razor. The suicide had been very particular as to details, in committing the act, and placed his pantaloons under his pillow, carefully adjusted his other clothing on a chair, and otherwise conformed with the strictest rule of safety and propriety. Before he undertook the bloody deed, he had carefully tucked the bedclothes about his person. The following letter, addressed to a brother of the landlady, was found on the dressing stand by the bedside. To judge from its contents the "almighty dollar" was one of the incentives to the act:

"Chicago, May 24.

Dear Sir: Will you be kind enough to put some sort of a coffin about me, and lay me in a grave somewhere. Send a copy of the verdict of the coroner, or a certified copy of my death to R. L. Stephenson, Perth, County of Lanark, Ontario, Dominion of Canada, via B. & O. R. R. He will pay all expenses which you may incur. The certificate of my death is necessary, as my life is insured for a large sum of money. The vessel which took my two little girls away to night snapped the last link that bound me to this world. I changed my mind, and determined to go on a different journey to that which I first contemplated. Excuse the trouble I must give you, and believe me truly yours,

"E. Stephenson.

"P. S.—Please keep all as quiet as you can. If you send the documents mentioned above, you may rest assured that you will be amply remunerated for any trouble you may be to Selling Straw to Paper Mills.—The policy or impolicy of doing this depends on circumstances. Straw is worth about $3 a ton for manure. If you can get from $5 to $10 per ton on the farm, as we can in the neighborhood of the writer, it will of course pay much better to sell it than to rot it down for manure. Instead of selling all the straw, the better plan would be to sell half of it and buy oil-cake with the money, and feed it out to stock with the remaining half, on the farm. And if you make anything on the stock, buy guano with the money! In this way, you can sell straw with great advantage to the farm, and ultimately to yourself.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, JUNE 4.

OYSTERS.—Hambly has just received another lot of those delicious Count Oysters.

FISCATORIAL.—Two gentlemen went fishing yesterday in the Bay, and returned about six o'clock with over two hundred of the finny tribe. Seventy were black bass. Where in the Dominion will such fine fishing grounds be found?

A WARNING.—An old resident of the town, living near the wharf, was yesterday brought before A. Diamond, Esq., P. M., charged with stealing shingle bolts from the river, and as it was proven that he took bolts and used them for fire wood, as a warning to others he was sentenced to 48 hours in gaol. As it has become notoriously common for people living alongside the river to appropriate the property of lumbermen to their own use, the Police Magistrate has decided to punish the next offender severely.

THE MARY FOSTER.—This vessel was launched yesterday from the ship yard near Foster's wharf. Some difficulty was experienced in getting her off the stocks, and the Ferry boat was obliged to come to her assistance. The "Mary Foster" was built by Mr. George W. Simpson, of Belleville, (formerly of Oakville). She is clipper model, poop cabin, and built of material oak. Her size is 70 feet keel; 18 feet on deck; 17 feet 6 inches beam; 6 feet deep, and has a capacity of 4,500 bushels wheat. It is expected the freight of the new vessel will consist chiefly of coal (of all kinds), and wood, the owners having lately entered into that branch of business, and from the number of orders already received here, there is a prospect of a large trade, especially in the coal line.

The Banking Scheme.

The Leader of to-day says:—"We are glad to have confirmation of the statement that the government have come to the wise determination not to press their scheme this session at least. The announcement creates a confidence in commercial circles which has been wanting for some time. At the best the commercial out-look was not cheering. Had the bank measure been carried we should not like to have been responsible for the consequences. The government will receive the thanks of the whole community, with very few exceptions, for the course they have determined to take; and those members who so manfully protested against the measure to the extent they did, although it was submitted by their own political friends, will not be forgotten in the general congratulation."

Episcopal Methodist Conference.

The Bay Quinte Methodist Episcopal Conference closed its annual session at Ottawa on Wednesday. The report of the several committees show that the church during the past Conference year has been very prosperous. The exhibit of the College and University gave good satisfaction, as also that of the book room and printing office. The reports on temperance and Sabbath schools were of a gratifying character, and were adopted.

An address was presented to his Excellency Sir John Young, to which a suitable reply was made.

The next Conference is to be held in Carnfton.

Wesleyan Conference.

The forty-sixth Annual Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church of Canada, commenced its sessions in Toronto on the 2nd inst. Rev. W. M. Punshon, M. A., presided.

The names of Ministers appointed to attend the Conference were announced by the District Secretaries. The number of ministers, and of preachers, "on trial" now connected with the Canada Conference, approaches 600. Of this large body, more than 800 were in attendance at their present annual meeting.

The Conference next proceeded to the election of a President for the ensuing year. The choice of the body fell on the Rev. W. M. Punshon, M.A., who was elected by a unanimous vote. In compliance with a nomination made by the Conference last year, the President appointed the Rev. Geo. Douglass, of Montreal, to be his Co-Delegate for the coming year.

Rev. Chas. Lavell, M. A., was re-elected Secretary.

Thursday's session was chiefly occupied in viewing the character of each Minister. It was a matter of great congratulation that of 600 Ministers not a charge of immorality nor of departure from the faith was preferred. Twelve Ministers were received into full connexion; sixteen who had travelled three years were continued on trial; twenty-two who had travelled two years were reported as probationers; and twelve were continued on probation, having travelled one year.

In the evening the annual meeting in connection with the Sabbath School Union was held, the services of which were highly interesting. The report showed that there were 7,000 teachers and 56,000 scholars in connection with this branch of the Church. Several addresses were delivered and measures framed to render the Sabbath Schools more efficient.

Preparing to Come In.

The Prince Edward Island papers are tired of being left out in the cold. Having seen Nova Scotia accept the situation, and hearing Newfoundland knocking at the door for admittance, they are about making up their minds that there is no alternative but to come into the Union. The Islander, which all along has been rather favorably disposed towards Confederation, takes the following sensible view of the position: "Is it not high time for us to set our house in order, since a certain dreadful event is now at our very door? With Nova Scotia pacified and Newfoundland on the eve of being confederated, how, we would like to be informed, can P. E. Island expect to maintain her political isolation? With the policy of the Home Government set in array against us—with strange and unprecedented movements going on around us, which are evidently destined, at no remote period, to have their counterpart throughout the whole extent of Britain's vast Colonial Empire, it were sheer infatuation to dream of the possibility of abiding much longer where and what we are."

The North West.

Sir John A. Macdonald gave notice yesterday of a Bill for a provisional government of the North-West Territories. A Lieutenant-Governor will be appointed with power to summon a provisional council of not less than seven nor more than fifteen members. All laws in force in the territories not inconsistent with the Union act or act of the Dominion parliament are to remain in force. All ordinary officers are to remain in office, and the act is to be in force only until the end of the next session of Parliament. The whole matter will be provisional and discretionary with the Governor in Council until next session, when a measure will be introduced providing for the permanent organization of government machinery.

The rumor is repeated that the Hon. W. McDougall is to be the first Lieut.-Governor of the North-West Territory.

Church of Scotland.

The Synod of the Church of Scotland met at Hamilton on the 1st inst. After the usual sermon by the Moderator, Dr. Jenkins of Montreal was chosen Moderator for the ensuing year by a unanimous vote.

The Revs. G. G. Ferguson, Dr. Barclay, and R. McLennan, were re-elected trustees of Queen's College.

The second day's proceedings were taken up by considering several reports and applications from divinity students to preach.

The Rev. Duncan Anderson, M. A., and the Rev. Joseph Evans, M. A., were re-elected Governors of Morrin College.

The evening session of Wednesday was occupied in discussing an overture respecting the partaking of the Lord's Supper by the Synod at its annual assembling. The overture was adopted, and a Committee appointed to arrange for its proper celebration.

On Thursday the session was occupied mostly with going over clause by clause the Books of Church Polity, as recommended by the Committee at the session of Synod.

The following gentlemen were elected managers of the Temporalities Board: Rev. Dr. Cook, Rev. Dr. Barclay, Judge Dennistown, and Thomas Paton, Esq.

The Synod resolved to meet next year in St. Paul's Church, Montreal, on the 1st Wednesday of June, at 11 a. m.

Attempted Suicide.

A journeyman tailor, named Dennis Hegan, in the employ of Mr. J. C. Vapor, attempted to commit suicide this morning by cutting his throat with a razor. It seems that Hogan had been on a spree for some ten or twelve days, and yesterday exhibited signs of delirium. This morning about eight o'clock, when Mr. Vapor went to his shop he found it open as usual, and on entering into the workmen's department, was horrified to find Hogan lying on the floor with a long and deep wound across his throat, and near where he fell the floor covered with blood. Vapor asked him what the matter was, and received in reply that he thought some one was going to hang him and to save the trouble he cut his throat. He was then apparently in a sensible condition, but very weak on account of the loss of blood. Dr. Hope was sent for and sewed up the wound, which presented a ghastly appearance. The cut extended from the right ear over the left side of the wind-pipe, severing all the external jugular veins and exposing the wind-pipe. Fortunately none of the internal arteries were cut.

As there is no hospital in the Town, and having no relatives nor means of subsistence, he was removed to the gaol, where he is under the care of the attendant physician, Dr. Hope.

Hogan is about forty five years, is said to have been a soldier in the late American War, and when not under the influence of liquor, was a hard-working, industrious man. He still lies in a critical condition, and his recovery is considered doubtful.

Presentation.

The following address, neatly engrossed upon parchment, was presented to Dr. Oronhyatekha at a public meeting, on the occasion of his late visit to Ottawa.

We learn also that the Doctor succeeded in having a total prohibitory liquor clause inserted in the Indian Bill now before Parliament, amesure which all must admit must prove a great boon to the Indian race of Canada. We are glad that the Doctor uses his influence and position upon all occasions for the advancement of the interests of his people.

"To Dr. ORONHYATEKHA,

"G. W. C. T. of the I. O. of G. T.

"BROTHER.—The members of OTTAWA City Temple, No. 403, avail themselves of the opportunity your visit affords to express their feelings of admiration and respect towards yourself, not only as the head of our Order, but for those high personal endowments which endear you to all to whom you are known.—The sacrifices of time, comfort and means you are making for the furtherance of the cause of Temperance, are appreciated wherever known. It is a matter of deep significance that one of your race should be at the head of an organization whose chief aim is to spread Temperance principles amongst white men, while it is known that you must stimulate the swift destruction of your tribes to the introduction of the accursed firewater to them by the whites.

"The work of a reformer is at all times arduous, calling for sympathy and encouragement; ours we tender to you, and pray that you may be long spared to labor successfully in the good cause in which you are engaged.

On behalf of the Temple in the bonds of the Order.

W. PENNOCK, W. S.

Parliament Yesterday.

When the House met yesterday, Mr Rose apologized for the late arrival of ministers, but the House would understand that that delay had been on the interest of the public business, when he stated that he had to give notice that the House would at some future day go into committee of the whole on certain resolutions respecting the admission of Newfoundland into the Union. (Applause.) Also, that on a future day he would move the House into committee on certain resolutions respecting Prince Edward Island. (Cheers.) Also, that he would move on a future day that the House would go into committee of the whole on certain resolutions respecting Nova Scotia. These resolutions would be printed, and it was proposed that the House should take them into consideration on Tuesday.

The House then went into Committee on Supply. On the item for appropriating $17,500 to the Marine Hospital, Quebec, considerable discussion took place.

Mr. MILLS moved an amendment, that this House is of opinion that so long as the hospital is used by the local and general governments, the contribution of each towards its maintenance shall be in proportion to the aggregate number of days of attendance of patients sent by each to such hospital.

The amendment was lost on the following division.

YEAS.—Messrs. Ault, Blake, Bodwell, Brown, Bowell, Cameron (Huron), Drew, Kempt, Little, Macdonald (Cornwall), Macdonald (Glengarry), Mackenzie, McGill, McCallum, McConkey, McMonnies, Metcalf, Mills, Oliver, Ross (Prince Edward), Rymal, Scatcherd, Stirton, Thompson (Haldimand), Thompson (Ontario), Wells, White, Whitehead, Wood, Young—30.

NAYS.—Messrs. Anglin, Archambeault, Beaty, Beaubien, Bechard, Bellerose, Bertrand, Blanchet, Burton, Caldwell, Cameron (Peel), Carling, Carmichael, Caron, Cartier Sir Geo. E., Chauveau, Cheval, Costigan, Crawford (Brockville), Currier, Dufresne, Dunkin, Ferguson, Forbes, Fortin, Galt, Gaucher, Gaudet, Geoffrion, Genuron, Godin, Grant, Grover, Harrison, Holton, Howe, Irvine, Jackson, Joly, Jones (Leeds and Grenville), Keeler, Killam, Langevin, Langlois, Lapum, Lawson, Levisconte, Macdonald Sir John A., Macdonald (Middlesex), Masson (Terrebonne), Macdougall (Lanark), McGreevey, McMillan, Merritt, Paquet, Pelltier, Perry, Pickard, Pinson neault, Pope, Poulliet, Rankin, Ray, Read, Rimaud, Robitaille, Rose, Ryan (King's, N. B.), Ryan (Montreal west), Simard, Simpson, Smith, Sprout, Stephenson, Street, Tilley, Tremblay, Tupper, Wallace, Walsh, Workman, and Wright (Ottawa county)—Total 82.

After recess Mr. Ferguson moved another amendment that at the end of the next financial year all connection between the Quebec Government and the Government of the Dominion, with regard to the marine hospital at Quebec should cease.

This amendment was also lost on a vote of 43 to 85.

The item was then concurred in.

On the item to appropriate $22,000 for a dredge and scows for St. John Harbor, considerable discussion took place. Mr. Mackenzie moved in amendment that inasmuch as the chief commercial harbors in the Dominion are now maintained by their trade and by other local resources, and inasmuch as no general policy has been adopted providing means for the improvement of harbors, it is not expedient to vote $22,000 for the single port of St. John whilst other ports are comparatively neglected.

Mr. ROSE said that the object of the vote was to purchase a dredge which could not only be used in St. John but in other parts of the Dominion. Certain machinery used for similar purposes previous to the Union was still to the fore and would be used.

The amendment was lost on the following division:

YEAS.—Messrs. Blake, Bodwell, Bowen, Cayley, Cheval, Coupal, Geoffrion, Grover, Holton, Huntington, Kempt, Little, Mackenzie, Magill, Masson (Soulanges) McCallum, McMonies, Morrison (Victoria, Ont.) VESSEL SUNK IN LAKE ONTARIO.

Crew not heard from.

By Special Telegram to the Daily Intelligencer.

PICTON, June 4.

Last evening as Mr. Peter Huff was about five miles below Point Peter, in Lake Ontario, he came on a schooner named Lady Moulton, in a sinking condition. She went down in 250 feet in a few minutes after being discovered. Mr. Huff got one gaff-top sail and the yawl, and brought them ashore. There was on person on board, and he could not tell whether she was loaded or not.

She kept the white slippers and the apparel in which she was to have been made a happy bride, until the day of her death, and would breed over these remembrances for half a day at a time. Whenever the spirit of sadness fastened upon her, she went to her door and blew a long tin horn, bequeathed to her by her mother, for hours at a time.

THE WEATHER.—There can be no doubt that sudden changes in the weather have a peculiar effect upon some systems. The way then, to become prepared against atmospheric influence is to tranquilize and invigorate the constitution by a systematic plan of temperance avoiding hot and rebellious liquors, and take moderately Gianelli's Royal Italian Bitters, which tend to moderate the condition of the nervous system, and to fortify the body against the numberless diseases which variable weather has a tendency to produce on the various degrees of strength and the peculiarities of organization of different individuals.

RIOT IN WALES.

LONDON, June 3.—Despatches have been received to-day from Mold, a small town to the northern part of Wales, giving the details of a formidable riot which occurred these last evening, whereby several lives were lost and many persons injured. An attempt was made to rescue two prisoners in the hands of the sheriff. The sheriff, and his guard resisted manfully, but the mob being too strong it was found necessary to call out the military force, which fired upon the rioters, killing four of them instantly, and wounding many more. At the date of the last despatch the town was quiet and the prisoners still in custody.

THE LATEST.

NO WAR.

LONDON, June 3.—The Evening Standard today in a leading editorial says it believes that America does not wish for war. The Standard is confident that as soon as the irritation caused by the too animated discussion of the question at issue subsides, men on both sides of the Atlantic will be ready and willing to hold out their hands to each other.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DYSPEPSIA.

There is no disease which experience has so amply proved to be remediable by the

PERUVIAN SYRUP,

(a protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron), as Dyspepsia. The most inveterate forms of this disease have been completely cured by this medicine, as ample testimony of some of our first citizens proves.

FROM THE VENERABLE ARCHDEACON SCOTT, D. D.

DUNHAM, Canada East.

* * * * "I am an inveterate Dyspeptic of MORE THAN 25 YEARS' STANDING."

* * * * "I have been so wonderfully benefitted in the three short weeks during which I have used the Peruvian Syrup, that I can scarcely persuade myself of the reality. People who have known me are astonished at the change. I am widely known, and can but recommend to others that which has done so much for me." * * * *

ANOTHER CLERGYMAN WRITES AS FOLLOWS:

"My voyage to Europe is indefinitely postponed. I have discovered the "Fountain of Health" on this side the Atlantic. Three bottles of Peruvian Syrup have rescued me from the fangs of the fiend Dyspepsia."

A pamphlet of 32 pages, containing a history of this remarkable remedy, with a treatise on "Iron as a medicine," will be sent free to any address.

The genuine has "PERUVIAN SYRUP" blown in the glass.

SHIRTS.

W. JOHNSON

Has a large stock of London made White DRESS SHIRTS, THE "CORAZZA," "NAVIER," "PICCADILLY," being the leading shapes.

W. JOHNSON has also a large stock of COLORED COTTON SHIRTS, WINCEY SHIRTS and FLANNEL SHIRT, suitable for Summer wear.

W. JOHNSON is now prepared to take orders for all kinds of SHIRTS, and as he intends making this a speciality of his business, will devote considerable time and thought to the wants of the "shirtless."

Now a passing word about SILK HATS. As W. Johnson first drew public attention to the extraordinary value of his SILK HATS by labelling them in the window, and as other houses have now imitated him, he no longer labels them, but he still has them at his prices, $3. This extraordinary low price has created quite a demand for them, and the sale of Silk Hats during the past three weeks, has been unprecedented in Belleville.

FINALLY—His Paper Collars are good shapes. His White Vests are well made. His Neckties are beautiful colors, and his Window is attractive.

How late can we Plant.

How late can we plant trees, shrubs, and flowers? This question is asked us every spring, and we have no excuse to avoid the truth from day to day. Want, pain, and much of human delinquency is confined to no one branch of business, nor to any particular class of society, for it parades all and has become a chronic disease affecting both rich and poor. If there is, however, any one class of people who suffer more than another from being afflicted with excuses, it is those who have land in which they might grow an abundance of fruits, vegetables, and flowers.

In summer, when the flowers are putting on their most brilliant colors, and the trees and shrubs are loaded with fruit, men will come to us and enquire whether they can safely plant this or that kind of fruit in the fall, and if we reply in the affirmative, they promise to attend to the matter at the proper time; but when August or September arrive they have some plausible excuse ready for not planting a bed of strawberries. October and November pass, and winter sets in, and no apple or pear trees have either been purchased or planted, because they have been informed that it will do just as well to set them out in spring.

In March it is too cold and the ground is too wet. April finds these men with other business on their hands, but in May they learn that it is really too late for planting anything of the kind this season; consequently another year of time is lost—a thing which money cannot replace.

We dare not say how many thousand families are annually cheated out of an abundant supply of good wholesome fruit by these dealers in excuses. They are often men with an abundance of means, and who might furnish their families everything in the way of fruits and flowers that could be desired, but procrastination, aided by excuses, has prevented them from ever planting a bed of strawberries. This is no fancied sketch, but a fact well known to every nursery man in this country. But it is really too late in the season for planting fruit-trees or ornamental plants? No; for although it would have been better to have planted them earlier, still the list of June would; be preferable to letting a year go by without making an effort to have a good garden.

Late planting requires a little more care and severe pruning. If the trees have leaves nearly developed in their full size, lift them carefully, and keep the roots moist and protected from the sun; then cut off most of the branches, and there will be but little danger of loosing them. Strawberries may be set out on any rainy day, and if the operation is performed with ordinary care, there will not be the least difficulty in making them live, and next year they will produce abundantly. Rasberries and blackberries may be pruned down to the ground, for it is only the root that should be preserved, even if planted early in the season. A little weir may be required when first set out, if the weather should prove dry; but even this extra trouble will be amply repaid by an extra amount of fruit next year.

Nurserymen generally have to do a great deal of late planting, because they wait until all of their customers are supplied; but they lose very few plants in the operation, because they prune, severely, and watch their chances for cloudy, or wet weather for this kind of work.

THE ECLIPSE AND THE CORN CROP.—A good many honest souls really believe that there will be a short corn crop because there will be an eclipse of the sun next August. We cannot prove that there will be a good crop, but these are facts. The moon will cut off the light of the sun partly, for less than half a day, because it will not be exactly between the sun and the earth. Once in every month the moon always comes near the same relative position, and almost every year it eclipses the sun to some part of the earth. The only difference between this year and any other is, therefore, that the corn crop, and every other, will get perhaps a quarter of a day's less sunshine than if the eclipse did not occur. The sun and moon, separately and conjointly, influence the tides; perhaps, also, aerial tides and storms, and the weather somewhat. They may, or may not. Somebody guesses so; but it is no guesswork to say that the eclipse will in no way affect the corn crop for good or ill.

FARM ROADS.—There are two conditions which are essential to all good roads. One is a dry foundation, and the other a hard surface. A well-drained road-bed and a covering of stone and gravel make a perfect passage-way for the heaviest of vehicles. Such roads, however, are too expensive to be universally adopted by the farmer; and he generally contents himself with laying stone or gravel, or both, over the wetter portions of the road. It would be far better, if only one of the two conditions above named can be attained, to secure the dry foundation rather than the hard surface, and half the cost of stoning or gravelling expended in the construction of a good underdrain, four feet below the surface of the road, either under the middle or at one or both sides, would accomplish better results; and during all but a small portion of the year, the road would be very satisfactory, and its condition vastly improve.

—A traveller in Pennsylvania asked the landlord if they had any cases of sunstroke in that town. "No sir," said the landlord, "if a man gets drunk, here we say he is drunk, and never call it by any other name."

The Two Armies.

BY OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

As life's unending column pours,
Two marshalled hosts are seen,
The armies on the trampled shores
That death flows black between.

One marches to the drum beat's roll,
The wide mouthed clarion's bray,
And bears upon a crimson scroll,
"Our glory is to stay!"

One moves in silence by the stream,
With sad, yet watchful eyes,
Calm as the patient planet's gleam
That walks the clouded skies.

Along its line no sabres shine,
No blood-red pennons wave;
Its bloodless stabber calls by night,—
Each answers, "Here am I!"

For these the sculptor's laurelled bust
The builder's marble piles,
The anthems pealing o'er their dust
Through long cathedral isles.

For these the bosom-sprinkled turf
That flocks the lonely graves,
When Spring rolls in her sea-green surf
In flowery-foaming waves.

Two paths lead upward from below,
And angels wait above,
Who count each burning life-pop's flow,
Each falling tear of Love.

Though from the Hero's bleeding breast
Her pulses Freedom drew,
Though the white lillies in her crest
Sprang from that scarlet dew.—

While Valor's haughty champions wait
Till all their scars are shown,
Love walks unchallenged through the gate,
To sit beside the Throne!

Profane Language.

There is probably no crime in the land so common as profanity. One meets it everywhere. He cannot travel upon the highway, upon railroad or steamboat; he can hardly enter a depot, hotel, warehouse, store or office without his ears being greeted with some form of profanity. Old men use it; young men are addicted to it; and young children lisp it with the first accents of their tongue. It seems to be regarded with some as an essential ingredient in the character of a gentleman; as imparting force and dignity to his character, and giving weight to his declarations. There never was a greater mistake.

In the next place it rather weakens than strengthens one's declarations. The natural inference is that one who will recklessly violate one precept of the Decalogue is liable to violate another; that if he has no fear of God, neither will he regard man. And this inference every one would draw among strangers. He would sooner take the word of one whom he found to conscious to use a profane word, than one who accompanying his statements with an oath showed that he scrupled not to trample under foot a divine command. It is true that there are honest men who are profane; but we trust them not because of their oath, but because we have tried them and found them honest; we believe them rather in spite of their profanity. But again, profanity is a violation of a positive command of God: "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain," were the words communicated audibly from heaven, amid the thunder and smoke of Sinia, and by the finger of the Almighty twice committed to tables of stone. This is a law of peculiar sanctity. It is invested with all that is lawful and sacred. It came not by the mouth of prophets; not by the ministration of angels even, but the great Law giver himself came down and communicated it with his own lips, and, amid the awful displays and majesty, wrote down with his own almighty hand, and reached it forth, to be a statute to all generations. Who then would recklessly trample it under foot?

We repeat this is a crime without a redeeming quality of any seeming advantage. When men commit any crime, they generally expect to gain something by it. If they tell a falsehood, they have some object in view. If they commit theft or robbery, there is an expectation of gain. If they indulge in strong drink, it is to gratify a craving appetite. But profane swearing has no real or imaginary profit. It makes no one the richer, the wiser, or the happier for it. It neither helps his education nor improves his manners. It commends no one to society. It adds no beauty or force to his language.—What is it then? It is simply a gratuitous insult cast in the face of the Almighty.—Buffalo Christian Advocate.

Punctuality.

Thousands have failed in life from not being punctual. It is not only a serious vice in itself, but it is the fruitful parent of numerous other vices, so that he who becomes the victim of it gets involved in toils from which it is almost impossible to escape.

It makes the merchant wasteful of time; it saps the business reputation of the lawyer, and it injures the prospects of the mechanic, who might otherwise rise to fortune; in a word, there is not a profession, nor a station in life which is not liable to the canker of the destructive habit. Many and many time has the failure of one man to one man to meet his obligations brought on the ruin of others. Thousands remain poor all their lives, who if they were more faithful to their words, would have secured a large run of custom, and so made their fortunes.—Be punctual if you must succeed.

To Make Home Happy.

To make home truly happy there should be no concealments; that is the canker worm. Let a woman tell her troubles and follies freely to her husband; and he will assist her out of them. He is her other self—not her judge and master. If a man confides in his wife, her penetration and quick wit will often see things that escaped him. We are in the world all day—our minds are occupied by many details; but she sits at home, often alone, or with but an infant companion; she thinks over what you have told her and sees it in many lights; she has had the time you wanted. The discovery that there has been a secret excites a jealousy, and loosens the ties of affection on either side. Without perfect and entire confidence, married happiness is seldom lasting.

What Nerve Does.

An ounce of pluck is worth a regiment of hesitating men. A little nerve, coolness, pluck, and decision, have carried men safely through difficulties insurmountable. In all probability no persons possess more nerve to a greater degree than do bank robbers, and persons of that class, who live not by labor but by their wits, and operations which succeed from boldness. Not long since a man stood in Wall street bank, with a bag in his hand, containing $10,000 in gold. A gentlemanly looking man, with his hat off, said to the one who held the gold: "Let me lift it, I'll guess within half an ounce of its weight."

The person addressed mechanically handed the bag to the applicant, who at once ran out doors, and was soon lost in the crowd, while the loss of the gold never saw it again. On seeing him with his hat off, he thought him a clerk in the bank. A gentleman standing by saw the thief remove his hat, and hang it on a hook, when he, too, supposed it to be some one connected with the bank, and said nothing.

Some years since a person entered the Importers' and Traders' Bank, New York, in broad day light, took off his coat, put on a duster, stuck a pen behind his ear, and then walked deliberately past clerks, and tellers, and cashier, and pushed the president aside, who stood talking with some of the directors, entered the vault, helped himself to the largest package of money he could find, and walked out unmolested, no one suspecting that anything was wrong, till he was off and out of sight.

A few months ago, in New York, a hearse drove to the door of a mansion. A genteel young man rang the bell and inquired for the man who lived there, but he was down town. He said the hearse contained a coffin in which were the remains of a daughter of the occupant of the house, who had just died at school in Connecticut. The servant at the house had heard nothing of the matter, but helped the driver bring the coffin into the parlor, and at the suggestion of the young man, who said he was a teacher, sent one of their number to the gentleman's place of business to inform him of the sad news. The teacher remained in the house to tell him the particulars, but when the man arrived the teacher had gone, and about three thousand dollars worth of jewelry, kept in bureau caskets, had gone with him. The coffin was opened, and found to be filled with a beech log.

—A young girl, daughter of a merchant of Toledo, while on her way home from school the other day, was met by a man who commenced conversation and walked with her, giving her a bouquet. The girl smelling the flowers became unconscious, and when she came to herself, at eleven o'clock at night, was on the doorstep of a cottage in Washington township, her hands bound. She was taken to her home in Toledo, where her parents were in deep distress, and the police had been sent in search of the missing girl. The author of the outrage has not been discovered.

OVERWORK.—There was William Pitt, died at forty-nine, carrying the British Empire on his shoulders for a quarter of a century, and attempting to carry a pint of port wine daily and a pinch of opium in his stomach, and foundering in mind from this over-cargo. What a wreck was there when Brinsley Sheridan went to pieces on the breakers of intemperance and overwork! There, too, was Mirabeau, that prodigy of strength and health, of versatility and splendid talent, killed by the overwhelming labors and excitements of the tribune and the orgies of Cyprian hells. Sergeant S. Prentiss attempted the double task; and if ever a man might with impunity, he could, with leonine health and marvelous mental gifts. Said a distinguished Mississippi lawyer to me, "Prentiss would sit up all night gambling and drinking, and then go to court next day and make a better plea in all respects than I could, or any body else at the bar of our State, even though we studied our case half the night and slept the rest." He tried it, and in the trying burned to the socket in forty-one years the lamp of life that had been trimmed to last four score. A draft upon the constitution in behalf of appetite is just as much a draft as in behalf of work; and if both are habitually preferred together, bankruptcy and ruin are sure and swift.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, JUNE 5.

SEIZURE AT LAKE ST. CHARLES.—Mr. Ross, the vigilant fishery detective, made a large seizure at Lake St. Charles on Monday morning. He succeeded in securing 90 set of lines in two hours.

RECIPROCITY.—The Boston Board of Trade at a special meeting held on the 25 inst., unanimously passed a resolution in favour of the Reciprocity Treaty with the British Provinces.

THE BLESSED RAIN.—The fine warm showers of yesterday and to-day have gladdened the hearts of farmer and merchant, of mechanic and laborer, alike, for they see in the blessed rain a promise of overflowing barns and granaries, and well-filled coffers, and of the good time that's coming right along. Blessed rain!

BOARD OF ARBITRATORS.—The Hon. Philip Vankoughnet, and James Cowan, Esq., of Ontario, M. Hurteau, of the Province of Quebec, and Wm. Compton, Esq., of Halifax, N. S., have been appointed a Board of Arbitrators for the Department of Public Works of the Dominion. The salary is to be the same as that paid in the old Province of Canada—one thousand dollars per annum.

A WARNING TO TAVERN KEEPERS.—A couple of persons left here last Sunday, taking a tour through the country and returned in the evening by way of Frankford, the result of which is, that instead of being thankful for the drinks slyly taken in the back rooms of the taverns on the road, tan tavern keepers are notified to make their appearance in town, to answer to the charge of selling liquor on Sunday.

BURGLARY.—A cash box, broken open and rifled of its contents was found on the corner of George and Bridge streets early this morning. On enquiry it was found that the office of Mr. F. J. Phippen was broken into last night, the till drawer broken open and the cash box taken therefrom. Fortunately the cash box contained only a small amount of silver and a few postage stamps. No clue as to the perpetrator of the robbery has been obtained.

A PERFECT GARDEN.—The country from Belleville to Montreal along the Grand Trunk line, presents a most attractive picture. The woods are beautiful in their spring foliage; the fruit trees are covered with blossoms; the fall grain is tall and rank, and already headed out; the spring crop has come up finely and completely covers the ground; the meadows are luxuriant in growth; and everything gives promise of an abundant harvest. Let us be thankful and take courage, and not forget from whence all these blessings flow.

FIRE.—This morning about two o'clock an unoccupied building on the east side of Front street, adjoining Mr. Petrie's, was destroyed by fire. The steam engine was promptly on the ground and rendered good service. The building was owned by Mr. Francis Clark, and was insured in the Commercial Union for $200. Mr. Clark's loss above the insurance will probably be $200. As there was no one living in the house, the fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

THE ROCHESTER AGROUND.—The steamer Rochester when coming into her wharf last night, mistook the lights and went below the east side of the lower pier, when discovering the mistake she commenced backing out. The night being dark and foggy, and the wind blowing hard from the southwest, she swung round, and before headway could be obtained she was hard aground in about five feet of water. The tug Jean Abbey made several attempts to get her off, but without effect. The water was too shallow for the J. T. Hayden to render any assistance, and some more powerful tugs from Kingston have been sent for.

MEDICAL COUNCIL.—At the meeting of the Medical Profession of the Quinte Division, held to-day, Dr. H. W. Day, of Trenton, was unanimously nominated a candidate to represent the Quinte and Cataraqui Division, in the Medical Council of Ontario. Resolutions were also unanimously passed condemning the present Medical Act.

POOR HENRY IRVINE.—Alas! and alack-a-day, that Henry J. Irvine should have come to such a sad end. Died last night, in a fit of delirium tremens, Henry J. Irvine, age——; we don't knew how old the poor unfortunate was, but he lived long enough to prove that if it were not for his love for strong drink, he might have occupied a high position in the land. Possessed of fine talents, of a genial disposition, having industrious habits, and coming of a good old Irish stock, his future was bright, if the black cloud which has hung like a pall over the pathway of so many brilliant men, had not covered him with its terrible shadow, giving not even a glimmering of that silver lining which sometimes buoys up with hope the most despairing.—Henry J. Irvine held at one time a Lieutenant Commission in Her Majesty's service; one of his brothers is a Colonel of Artillery, now stationed in Malta; another brother is an eminent Barrister in Dublin, all in good circumstances, and from whom, for several years past, he received regular remittances. But these remittances had far better have been retained, for they only fed the flame which was setting like a consuming fire, and which at last tormented him even as the flames of hell. Poor Irvine! how often his friends have tried to throw a cordon round his pathway to keep out the tempter, but how unavailing is known not only to those friends, but to those who stood ready to get his money and help him along the downward road. His sad history and sadder end convey an important lesson, which it were well those who have commenced to walk the same road would learn before it is too late. "Too late!" those were the last words poor Irvine spoke.

Reciprocity.

Every now and then we see some spasmodic effort made on the other side of the line to agitate the question of Reciprocity with Canada. Sometimes the effort is to woo us into making overtures; at others to coerce us into submission. At one time, if we do not comply with the proposals made, we are threatened with Fenian raids, with complete isolation from the seaboards of the Republic, with such restrictions upon our trade as will compel us to accept their terms. Again, we are solicited to make our own terms, with the promise that they will receive due consideration. The fact that we are capable of managing our own affairs, that we can exist and prosper as a nation without Reciprocity, was considered beyond the bounds of probability by our cousins across the border, and the fact that we have gone on and prospered, done a good trade, and increased our manufactures, has been a matter of no little astonishment to them.

While we are favorably disposed to the establishment of commercial relations with our neighbors mutually beneficial, we must confess that we look upon the abrogation of the Reciprocity Treaty as a blessing to Canada than otherwise. It taught us the most important lesson a people can learn—that of self-reliance. It taught us to depend upon ourselves, and the result of that independence has been that we have fostered the establishment and growth of many branches of manufacture, which, previous to the abrogation of that Treaty were unknown, and which have added to the material wealth and prosperity of the country. Take the item of cheese alone, and see what that spirit of self-dependence has accomplished. We have not statistics beside us, but it is enough to look at the numerous factories within our own county—which have been built up since Reciprocity was abolished, and see how much they have contributed to the wealth of this community. Previous to the abrogation of Reciprocity Canada imported her cheese from the United States; our farmers depended altogether upon the grain produced and the stock sold. Now they keep their stock, which has nearly doubled in value; we grow less grain and get a better price for what is grown; the soil is not impoverished by successive crops of cereals; all the cheese used in the country is manufactured here, and immense quantities are annually exported to Europe. Who will say that in this one branch of manufacture alone Canada, has not been largely benefitted by the abrogation of reciprocal relations with the United States?

We observe that another effort has been made by the New York Chamber of Commerce to renew negotiations with Great Britain for arrangement of reciprocal trade with Canada. This time that body took a more moderate view of the question than has been the habit of most public bodies when considering the question, and the gentlemen who addressed the meeting took particular pains to deprecate the idea of adopting any measures looking to the acquisition of Canada by force. The sentiment expressed by one prominent gentleman found much favor, and that was, that it was exceedingly foolish to refuse to "become the merchants of four millions of "people whom we are now driving away." We have no disposition to undervalue the advantages of reciprocal trade with the United States, but in view of the past, we are not willing that Canada should get down on her knees and beg the American people to give us that reciprocity. They lose far more than we do by existing relations, and when they are prepared to establish a proper basis for a new treaty, Canada will be quite willing to meet them half way. Until they take that ground we can well afford to wait.

Parliament Yesterday

In the House of Commons Mr. Fortier brought up the report of the Fisheries and Navigation Committee, which recommended the construction of the Murray Canal, and survey of the proposed route of the Bay Verte Canal.

[The report with the discussion that took place will be published on Monday.]

Sir JOHN A. MACDONALD introduced a Bill for temporary government of the North-West. A message was brought down from His Excellency enclosing resolutions on the subject of the union of Newfoundland with the Dominion; also one with resolutions on the union of Prince Edward Island. The terms for the reception of Newfoundland into the Union demand that Canada should assume the liability of the debts of Newfoundland at the time of union, and that the interest on the debt should be placed on the same footing as that of the other Provinces in the Dominion; but interest is to be payable by the General Government, half yearly, at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, on the difference between the indebtedness of Newfoundland and that of Nova Scotia and Newbrunswick per head of the population—the population of Newfoundland being estimated at 130,000. The power of taxation is to be transferred to the Dominion, in return for which Newfoundland shall receive yearly $85,000, and an annual grant of 80 cents per head of the population—provision being made for the increase of population—and also an annual subsidy of $150,000 in return for the transfer of unoccupied lands, the Colony retaining control over roads and bridges, and the privilege of cutting wood free of charge. This clause, however, remains subject to reservation. The resolutions also provide for the protection of the fisheries of the Colony, the maintenance by the General Government of mail steam service between the Dominion, Newfoundland, and the United Kingdom, a coast mail service, and the defraying of certain services of the Colony. Newfoundland is also to be exempt from exceptional duties, and shall be represented in the Commons by eight members, and by four members in the Senate. The resolutions will be considered in Committee on Tuesday.

On motion of Sir John A. Macdonald, the House then went into Committee on the Bill respecting Criminal Procedure. Sir Geo. E. Cartier moved concurrence in the amendments made in Committee of the Whole to the Bill respecting Patents of Invention. An amendment was moved by Hon. Mr. Galt and lost upon a division, as was also an amendment of Hon. Mr. Tupper, allowing any British subject to take out a patent in the Dominion. Mr. Chamberlin's amendment, providing against the evasion of the clause respecting manufacturers, and an amendment of Mr. Blake, stood over for consideration till the third reading.

The House adjourned at a quarter to twelve.

Looking into the Future.

Mr. Richardson, author of a book on "Beyond the Mississippi," and one of the New York Tribune staff, waxes eloquent over the new line of travel and traffic which the new Pacific Railway will initiate. Hear him—

"Upon these closing lines my pen lingers and I listen for the voice of the future breakman. Day after day, on the continual journey, will he open his door, and shout to sleepy passenger.

"Chicago. Change Cars for New Orleans and Lake Superior."

"Missouri River. Change Cars for Sas-katchewan, Kansas City and Galveston."

"Rocky Mountains. Change Cars for Santa Fee, El Paso, Matamoras, City of Mexico, and all points on the Northern and Southern Pacific Railroads."

"Great Salt Lake City—twenty minutes for dinner. Change Cars for Fort Benton, British Columbia, Big Canyon of the Colorado, Panama, Lima and Valparaiso."

"Sierra Nevadas. Change Cars for Owyhee, Columbia River, Pugent Sound, Sitka and Kamschatka."

"San Francisco. Passengers for New Zealand, Honolulo, Melbourne, Yokahama, Hong Kong, and all other points in Asia, and Africa and Europe will keep their seats till landed on the wharf of the daily line of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. Baggage checked through to Pekin, Calcutta, Grand Cairo, Constantinople, St. Petersburg, Paris and Liverpool."

—A traveller in Pennsylvania asked the landlord if they had any cases of sunstroke in that town. "No sir," said the landlord, "if a man gets drunk here we put him in drunk, and never call it by any other name."

—A coloured police magistrate has been appointed in Washington. Two coloured clerks have been designated for appointment in the Revenue Bureau. One of them is President of a Republican club in Washington, and the other is a brother of an alderman of the city. Fred. Douglas, Jr., (coloured), has been appointed a clerk in the office of the Registrar of Deeds in the District of Columbia. He wrote a letter to the Registrar applying for the position, and stating that he was a printer, but could not work at his trade on account of the trade combination against his colour.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The captain of the ship National Eagle from Hong Kong reports observing on May 17th an active volcano on an island in latitude 31.18 north, long. 139.50 east. The island is about five miles from Smith's Island. The vessel passed midway between the island and when abreast of the volcano they could hear it roaring fearfully. A dense mass of smoke and steam ascended from the crater.

The first sleeping car seen in California arrived at Sacramento to-day from the east.

ALABAMA CLAIMS.

LONDON, June 4.—The London newspapers are still discussing the relations existing between England and the United States.

The Standard says that the conduct of America in the matter of the late treaty in the lapse of time may be forgotten, but at the present it is hardly fair to be linked to feelings of just indignation and resentment.

The Post says that a new attempt for the settlement of the Alabama claims must come from America, and hopes that due precautions will be taken to secure England against accepting a treaty almost with humility which will be rejected at last with contumely.

The Greek elections have ended, and show a large majority in the Chamber in favor of the Bulgaris Ministry.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

In the House of Lords this evening, Stratford D. E. Radcliff moved for a copy of the Alabama Treaty. He said the Government had shown the greatest conciliation in its desire to maintain peace, and trusted that when negotiations were resumed that a calmer spirit than that which succeeded Mr. Sumner's speech, would show itself, and that Americans would feel that there were demands that England could not entertain. He hoped such negotiations would place our relations upon satisfactory footing, and all would be rejoiced if that end could be attained by the able man whom all admire.

Lord Clarendon regretted the unavoidable delay in furnishing the papers called for. He traced the history of negotiations, and said the House of Commons was not entitled to assume that a majority of the Senate and people of the United States supported Mr. Sumner's demand. He believed that without intervention the sympathetic feelings and good sense of America would ultimately prevail, and the friendly feelings of the United States were reciprocated. He would shrink from no sacrifice to maintain peace, but the national honor must be maintained. He was not aware of Mr. Motley's instructions, but he hoped what had occurred would promote and not hinder negotiations, as the terms which England was willing to concede, or must refuse, were well known.

LIVERPOOL, June 5.—The steamship United Kingdom, which left New York last April for this port, has not yet arrived as reported on the 19th May, but is still unheard from. Considerable anxiety is felt concerning her safety.

PERUVIAN SYRUP,

GENTLEMEN.—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of it is very fine. It is very strange, but since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always pain me after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continue a customer.

Yours respectfully,

The Cataract.

For away from haunts of man,
Deep in yonder woody glen,
Where the raven builds its nest,
And the fox retires to rest;
Loud as angry ocean roars,
O'er you cliff the river pours,
Swift as arrow from the bow,
Thundering to the depths below:
Sending up the fleecy spray,
Foaming, shouting, night and day
Rushing, flashing, gushing, dashing
Shouting ever—silent never—
Plungeth down that endless river.

Gurgling, gleaming, passing never,
Rolleth on that constant river,
Seeming like a conscious thing,
Ere it makes the fatal spring;
Rapid, breathless, smooth, sedate,
Blindfold rushing on its fate,
Comes it with a running leap,
Dashing o'er that giddy steep:
Sending up the snowy spray,
Seething, shouting, night and day!
Rushing, flashing, gushing, dashing!
Shouting ever—silent never—
Plungeth down that endless river.

Spring builds there her greenest bower,
Summer opes her earliest flower
There the rainbow makes its haunt,
There the wild birds sweetest chaunt:
There, his passion to declare,
Bashful lover leads his fair;
Still as seasons come and go,
Dash those waters down below
Sending up the cloudy spray,
Foaming, shouting, night and day!
Rushing, flashing, gushing, dashing
Shouting ever—silent never—
Plungeth down that endless river.

The Crow's Value to the Farmer.

Whatever wrong the crow commits against the cultivators of the soil, may by a little palnstaken be materially lessened or wholly prevented. The benefits he confers are both numerous and important—During the time he remains with us he destroys, so says no less authority than Wilson, "myriads of worms, moles, mice, caterpillars, grubs and beetles. Audubon also affirms that the crow devours myriads of grubs every day of the year,—grubs which would lay waste the farmer's fields, and destroys quadrupeds innumerable, every one of which is an enemy to his poultry and his flocks. Dr. Harris also, one of the most faithful and accurate observers, in speaking of the fearful ravages wrought in our grass-lands and gardens by the grub of the May-beetles, adds his testimony to the great services rendered by the crow in keeping these pests in check. Yet here in Massachusetts, regardless of such testimony in their favor, we have nearly exterminated these birds, and the destructive grubs, having no longer this active enemy to restrict their growth, are year by year increasing with a fearful persistency. We have seen large farms, within an hour's ride of Boston, in which, over entire acres, the grass was so completely undermined and the roots eaten away, that the loosened turf could be rolled up easily as if it had been cut by the turfing spade. In the same neighborhood whole fields of corn, potatoes, and almost every kind of garden vegetable, had been eaten at the root and destroyed. Our more intelligent farmers, who, have carefully studied out the cause of this unusual insect growth, have satisfied themselves that it is the legitimate result, the natural and inevitable consequence, of our acts. Our short-sighted and murderous warfare upon the crow has interrupted the harmonies of nature, disturbed her well adjusted balance, and let loose upon agriculture its enemies with no adequate means of arresting their general increase.—By T. M. Brewer, in Atlantic Monthly.

GRAPE VINES.—Those grown with horizontal arms will need to have the ends of the arms bent downwards, to cause all the buds to start equally. With vines planted this spring, allow but one bud, which should be the strongest, to grow. Two buds may grow from vines planted last year.

SOIL FOR BARLEY.—"What is the best soil for barley, and what is the usual amount of seed per acre?"—A rather light sandy loam, provided it is rich enough, is best for barley. The crop can be got in early, and it makes a fair growth before the drouth sets in. But if the land is poor, the crop suffers greatly from drouth on a sandy soil, and is frequently not worth harvesting. And the same is true on a wet, cloddy, heavy soil, that is not half worked. But on a well-drained, thoroughly worked clay loam, we usually get the best barley, simply because such soils are naturally richer than light land. If the sandy loam was equally rich in available plant-food, the barley would be equally good—and we think better. If sown with a drill, on good land, 2 bushels is sufficient; we have had a good crop from 1½ bushels, but prefer more than 2 bushels rather than less.

BEE KEEPING.—A correspondent of the California Farmer thinks that every owner of a rural home ought to have a few swarms of honey makers, and he gives the following suggestions as to where they should be kept and how managed:—

"First, on dry soil, and, if convenient, in some quiet spot away from the busy routine of the domestic order. It should be shaded by trees to relieve the little occupants from the rays of a burning sun, and shield them from too much exposure to strong winds. The best bee-house that was ever used is the shade of a tree and a good hive. The hive should always face the south east if possible so as to get the sun in the morning, sun and fewer storms come from that direction. Let it be located where it can be readily seen as swarming time from some door or window from the kitchen if possible, that the woman may give the alarm. The grass should be kept short by occasional cutting. All ant hills in the immediate neighborhood of the apiary should be destroyed, as also spider webs and the like. I recommend the planting of trees, where you are not already favored with them, and setting one or two hives under each tree, always avoiding a bee-house or room, as there is no place like the open air."

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee, or an Agency of lean Jews at all times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are so readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

VOL. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 7, 1869. No. 31.

Mohammedan Rites.

A gentleman who has lately been travelling among the Algerenis writes as follows:

A MAD DANCE.

To this performance the ladies went; but they had to go up stairs into one of the galleries of the inner quadrangular court of the Moorish house, among the Moorish women. Several nationalities were represented in our crowd. Expectation was on tip-toe to see and hear. It was a hot night and the room was close and full of people. Some two dozen Moors were present. It is dark in the room; only two dim candles and a charcoal fire, which smouldered in a skillet. The object of the latter appeared to be to warm up the drums which the dervishes beat, and which, when the sheepskin got loose they heated over the fire to make it tight. Perhaps there were some fumes in the skillet to make the dervishes devilish. While our ladies above were taking coffee, very black and sweet, in nice little china cups, in the galaries with their Arab hostesses, we sweat down stairs, leaning expectant in the dark against the white-washed walls or against the pillars of the court.

THE DANCE.

Now the chief begins. He chants passages of the Koran, while, standing around him semicircularly, a half dozen respond with whining tones. Others with their drums, sit cross-legged in a row, before a little stand with two long lighted wax tapers. A monotonous drum chorus begins; then a long haired dervish bounds up like a jack-in-the-box, as if shot in the rear, and, being up, a brother unbinds his garments and spreads out his hair, and then he jumps up gently at first, keeping time to the music. His head bows as his body sways; then faster and faster, till his hair flies around wildly and his hands are swingly insanely. He is joined by another who is more staid. The last looks as if he ought to know better. The first one, exhausted, falls down in epilepsy and is carried out. No. 2 is joined by No. 3; then No. 4 appears, and by this time No. 1 reappears, and the quadrupeds—for they are like a brutal four-legged nondescript—are all at it. No. 1 having worked himself wild again stops for a moment. The others stop. A brother appears from behind with

A RED HOT BAR OF IRON.

No. 1 laps it with his tongue. I see it smoke. My blood runs icily. He slaps the incandescent iron with hand and foot. Then the ministering brother offers him to eat some delicate stems or pieces of glass. He crunched them and swallowed them. His digestion is excellent. If it had been candy, and he had been a juvenile, he could not have relished it more! Then No. 5 the intelligent, stops and has

A LONG WIRE RUN THROUGH HIS TONGUE

and out of each cheek, protruding four inches. He snarls meanwhile like a caged hyena. Then No. 5, who has been rather quiescent, commences to snap and bark like a hungry dog—eyes popping out, and face all savage and infuriated. Barked!—he howled, he growled. Finally the ministering brother comes out with one of the thick leaves of the prickly pear, a foot long in form of an eclipse, an inch thick, and full of thorns; all the dervishes drop down on all fours and are biting at it and into it, and crunching it.

THE FROTH OF THEIR MAD MOUTHS,

hangs to the green prickles and slavers the green rind. Ugh! What more? No 4, in an ecstacy of fanatic diabolism, swallows a scorpion. Whether they have taken out the poison or whether the afflatus is so enormously exciting, that poison is innoxious; or what, God knows! We summon Mahmoud in haste; beckon our ladies from above in the dark, and seek relief and breath in the narrow streets. Upon this infernal orgy we have nothing to comment. It is as near making the human a wild animal as anything can be.

THE FETE OF NISSAM.

It begins when the beans begins to blacken. Up to that time the negroes abstain from eating beans. The 'sacred' is mixed with the profane in this festival. They celebrate Belal, a sainted black female slave, who had been in Mohammed's family.—They pray and gorge with food. An ox, covered with flowers and gay is sacrificed. They dance around it seven times before they give the death blow. As the ox dies, whether soon or not, in agony or not, so is the prognostication of good or ill. Then begins the negro dancing. Dan. Bryant might learn new fantastic lessons in the art. Then the prophetic negresses, retiring under a tent near the sea, are waited upon by the crowd to learn their futures.—The crowd brings chickens to the prophetress. She wrings off their heads and throws the body into the waves. If the headless rooster swams and struggles—so: if otherwise—not. That is clear. Then begins more dancing and chanting, and a wild sort of music called Derdeba. It should be called Diableric, for it is a jolly row. Thus these black devotees of Mohammed outstrip all the rest of their co-religionists, except the brutal Dervishes.—To beat them, I defy all the powers on or under the earth. Justice, however, to the better class of white Mohammedans demands that I should say that they disprove of these numbo jumbo orgies. Especially have they endeavored to crush out these negro extravaganzas.

A Little of Everything.

The poisoning of husbands is still lively in Marseilles.

The romance of love does very well before marriage; but after it, it sinks into the real pork and cabbage of human life.

To kiss a rosy-cheeked girl, and find your mouth filled with Venetian red, and she growing pale on it, is truly awful.

"The greatest organ in the world," says a wicked old bachelor, "is the organ of speech in woman, because it is an organ without stops."

Stiggins, the newly married man says, his wife is a perfect rose. The only drawback to his happiness is that she blows out perhaps a "leetle" too often.

A man in Maine applied for two gallons of rum for 'mechanical purposes.' 'For what mechanical purposes?' inquired the agent. 'For raising a barn,' was the reply.

A young man without money is like a steamboat without fuel; he can't go ahead. Among the ladies he is, like the moon of a cloudy night: he can't shine.

The papers relate an anecdote of a beautiful young lady, who had become blind, having recovered her sight after marriage. It is no uncommon thing for people's eyes to be opened by matrimony.

A foppish fellow advised a friend not to marry a poor girl, as he would find matrimony with poverty "up hill work." 'Good,' said his friend, "I would rather go up-hill than down, any time."

There is a book with the dangerous title of "The Pocket Lawyer." We shouldn't like a book with this title much, for we are sure that if we get a lawyer in our pocket, we never should be able to get him out of it.

Magistrate—"What brought you here, sir?" Prisoner—"Two officers, please your honor." Magistrate—"Then I suppose liquor had nothing to do with it?" Prisoner—"Yes, sir, they were both drunk."

The boy who, when asked to what trade he would wish to be brought up, replied, "I will be a trustee, because ever since papa has been a trustee we have had pudding for dinner," was a wise child in his generation.

That was a rare freak of the carpenter who ran through the streets with his hands about three feet asunder, held up before him, begging the passers by not to disturb him, "as he had got the measure of a doorway with him."

"Pa will you answer me a question?" 'Certainly my boy.' 'Well, pa, is the world round?' 'Yes, of course.' 'Well then pa, if the world is round, how came it to on end?' 'There now—that'll do; you can run out and play."

"What would our wives say, if they knew where we are?' said the captain of a 'down east" schooner, when they were beating about in a thick fog, fearful of going ashore. 'Humph, I shouldn't mind that,' replied the mate, 'if we only knew where we were ourselves.'

Lady (who is canvassing for a choir at the village church): I hope, Mrs. Giles, you will persuade your husband to join us. I am told he has a very sonorous voice, Mrs. G.—A snorerous voice, marm. Ah! you should hear it a comin' out of his nose when he's asleep.

An unconscious but comical play upon words was made by a little girl not long since while relating to a sympathizing lady the loss of two pet calves. "What caused their death?" said the lady. "Oh," was the answer, "one was hooked to death, and the other died on its own hook."

A Horse dealer, who lately effected a sale, was offered a bottle of porter to confess the animal's failings. The bottle was drunk, and then he said the horse had but two faults. When turned loose in the field, he was 'bad to catch;' and he was "of no use when he was caught."

An invincible wit and punster asked the captain of a craft, loaded with boards, how he managed to get dinner on the passage. "Why," replied the skipper, "we always cook dinner." 'Cook a board, do you?' rejoined the wag; 'then I see you have been well supplied with provisions this trip, at all events.'

SAD.—In Shaw, Ill., a few days since a farmer named Stanton went into the field to plough and was followed by his two little children, a boy and girl, who stopped to play in the high prairie grass. Not being aware of this fact, Mr. Stanton set fire to the grass and the children were enveloped in the flames, the noise of the fire drowning their shrieks. The father went home to dinner, and the children not returning, search was made, when the body of the little girl was found, burned to a crisp. The boy had managed to escape to the ploughed ground, but was dangerously burned.

GETTING BETTER.—The man Hogan who cut his throat the other day is improving, and is likely to recover.

NESTORIAN ARRIVED.—A telegram from Father Point, dated June 6th, says that the Nestorian passed inwards at 5:50 p. m., with 37 cabin and 835 steerage passengers.

THE "ROCHESTER."—The steamer Bay of Quinte arrived from Kingston on Saturday night, and on Sunday morning succeeded in getting the Rochester off. The latter steamer resumed her regular trips this morning.

SOUTH RENFREW.—Mr. Daniel McLachlin, member of the Commons for this constituency has resigned. Hon. Malcolm Cameron, has issued his address to the electors. Mr. McIntyre, the late member, is also a candidate.

NO. 9 COMPANY, AMELIASBURG.—In publishing the list of appointments of Prince Edward Battalion of Infantry, the report omitted to state that Wm. Anderson, Esq., who was formerly Captain was allowed to retire, retaining his rank.

COAL DEPOSIT.—A telegram from St. John, New Brunswick says a valuable deposit of Coal has just been discovered on the side of Norton Mountain, near Ossekeag station, on the European and North American Railway. The seam was laid bare by a land slide from the hill. Arrangements are making to commence work at once.

ROYAL CANADIAN.—The rumor that the Royal Canadian contemplates amalgamation with the Bank of Commerce is renewed. We observe that amongst the petitions presented to the House was one from the Royal Canadian Bank, praying for the passage of an act to amend its act of incorporation, and to extend if necessary the time for resumption of specie payment, and also authorize if necessary the amalgamation of the bank with any other bank or banks, and for other purposes.

REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.—The following is a statement of the revenue and expenditure of the Dominion for the month ending 31st May, 1869 :—

Excise	299,700 41

PROSPECTS AT RED RIVER.—The New Wester says :—"The Spring of 1869 opens upon us with every prospect of our fields smiling with a bounteous harvest, and to our Canadian friends we would say—there is no cause for you to be afraid of the grasshopper destroying the crops for a generation or two to come. Our grasshoppers are the worst, are not worse than the midge, blight, mildew and army worm, which often devastate your own crops. As a general thing there is no country in the world less annoyed with insect pests than this territory. The domestic rat nor the rattlesnake are not known in this settlement."

SILVER QUESTION.—A meeting of the business men of Picton was held last week to consider the silver question. It was numerously attended and after discussing the question the following resolution was unanimously adopted: "Moved by T. Donnelly, seconded by James Gillespie, That Gideon Striker, George Curry, David Barker, D. Fraser, Esquires, and the mover, be a committee to draft a petition to the Legislature, asking it, in view of the great evil inflicted on the commercial interests of the country by the great redundancy of foreign silver coin as a circulating medium, to make the same a legal tender in payment of custom duties at its intrinsic value, in order that it may be shipped out of the country, or in some other way to endeavor to remove what is felt to be so great an evil."

CANADIAN SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD.—Messrs. James Campbell in answer to their advertisement offering prizes to the writers of the best books suitable for Sunday Schools in Canada, received from all parts of the Dominion no less than thirty six manuscripts, which were submitted to Prof. D. Williamson, L. L. D., according to the terms of the advertisement, for his approval. The following have been judged the best, and are entitled to the respective prizes : 1st, $100, 'Katie Johnstone's Cross,' by Miss A. M. Machar, Kingston, 2nd, $60, 'The old and New Home,' by J. E., Toronto ; 3rd, $50, 'Jessie Grey, or Life's Discipline,' by Miss Louise Gardiner, Belleville ; 4th, $40, 'Willing Hearts and Willing Hands,' by E. M., Kingston ; 5th, $40, 'Alice Herbert and Emily's Choice,' by Miss Ellen V. Noel, Kingston.

FAREWELL VISIT OF THE ALLEGHANIANS.—The Montreal Herald in their closing notice of the celebrated Alleghanians, Vocalists and Swiss Bell Ringers, who are to appear here on Friday evening, June 11th says : "This company had a very large audience on Saturday evening in S. Patrick's Hall. Mr. Galloway took wonderfully in his songs, exciting roars of laughter. The "Twins" also brought into play all the risible faculties of which the audience was possessed. Miss Jenner and Mr. Galloway were immense in the "Apology." "Auld Robin Gray" earned for Miss Jenner a round of well merited plaudits ; she is really what we may term the "Queen of Song." "Scots wha hae," and "Auld Lang Syne," played on the bells, awakened in the minds of the Gaels and the Lowlanders many pleasing associations in connection with the "home of Wallace." The Bell Ringers start on their grand tour to day, where their fame, which has preceded them, will, no doubt, secure them large audiences." The Presbyterian Witness (Halifax, N. S.) says : "Their entertainment is interesting and novel, as well as high-toned and refined." The Baptist Register, says : "Everything is good, in excellent taste, and leans to virtue's side."

PRESS EXCURSION.—The Hamilton Spectator says the Executive Committee of the Canadian Press Association met at the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, on Friday, and decided to hold the annual meeting of the Association at Cobourg, on Tuesday, July 20th. The meeting will be convened in Victoria Hall at 11 a. m., and be adjourned, in order to allow the members an opportunity of making a trip to Rice Lake. In the evening the annual poem will be read by Mrs. Somerville, and an essay by Mr. Cameron, of the London Advertiser. On Wednesday morning the party will leave by the steamer Norseman for Rochester. Next day there will be an excursion to Avon Springs ; thence the party go to Oswego, and on to Kingston ; from Kingston to Picton and Belleville, and then home. Mr. Jackson, the Secretary, proceeds to Rochester, Oswego, and Kingston, next week, to perfect the arrangements at those points. It is anticipated that the trip will be one of the best the Association have taken. Mr. Palgrave, type founder, Toronto, has offered to supply an entire newspaper outfit, ready for the use of the excursion party, if they desire it.

The Murray Canal.

The Select Committee on Ocean and Inland Navigation brought in a report on Friday the 4th inst., respecting the construction of the Murray Canal, an advanced copy of which we have received, and which is herewith published. The importance of this work has been repeatedly referred to in these columns, and it is gratifying to see that the committee take such strong grounds in favor of its construction. In the first place it is stated that a large quantity of land was specially set apart for this purpose, that those lands have been sold and the money paid into the public funds. Of course these funds cannot properly be used for any other purpose, and we believe the amount realized from that sale, with the interest that has since accrued, would be nearly sufficient to build the work.

The avoidance of the dangerous navigation on Lake Ontario, and shortening the route between the great Western Lakes and the River, are referred to in proper terms, and the report strongly urges the construction of the Canal as a great commercial advantage, and as a military necessity. We agree with the Committee that any further delay in the construction of the Canal would be an act of great injustice to this section of the Province, and in fact to the whole country, and that it has the strongest claim of any work in the Dominion. Certainly, while the Government is making important concessions to Nova Scotia, giving money grants to conciliate the disaffected in that Province, buying up scows and dredges for harbors in the Maritime Province, and is preparing to give to Newfoundland more than was bargained for in the arrangement made at the Quebec Conference, Ontario is justified in demanding her rights. The money realized from the sale of the 6,000 acres of land cannot be diverted from the purpose for which those lands was appropriated, and we only claim what belongs to us when we demand that the amount with the interest be expended in the construction of the canal. We trust the Government will adopt the report, and commence the construction of this important work at once.

The following is the report of the Select Committee :

" COMMITTEE ROOM,
" Ottawa, June 4th, 1869.

"The Select Committee on Marine and River Fisheries, Ocean and Inland Navigation, and the Inspection of Fish, beg leave to present the following, as their 6th Report.

" Your Committee having attentively considered the Returns of Surveys and Reports relating to the proposed canal to connect the waters of Lake Ontario with those of the Bay of Quinte, (commonly called the Murray Canal) would bring under the notice of your honorable House, that in the first survey, in the Township of Murray, in the County of Northumberland, about the year 1795, there were specially reserved some 6,000 acres of land for the construction of this work.

" That the said lands have been sold by the Government, and the proceeds paid into the public funds.

" That if the proposed canal was open to vessels, about eighty miles of the most dangerous navigation of Lake Ontario would be avoided, that it would also afford a western outlet to the very extensive trade of the Bay of Quinte, more than one hundred miles shorter than the present route, besides transferring to that navigation important towns of Picton, Napanee, Belleville and Trenton to the great water-highway between the St. Lawrence ports in the East, and the Lake ports in the West.

" That it is a work urgently required for commercial purposes, and would be of the utmost importance as a military work in case of hostilities with the United States.

" That the delay in the construction of this work is an act of injustice to the locality, inasmuch as the lands were sold upon the understanding that such a work would be built, at the time the lands in the neighborhood were first settled.

" And, in consideration of these premises, your Committee do earnestly recommend the construction of this canal at the earliest possible moment the state of the finances will permit, believing that it has the oldest and strongest claim of any work in the Dominion, and being a work of only two miles in length, and of very easy construction."

The discussion on the presentation of the Report as reported in the Globe, is as follows :

Mr. Ross (Prince Edward) said with reference to the report just presented, he wished to impress upon the Government and the House the importance and necessity for building the Murray Canal. He said it was a special case, differing entirely from any other public improvement, as they would see from the report. There were six thousand acres of land granted to complete this work in the year 1790—say seventy-three years ago—and the Government took possession of those lands and sold them, and made use of the money : therefore, in all fairness, they ought to build the Canal, which is only from one to two miles in length, or appropriate the money derived from those lands with interest at 6 per cent, and not at 2 1-2, which they accepted from the Great Western Railway Company, and he had no doubt but the canal would be built, as the principal and interest would be sufficient to complete the work.—This done, he would say it would be of the most vital importance as a military work, should there ever be any trouble between Great Britain and the United States ; and he knew full well if the Minister of War only knew of the great importance of this work to his department in time of war, he would at once have the work completed. The gallant knight at the head of the Government, the Minister of Justice, lived within a few miles of the place where the canal wants to be cut, and in his younger days spent many happy hours there, and there is no hon. member in this House who knows better the great importance of this work than that hon. Minister. Therefore, he hoped the Government would take this matter into their serious consideration and see that some action was taken, (hear, hear,) for surely as there is a sufficient amount on hand to complete this work.

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD said the subject would be considered. He hoped the hon. member had no design of erecting Prince Edward into a separate province. (Laughter.) The construction of this canal had been recommended for defensive purposes at a time when naval warfare was very different from at present.

Exports at the Port of Belleville.

By the tabular statement subjoined, it would appear that the business of Belleville is steadily advancing in Exports as well as Imports. This is all the more encouraging, as the increase occurs during a season of unusual commercial depression throughout the rest of the Dominion.

Exports for the months of April and May.

$88,413.	$55,982.	$73,042.	$100,771.

This is the best kind of argument to show the fallacy of attempting to force annexation by witholding Reciprocity, and we feel every confidence that other ports will publish an equally flattering exhibit shortly. It should be added that a large portion of the above exports are reported outwards at other ports, and consequently are not included in the above figures.

The Wesleyan Conference.

On Saturday, after some routine business in answer to the question : who have died ? the following names were read over :—The Rev. Mathew Whiting, Rev. James Laid, Rev. Robert Gobie, Rev. Jos. Hussel, Rev. Thos. Garbrett.

The number of young men taken on trial for the Wesleyan Methodist Ministry at this Conference is the largest ever received at one time in Canada, making a total of forty-five in all.

The Rev. Mr. Clark, of Guelph, was introduced to the Conference as the representative of the Congregational Union of Canada. He addressed the Conference at some length, showing the many important points upon which Congregationalism and Methodism cordially agree, and the few points comparatively unimportant, on which they differ.

A Resolution moved by Rev. G. Douglass, seconded by Rev. G. R. Sanderson, of thanks to Mr. Clark, and reciprocating the kind and evangelical sentiments of the Conference, was very cordially carried.

On motion, it was cordially agreed to depute the Rev. John Borland to the meeting of the Congregational Union, with reciprocal greetings of brotherly love.

The Revs. T. Parker and G. H. Lewis, members of the Methodist Episcopal Conference in the United States, were introduced to the Conference, and welcomed to a seat.

The Ordination services were conducted on Sabbath, the President, Rev. Mr. Punshon, preaching the ordination sermon.

The Bible Society.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

MR. EDITOR.—In my communication which appeared in your issue of the 29th ultimo, I glanced, and merely glanced at the manner in which the Toronto Bible Society is managed, how the large sums of money placed at their disposal are frittered away, and at best to supply the wants of those who are far more able to help themselves than are many of the contributors to furnish that help. I would state further, that everything seems to be done with ostentatious display—for effect—leading the public to believe that great things are being achieved when in reality little or nothing comparatively is done. Previous to the last annual meeting, on the 12th ult., it was advertised that two men of note were to be present. It does not appear, however, that either of them said much, but the purpose of the Society was answered in having their names heralded. And then we are informed there was "an intelligent and interesting audience," or, in other words, an audience satisfied with appearances. Besides the "President," two or three "Secretaries," and a host of "Directors," there are no less than thirty-three "Vice Presidents," to which a few hundred more might be added with equal propriety, for no reflecting intelligent person imagines that these dignities are conferred in consequence of corresponding labors in the cause,—no—inflation is doubtless the mistaken motive, therefore, the present day Religious Societies are, I fear, more or less addicted to this make-believe system, instead of showing fair and honest results of Christian labor in the expenditure of funds committed to their trust.

As it regards ostentatious display, &c., our Belleville Society follow hard in the wake of the Toronto Society. All is done at the annual meeting ; speakers from a distance invited and advertised. Every year a number of new names are paraded before the public as additions to the committee, or as Vice-Presidents, although few of them act for any length of time ; some never making their appearance in committee. Like the Toronto Society, there is always of course "an intelligent and interested audience," everybody and everything is praised, and the yearly fuss is over, but no work done. Very little reliance, can be placed in the Reports of the Belleville Committee. Amongst many other inaccuracies it has already been noticed that in 1867 $150, and 1868 another $150 were sent to the Toronto Society to pay for a Colporteur "to labor under the supervision of the Belleville Society in the County of Hastings." In the last annual report of the Belleville Society, an indefinite statement is made of the labors of a Colporteur, the correctness of which statement, after due enquiry, was called in question, and it appears the Toronto Society had to be asked whether a Colporteur had been employed in this County during the time mentioned, proving, what to many was well known, that there had been no "supervision" on the part of the Committee here—and it is very questionable whether a Colporteur travelled over any part of this County during the time specified in the Report ; at least I have yet met with no one who has seen or heard anything of such a person.

Now the question arises, what work is actually performed by this self-constituted Committee ? I answer, nothing, just nothing besides keeping Bibles and Testaments for sale in a Druggist Store, which books may be had just as cheap I suppose, in two or three book shops in Town. Neither the accounts of the Treasurer, nor those of the Depositary are ever audited—a pretty state of affairs truly. But I must not do the Committee injustice by omitting to mention the fact that, after discharging the onerous duty of sending our funds to Toronto to be disposed of, under the pretence of obtaining the services of a Colporteur—and drawing a long breath—one of themselves rose and another seconded the following resolution, namely : "Resolved,—That the Report now submitted be adopted, and that the President with the other officers and the general committee, receive the thanks of this meeting for their faithful services to the society," &c. Had this resolution been brought forward by parties outside the Committee, it would have been the acme of bitter satire, but emanating from themselves, is simply disgusting.

It is usual and proper that Ministers of the Gospel should be ex-officio members of Bible Society Committees, but certainly was never intended that any one or more of them should be permitted to control its proceedings.

A part of the contributions sent from here to Toronto during the year should remain out in order that a Bible woman as much wanted in this Town as any where else ?

It is obviously a misapplication of the funds of this Society to send them to Toronto ; and seeing that the Parent Society is so ill advised as to send $977.00 of its funds to Toronto, it seems preposterous that we should remit our funds to the Parent Society ; we can surely employ them to greater advantage by employing our own Colporteur or Bible woman in our own limits.

Either the Society here must be re-organised so as to insure the proper application of the contributions, or I fear it will go down.

WARKIKE RUMORS.

PARIS, June 8th.—Mr. La Velette officially declares that the warlike rumors published in the newspapers recently are without any foundation.

YACHT RACE.

LONDON, June 8.—In the schooner race of the Royal Thames Yacht Club to-day, 'Egeria' won the first prize, 'Gloriana' won the second prize. The course was from Gravesend to Mouse Light and back.

The Prince of Wales accompanied the yachts in the yacht 'Princess.'

THE IRISH CHURCH BILL.

A meeting of Conservative Peers was held yesterday to determine what course should be pursued in regard to the Bill for the disestablishment of the Irish Church. Lord Cairns urged opposition to be made to the Bill on its second reading, and that it be finally rejected. He said the leaders of the party did not wish to dictate, and were anxious that the judgment of each Peer should remain unfettered, but felt that as the country had never pronounced on the present Bill, and as the feeling of the House of Lords was so opposed to it, the most politic, consistent and best course to pursue under the circumstances would be to repudiate the measure.

Lord Salisbury deprecated the course recommended by Lord Cairns. The agitation which would follow the rejection of the Bill would be most disastrous to the country. It would be better to accept the Bill and modify it in Committee than to renew ill feeling.

Lord Carnarvon supported the recommendation of Lord Salisbury, and urged the Chamber of Peers, now that it was able, to make terms for the Irish Church; they might not have the opportunity hereafter.

Lord Derby was in favor of rejecting the Bill, contending that personal fears should deter no one from doing right.

A majority of the Lords present approved the views of Lord Derby, and it was agreed that the second reading of the Bill should be opposed. It is estimated that there will be a majority of eighty against the Irish Church Bill on the second reading in the House of Lords.

CONSPIRACY IN PARIS.

Some arrests have been made in Paris within the past two days, in consequence of the discovery by the Police of a new political conspiracy. Details of the affair are yet unknown.

GREAT MEETING IN DUBLIN.

DUBLIN, June 5.—At an immense public meeting of persons opposed to the Irish Church Bill, nearly twelve thousand were present. A protest against the Bill was adopted and will be sent to the House of Lords.

FROM ABYSINNIA.

ALEXANDRA, June 5.—A report has reached here from the interior that an Englishman and his family have been massacred by the natives in Abyssinia.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The Herald's special cable despatch, of London, June 5, gives the views of some of the English papers in reference to Lord Clarendon's review of the Alabama correspondence previously published.

The Standard (Tory organ) after abusing America for shiftiness, arrogance and greed says as English Minister ever had to make any explanation so humiliating as Lord Clarendon uttered the night before, in the House of Lords, however conscious of perfect sincerity his motives, and rectitude of conduct, it was no less humiliating to be obliged to treat in conventional phrases diplomacy with a country that has acted as the United States has done in the Alabama case.

The Telegraph (Ministerial organ), says, from what has transpired in the House of Lords last night, Motley can ascertain what hopes there are to re-open negotiations, and he will see that in the opinion of Englishmen, the country has gone far enough. What he may solicit with success he can find in the articles of the rejected convention, and what it is hopeless to suggest he can find in Senator Sumner's speech. The Telegraph further says, England will never put troublesome pressure upon the new American Minister to hasten the completion of this difficult task, and England is always ready to cancel every trace of angry feeling.

The Star (John Bright's organ) says: "We can now advance steadily into the future. Amicable action cannot now doubt the willingness of the British Government to do them right, and its determination to protect our character and credit."

The Times, regarding Lord Clarendon's statement, says, with curious criticism on its own work, that it made no great expression of satisfaction when negotiations fell through, and for its own part, considering how much America wanted, and how much British Secretaries were ready to give, it was a wonder England got off so well.

LONDON, June 7.—The steamer Paraguay from New York, has arrived.

The weather throughout England is warm and delightful.

QUEENSTOWN, June 7.—The steamers Samaria, and Colorado, from New York, have arrived.

SOUTHAMPTON, June 7.—The steamer Dutchland, from New York, has arrived.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DYSPEPSIA.

There is no disease which experience has so amply proved to be remediable by the

PERUVIAN SYRUP,

(a protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron), as Dyspepsia. The most inveterate forms of this disease have been completely cured by this great remedy, as ample testimony of some of our first citizens proves.

FROM THE VENERABLE ARCHDEACON SCOTT, D. D.

DURHAM, Canada East.

* * * "I am an inveterate Dyspeptic of MORE THAN 25 YEARS' STANDING."

* * * "I have been so wonderfully benefitted in the three short weeks during which I have used the Peruvian Syrup, that I can scarcely persuade myself of the reality. People who have known me are astonished at the change. I am widely known, and can but recommend to others that which has done so much for me." * * * *

ANOTHER CLERGYMAN WRITES AS FOLLOWS:

"My voyage to Europe is indefinitely postponed. I have discovered the "Fountain of Health" on this side the Atlantic. Three bottles of Peruvian Syrup have rescued me from the fangs of the fiend Dyspepsia."

A pamphlet of 32 pages, containing a history of the remarkable remedy, with a treatise on "Iron as a medicine," will be sent free to any address.

Beauties of Polygamy.

A gentle woman in Utica lately gave a correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial this little, but telling sketch of the practical workings of the Mormon system:

Now there's Eph. Roberts right over there —pointing to a stone house near the mountain—he brought a real young, delicate wife from New York, now goin' on sixteen years ago, and she worked awful hard, I tell you why, I've known her to do all her own wor when Eph. had three hands and a thrashin' machine at his house, and sometimes she worked out in the field, bound wheat and raked hay, which, you know, is awful on a delicate New York woman—taint as if she'd been raised to it, like we folks—and after all, just last year, Eph. went and married another woman, a real young one, not over twenty, and don't you think, this spring, she knocked Maria—that's his first wife—down with the churn dasher and scalded her. Eph. stood by and just said, 'Go in, Luce; kill her if you can.'

It all started about a churn too. Both wanted to use it at once. Maria had it, and her butter was a little slow in coming, and they got mad and Luce struck her and then snatched the kettle right off the stove, and poured hot water on her feet, so that she fell down when she tried to run out.

And what was the result, I guess?

Well, Maria left him; of course she had to or be killed. It's very nice living, for the men. I had a dozen chances to marry old Mormons, but, la! I wouldn't give that for all of 'em. Why, just turn things round and let a woman have two or three men, and see how they'd like that. There wouldn't be no murderin' done in those parts—oh no! And I reckon a woman has as fine feelings as a man. I tell you, if my husband joins 'em or tries to get another wife, that day I'll hunt another Gentile. Bet your life on that.

A couple of fellows, who were pretty thoroughly soaked with bad whiskey, got into the gutter. After floundering about for a few minutes, one of them said, "Jim, let's go to another house; this hotel leaks."

When the Queen was informed of the sudden death of Major General Grimaby, under whom Prince Arthur had recently been study ing at Woolwich, Her Majesty marked the appreciation she entertained of the qualities of the deceased officer by a telegram addressed to his widow, in which her Majesty expressed her sincere condolence on the occasion, "not as the Queen, but as one sorrowing woman to another."

"What's the matter, Isaac," asked one, "you seem excited." "Excited! I ain't excited; I'm mad all over." "What are you mad about, Isaac? Don't you know it's wrong to suffer yourself to become angered?" "Wrong or no wrong, it's enough to make anybody mad but a preacher. Here's every chicken on the place eat up, except the rooster, and just now he happened to see you fellows, and sung out, 'and must this feeble body die,' and dropped over stone dead."

—During the rainy season the Mecadamized roads of Paris are frequently inches deep in what is called Mecadam milk, which is a great nuisance in the sewers, filling them up very rapidly. An adventurous individual has found an application for this stuff, and at the same time, it is said, an income of £2,000 a year for himself. He collects the milk, allows it to settle in large tanks, passes the precipitate through silk sieves, and forms it afterward into bricks for knive-cleaning which sell at—one cent.

—The history of the blue-fish is quite remarkable. In 1764 they disappeared from New England waters and were not seen for sixty years. When they returned—at first to the waters south of Cape Cod, afterward, in 1847, to Massachusetts Bay—they were few in number, and disappeared with the first cold; now they are quite acclimated and comparatively hardy.

—The young Marquis of Bute is edifying the dwellers in Jerusalem by his piety and his liberality. He passes long hours in tears and prayer at the various spots where the last scenes of the Passion are supposed to have been enacted. His almoner, Monsignor Capel, has been preaching in English to large bodies of pilgrims belonging to numerous English and American creeds, and his remarkable eloquence invariably brings together a large and heterogeneous audience.

WHY BUTTER IS SO DEAR.—A correspondent of the Boston Traveller tells the following:—A lady entered A.'s store one day, recently, inquiring the price of butter, and asked: "What is it, Mr. A., that makes butter so high?" Peering over his specs at the lady, our friend replied: "Pianos, madam." She thought that he must have misunderstood her query, and repeated it, saying: "I asked you what you thought made butter so high." "Yes," said the imperturbable grocer, "it is pianos," and proceeded to explain himself in this wise: "Forty years ago my father was Sheriff for the courts of this county, and just before the session of the court he travelled about in all parts of the county, leaving his witness summonses. Such days were my riding holidays, as I was taken along to assist in leaving these notices; and according to my memory, which is pretty good, nine out of ten of the hundreds of calls thus made, brought to my view the ever-going, never-tiring churn, with a healthy and sometimes pretty farmer's daughter attached to it, flanked by a spinning-wheel tended by grandma, and a house-loom, before which sat a notable housewife. In those days everybody made butter and sold it for from eight to twelve cents a pound; but on a recent visit to some of those old rounds, for old acquaintance sake, what did I find? Not the churn, nor the spinning wheel, nor the loom. They had been long since banished, and in their place I found the piano. Now, madam," said the old gentleman, "You will understand why I think the cause of the high price of butter is pianos."

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to their practicability, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, King's evil, white swellings, tumors in the neck and groin, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver, and promotes the digestion of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Indigestion. For convenience it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroborant for debilitate persons; it is a valuable tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the frame has been reduced by sickness, and excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases of long standing, such as chronic inflammation or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.

OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, rheumatic pains, pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers of Relief are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female pains and obstructions. It may also be used with benefit in all cases of colds. It is put up in 25 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

VOL. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 8, 1869. No. 32.

North Hastings Agricultural Society.

From the Madoc Mercury.

A meeting of the members of this Society was held on Tuesday afternoon last at Garner's Hotel in Huntingdon, nine miles and a half from the Village of Madoc, on the Belleville road, for the purpose of meeting Professor Buckland, Secretary of the Board of Agriculture, who had been deputed by the Commissioner, Hon. J. Carling, to inquire into the nature and extent of the difficulties existing in the Society, as laid before the Department in a protest from members of the Society in the Township of Madoc, with respect to certain proceedings at the annual meeting in January last. The meeting was held in the large room upstairs, and there was a numerous attendance from Huntingdon and Rawdon, while Madoc and other rear townships were represented by just half a dozen members.

Dr. BOULTER, M. P. P., was called to the chair, and James Haggerty, Jr., Esq., was requested to act as Secretary.

The Chairman briefly stated the object of the meeting, and introduced

Professor BUCKLAND, who, after stating that it always gave him pleasure to meet the members of agricultural societies, and that he had never been so far back of Belleville before, although he was well acquainted with the western part of the Province, proceeded to say that in consequence of illness, the Commissioner had been precluded from sooner attending to the difficulties, concerning which they were met together that day. The Commissioner thought; and with great propriety, that we should do all we could to conciliate, rather than take measures of law to redress these difficulties; and he (Prof. B.) therefore came as a pacificator, rather than as a judge. He felt the necessity of an Agricultural Society here, from what he had seen of the capabilities of the North Riding; the chairman, since his arrival, having taken him over a good deal of it. He saw we had some natural difficulties to contend with; there was much stone on the land; but there was also a considerable area of arable land. In agriculture, as in everything else, it was not most desirable to have everything of the most favorable character; difficulties helped to develop character and stimulated man to overcome obstacles. He would carefully consider the statements that would be made, and he hoped in a fair and straightforward manner, if practicable, to overcome the existing difficulties, that the full benefit and working of the society might be secured. The Commissioner was very anxious to promote the interests he has in charge, and it would be far more consonant with his feelings to restore unanimity, than that law should be resorted to, which would give a check to the society, and perhaps result in there being no society at all. After considering the difficulties, he (Prof. B.) would see what would be the most practicable means of getting out of them, and if he could assist the members of the society, he would be most happy to do so.

The Chairman said that if there were any complaints or statements to make, Prof. B. was now ready to hear them.

Mr. GREAM suggested, that Mr. A. F. Wood should be called upon.

Mr. WOOD, on rising in response, said he was not prepared to take any part in the matter, beyond being cognizant of what took place at the annual meeting. He would first like to ask the Professor—Must the Society remain intact as one Society for North Hastings, or could a separation take place?

Prof. B. replied that the Warden's proposition for two societies could not be entertained for a moment. A special act of Parliament would be required for a division.

Mr. WOOD then said he would propose that the rear townships north of Huntingdon should be allowed to act together in concert for the benefit of these townships, as it was not likely any satisfactory arrangements could be made for them to act together with the other townships. He would rather not revert to what took place at the last annual meeting, because it would only lead to that which the professor wished to avoid—legal proceedings; but would like it possible, to take the proportion of money paid in North of Huntingdon, and a proportionate share of the Government grant, for these townships, if it could be done with the consent of the others. The distance between the north and south parts of the Riding was to great. This place where the meeting was held was ten miles from the village of Madoc. If Madoc had some other name, the annual Show might have come there; but being Madoc, that was out of the question. He would prefer discussing the question on the mere ground of expediency and geographical difficulty, as each section thought the other wanted it all its own way. He could see no remedy except by a division, as Madoc had never had a Show and did not seem likely to have a chance of getting one.

Mr. GREAM exhibited the map of Hastings County, to show the disadvantages under which the members in the rear townships laboured, from the distance they had to travel to reach the annual show, when it was held in Huntingdon.

Professor BUCKLAND said two societies could not be organized; but the members could allocate the funds as they saw fit to agree among themselves.

Mr. WOOD's proposition led to a very lengthy discussion, in which Messrs. Archibald (President of the Society), Ostrom, Emo, Haggerty, Sines, Wantassel, Clark, Tassie, Mounce and Smallfield took part; and it being then quite evident that the members from the two sections could find no common ground or agreement acceptable to the majority present—the utmost concession proposed to Madoc being the erection of a permanent building somewhere on the Belleville Road, but still in Huntingdon, at least a few miles south of Hog Lake—it was suggested that Professor Buckland should make some proposition as to the best mode of reconciling the differences. He accordingly spoke in favor of the perambulatory system for the annual show; a solution of the difficulty which was advocated by Messrs. Archibald and Bird, somewhat objected to by Mr. R. Newton and others, who contended that Madoc was too far off for the majority of the exhibitors in the southern part of the Riding,—and accepted by Madoc representatives. Finally, the following resolution was moved by Mr. A. F. Wood, seconded by Mr. T. Clark, and adopted unanimously:—

"That whereas certain difficulties have arisen with reference to the holding of agricultural fairs in the North Riding of Hastings for electoral purposes—

"And whereas it is desireable, so far as possible, to meet the difficulties of the case:

"Be it therefore Resolved, that in the opinion of this meeting, it is desirable to hold the agricultural fair for 1869 at Huntingdon, and for 1870 at the village of Madoc; it being understood that there is to be no Township Show this year in Madoc, nor next year in Huntingdon. It is also understood that all parties are to unite heartily to carry out the objects of the Agricultural Society."

Professor BUCKLAND then, by invitation, made a brief address on agricultural topics, and concluded by expressing his satisfaction that the difficulty was at last amicably arranged, and his hope that the North Riding Agricultural society would continue to go on and prosper.——After the usual votes of thanks the meeting broke up shortly before five o'clock.

Velocipedestrian.

"How's your velocipede?" is now the proper salutation.

The ladies of Bridgeport, Mass., under the lead of the minister's wife, are planning a graceful costume for velocipede riding.

Velocipede races are quite a feature of the Parisian racing meetings this year.—The highest rate of speed that has been reached in any of the courses there has been a mile in 2:14.

"Der Volocipeder."—

For a person do took to ride—vell! vell!
Und how does that go, mit shteam?
No, no; you work dat mit your feet,
Chust like a sewing mashech.

"Ven you are a married man, Tommy, you'll understand a great many things you don't understand now; but vether its worth vile going through so much to learn so little, as the charity boy said ven he got to the end of the alphabet, is a matter of taste.

"John, John,' shouted an old gentleman to his son, 'get up, the day is breaking.' 'Very well,' said John, 'let it break; it owes us nothing.' Interval of twenty minutes. 'John, John; the sun is up before you.' 'Very well,' said John, 'he has further to go than we have.'

A Cheap Watch.—A sailor went to a watchmaker, and presenting a small French watch to him, wished to know how much the repair of it would come to. The watchmaker, after examining it, said: 'It will be more expense repairing it than its original cost.' 'I don't mind that,' said the tar; 'I will even give you double the original cost, for I gave a fellow a blow on the head for it, and if you repair it I will give you two.'

A lady in Boston, about giving a party to the Episcopal convention, sent for Mr. S——, caterer, to assist in the preparations. He asked if she intended to give a dancing party. She replied that it was to be mainly composed of clergymen. "In that case, madame," said he, "I would advise you to provide bountifully. Them pious folks are dreadful eaters—when it's free!"

Freddy is a little one of seven years' growth, the son of a minister, who, with his wife line just arrived at a new field of labor. Hearing his mother say to his father that she had been deceived by his saying the parsonage was a three story building, when it was only two, he said: "Ma." "Well; Freddy;" "The kitchen is one." "Yes." "This floor is two; and the story that pa told is three!"

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY, JUNE 8.

SOCIAL.—The Social announced to be held in Mr. Wild's Church next Friday evening is postponed till the Thursday following, June 17th.

FROST.—On Sunday night there was a frost in this vicinity which did considerable damage to early vegetables in exposed places. Fruit we think was too far advanced to be injured.

VELOCIPEDE WALTZES.—A copy of this excellent piece of music, by Miss Carrie Northgraves, of Belleville, has been handed us. Its typographical execution is creditable to the publishers, Wm. Hall & Son, New York, and as a musical production, it is very highly spoken of by musical critics. It is for sale at the book stores.

DEBT OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.—The public debt of the Province of Prince Edward Island, on the 31st January, 1868, was £199,640. This debt is made up of £33,138, treasury warrants; £70,150, debentures, issued for purchase of lands £15,000, funds of savings banks; and £11,500, treasury notes. The real indebtedness of the colony was £166,438.

SALMON FISHERY.—Intelligence from Gaspe Basin says the salmon fishery there is much better, and the fish larger than last season. An American fisherman had come in, whose crew reported that the take of cod fish had been good, and several vessels had gone home from the Gulf fully laden. Farmers had nearly finished sowing. A much greater quantity of wheat had been sown than for several years.

FAREWELL TOUR OF THE ALLEGHANIANS.—Owing to their engagements in London and Edinburgh, the troupe must sail for England next month. They will appear here on Friday evening next. Every one will turn out to hear them. The N. Y. Musical Review says of the Alleghanians. "Go to their Concerts and take your children. We wish every one to enjoy the pleasure of hearing them." "The Toronto Daily Telegraph says: "Their entertainment is indeed marvellous."

THE DEAF AND DUMB ASYLUM.—Mr. Tulloch, of the Public Works Department, Mr. Langmuir, Prison Inspector, and Mr. Molesworth, Surveyor, with the contractors, Messrs. Kempster & Bro., arrived in town yesterday, and commenced to-day to lay out the site for the proposed Deaf and Dumb Asylum. The work of building will be proceeded with at once. It is highly probable that contracts for fencing, and erecting out-buildings, &c., will be asked for immediately.

County Court.

FIRST DAY.

BELLEVILLE, June 8th, 1868.

Judge Sherwood, presiding, with Francis McAnnany, J. P., and Barnabus Vankleek, J. P., associates.

The following are the names of the Grand Jury:—

J. C. HUFFMAN, Foreman.

David Brown,	James Barnes,
Charles Craig,	Arch. Campbell,
Jas. F. Chisholm,	Caleb Gilbert,
Peter Gould,	John Hamilton,
John Hamilton,	James Isman,
Richard Jones,	Alex. Moore,
Wm. Mendell,	Cornelius McKay,
Cornelius Oliver,	James Phillips,
Wm. Robinson,	Wm. Sills,
Benjamin Sanderson,	John Thompson,
Joseph Vandewaters,	Robt. Vankleek,
Elias Werden.

The Judge in charging the Jury said the law had been so changed that the Court only sat twice a year instead of four times, as formerly; the object of which was to reduce the expenses which had been paid out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund since 1840. He thought they would not be kept long, as there were only three criminal cases to be tried, two of which were for larceny of the simplest kind, and the other for house breaking and assault; the assault being what they would be called on to try; they would also be expected to examine the gaol, and see how it is kept, enquiring of the prisoners what treatment they receive.

There are sixteen civil cases on the Docket.

JOHNSTON et. al. vs. HYSLOP.—Action on note. Verdict for Plaintiff. Ponton, Falkiner & Denmark for Piff. Edgar for Deft.

POTTS vs. WATT.—Action on note. Verdict for Plaintiff. Jellet & Jellett for Piff. Thomas for Deft.

BALDWIN et. al. vs. GRAHAM & GRAINGER.—Verdict for Plaintiff. Jellett & Jellett for Piff. Nulty for Deft.

READ vs. DOLER.—Action on note. Verdict for Plaintiff. Diamond & Dickson for Piff. G. E. Henderson for Deft.

The Court adjourned till half past nine o'clock to-morrow morning.

Legislative Printing.

The Ottawa papers complain, and we think justly, that the Committee on Printing displayed a good deal of favoritism in awarding the contract for Printing. Although the advertisements as is usual in large contracts, stated that the committee were not bound to accept the lowest tender, still where all other things are equal, where the man who tenders lowest is just as able to fulfill his contract, and gives as good security for the proper performance of that contract, as the person whose tender is above his, there can be no justification for rejecting the lowest tender. In examining the Report of the Committee, a copy of which is before us, we find that amongst some twelve persons who tendered for the printing, paper and binding, Mr. I. B. Taylor, of the Citizen, is the lowest, and Hunter, Rose & Co., the present contractors, the next. The following is the gross amount of the tenders of each:—

I. B. TAYLOR:

Printing	$14,626 76
Binding	2,133 24
Paper	9,809 44
	$26,609 44

HUNTER, ROSE & CO.:

Printing	$16,472 75
Binding	1,939 70
Paper	10,380 04
	$28,492 49

The difference in favor of Taylor for one year is no less a sum than $1,793 54 on the whole tender for printing, binding and paper, for five years of $8,967 70; and on the printing alone the difference in Taylor's favor is for one year $1,755 99; for five years, $8,879 93. Now if Taylor is able to do the work as well as Hunter, Rose & Co., and give as good security, (and these facts were not questioned) why was the contract not awarded to him? Certainly the sum of $17,759, which would have been saved in ten years, if Taylor's tender had been accepted, is worth saving. The country is not in such a healthy monetary condition as to be able to throw away money in this style, and we think the action of the committee deserves the severest condemnation. We are glad to see by the proceedings of the committee, that with the exception of one thorough-paced Clear-Grit, Young of South Waterloo, all the members who have been connected with the printing business voted to accept Taylor's tender, and thus affect a material saving to the country.—These members were Beatty, Bowell, Stephenson and Chamberlin. The following is the amendment proposed in committee:

"It was moved by Mr. Stephenson, seconded by Mr. Bowell, that the paragraph relating to the Printing be not adopted, but that it be resolved "That as the tender of I. B. Taylor appears to be $175.99 per annum less on the amount calculated than Hunter, Rose & Lemieux, and $8,879.95 less for the five years for which the contract continues, or if continued for ten years $17,759.90, this Committee therefore recommend the acceptance of Mr. Taylor's tender, upon his furnishing acceptable securities in accordance with the terms of the printed form of tender."

For this amendment the Yeas were Messrs. Beatty, Bowell, Burnham, Chamberlin, Ferguson, Odell and Stephenson; and against it were Messrs. Bellerose, Brousseau, Dumonchel, Locke, Macdonald, Oliver, Simard and Young, being only lost by a majority of one. The adoption of the report was carried on the same division.—We shall not be surprised if the report is not concurred in by the House. It would certainly be an act of great injustice to Mr. Taylor, to give the printing to Hunter, Rose & Co., and where there will be such a material saving to the country by the acceptance of Mr. Taylor's tender, the House will, we apprehend, be disposed to effect that saving.

Since the foregoing was in type we find by the proceedings in Parliament yesterday, that by the decisive majority of 115 to 22, the House sent back the Report to the Committee with instructions to give the contract to Mr. Taylor. The following is the amendment moved by Mr. Stephenson, seconded by Mr. Bowell,

"That the said report be not concurred in, but that it be referred back to the Printing Committee, with instructions to amend the same by recommending the acceptance by this House of the tender of Mr. I. B. Taylor for printing, said tender being the lowest on the aggregate amount by $1,775 90c. per annum, and $8,879 95c for the five years for which the contract is to be given, or, if continued for ten years, $17,759 90c, upon his furnishing acceptable security in accordance with the terms in the printed form of tender supplied by the said Printing Committee."

This amendment was carried by a vote of 115 to 22.

Division Court, Belleville.

At the sittings of this Court held yesterday the docket only showed some seven cases for trial, not that the business in the Court is falling off, but under the new act of last session by which judgment is entered in eight days after service where the defendant does not put in a written notice of defence. We understand that the number of judgments so obtained by default amounted to the large number of 159, thus saving the Judge the weary task of pronouncing judgment in undefended cases as formerly, a duty quite as well performed by the clerk, and by which means the Plaintiff gets execution at once on judgment being entered. If in any case a judgment should be improperly entered as where there is a real bona fide defence, the Judge will set aside the judgment and let the defendant in to have the case tried. So far the new act appears to work well.

—The saying that "there is more pleasure in giving than receiving," is supposed to apply chiefly to "kicks, medicine and advice."

—For a picture of serene composure, go into a store that don't advertise, and observe the clerk asleep on the counter, with a rat and tan terrier snuggled up in the bend of his knees.

Parliament Yesterday.

The printing of the Parliament was disposed of after considerable discussion by referring back the Report of the Committee, and directing the contract to be awarded to Mr. Taylor.

Mr. Fortin enquired whether it was the intention of the Government to abolish the excise duty on tobacco grown in the Dominion.

Hon Mr. Rose said it was not the intention of the Government to make any alteration in the tariff of customs of excise this year.

Mr. Dufresne enquired whether it was the intention of the Government to submit to Parliament this session any measure having for its object the removal from circulation of depreciated silver currency, and the substitution therefor of another currency, either silver or paper, on which the people will not suffer any loss.

Hon. Mr. Rose replied that the Government were now considering the expediency or propriety of making American silver a legal tender at a certain figure.

Mr. Magill moved the appointment of a Select Committee, to whom should be referred all petitions now before the House, praying either for the re-imposition or imposition of import duties on any article of Canadian growth or manufacture.

Several returns were moved for.

Several Bills were advanced a stage.

Mr. Fortin moved an Address for instructions given this spring to the officer in command of the expedition for the protection of the fisheries in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and a statement of the number of sailors who are to compose the crew of La Canadienne during the present season. Carried.

From the inhabitants of Big Island asking the Council to allow the Ferry to make a trip there once a week.

From Wm. Rankin, engineer of the Fire Engine, asking leave to attend the Firemen's Picnic, provided he left a man to take his place.

From Geo. Adams, asking for a sidewalk near his residence.

To incorporate the Hand Engine Fire Company, with the names of the members of the company

REMUNERATION.

The resignation of Mr. John Sutherland, as Councillor was read.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

From the Inspectors of License, recommending that a license be granted the Western House.

ACCOUNTS.

Several small accounts were read together with the Street Surveyor's pay list.

FINANCE.

The report of the Finance Committee was read, recommending the payment of several accounts, also that J. T. Hayden receive pay by the yard for dredging the Ferry Slip.

That the Committee on Harbor and Town Property be ordered to enforce payment of all accounts due the town. That the Treasurer be ordered to furnish semi-monthly statements to the Council of the monies available for present use.

STREETS AND SIDEWALKS.

The report of the Committee on Streets and Sidewalks was read, stating that the sidewalks required considerable repairs, and thought $4,000 would be required.

Mr. Walters stated verbally that the road from Alford's to Lazier's Mill cost $201 75.

The reports of the Finance and Street Committees were then received.

BY-LAWS.

The Council went into Committee on By-Laws. Mr. Walters in the chair.

Moved and seconded, the adoption of the By-Law to amend police By-Laws, 145, 146.

A short discussion arose, when the By-law passed, upon the clause being struck out, allowing Policemen to be fifty years of age, and a clause inserted in its stead, that A. T. Peirce be appointed Chief of Police, notwithstanding his age being over the standard, forty-five.

The Committee rose and reported; report adopted.

WAYS AND MEANS.

Council went into Committee on Ways and Means. Mr. Vandusen in the chair.

Moved and seconded, that the accounts embodied in the Finance Committee's report be paid.

Mr. Henderson wished to know whose business it was to collect the amounts due the town.

Mr. Holden said there were Tavern and Billiard licenses yet unpaid, besides other amounts due the town, and thought the proper persons should look after the matter.

Upon the motion for the adoption of the report of the Street Committee, Mr. Tannahill thought $4,000 a large sum of money to expend on sidewalks this year.

Mr. Holden stated the assessed value of the property in the town would not be more this year than last, and he for one would be more satisfied if they would make the amount $3,000 instead of $4,000.

Mr. Walters stated that the estimates were exceeded last year, and that they intended to keep within the estimate this year, and if they could possibly get along with $3,000 they would do so.

The report was then adopted.

WATER SUPPLY.

Moved by Mr. Holdout, seconded by Mr. Starling, that $100 be appropriated to lay down iron pipes, and repair the two tanks on the road to the station.

Mr. Henderson said he would vote for the motion, provided they were willing to deal as liberally with the other Wards.

Mr. Kennedy thought wooden pipes were preferable to iron, and a great deal cheaper.

Upon Mr. Holden showing that the iron pipe was only 8 cts. per foot dearer than the wood, the motion was carried.

Committee rose. Report read and adopted.

RESIGNATION.

Moved by Mr. Holden, seconded by Mr. Kelso, that this Council accept the resignation of Mr. Sutherland, and in doing so they deeply regret his moving away, which necessitated his retiring from the Board.

Moved and seconded, that the petition of the Hand Fire Engine Company be received.

Mr. Kelso said the new hose was lying at the station, and wished to know what they intended to do with it. After a short discussion it was decided to test them again.

The petition of Mr. Rankin's was granted.

The petition of the Big Islanders, was referred to the Ferry Committee.

Council adjourned.

School Trustees.

MONDAY, June 7, 1869.

PRESENT.—F. McAnnany, Chairman, and Messrs. Sawyer, Shepard, Coleman, Falkiner, Tennant, Robertson and Sisson.

A letter from Mr. Beatty, respecting maps, was read.

A letter was read from the Rev. S. Jones, representing that the Teacher of No. 6 complained of the carelessness of the care-taker, and of the condition of the school, and offered some suggestions.

A letter was read from Mr. Shepard, Chairman of Finance Committee, calling attention to balances due Mr. Macoun and Miss Shanks, part of additional salary voted them last January, and saying he had been repeatedly spoken to about it, and wished to know why they had not been paid.

The Treasurer said there were no funds on hand.

The Chairman reported that since the last meeting complaint had been made to him that the Teachers were following private tuition to that extent which rendered them unfit for the proper discharge of their duties. He had therefore caused a copy of the following Circular to be sent to each teacher:—

Belleville May, 1869.

"Complaint has been made, that some of the Teachers are engaged in private tuition in hours when their services are not required in the public School, and that thereby, they are, from fatigue and being over taxed, unable to discharge the duties of the public school efficiently.

"Although the Trustees cannot exercise any control over leisure hours, yet if the effect is, as has been alleged, it may be necessary to caution against a continuance of the practice."

By order,
Yours respectfully,
J. A. MACINNES.

The Chairman further said in looking over the Rules adopted for the guidance of the Schools, he found that one of the Rules stated that Teachers could not engage in any other calling without first obtaining the consent of the Trustees. He thought this was too arbitrary. The action of the Chairman was approved of.

Some conversation took place with respect to children leaving school at certain hours to attend dancing school, and it was understood that children might leave when the parents' or guardian's permission was obtained.

Mr. Shepard, Chairman of the Finance Committee, submitted a Report recommending that several accounts be passed, which was adopted.

Mr. Shepard, on behalf of the Committee appointed to prepare Rules of Order, submitted a Report. The Report was adopted clause by clause, and on motion of Mr. Shepard, seconded by Mr. Coleman, 50 copies were ordered to be printed.

The Chairman read a letter from the Clerk of the Town Council, requesting this Board to appoint a Committee to confer with the Finance Committee of the town on the state of the accounts between the Board of School Trustees and the Corporation.

On motion of Mr. Coleman, seconded by Mr. Falkiner, Mr. Shepard, Chairman of Finance Committee, and Messrs. Sisson and Tennant were appointed a Committee for that purpose.

The Chairman stated that several of the Teachers had asked that the summer vacation might commence as usual at the same time as the Grammar School vacation.

On motion of Mr. Shepard, seconded by Mr. Sisson, the request was granted.

Some discussion took place about continuing the Grove School. It was the general opinion that it would be extremely injudicious to close the School, and it was moved by Mr. Falkiner, seconded by Mr. Coleman, that School No. 5 be continued if the Committee can obtain the present, or any other building, suitable for the purpose. Said Committee to consist of the Chairman, and Messrs. Sisson and Tennant,

Mr. Falkiner moved, seconded by Mr. Robertson, that this Board in the future meet on the first Tuesday in each month, in the Town Hall.—Carried.

The Board adjourned.

ELECTIONS IN PARIS

LONDON, June, 7.—Letters from Paris state that a strong pressure was brought to bear in undecided elections to prevent the return of the Government candidates. The contests between Theirs and Shoe, and between Favre and Henri Rochefort, are regarded with much interest. The Emperor, it is asserted, views the probable election of Rochefort as personal if not a deadly insult. The ultimate result of the elections and the effect on the Government, are regarded with great curiosity. The Government is fully alive to the heaviness of the blow and the difficulties it will have to meet in future. Its friends tender advice freely, but the only concession possible is Parliamentary Government, which the Emperor regards with particular aversion. The Government is inclined to do something as soon as possible and with the least inconvenience. If balloting results in favor of Rochefort, the steps will probably be taken at once.

IRISH CHURCH BILL.

LONDON, June 7.—In reply to the Conservative deputation to-day, Lord Derby said he spoke as a unit in the House of Lords. While many friends of the Irish Church wish to amend and not reject the Bill for its disestablishment, he was persuaded that rejection was the only course. He believed the Bill would be rejected by a large majority. Such a course was safest in such a revolutionary step. He felt satisfied it would receive the assent of the Conservative party, who would continue to increase their support if coercion of the Peers was attempted.

A meeting was held in London to-night, at which resolutions were adopted condemning the Irish Church bill.

It is understood that Gladstone proposes, in case the House of Lords reject the bill, to prorogue the present session of parliament, and immediately inaugurates a new session, in order to ensure the passage of the bill.

It is proposed to have a new batch of Peers, including the Marquis of Hartington, Lord Amberly, the eldest sons of most of the liberal Peers, and all the Scotch and Irish Peers now without seats in the House of Lords.

The Pall Mall Gazette regrets the bad effect the position of the House of Lords will have on Ireland, particularly in regard to the land question.

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN LONDON.

LONDON, June 8.—The announced predetermination of a majority of the House of Lords to reject the Irish Church Bill creates intense excitement, and threatens to precipitate an inevitable conflict between the Lords and Commons. It is rumored in some quarters that the announcement is only made to feel the public pulse, and ascertain how far the Lords dare go. The general impression is that the Bill will be thrown out on its second reading.

BANK DIRECTORS.

The prosecution against the Bank Directors Messrs. Bradshaw, Mangles and Alsle, for conspiracy and fraud has been discharged, but Finney has been held for trial.

A temperance society, on a new plan, has been formed at Cedar Falls, Iowa. Every member pledges himself that he will neither ask a friend to take a social drink or drink with a friend, but is not bound by its provisions to abstain from the use of spirituous liquor when alone, or in case of sickness.

Recently a lady residing in Boston had occasion to correct her little girl, and was somewhat astonished and amused a few hours afterwards, when putting her daughter to bed. After her usual prayer she added. 'God bless good papa, and God bless mama, and make her a good mama.'

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NEW ALBION HOTEL,
McGILL STREET,
MONTREAL, CANADA.

THE "NEW ALBION HOTEL," the largest Hotel in Montreal, has just been opened under the most favorable auspices.

Whilst the "Old Albion" has been long noted for the strict attention paid to its numerous guests, the "New Albion" takes its position as a first class Hotel, and is really first class in every respect, except the charges, which better suit the ideas and requirements of the majority of travellers, than many of the so called, "first class Houses;" which deserve the title more through the amount of their charges than aught else.

Already the crowded state of the "New Albion" promises well for its future career; everything associated with its construction has been carried out with artistic taste and great delicate correctness.

The large Hall, commodious office, spacious Reading room, convenient Dining, Coffee, Wash Room, etc., etc., on the ground floor; and the Reception Room and Suite of SPLENDIDLY FURNISHED and THOROUGHLY VENTILATED LADIES' PARLORS, on the second floor, will form no small luxury during the hot summer season. And, what is an exception to the general Rule in Hotels, the Bedrooms are all well ventilated and lighted, there not being a dark room in the House.

Being situated on the widest and best Most Street in Montreal, commanding a Magnificent View of the River St. Lawrence and the Victoria Bridge on the left, and a full view of the Victoria Square with its numerous 'Jets d'Eau' and Mount Royal on the right, it cannot fail to commend itself to the travelling public.

From its situation on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare and commercial centre of the City it cannot fail to be, as the "Old Albion" has always been a strong favorite with the Merchants of Canada.

Notwithstanding the very large outlay in building and furnishing the house, the price of $1 50 per day will not be departed from.

We, therefore, bespeak for ourselves a continuance of the patronage so liberally accorded to us during the past twelve years.

DYSPEPSIA.

There is no disease which experience has so amply proved to be remediable by the
PERUVIAN SYRUP
(a protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron), as Dyspepsia. The most inveterate forms of this disease have been completely cured by this medicine, as ample testimony of some of our first citizens proves.

FROM THE VENERABLE ARCHDEACON SCOTT, D. D.
DUNHAM, Canada East.
* * * "I am an inveterate Dyspeptic of MORE THAN 25 YEARS' STANDING."
* * * "I have been so wonderfully benefitted in the three short weeks during which I have used the Peruvian Syrup, that I can scarcely persuade myself of the reality. People who have known me are astonished at the change. I am widely known, and can but recommend to others that which has done so much for me." * * * *
ANOTHER CLERGYMAN WRITES AS FOLLOWS :
"My voyage to Europe is indefinitely postponed. I have discovered the 'Fountain of Health' on this side the Atlantic. Three bottles of Peruvian Syrup have rescued me from the fangs of the fiend Dyspepsia."
A pamphlet of 42 pages, containing a history of this remarkable remedy, with a treatise on "Iron as a medicine," will be sent free to any address.
The genuine has "PERUVIAN SYRUP" blown in the glass.

DIED.

In Rawgerford, on the 15th of May, RONERT STOKES, third son of Robt. Stokes, Esq., Deputy Reeve, Rawgerford, aged 23 years and 3 months. He lived the life of a Christian and died in peace. The funeral was one of the largest ever witnessed in Rawgerford.

The following lines were written on his death :—

Again it is my mournful task
To follow to the silent tomb,
A friend who wears the ick mark
Of Frosty Death ; and yet I ask
Why he ceases from us so soon?

This much I ponder in my mind,
But cannot, dare not, question more ;
Enough it is for us to find
The silent heart strings we have twined,
Bound round a heart whose throbs are o'er.

For wintry age nor stormy grief
Had ploughed his brow or paled his cheek,
"His life was like the rose's brief,"
"His faded like the Autumn leaf"
Who struggles few and quite as weak.

Just entering into manhood's morn,
With spirits high and light of heart;
Behold him now ; the soul is torn
From Earth, and but a lifeless form
Awaits our last and saddest part.

His mother, father, sisters all
Who feel the bruised and broken tie,
Are gathered round around his pall
And fast the bitter tears do fall,
And upwards steals the soul-wrung sigh

'Tis hard to see those loved ones weep
No bitterly around his bed,
And yet 'tis vain, for death will keep
His icy hand on that sleep,
That dreamless slumber of the dead.

Oh ! who unmoved can see the tears
Roll down an aged parent's cheek,
On which the sorrow and the fears,
The woes and griefs of many years
Have spent their fury, cold and bleak.

In vain they gather 'round his pall,
And kind the sigh and drowy brow ;
In vain their bitter tears do fall
In vain his name they fondly call,
He knows nor sees nor hears them now.

They've robed him now to death's array,
And wrapp'd him in his winding sheet,
And now we wend our solemn way
Our last and deep respect to pay,
To one, no more on earth we'll meet

The sad and mournful task is o'er,
His ashes lie beneath the sod ;
We trust for him on that shore
Where friends will meet to part no more,
And dwell forever with their God.

Ah ! mourner, will ye bravely bear
The burden laid on you so kind and dear,
There is no sin nor sorrow there,
No blinding grief or blasting care ;
Oh ! then cease to be failing fear.

But who will be the next to go
Down in that dark and misty vale ?
The Archer stands with bended bow
And pointed shaft to deal the blow,
Nor pride nor youth will then avail.

Oh ! trim thy lamp and let it burn—
With lustre ordinant bright and clear,
And then whene'er it comes thy turn
To moulder in the silent urn,
Its beams will light thy exit here.

A Shower of Snakes.

(From the Springfield (Ill.) Register.)

The great storm of last Friday night will be long remembered in this State. In addition to the details heretofore given, we have information from a reliable citizen of great damage at Taylorville. The storm burst in its full fury at that place about dark, and the rain fell in torrents. The electric storm presented the same general features as here. The wind, however, was much more violent, and, with intermissions, blew with great strength from every direction. Several building were damaged, and young hickory trees actually twisted off by the wind. The growing crops were prostrated by the wind, and beaten to the ground by the rain and hail.

A SHOWER OF SNAKES.

But the most singular phenomenon, and one which was not vouchsafed to any other community, was a shower of snakes.

We have heretofore read of showers of sand, of fish, and sometimes of flesh, but never before of a shower of snakes; and yet we are well assured that the phenomenon which occurred on last Friday night can be described in no more fitting terms.

THE KIND OF SNAKES.

On Saturday and Sunday last, every ditch, brook and pool on the prairie north of Taylorville was alive with nondescript creatures, which has been described to us as being from one and a half to two feet long and from three fourths of an inch to an inch diameter. This diameter is very slightly lessened at the head and tail. The tail is flat, like that of an eel, but has no caudal fin; indeed there is no fin at all. The head is in shape that of an eel, but the mouth is that of a sucker. The eyes are small, and the ears are simple orifices. Immediately behind the head, on each side, is a flipper, like that of a turtle, say three-fourths of an inch to an inch in length, including the limb, which has a perfectly developed joint. In color these snakes, or whatever they are, are a dark blue.

The numbers of these creatures is beyond all estimate; as we mentioned above, they swam in every branch and puddle of water. Their mode of progression, in addition to the undulatory motion of a snake, is by the use of the flippers described above, and they swim entirely under the water or with the head and a few inches of the body above the surface, thus indicating that the flippers are not absolutely essential to motion. They are perfectly harmless. Men and boys take them from the pools by hundreds, and they are brought to town for inspection.

WHAT THEY ARE.

We are not willing to admit that our knowledge of ichthyology is not sufficient to determine what they are. Eels have teeth, are carnivorous and some species are very belligerent and voracious. These creatures are of the genus cyclopterus, or suckers, having no teeth, and are evidently unprepared for attack, and except by flight are defenceless. Furthermore, they have no fin, and their flippers are only adjuncts, and not their principal means of progression. They are not serpents, as they want fangs, either hooded or naked, which invariably distinguish the order of ophidians.

We will not worry our readers with any speculation on a subject confessedly beyond our knowledge. We are promised some specimens which will be submitted to naturalists of acknowledged ability, whose opinions we shall lay before the public.

HOW THEY CAME THERE.

It is the universal testimony of all the people of the country that no creature anything like these was ever before seen by them. The size renders it certain that they have not been developed there, as it is practically impossible that they could have grown to that size without having been seen. It is quite certain they were never there before the storm, and it is almost equally certain the storm brought them there. The storm which passed over so large an extent of country, and was so violent, undoubtedly gathered as do most of such storms, in the vast plains of the North-West. It was a tornado, and in passing through the country disturbed the usual atmospheric and electrical conditions, so as to produce, in addition to the central tornado, a high wind, heavy rain, and an electric storm. The most plausible theory which occurs to us as accounting for the presence of these fishes, is that the tornado, in passing over some lake or river in the immense unknown region of the North-West, drew up water, and with it these animals, which are evidently amphibious. The tornado then spread on its mission of destruction, passing, perhaps, miles above the earth, and occasionally, as at Shipman, striking the earth. Near Taylorville, the central body of the storm was dissipated, as is shown by the fact that the wind blew in gusts from all directions, and these creatures fell to the earth to astonish the people, perplex the scientific, and interest the readers of the Register.

Money people spend their time trying tew find the hole were sin got into this world—if two men brake through the ice into a mill-pond, they had better hunt for sum good hole to get out, rather than git into a long argument about the hole they cam tew fall in.—J. Billings.

'Look out, there! what are you kicking that dog for?' 'I'm kicking him because he's full of fleas, and I don't want to get 'em on my Sunday clothes.' 'Fleas! Why, that dog sleeps with me!' 'Yes, darn you, I know it; and that's where he gets 'em.'

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS

OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Medipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception the most effective, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

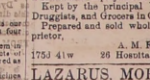

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Wine Merchants, Druggists, and Grocers in Canada.

The First Flowers of Spring.

Welcome once more, my gentle flowers,
Fair children of the Spring!
The gems that deck the woodland bowers
A grateful tribute bring;
Earth wrapped in winding sheet of snow,
Through winter's dreary reign,
Now opens to the genial glow
Of Spring's warm breath again.

Ye mute philosophers! how wise
The course that ye pursue;
Whilst wintry tempests rend the skies,
And earth with rain strew—
Safe under the parental soil
In sheltered warmth ye lie,
Till friendly sunbeams court your smile
Beneath a vernal sky.

Meek beauties, in your humble lot
Ye shrink from public view;
And blooming there ye envy not
The flowers of richer hue;
Ye rock not if the damask rose
Your humble charms outvies,
Or summer's glowing beauty discloses
The lily's matchless dyes.

Sweet flowers of Spring, we bid ye hail
As Hope's fair pledges given;
The storms of life may blow a gale,
And dark misfortune's bolts assail
The weary tempest-driven;
But, anchored safe within the veil,
Our trust is still in Heaven.

The London Underground Railway.

The correspondent of a contemporary furnishes the following interesting particulars of the wonderful underground railway:—

The railway is intended to make a complete circuit of the metropolis, with branch lines running to points which lie at some little distance from the great centres of population. Some parts of the railway have been open for five years past, but it is only within the last month the extension was completed into two or three crowded districts, and the older line brought into communication with it. The result is that the line is now available for the inhabitants of nearly every part of London. For example: I live in South Kensington. Formerly, if I wanted to go to the city quickly it was necessary to take a cab at a cost of 5s.; the omnibuses being generally "all full inside." Now, close to my house I find a large and handsome railway station, and by paying sixpence (12½ cents), I get whisked off to Moorgate street in half the time the cab would have taken.

Well, but the reader may say, how about the line, and what sort of carriages do you go in? isn't it very disagreeable travelling? To the last question I must answer no, and I do not speak rashly, for I have spent some days in tunnels of the railway without even the advantage of being carried along swiftly in the trains. I have gone and walked about in them, and if the air had been very bad 8s strikes me that I should have found it out. But although the length of the line running actually under the roads and houses is sometimes considerable, I have never experienced anything but the most trifling consciousness of change of atmosphere. In the first place, there is a very fair draught of air through them. In the next, the engines never let off steam in the tunnels. They burn a fuel, which is nearly smokeless as anything that can be employed—namely, coke, specially prepared for the company, and carefully picked—and each engine is fitted up with a condenser. There is therefore surprisingly little smoke or steam in any of the tunnels. Now and then an opening occurs, and most of the stations are built in the open air. At such points the engine driver opens his damper, lets his fire blow out, and gets all sung for the next run through the tunnels. About 700 trains a day run over various parts of the line, and in one week nearly 800,000 passengers were carried. The trains succeed each other at intervals of from three to ten minutes, and so beautiful is the system of signals which has been adopted that not one accident has occurred, and until one does occur I shall believe it impossible.

The light placed in a railway carriage generally is just sufficient to make "darkness visible." But here, on this underground railway, each carriage is lit with two burners of gas, one at each end. The effect is that you can read quite as comfortably as if you were sitting in your own room. There is no necessity to hold the newspaper under the lamp, or to strain the eyes under a light not equal to that of a candle. The two burners make the carriage as bright and cheerful as a comfortable little room. The consumption of gas is of course enormous, but the arrangements connected with its supply are admirable. A train can be emptied of its passengers, the engine changed, and the gas reservoirs refilled in two minutes. No accident can take place with the gas. It is stored along the roofs of the carriages in an India-rubber cloth, which cloth is again encased in a box. A plate of iron at the top of the bag presses it down through the burners at an equal rate. The burners are shut in with ball globes of thick glass, and carefully locked. The supply is amply sufficient to last out the journey, but an index outside tells whether the bags are full or empty. If empty, the large pipe communicating with the works is brought to the carriage—each carriage having a separate bag, be it understood—and in a few moments the dial once more marks "full."

The tunnels are all as fine specimens of good substantial brickwork as could be met with anywhere. Every rarely found water dripping through any of them, they were mostly perfectly dry, and in excellent order. Near the part of the town where I reside, the line is carried under houses, and even through private cellars, and the inhabitants of these invaded places never complain of experiencing the least annoyance. In 1863 the company's receipts were only £400 or £500 a week. Now, (with an extension of the line, of course), the weekly receipts average about £7,000. They must necessarily go on increasing. When people once use the underground railway they will not be able to do without it. By and by a short extension will complete the road to Charing Cross, and then every important part of London will be accessible by the line. The fares are low, and there is little or no waiting for trains—two points of great importance. There is very little time lost at any station, and if passengers do not "hurry up" they are very likely to lose their trains. Punctuality is closely observed, and if you get to an important station only just in time to see the train go, it is a comfort to think that another train will be up in less than five minutes. The stations are very large and commodious, and civility to passengers is strictly enjoined upon all servants of the company.

General Notes.

More than 4,000,000 of Germans reside in the United States.

Gambling houses in Paris now pay a yearly license of $5,000.

During the week ending May 27, more than 6,000 Scandinavian immigrants arrived at Chicago.

A girl in Wisconsin swallowed forty percussion caps. Her mother refrained from spanking her for fear of an explosion!

A married woman in St. Paul has been in a trance state for six weeks, and her husband won't have a doctor yet. He says it seems so novel!

The weather-wise in England are predicting a cold and unproductive season because the ash trees remain bare long after the oaks were in full foliage.

The imports of wheat into Great Britain this year have averaged 20 per cent less in amount than during the corresponding months of 1869.

Thirty thousand miners, at work in the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania, have determined on a general suspension of work.

Rain water caught during May or the first week in June, will keep a long time perfectly pure and sweet. Some caught in 1826 was pronounced as sweet as spring water in 1859.

The Sacramento and Yolo Bridge across the Sacramento River, was built at a cost of about $30,000. It is 900 feet long, has a double track and a turning draw in the middle, and rests on seven piers of substantial piling.

A gold nugget weighing seventy-six ounces was recently found at Berlin, Australia. This is the second large nugget found in that vicinity within a few days.—It is believed that an important gold field of great extent is being developed in that section.

A bright eyed little fellow in one of the private schools in Brooklyn, administered a sharp rebuke to his teacher the other day. Having spelled a word, his instructor said: 'Are you willing to bet you are right, Bennie?' The little boy looked up with surprise, and replied: 'I know it's right, Miss V., but I never bet.'

Vast ruins have been discovered in the Zulu country in South Africa—obelisks with colossal carvings, terraces, and halls of lawn stone, or cut out of the solid rock. The natives regard them with mysterious awe, and keep strangers from them, for fear that if they are approached no rain will fall for three years. Who will tell us of their builders?

A clock which has just been completed for the Cathedral of Besançon contains 90,000 wheels, and indicates, among many other things, the days of the week, the month, the year, the signs of the zodiac, the equation of time, the course of the planets, the phases of the moon, and the time at every capital in the world, the movable feasts for one hundred years, the saints' days, &c. Perhaps the most curious part of the mechanism is that which gives the additional day in leap year, and which, consequently, is called into action only once in four years. The clock is wound up every eight days. The main dial is twelve feet in diameter, and the total cost exceeds $40,000.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9.

THE DEAF AND DUMB ASYLUM.—We are informed by the Contractors that they will commence work in the early part of next week. Mechanics and laborers can obtain information by applying at the office, on the grounds, after Monday next.

CANADIANS ATTENTION.—A meeting will be held at the Town Hall to-morrow evening, (Thursday) 10th inst., at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a Canadian Society, and to make arrangements for celebrating the coming Dominion Day. Canadians are requested to attend.

LIBERAL.—We learn from the Hamilton Spectator that the congregation of the Central Presbyterian Church of that city at a meeting on Monday evening, decided to present their esteemed Pastor, the Rev. W. Ormiston, D. D., with a paid up Life Assurance Policy, for $10,000. Such liberality is beyond praise.

SAFE BLOWN OPEN.—A telegram from Colborne of the 8th. says: The store of Mr. R. E. Bywater, Colborne, watchmaker and jeweller, was last night broken open and a large quantity of watches and jewellery taken out of the safe, which was blown open with powder. The amount taken away is about $1,000.

A HOMESICK MEMBER.—The Montreal Gazette is responsible for the following: "The Ottawa Parliament has a homesick member, who is tired of Ottawa, and wants to go home. It is Dobble, of Elgin. The following touching couplet was found on a scrap of paper beneath his desk in the House a few days ago:

"Instead of lissen'n here to these debaters,
I orter to be at home—to plant potaters."

We think so, too.

THE ALLEGHANIANS.—We copy the following beautiful extract from the Christian Advocate, complimentary to the world-renowned Alleghanians, Vocalists and Swiss Bell Ringers, who appear at Ontario Hall on Friday evening next. It says: "They are all talented and gifted performers, and a high and blessed mission is theirs, going from city to city and from village to village, speaking to the great heart of humanity—now in the stirring notes of high and noble song, and again in the sweet soothing strains of beauty—they are ministers of good, reaping in fields which the same truth, dressed in sterner garb, would leave shea veless."

The Kirk Synod.

A report from the managers of the Temperance Fund showed that an addition of $43,000 had been made to the Fund and that it was in a healthy condition. Several suggestions were made which provoked considerable discussion.

The Synod resumed consideration of the Form of Polity, proceeded with the same, paragraph by paragraph, amending it in several particulars, as far as the end of Book 3, cap. 2.

The committee appointed to consider the memorial from the Canada Temperance Union gave in a report. In accordance with its suggestions the Synod adopted the following deliverance with reference thereto:

The Synod deplore the many evils resulting from intemperance throughout the Dominion, hailing with satisfaction and thank fulness all suitable efforts tending to lessen these evils, and to influence public opinion in the right direction, again instruct their members to use all lawful endeavours that sound and correct views may prevail throughout their various congregations, regarding the temperance reformation, and anew urge to all under their influence the use of such means as they may consider best adapted according to the Word of God to arrest and remove the evils of intemperance.

Principal Snodgrass presented the report of the Trustees of Queen's College, and also a report from the Executive Committee appointed by the special meeting of Synod to provide an endowment for that institution.

The report was adopted.

On Monday the Scholarship and Bursary schemes were considered, and the Report on Jewish and Foreign Missions was read. The Mission in British Columbia was represented as being in a flourishing condition.

Dr. Ormiston, representative of the Canada Presbyterian Church, was present, and conveyed in an eloquent manner the cordial and fraternal greeting of the Church he represents.

A deputation was appointed to wait upon the Synod of the Canada Presbyterian Church, about to meet in Hamilton, and convey to that body the Christian and brotherly greetings of this Synod, and to assure them of their desire and prayer that the Head of the Church may bless them in their work of faith and labor of love.

The Report relating to the French Mission and Widows, and Orphans, Funds were presented and considered highly satisfactory.

After votes of thanks to the people of Hamilton, the railways, &c., the Synod adjourned on Monday night.

The Irish Church Bill.

The course of action which the House of Lords is likely to pursue with regard to the Irish Church Bill, will produce an agitation throughout the Empire that has not been witnessed since the passage of the Reform Bill. Besides the conflict between the Lords and the Commons, which in itself promises to be of the most bitter character, the excitement amongst the people is likely to be without parallel in this century. There is the Fenian element still slumbering throughout Ireland which only wants a little excitement of this character to fan into a fierce flame—the Protestants of Ireland are opposed to the disestablishment of the Irish Church, and will rally round the House of Lords as one man.—Whatever may be said pro and con. respecting the merits of the Irish Church Bill, this threatened collision between the two Houses cannot but be looked upon with serious apprehension. It is not at all probable that Lord Derby having decided upon a course of action will recede one step from his position; nor is it very likely that Gladstone, backed as he is by such a large majority in the Commons, and coming fresh from the people with his position so emphatically endorsed, will give way.—It would have been far better had the Conservative Peers yielded to the recommendation of Lords Salisbury and Carnarvon, and have the Bill modified in Committee rather than throw it out altogether. By taking such an ultra course, the probability is that in the end the Irish Church will get far worse terms than are now offered it.

Cable despatches of to-day give the opinions of the English press on the position of the Lords. The Standard defends Lord Derby, and says if the Bill passes the liberties of England will be sacrificed to the ascendancy of that democratic principle which is the most dangerous to personal and political freedom. "It matters not whether those who approved regret the decision to give battle; there is nothing for them to do but to take their places in the ranks and fight for all they hold at stake. Let the whole Protestant and conservative power of the realm be exerted and give the lords such a support of public opinion as to restrain the struggle within the limits of the constitution and make a self-willed and overbearing minister, always at heart the enemy of the lords and likely to be exasperated by his unexpected defeat, feel that there are limits which he dare not pass. Already have his organs threatened that which, if done, would call for impeachment. It is necessary that he be made to feel that he dare not execute the threat, and that he must not only deal with the lords, but with the wealthy, resolute, influential class of England and Ireland who are an actual majority of the English nation."

The Morning Post, the Daily News, the Telegraph and Times, all condemn in unmeasured terms the proposed action of the Lords. The Star uses threatening language, and says "the Church of Ireland must not cumber the ground after December; that the least which will be said will be proclaimed from the house-tops, viz., that the House of Lords is not a more logical, desirable or excusable an institution than the Irish Church. In the fever heat which will follow the rejection of the bill—a heat such as has not been seen since Birmingham threatened to march on London in the name of reform cries will be heard for the downfall of an obsolete chamber, no longer a disguised anachronism existing by a decent deference of the popular will, which Wellington once said ought never again to be withheld."

The outside papers which circulate among the people talk very revolutionary, and the opinion is expressed that the Lords will be so alarmed at the popular indignation that they will pass the Bill.

In the House of Lords last evening the Earl of Harrowby gave notice that he would move that the second reading of the Irish Bill be postponed for six months.

—On Friday afternoon about four o'clock, a night train ran into a train of cars, which were unloading freight at Napanee station, smashing four cars in a fearful manner, and damaging the engine. The cause has been attributed to the carelessness of the driver.

Parliament Yesterday.

After some routine business the House went into committee on the Patent bill.

On motion of Mr. Blake the bill was then amended by adding to the 33rd clause the words following:—"Provided always that application shall be made by any other person for a patent for any invention or discovery with which such caveat may in any respect interfere, it shall be the duty of the commissioner forthwith to give notice by mail to the person who has filed such caveat and such person shall within three months after the date of mailing the notice, if he would avail himself of the caveat, file his petition and take the other steps necessary on his application for a patent; and if, in the opinion of the commissioner, applications are interfering, like proceedings may be had in all respects as are by this act provided in the case of interfering applications. Provided further that unless the person filing any caveat shall, within four years from the filing thereof, have made application for a patent, the caveat shall be void.

The committee rose and reported the bill with an amendment, and the Bill was read a second time.

The House went into Committee on the Resolutions for the admission of Newfoundland.

Mr. Rose did not intend to weary the House with a long speech in support of the final consummation of the arrangement which had been fully discussed several years ago. He would merely give a few figures to show the value of that Colony to the Dominion. That colony owned 1,557 vessels, representing 87,000 tons, and of an estimated value of £4,000,000.—Last year 1,260 vessels engaged in the export trade, entered the various ports of Newfoundland, and 1,016 vessels cleared, having upwards of 10,000 seamen. The number of vessels engaged in the fisheries, exclusive of the vessels already mentioned, was 230 sailing vessels and nine steamers in seal fishing, and 13,000 in codfishing.—For a number of years the exports of the island had exceeded the imports. The population was almost entirely a consuming population, having to import almost all the provisions and clothing required. Last year the imports were 40,000 brls. of flour, 40,000 barrels of Indian meal, 50,000 cwt of biscuit, 1,000 lbs of cheese, $1,500,000 worth of woollen cloth, leather and coarser kinds of cloth. All their imports could be supplied from the other ports of the Dominion, and a considerable market would be opened up to us by the admission of Newfoundland. The total exports were five and a half millions, of which $1,500,000 worth went to the United States, $327,000 to the West Indies, $700,000 to Spain, $800,000 to Portugal and $700,000 to Brazil. Of the imports $2,048,000 worth came from England in the shape of woollen cloth, which could now be supplied from Canada. With regard to the mineral wealth of Newfoundland, two copper mines were now being worked, at one of which one thousand people were engaged, where but four years ago there were only three or four families. These mines were situated near the seashore, and according to the evidence of Sir William Logan the beds of copper ore were of very great extent. With these few remarks he would submit the resolutions.

A lengthy discussion took place, when the resolutions were concurred in, and the debate would be continued when they came up for concurrence on Thursday.

The Wesleyan Conference.

It was announced when Conference opened on Monday morning, that Rev. Mr. Punshon was unable to leave his room, the excessive labors of the few days previous having quite prostrated his health. Rev. Jas. Elliott presided.

The Rev. Dr. Ryerson read an abstract of an address to be presented in the name of the Conference to His Excellency, Sir John Young, conveying the congratulations of the Wesleyan body in Canada, upon his assumption of office, and the expression of their unfaltering loyalty the to person and Government of the august lady whose representative he is.

A paternal address was ordered to be sent to the Kirk Synod in session at Hamilton.

Nine members of the Conference had left during the year, some to join the Methodist bodies in the United States.

Fourteen gentlemen were recommended by the district meetings to be sent to college.

The reports from all the districts having been made up, it was found that the net increase during the year, after supplying the losses caused by death, expulsions and removals, amounted to 2,156.

It was resolved that the next session of the Conference be held in Belleville.

Lands along the Intercolonial.

The returns relative to the settlement of lands on the route of the Intercolonial Railway were brought down to Parliament on Monday. The Railway Commissioners on the 24th of January last, called attention to the question of providing labor for the construction of the line, and in connection with it measures for the settlement of the country through which the railway passes. The eastern side of New Brunswick does not contain more than 80,000 souls, and to draw a large number for the railway would derange other industrial occupations, and too much enhance the price of labor. The same remarks apply to the portion of the line in Quebec and Nova Scotia. The Commissioners call attention to large quantities of unoccupied land available for settlement, and the quantity of grain that could be raised, if there were a market. They therefore call the attention of the local governments to the propriety of offering inducements to take up these lands by immigrants, as from 5,000 to 10,000 men will be employed on the line for the next three years. They suggest that to every man who should work faithfully for two years from 50 to 100 acres be granted.

Admission of Newfoundland.

The resolutions for the admission of Newfoundland into the Union may be summarized as follows:—

Canada shall be liable for the debts and liabilities of that Province.

The debt of Newfoundland will be placed on the same footing as that of the other Provinces.

Newfoundland shall receive interest at five per cent per annum on the sum by which its debt falls short per head of the other Provinces.

Newfoundland shall receive $35,000 per annum as a subsidy, and an annual grant of eighty cents. per head, to be paid in proportion to the population until the same reaches 400,000, at which amount it will thereafter remain.

The Province will receive $150,000 per annum in case it shall consent to the surrender to the Dominion of its wild lands, mines, &c.

It shall be optional with Newfoundland to accept the proposal in the preceding resolution.

The Fisheries of Newfoundland shall be encouraged as the Fisheries of the other Provinces.

Special arrangements are provided for the water rates in St. Johns.

The Dominion Government is bound to provide for efficient mail service between the present Dominion, Newfoundland and the United Kingdom. Present arrangements with Halifax will be undertaken by the Dominion. Efficient coast steam service, including Labrador, will be established by the Dominion.

Canada shall assume the same burden of expense for public service towards Newfoundland as towards other Provinces.

No exceptional tax shall be imposed on the exports of Newfoundland.

Eight members in the House of Commons shall be assigned to Newfoundland, until the next census.

The Union shall take effect by proclamation from Her Majesty.

The Local Constitution shall be preserved, subject to the future action of the Provincial Government.

It is provided that the provisions of the British North American Act shall apply to Newfoundland the same as if the Province had been in the Union from the beginning.

Encouragement will be given for the establishment of a Naval Reserve Force, and for giving greater efficiency to the Volunteer Militia organization.

The influence of the Dominion Government will be used to procure the continued maintenance of a garrison at St. Johns.

Business Notices.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless, landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

—Remember the meeting of Canadians to-morrow night at the Town Hall.

A French lady returning from Havana carried with her a pretty little negro boy, for whom she tenderly cared. One day Bamboula said to his mistress: 'Papa told me when I was big I must kill you and carry him all your money, I'm going to kill you, but I shan't go back to him, for he would take all the money away.' Bamboula is on his way home.

Tanners' bark is becoming dear, and better means of utilizing it are being discovered. The first great improvement is to reduce it to powder, instead of the course grinding that is usual. Twenty per cent more of tannin is thus obtained by leaching it in cold water, driven into the mass by powerful hydraulic machinery, than by the old method. Hot water gives still greater yield, but it also extracts some new element injurious to leather.

A HINT TO PARENTS AND TEACHERS.—A very forward child is very liable not to fulfil the expectations which its infancy and youth may have excited. It is often caressed and flattered into affectation and self-conceit, and its temper and disposition are not uncommonly rendered perverse by indulgence. On the contrary, a diffident child, who appears awkward, and is what is commonly called unlucky, is liable to be spoiled by severity. The conduct of many parents and teachers in bringing forward bold and talkative children, is directly the reverse to what it should be.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NEW ALBION HOTEL,
McGILL STREET,
MONTREAL, CANADA.

THE "NEW ALBION HOTEL," the largest Hotel in Montreal, has just been opened under the most favorable auspices.

Whilst the "Old Albion" has been long noted for the strict attention paid to its numerous guests, the "New Albion" takes its position as a first class Hotel, and is now first class in every respect, except the charges, which better suit the ideas and requirements of the majority of travelers, than many of the so called, "first class Houses;" which deserve the title more through the amount of their charges than anything else.

Already the crowded state of the "New Albion" promises well for its future career; everything associated with its construction has been carried out with artistic taste and systematic correctness.

The large Hall, commodious office, spacious Reading Room, convenient Dining, Coffee, Wash Room, etc., etc., on the ground floor; and the Reception Room and Suite of SPLENDIDLY FURNISHED and THOROUGHLY VENTILATED LADIES' PARLORS, on the second floor, will form no small luxury during the hot summer season. And, what is an exception to the general Rule in Hotels, the Bedrooms are all well ventilated and lighted, there not being a dark room in the House.

Being situated on the widest and healthiest Street in Montreal, commanding a Magnificent View of the River St. Lawrence and the Victoria Bridge on the left, and a full view of the Victoria Square with its numerous "Jets d'Eau" and Mount Royal on the right, it cannot fail to commend itself to the travelling public.

From its situation on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare and commercial centre of the City it cannot fail to be, as the "Old Albion" has always been a strong favorite with the Merchants of Canada.

Notwithstanding the very large outlay in building and furnishing the house, the old price of $1 50 per day will still be adhered to.

We, therefore, bespeak for ourselves a continuance of the patronage so liberally accorded to us during the past twelve years.

DYSPEPSIA.

There is no disease which experience has so amply proved to be remediable by the

PERUVIAN SYRUP,

(a protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron), a Dyspepsia. The most inveterate forms of this disease have been completely cured by this medicine, as ample testimony of some of our first citizens proves.

FROM THE VENERABLE ARCHDEACON SCOTT, D. D.
DUNHAM, Canada East.

* * * * "I am an inveterate Dyspeptic of MORE THAN 25 YEARS' STANDING. * * * "I have been so wonderfully benefitted in the three short weeks during which I have used the Peruvian Syrup, that I can scarcely persuade myself of the reality. People who have known me are astonished at the change. I am widely known, and can but recommend to others that which has done so much for me." * * * *

ANOTHER CLERGYMAN WRITES AS FOLLOWS:

"My voyage to Europe is indefinitely postponed. I have discovered the "Fountain of Health" on this side the Atlantic. Three bottles of Peruvian Syrup have rescued me from the fangs of the fell Dyspepsia."

A pamphlet of 32 pages, containing a history of this remarkable remedy, with a treatise on "Iron as a medicine," will be sent free to any address.

The genuine has "PERUVIAN SYRUP" blown in the glass.

—Evening Journal.

A Maiden's Psalm of Life.

Tell us not in idle jingle " marriage is an empty dream!" for the girl is dead that's single, and things are not what they seem. Life is real! Life is earnest! single blessedness a fib;" Man thou art to men returneast!" has been spoken of the rib. But enjoyment, and not sorrow, is our destined end or way, but to act that each to morrow finds us nearer marriage day. Life is long and youth is fleeting, and our hearts though light and gay, still like pleasant drums are beating wedding marches all the way. In the world's broad field of battle, in the bivouac of life, be not like dumb driven cattle, be a heroine—a wife. Trust no future, ow'er pleasant, let the dead Past bury it dead! act each day living Present heart within and hope ahead! Lives of married folks remind us we can live our lives as well, and, departing, leave behind us such examples as shall "tell." Such examples that another, waiting time in idle port, a forlorn unmarried brother shall take heart and court. Let us then, be up and doing, with a heart on triumph set; still contriving, still pursuing, and each one a husband get.

Paris Scandal.

Mater families is pleasing to observe when she meets a lady friend abroad. She has brought with her one sterling British quality which can only be exercised in another's company, and which, given two British matrons, rarely fails to come into play. Some people ill-naturedly call this quality gossip.

"My dear Mrs. A.! how are you pleased with Paris?"

"Oh, not at all my dear: it is horrible! Our washing is wretchedly done. Just think! blanchisseuse washed all the buttons off Mr. A.'s best shirt, which he was to wear to Lord Fiddledeedee's, and the dinners are dreadful so spiced everything is! And how horribly insolvent the parsongs are, to be sure, my dear Angelica, how they cheat us poor English! They think we are made of gold!"

"Yes, oh yes! But, dear, did you see the Empress to day in the Bois?"

"No. Is she fine-looking as they say?"

"Well, ye es, perhaps she is. I've seen her several times. May be, though, she's a trifle too fine-looking. I wouldn't for the world repeat what Lady Anne Chowder told me—Lady Anne is such a quiz, you know—really too cruel! He has a tic!"

"Oh now, you must really tell me! Now do please!"

"Well—but you must never repeat it, you know—it is really to bad. Lady Anne as you know, has humor—espree, as these French call it. Last week, speaking of the Empress she said her Majesty had one accomplishment at least, on which people dared not compliment her."

"Why, what was that?"

"She paints!"

"What! the Empress an artist? What, pray, does she paint?—landscapes or heads, water colors or oil sketches!" (Charming innocence, O Mrs. A.!)

"No: she paints" (hoarse whisper) herself."

The Appetite for Tobacco Destroyed.

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed Tobacco.

ORTON'S PREPARATION!

ESTABLISHED 1865.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for tobacco in any person, the habit may be. If it fails in any case the money will be refunded, less in all cases. It is at all times perfectly safe and harmless, and is of the utmost importance to the well. Something is now becoming a habit so nearly rooted, with the help of the Preparation there is not the least need it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that Orton's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for tobacco, and leaves the person as free from any desire for it as before he commenced its use. The Preparation acts directly upon the nerves affected by tobacco and through those upon the blood thoroughly clean ing the poison of tobacco from the system and restoring the natural cravings for tobacco after cessation. Resulted it is warranted.

The time taken to allay all desire for Tobacco by the use of this Preparation varies slightly in different persons, the average time being about Five days. Some have no desire for Tobacco after using the Preparation Two days.

The Health and Purse of every Tobacco user in the country call loudly, ABANDON THE USE OF TOBACCO.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have used Orton's Preparation for the purpose of destroying the appetite for Tobacco, and can assure those who are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparation will certainly destroy the appetite for Tobacco quickly and permanently, without any ill effect upon the health, and without creating an appetite either for the Preparation or any substitute.

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 10, 1869. No. 34.

Our Manufactories.

THE JOSEPH HALL MACHINE WORKS, OSHAWA.

From the Toronto Telegraph.

The agricultural interest is, in Canada, looked upon as the foremost in importance, the very key stone of our national prosperity. The results at harvest time either brighten or shadow the prosperity of the year. The husbandman is with us the architect of the State; upon the result of his skill and labor the welfare of the country to a certain extent depends.

But, of late years, the thinking, business men of the country have recognized the importance of other great auxiliaries to the national wealth and greatness, and it is a matter for congratulation that, addmitting the necessity and appreciating the advantage to be derived from a judicious investment of capital, they are now turning their attention to a development of the manufacturing interests of the country.

Within the past few years many very large and important works have been inaugurated with a result, in a pecuniary point of view, we are happy to add in most cases satisfactory.

The space at our disposal, however, will not permit our embracing the whole manufacturing interests of the country—we shall, therefore, notice only the most important factories in the Province of Ontario; and as a commencement thereof, we begin with an establishment located at Oshawa, in the county of Ontario, a thriving town of four thousand inhabitants, and for its size one of the liveliest manufacturing centres either in the Eastern or Western country.

The present prosperity of the place may be attributed in a great degree to the far seeing wisdom of those who, a few years since, owned a large portion of the village property. A neighboring town was about that time visited by some American capitalists anxious to engage in the manufacture of agricultural implements in Canada. As soon as their errand became known, the wiseacres of this sleepy hollow jumped the price of all available lands to a preposterous price, thus, by their selfish greed, driving away an interest that would in five years have doubled their population. The property-holders of Oshawa, possessing more common sense, not only lowered the price of their land, but also tendered a remittance of taxation for a certain number of years. This liberal offer was at once accepted, and the consequence has shown itself in a population more than quadrupled in number, an enormous rise in the value of real estate, and the general prosperity of every other local interest.

Since the advent of the first enterprise many others have been attracted to the place, till at the present time the busy hum of labor resounds on every hand, converting what was once a quiet country village into a hive of human industry, echoing with the sounds of advancing civilization.

The Pioneer Manufacturing establishment at Oshawa, is the one we propose to commence our sketch with. This establishment is known throughout the length and breadth of Canada, as the "Joseph Hall Machine works," F. W. Glen, Manager.

This establishment does not confine itself to any particular branch of manufacture, but is engaged largely in the manufacture of all descriptions of general machinery. The works are, however, better known to the general public as the headquarters from which issue forth every year hundreds of improved agricultural implements. In this particular branch the name and fame of the Joseph Hall Works is both widely known and justly popular.

These works have a frontage of 400 feet, and cover five acres of ground. The machine shop proper is built upon the centre of the premises, and extends back for a distance of 250 feet the largest building of its kind in the Dominion. The ground floor of this extensive structure is divided by partition walls into two separate departments, and respectively for the following description of work; 1st, preparing the iron used in the manufacture of all classes of agricultural machinery; the second and largest portion for the manufacture of general machinery, portable and stationery steam engines and boilers, gang, circular and muley saws, flouring mill machinery. Leffle's celebrated double turbine water wheel. Norman's patent mill stone dressing machines, Washington, hand and Gordon power presses, and the Taylor cylinder press, iron planers, drilling machines, and a variety of other work, embracing everything in the line of general machinery and iron castings. (The printing presses made at these works, several of which are running in this office, are in everyway equal to the imported article.) Walkrog through this portion of the building the non-mechanical mind is mystified with the surroundings. Overhead revolve the main shaft, with the numberless wheels and gliding bands. They are the representative influences of a seventy-five horse-power engine—the motive strength of everything around. To us the intended uses of these huge planes is anything but plain. Neither could we be drilled into understanding the lucid explanations vouchsafed us respecting drills and screw-cutters. We did, however, appreciate the knock-down arguments of some mammoth steam hammers, the echo of whose persuasion reverberated through the building. We could also appreciate the clipping qualities of the shears, whose hungry maw went through with case huge bars and rods of iron. There was a collection of other mechanical apparatus, the names of which would in no way be intelligible to the general reader.

Passing to the upper floor we find it also divided into apartments, one for preparing the wood-work of the different machines built, and the second is a general paint shop. None but the very best seasoned wood is used, immense quantities of the different kinds of lumber required being kept on hand for two or three years before it is considered fit to work up. The system adhered to guarantees a superior excellence in the manufactured article. The third and last floor of the main building is devoted to the making and storing of wooden patterns. Piled up on every side are hundreds of large and small wooden models, representing the various kinds of work turned out by this firm since their commencement. Returning to the second floor, we traverse a tramway, at an elevation of 15 feet above the yard, and forming a link of communication with another extensive building where the different machines are fitted together, after which operation they pass below to the ground floor, and receive their last finishing touch at the hands of the painters.—Returning to the upper portion of the yard, we find a group of buildings, comprising boiler, blacksmith and moulding shops. Our visit to the last was not a lengthy one. Our exit was not at a dignified pace; clouds of sulphurous smoke are not the sweetest of perfumes. Fine and heavy-chested artisans are these moulders, human salamanders seen through the steaming cloud that envelopes everything. These bearers of molten fire brought to the mind thoughts decidedly infernal, added to the sight seeing part of the business and as if to intensify the mystery of one's surrounding incessant explosions greeted the ear, making one feel decidedly anxious to quit. Such was the opinion of a friend standing by, who, at the first discharge, elevated his feet in the air and made tracks for the exterior. His exit was encored.

Next in order came the dressing-house, a three minute visit to the interior of which is sufficient to start the perspiration from every face. A Turkish bath is in comparison cold comfort. This baying process is administered to all lumber used in the factory, thus rendering impossible any after shrinkage or warpage. Travelling on through the various large yards surrounding the different workshops, viewing the enormous quantity of lumber piled up on every hand, and the different storage sheds crammed with finished work, ready for shipment to different parts of the Dominion, the visitor begins to appreciate the size and importance of the works. The orders for the past year alone, in mowing and reaping machines, foot up to twelve hundred in number, a convincing proof of the farmers' appreciation of the superior excellence of the machines manufactured at the Joseph Hall Works. The money value of agricultural implements at present building in the shops is over $250,000, and this is but a single item selected from the enormous general machine business carried on.

At the expiration of our tour through the factory, we paid a visit to the offices, and were shown the plans for several large additions soon to be made to the present buildings, thus rendering still more extensive what is already one of the representative features of the continent. The pay sheet foots up three hundred men, who receive constant employment all the year through. This regiment of employees are paid with undeviating regularity every fortnight. This circulates an amount of ready money in the town of Oshawa which tends to make it one of the most prosperous places of its size in the country. We cannot conclude these remarks, altogether too brief as they are, to do justice to the importance of the subject, without commending the spirit, energy and enterprise that have built up such an enormous trade, supplying a class of work which prior to the inauguration of this establishment it was necessary to import from the United States, and we have no doubt we echo the public opinion when we wish a still increasing prosperity to the Joseph Hall Machine Works of Oshawa, under the energetic and successful presidency of F. W. Glen, Esq.

When the pledge was being circulated at a temperance meeting, a decidedly inebriated individual presented himself and offered his signature. The Chairman remarked, 'This is a very important step my friend, and I trust you realise the responsibility you are assuming.' 'Oh, I can stand the [sic] 'sponsibility,' was the response, 'I've done it lots of times before.'

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY, JUNE 10.

PRESENTATION.—The congregation of the Rev. H. Brettargh, Parish Priest of Trenton, presented him with a purse of $210 the other day, on the occassion of his leaving for a trip to England.

NOVA SCOTIA COAL.—The New York Commercial Bulletin advocates the introduction of Nova Scotia coal into the United States free of duty. It says it can be delivered, duty free, at New York for $4 43 per ton.

QUINTE DIVISION.—Dr. Day was elected member of the Medical Council for this Division, receiving 23 votes. Dr. Hope, of Belleville, received one vote from an elector in Addington, making the total votes cast 24.—These were given from the following localities :—Kingston, 10 ; Belleville, 4 ; Amelias burg, 2 ; Trenton, 1 ; Roslin, 1 ; Frankford, 1 ; Newburg, 1 ; Township of Kingston, 1 ; Harowsmith, 1 ; Wolfe Island, 1 ; Concession, 1.

FOR THE NORTH WEST.—The Montreal Gazette says :—A large number of young men in the city are busily engaged forming themselves into a Company to proceed to the N. West for settlement as soon as circumstances will permit. They are well posted as to the route, nature of the country and work required to be done. Determined to make the attempt, and being sturdy, hardy Canadians, it is certain they will succeed in establishing comfortable homes and earning comfortable incomes in the prairie lands of the North West.

RIFLE RANGE.—A Volunteer writes to us as follows :—" Are we ever going to have any Rifle range in Belleville ? Here in Ontario we read continually of Rifle Matches, Associations, Ranges, Prizes, and the like in every other town in the Province ; but in ours—the second, if not the largest town, one would think the subject unknown. Surely there is some of the old enthusiasm left, which animated our gallant fellows to rush to the front when danger called them, and which might well be shown in reviving that " esprit du corps," now almost dormant.—What is to hinder us having a first class Rifle Association here ?"

REMEMBER THE SWISS BELL RINGERS CONCERT.—The Alleghanians, who are now making their farewell tour, and will appear here on to morrow evening. During their last visit to London (Eng.) the London Times says : "The delightful tuneups who everywhere greet them, and the golden favors they receive, speak louder for the excellence of their entertainments than any encomiums of ours." The London (Eng) Morning Post says : "No human tongue could discourse more mellifluous music than is utteredby the metal tongues of these magical bells ; no such performance has been heard in London within our memory." Reserved seats should be secured at Overell's Book Store.

THE ALBION HOTEL, MONTREAL.—The attention of the reader is directed to the advertisement of this Hotel, which will be found in another column. The new Hotel fronts on McGill street, in the immediate vicinity of the Wholesale Houses, commands a magnificent view of the St. Lawrence and the Mountain, and in point of comfort and convenience it ranks among the best Houses in the country. By the recent addition to the building there are 80 new rooms, giving a total of 240 rooms. Everything is fitted up in first class style, all the rooms well ventilated and lighted, and having one of the most attentive landlords in the country, the Albion will continue to be a popular resort for, merchants and travellers from this section of the country.

LAKE FISHERIES.—The complaints of the lake fishermen continue, and they assert that the grievances of which they complained a few weeks since remain unremedied. The Kingston News learns that the complaints of these men are really justified by the existence of the wrongs of which they complain, that the Canadian boats fishing in our waters are a very small proportion compared with that of Americans, that their trespass is of daily occurrence and the amount of netting by the Canadians compared with that of Americans is as one rod of the former to one hundred of the latter, and that notwithstanding they are not officially interrupted. The head quarters of these American fishermen is Cape Vincent, at which place whitefish and salmon trout, taken unlawfully in our waters, are so plentiful that they can be purchased at a much cheaper rate than with us, and sometimes become a complete drug in the market. Our fishermen insist that their complaints to the inspecting officer have not been attended to, but that they have been put off by evasions or with promises of attention at some future day, which, however, have never yet been redeemed.

ARRIVAL.—A telegram from Father Point, this afternoon, says the steamship ' Ottawa,' from Glasgow, with 7 saloon, 77 intermediate, and 515 steerage passengers, passed in at 11.15 this forenoon.

NEWMARKET RACES.—The Spring races of the London Turf Club over the Newmarket course commenced yesterday.—About 3,000 people were present. The first race, trotting purse, mile heats, best 2 in 3, first horse $100, second horse $50 ; six enteries ; won in two straight heats by S. A. Moore's b g " Johnny Moore"—time 2.49 and 2.45, " Lady Russell" winning second money. The second race was for the Queen's Plate, a dash of two miles ; four horses started ; Mr. Bilton's b h " Bay Jack," Mr. Henderson's b m " Kate Allan," Mr. C. G. Ray's c h " Bibberly" and Messrs. Fisher & White's b g " Jack on the Green." The horses got away well together, " Bay Jack" taking the first place until the three quarter post, when he was headed by "Kate Allan," the other two 50 yards behind.—On passing the first mile post " Bay Jack" had a lead of two lengths, which he maintained until the home-stretch was reached, when he drew ahead of " Kate Allan" and won easily by five lengths. Some lengths were between the other two.

TOO OLD TO BE CAUGHT WITH CHAFF.—In the last number of ' Diogenes,' a comic paper published in Montreal, appears a cartoon, which for design and artistic execution might almost be from ' Punch ' itself. The subject has a special reference to annexation. In the foreground is a large bird-trap, ready set, and two well-known politicians are scattering corn from ' Independence ' bags around it,trying to induce Canada, which is represented as a game-cock, to enter. Not far from the trap a beaver is snarling at the trappers, while behind the hayrick, on the top of which stands ' Canada,' appears the well-known face of Sir John A. McDonald, who says :—" It's no use you fellows " trying on that game. If you want him, you'll " have to pit another bird agin him, and then I " know somebody who'll back him two to one."

Who are They ?

It was stated by the Chairman of the Finance Committee in the Town Council the other night, that there were certain Tavern and Billiard Licenses still unpaid, and the proper authorities were requested to look after the matter. It is to be hoped they will do so and at once. It is to be presumed that no License could be given for either a Tavern or Billiard Table until the License Fee was paid, and if any Tavern or Billiard Room is open and doing business whose Licenses are not paid, they must be continually violating the law. We have heard that certain places which had no license, openly and publicly and systematically violate the Law, and that the authorities are cognizant of the fact. Of the truth of this statement we cannot say, but it is very evident according to the announcement of Mr. Holden, that there must be some foundation for it. To allow such a state of things, is not only a gross injustice to those men who take out and pay for their license, but a disgrace to the Town. The proper authorities should investigate the matter at once and if there be any such gross violation of the law as is complained of, the guilty parties should be punished. If the Policemen instead of perambulating the County, acting as special detectives and informers outside the the Town,whould attend to their legitimate duties at home, the state of things of which Mr. Holden and others complain would not probably exist.

The Vagrant Act.

When the new vagrant Act comes into effect there will be a scattering amongst the lazy, loafing, good-for-nothing scallywags who infest the corners of the streets, and hang about certain houses, making handsome livelihoods in a not very reputable way. That is if the police force do their duty, for under the Act they are given considerable power. As gambling is not recognized as a legitimate means of obtaining a living, it may be necessary for the police to furnish the authorities with some statistics as to the incomes of those who live without employment, but do not have any visible means of maintaining themselves. In order that all such persons as well as loafers generally, may see what pains and penalties they will be subject to, we give the substance of the new Vagrant Law :

" All idle persons who, not having visible means of maintaining themselves, live without employment—all persons who, being able to work and thereby or by other means to maintain themselves and families, wilfully refuse or neglect to do so—all persons openly exposing or exhibiting in any street, road, public place or highway, any indecent exhibition, or openly or indecently exposing their persons—all persons wandering about and begging, or who go about from door to door, or place themselves in the streets, highways, passages, or public places to beg, or receive alms—all persons following the streets or highways, and obstructing passengers by standing across the foot-paths, or by using insulting language, or in any other way, or leading down or defacing signs, breaking windows, breaking doors, or doors, gates, or the walls of houses, roads or gardens, destroying fences, causing a disturbance in the streets or highways by screaming, swearing, or singing, or being drunk, or impeding or incommoding peaceable passengers—all common prostitutes, or night-walkers wandering in the fields, public streets or highways, not giving a satisfactory account of themselves—all keepers of low houses and houses of ill fame, or houses for the resort of prostitutes, and persons in the habit of frequenting such houses, not giving a satisfactory account of themselves—all persons who have no peaceable profession or calling to maintain themselves by, but who do for the most part support themselves by gaming or crime, or by the avails of prostitution—shall be deemed vagrants, loose, idle and disorderly persons, within the meaning of this Act, and shall, upon conviction before any two justices of the Peace, be punished by imprisonment in gaol or place of confinement other than the penitentiary, for a term not exceeding six months, and with or without hard labor, or by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars, or by both, such fine and imprisonment being at the discretion of the convicting Justice."

Parliament Yesterday.

The Election Committee reported respecting L'Islet Election declaring it was null and void.

Hon. Mr. Rose gave notice of resolutions to authorize the Government to raise a loan of £300,000 sterling on the Imperial guarantee to pay the Hudson's Bay Company and a further loan not exceeding £300,000 sterling, for the purpose of opening up communication with the North West Territory, organizing a government therein, and promoting its settlement.

The House went into Committee on the Insolvency Act. On the first clause, Mr. Ross of Prince Edward moved that the "non-trader" be struck out. Mr. Bodwell's amendment to the amendment, that the latter portion of the clause prohibitting voluntary assignments in the case of non-traders be struck out, was lost. Mr. Ross's amendment was carried. On the second clause, Mr. Blake moved to strike out the portion of the clause requiring the consent of a certain portion of the creditors to a voluntary assignment. The amendment was agreed to. A lengthy debate ensued on the 148th clause,excepting the Province of Quebec as regards the trial by jury of cases under the Act. The Committee reported the Bill as amended. The House adjourned at half past twelve.

The Wesleyan Conference.

On Tuesday, the President, Rev. Wm. Punshon, being still confined to his room, Rev. Geo. Douglass presided.

Rev. Matthew Davidson was appointed Missionary to Red River.

The President was requested to prepare for publication and general circulation a copy of his admirable address to the laity and charge to young men upon their ordination.

The Report of the Book Committee was of the most encouraging nature. The last year had been the most prosperous in the history of the Book-room. Notwithstanding the general stagnation of trade and the increased duty on all imported books, the sales had been in advance of any previous year.

During the year greater activity has marked the book publishing department than ever before, 28,905 bound volumes and 26,589 unbound having been issued from the connexional press. The profits from this source exhibit an increase of 50 per cent on those of the previous year.

The election of editor excited considerable interest. The chief contest was between the Rev. Dr. Rogers, who has managed the paper with marked ability during the last nine years, and the Rev. E. H. Dewart, already known to the public as the author and compiler of several books in prose and verse. The vote was taken by ballot. The first vote was as follows, Dr. Jeffers, 186, Mr. Dewart, 147, scattered 15. A clear majority of the whole being required, there was no election. The ballot was again taken with the following result :—Dr. Jeffers, 140 ; Rev. E. H. Dewart, 177 ; scattered 4. Thereupon Mr. Dewart was declared editor by the chair. Both Rev. Mr. Dewart and Rev. E. H. Jeffers made suitable addresses to the Conference.

The following Committee was appointed to revise the working of the French Canadian Mission, and to report at the Conference next year :—Rev. W. M. Punshon, M. A., Geo. Douglass, Chas. Lavell, M. A., John Borland, E. Wood, D. D., and L. Taylor, D. D. ; with the following lay gentlemen :—John McDonald, Esq., Hon. J. Ferrier, J. A. Mathewson, Esq., and J. Torrance, Esq.

The Conference adopted resolutions on the Temperance question and appointed the Revs. I. B. Aylsworth, M. D., E. H. Dewart, George Cochran, W. Scott, and W. Willoughby, as a deputation to represent the Conference at the approaching Convention of the Canada Temperance Union, to be holden in Toronto, in the month of September next.

The Rev. Dr. Rice, the Governor of the Wesleyan Female College at Hamilton, gave an account of the position of that Institution. It never enjoyed greater prosperity. It had pupils from near the Rocky Mountains to Montreal. It furnished a good English education, with music, including board, for $150 a year.

Rev. Geo. Douglas, who, one year ago, gave notice that he would move the Division of Conference, stated that in consequence of the connexional effort made to endow Victoria College he would not urge that motion ; but renew the notice that at the next Conference he would bring it forward.

Canada Presbyterian Synod.

The Synod of the Canada Presbyterian Church began its session in Hamilton on Tuesday evening the 8th. After the usual sermon by the retiring Moderator, Rev. Alex. Topp, the roll was called, and it was found that 100 ministers and 80 elders answered to their names.

Rev. Wm. Ormiston, D. D., was unanimously appointed Moderator.

On Wednesday Messrs. MacLennan, Macdonnell, and Crail appeared as deputation from the Kirk Synod. Eloquent and impressive speeches in favor of Presbyterian Union, and advocating the bringing about of a material good understanding and harmonious working together in the meantime were made by the deputation, also by Rev. David Inglis, Rev. Mr. King, of Toronto, and Rev. Mr. Topp. The report of the Committee on the State of Religion was read by Rev. Mr. McTavish. He alluded to the Galt revival, but expressed no opinion thereupon. This omission became the subject of rather a warm debate, and it was decided that the Conference on the State of Religion be held by the Synod. It was stated that only five Presbyterians out of fifteen had reported to the Committee on this matter ; but, somehow or other, the important point of whether the Galt Presbytery was among those who had reported was not explained.

County Court

SECOND DAY.

WEDNESDAY, June 10th, 1869.

The Court was occupied all day in trying a matter of appeal from the Police Magistrate. James Morman, Appellant, Richard Oliver, Respondent. The dispute arose about the title to a lot in the second concession of Thurlow. Oliver and one Snell claim the lot. Morman went to the place as agent or servant of Snell, and is endeavoring to go on the lot some violence was used.

After a careful hearing of a very noisy and troublesome case, the jury confirmed the conviction.

A. R. Dougall, for Appellant. L. Wallbridge, Q. C., for Respondent.

Business Notices.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless, landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day fer reading the will at last came ; the room was crowded with anxious expectants ; the will was opened and to his inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NEW ALBION HOTEL,
MCGILL STREET,
MONTREAL, CANADA.

THE "NEW ALBION HOTEL," the largest Hotel in Montreal, has just been opened under the most favorable auspices.

Whilst the "Old Albion" has been long noted for the strict attention paid to its numerous guests, the "New Albion" takes its position as a first class Hotel, and is really, first class in every respect, except the charges, which better suit the ideas and requirements of the majority of travellers, than many of the so called, " first class Houses ;" which deserve the title more through the amount of their charges than any thing else.

Already the crowded state of the "New Albion," promises well for its future career ; everything connected with its conveniency and comfort has been carried out with artistic taste and systematic correctness.

The large Hall, commodious office, spacious Reading room, convenient Dining, Coffee, Wash Room, as well as many of the up stairs ; and the Reception Room and Suits of SPLENDIDLY FURNISHED and THOROUGHLY VENTILATED LADIES' PARLORS, on the second floor, will form no small luxury during the hot summer days, and what is an exception to the general Rule in Hotels, the Bedrooms are all well ventilated, and the occupants will not be in a dark room in the House.

Being situated on the sunniest and healthiest Street in Montreal, commanding a Magnificent View of the River St. Lawrence and the Victoria Bridge, the Mountain, and a full view of the Victoria Square with its numerous "Lots of Fun" and Mount Royal on the right, it cannot fail to commend itself to the travelling public.

From its situation on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare and commercial centre of the City it cannot fail to be, as the " Old Albion" has always been a strong favorite with the Merchants of Canada.

Notwithstanding the very large outlay in building and furnishing the house, the old price of $1 50 per day will not be departed from.

We, therefore, bespeak for ourselves a continuance of the patronage so liberally accorded to us during the past twelve years.

SUMNER TO SWING ROUND THE CIRCLE.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The Tribune's Washington special says:—Senator Nye in the name of all the people of that portion of the United States known as the Pacific Slope has invited Senator Sumner to visit that country during the summer, and enlighten the people thereof on the Alabama Claims, and other important political topics of the day. Sumner has accepted the invitation, and will accompany the Ways and Means Committee which leave New York next week.

Prominent politicians attach much importance to the proposed trip of Sumner. They say he favors strongly the idea of making the question of the duty of our Government in the matter of the Alabama claims a test in the coming political campaigns in the various States, and if he should make any speeches while in the West it is not improbable that he will so announce himself.

A SCARE—NOBODY HURT.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—There was much excitement and many startling rumors here this morning, concerning a railroad accident near Annapolis Junction last night. The locomotive ran against a car, and the baggage and two passenger cars were thrown off the track. The President, his wife and two children were on the train, but were uninjured. Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries NO REMEDY has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of COLD—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the more dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From REV. FRANCIS LORDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with no slight dread, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

A Plea for Eggs.

Be gentle to the new-laid egg.
For eggs are brittle things;
They cannot fly until they're hatched,
And have a pair of wings.
If once you break the tender shell,
The wrong you can't redress;
The yolk and white will all run out
And make a dreadful mess.

Tis but a little while at best
That hens have power to lay;
Te-morrow eggs may addled be
That were quite fresh to-day.
Oh! let the touch be ever light
That takes them from the keg;
There is no hand whose cunning skill
Can mend a broken egg!

Influence of the Weather on Health.

The Medical Record gives the following "nine aphorisms" of Dr. Billard, upon the relations of the atmosphere to health:

"1st. That an increase of atmospheric temperature is normally associated with an increase of general sickness.

"2nd. That a decrease of atmospheric temperature is normally associated with a dimunition of general sickness.

"3rd. That, for the most part, the increase or decrease of sickness is proportional in amount to the extent to which the atmospheric temperature rises or falls.

"4th. That it is an error to suppose (as is popularly held) that weather changes in temperature are, as a rule, damaging to public health. A sudden change, from cold to hot weather, is indeed very damaging; but a sudden change from hot to cold, is one of the most favorable circumstances that can occur, when sickness is regarded broadly as respects a large population.

"5th. That, remarkably enough, these influences are most marked in the directions I have mentioned in the colder season of the year, and more certain in the winter than in the summer.

"6th. That rises and falls of temperature are more certain and effectual in their special operation upon public health, when, at the same time, the daily range of temperature is lessened, than they are when the daily range is at the same time increased, rises of temperature increasing sickness more certainly and markedly, and falls of temperature decreasing it more certainly and markedly.

"7th. That a fall of rain lessens sickness generally, sometimes immediately, sometimes after a short interval, and that, as a rule, the reduction of general sickness is greater when the fall of rain is heavy than when it is light.

"8th. That drought on the other hand, tends to augment general sickness.

"9th. That wet weather in the summer season operates more certainly in improving public health than it does in the winter season."

What to Drink.

"A sensible article in the last Phrenological Journal on the subject of "What to Drink," contains the following in regard to hot weather drinks:

The warm season, now upon us, will increase our thirst. Water, pure water will be too chip for those who chew or smoke tobacco, and they will want something they can "taste"—something pungent, something bitter, tingling, biting. They find what they crave in whiskey, with fusil oil in it, or other similar drinks. But to an appetite that is healthy, nothing is more grateful or reviving, when thirsty, than water.

But even this should be used temperately, and in moderation. Many drink too much. Nor should it be drank on a full stomach. The less we drink of tea, coffee or water with our meals the better. Very hot drinks are bad. We are liable to take cold on going out after partaking of hot drinks.—Pure soft water is the best. Hard lime water is much used, and many prefer it; but no horse, ox or other animal will drink it when he can get soft water. For the physiological effects of hard and soft water on our bodies, see Pereira's great work on "Food and Diet." The people want knowledge on the whole subject. The physicians are not agreed, and the world is a muddle. Quacks and impostors step in with their nostrums, and sell barrels of their slops—"in large quart bottles"—to the destruction of the bodies and souls of men, women and children. "Light, light, more light" is what is wanted, and that light may be found in a knowledge of the constitution of man.

Crop Prospects.

The news from across the Atlantic is not at all calculated to lead to hopes of any firmer prices in produce than those which have prevailed for some time past. In England appearances are encouraging, and there is the promise of abundant grain, as well as green crops. In France the wheat looks favorable; and, the Pall Mall Gazette very truly remarks that "when bread is plentiful in France it is cheap in Europe." The large sums which of late years have been paid for Hungarian wheat are said to have given a stimulus to agriculture in Hungary, so that deliveries from that country are expected to continue large. The extension of railway communication to Russia will also tend to throw on the world's market a much larger supply from that country than has hitherto been offered. And the abolition of the 1s duty in the United Kingdom will probably tend to reduce prices there by 1s per quarter. News from the States, both as regards wheat and corn, was never better than at present, and that from our own country seems almost equally encouraging. A continuance of cheap bread would, therefore, seem to be almost a certainty.

The Appetite for Tobacco Destroyed.

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed Tobacco.

ORTON'S PREPARATION!

ESTABLISHED 1866.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for Tobacco, in any person in the habit of using it. If it fails in any case the money will be refunded. Perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. It is almost impossible to break it off the use of tobacco by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature's feeble will. With the help of the Preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that Orton's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for tobacco, and leaves no desire for it, as before the use of the Preparation. The Preparation acts directly upon the secretions affected by tobacco and through these upon the blood thoroughly cleansing the poison of tobacco from the system, and the unnatural cravings for tobacco after using the Preparation. Recollect it is warranted.

The time taken to allay all desire for Tobacco by the use of this Preparation varies slightly in different persons, the average time being about Five days. Some have no desire for Tobacco after using the Preparation Two days.

The Health and Purse of every Tobacco user in the country call loudly, ABANDON THE USE OF TOBACCO.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have used Orton's Preparation for the purpose of destroying the appetite for Tobacco, and can assure those who are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparation will certainly destroy the appetite for Tobacco quickly and permanently, without any bad effect upon the health, and without creating an appetite either for the Preparation or any substitute.

☞ Beware of counterfeits and all articles purporting to be like this, of the same name or otherwise. The great popularity of Orton's Preparation has induced unprincipled persons to attempt palming upon the public counterfeit and inferior articles. Purchasers will please order directly from the proprietor, or his duly authorized Agents.

The price of Orton's preparation is $2.00 per box, or three boxes for $5, sent by mail to any part of the country, securely sealed from observation, with passage paid on receipt of price.

HOW TO SEND MONEY BY MAIL.—Enclose the amount in a letter, seal carefully, register the letter and take a receipt for it, of your Postmaster. Money sent by mail as above directed at my risk. An Agent wanted in every town.

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 11, 1869. No. 35.

The Great Nor'-West.

Dr. Grant's recent speech in the House of Commons on the acquisition of the North West Territory, an abridgement of which we append, contains a good deal of information of a reliable character, and is herewith reproduced in answer to many inquiries from intending emigrants who are naturally anxious to obtain a knowledge of the country they are going to ;—

Those who have visited the valleys of Red River and the Saskatchewan (known as the Winnepeg Basin) state that there is a country lying between Canada and the Rocky Mountains (400,000 square miles in all) well suited for agricultural purposes, and more than sufficient to support the entire population of American Union if cultivated in accordance with the agricultural principles of the present day. From geological descriptions, the soil is described as generally composed of soft materials, overlaid with a rich vegetable mould, varying from a few inches to several feet in thickness, and resembling very much in structure and quality, the South of England from Devonshire to Sussex and Kent. Where it is not available for agricultural purposes, it abounds in mineral wealth, such as iron, copper, gold, coal, &c. Prof. Hind, who by order of the Governmeat in 1858, explored, and surveyed a great portion of this country, states that the fertile belt of the Saskatchewan contains 32,000,-000 acres of the richest soil. Captain Palliser, Dr. Hector, Mr. Bourgeau, and various others scientific explorers, have described this country as being partially wooded, abounding in lakes and rich natural pasturage lands, and in many parts rivalling the finest park scenery in England; Mr. James W. Taylor, of St. Paul, Minn., estimates that there is an area of 300,000 square miles—an area that would constitute 12 States of the size of Ohio. Having carefully examined the reports of the various districts comprising this area, much valuable information is gathered as to the soil, productiveness, geological formation and climate. Vancouver's Island is shown to have in a measure the climate of Ireland, while the southern districts of British Columbia are not unlike England. The north shore of Lake Huron has the mean summer heat of Bordoux, in Southern France, and Cumberland House, on the Saskatchewan, exceeds in this respects Brussels or Paris ; while the prairies south of 50° have much milder winters than the eastern districts. From well ascertained facts, Mr. Taylor states that potatoes and the hardier garden vegetables, oats, rye and barley can be cultivated as far north as 54° in the Saskatchewan district ; and that wheat and various kinds of fruit are safe as far north as 53°. There is but one opinion espoused by all explorers, British American, as to the general productiveness of the soil. The Red River Valley is by far the oldest part of the Winnepeg Basin, and its annual mean temperature is 34° 88 —that of Montreal being 43° 31. The summer mean is 67° 70, and exceeds that of Toronto, which is only 63° 98 ; in fact exceeds even that of Northern Illinois, the Western Wisconsin and Western Ontario, and on that account affords an ample supply of summer heat to ripen the various cereals. Red River produces 40 bushels of wheat to the acre, Minnesota 20 do. do., Wisconsin, 15 do. do., Pennsylvania 15 do. do., Massachusetts 15 do. do.

In Red River, barley is a favorable alternative with wheat, and gives excellent returns, the average weight of each bushel from 48 to 55 lbs. Oats and potatoes also thrive admirably, and Mr. Taylor gives his firm expression to the idea "that in none of the prairie districts of North America are the native grasses so abundant and nutritious as in the northern valley." Doubtless there are occasional periodical inundations in that region of country where the Saskatchewan joins the lakes ; however, this applies only to a limited extent of the country, which, like the plains of Egypt on either side the Nile, will become centres of increased fertility. According to Mr. Russell's report, the extent of cultivable land stretches over an area of two and a half times as large as France, which supports 40,000,000 of people, and the cost to Canada at £300,000 would amount to something less than half a cent per acre.

Mr. Dawson says the climate of Red River will compare generally with that of Kingston, Ont. In 1868 the ice moved on the 31st March, and ploughing was commenced on the 8th of April. The average depth of snow on the prairies is 12 inches, and in the woods sixteen inches. The buffalo are said to winter in the Upper Arthabasca, as safely as at St. Paul's. Minnesota, and the spring opens at nearly the same time, along the immense line of plains from St. Paul's to the Mackenzie River.

TIMBER AND FUEL.

Mr. Dawson, of the latest authority, says that the woody districts contain abundance of timber, red and white pine of large and good quality, and such districts would compare favorably with some of the best lumber regions of the Ottawa. Of peat for fuel the supply is enough or more, and as for coal, it is described as being inexhaustible in supply. Salt, gypsum, and bitumen, are known to exist in large quantities.

INDIANS.

That the native tribes have diminished in number during the last two centuries is without doubt, though there is some difficulty of agreement amongst travellers and others as to the exact causes.

As it is true that the Hudson Bay Company not hesitated to take whatever lands they required, unasked and unmolested, their interests not being inimical to those of the Indians—under the government of this Dominion, and with the system of free grants of land, agricultural and mineral, a new state of things thus inaugurated will require, and doubtless receive a wise and judicious course of action. That the Indians consider themselves "Lords of the Soil," is evident from the report of Mr. Dawson and others.

MODES OF ACCESS.

In becoming possessors of this North-west region, it is of considerable importance to have easy and rapid access to it, otherwise the whole scheme of occupation and colonization would be of little practical utility. So far there are but three routes by which the settlement can be approached. 1st. The old route of the Hudson Bay Company, via. Fort York on the Hudson Bay, which owing to the short period of navigation, is limited to once a year travel. 2nd. The route via. Lake Superior, open on the average about seven months in the summer and autumn. 3rd. The route through the United States via. St. Paul, open the whole year. For practical purposes the first way is considered as requiring no discussion. The other two however, are worthy of the closest investigation. Take Toronto as a starting point we find that the road to Fort Garry, Red River, via. Lake Superior, is 1069 miles, while between the same points via. the United States and St. Paul's, the distance is 1571 miles. Here we have a direct route through our own country to commence with, and by water communication of 839 miles. This route will afford the cheapest mode of transport known for fully three fourths of the distance. To the great saving of time and cost in furnishing the Red River district with supplies, must be added the difference between the cheap markets of Canada and the dear markets of the United States, and with the prohibitory and protective tariffs.—To Canadian merchants a good market will be here secured, not only to the settlers in British territory, but also a share of the trade which must inevitably be secured in the United States settlements of Northern Minnesota, and thus we will be enabled to return the compliment by a reaction in an opposite direction to that practised in our trade in the North-west country for many years past. At present, according to the most reliable information, the trade of Red River is estimated at four million dollars annually in St. Paul's, while the Hudson Bay traffic via. York Factory, cannot be less that $3,900,000.

COST OF TRANSPORT.

The expense of conveying a ton of goods to Red River at present via Fort William or St. Paul's, is from $90 to $100. By a moderate outlay Mr. Dawson has estimated that this cost can be easily reduced to $40 per ton, and the time to one quarter of that consumed at present. From Red River Settlement westward there is a navigable water channel to the foot of the Rocky Mountains ; while the natural surface of the prairies, for hundreds of miles, permits of the easy passage of waggons even without artificial road making. It appears to me that the formal acquisition of this North West Territory is the great question of the day with the Dominion, and when we become possessors of it, in order that this country should flourish, it must offer a fairer field for emigrants than the one of older date alongside. With this territory under our contro, we will be enabled to offer greater inducements to the imigrants than at any previous time in the history of the country. In taking possession of this estate a broad and liberal policy is required.—The distance of the Fertile Belt of this Rich country from Canada proper, renders it somewhat difficult to access, and at whatever period we desire to open up and colonize the country, rapid means of communication must, as a necessary consequence, be obtained. If this vast territory is worth purchasing it is worth having a communication with, and that without great loss of time. Money invested so as to yield an adequate return must have a solid project to back up the expenditure.

Josh Billings says; Yu kant get a rooster to pay enny attenshun to a yung one; they spend their time in crowing, strutting, and occasionally find a worm, which they make a remarkable fuss over, calling up their wives from a distance, apparently to treat 'em, but just as the hens git thare, this elegant and elaborate cuss bends over and gobbles up the morsel. Just like a man for all the world.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, JUNE 11.

THE BELL RINGERS.—Remember the Concert of the Alleghanians to-night at Ontario Hall.

NOVA SCOTIA GOLD.—The Halifax Express says: The Montreal Gold Mining Company, operating at Mount Uniacke, have turned out a brick of gold weighing upwards of fifty ounces, the result of one months' work.

FISHERIES IN NEW BRUNSWICK.—A telegram from St. John, N. B. of the 10th says: Some excitement has been created at Eastport by an announcement made by the Department of Marine and Fisheries that hence forth all American fishing vessels and boats will be required to take licenses to fish in Dominion waters. Hitherto in this particular quarter there has been practical reciprocity, and the strict enforcement of orders will cause many changes.

"A HOME-SICK M. P."—In our issue of the 9th inst., a paragraph under the above head appeared, which was copied from the Montreal Gazette. We need scarcely say the hit at the member for Elgin was undeserved. We know not where the reporter of the Gazette obtained his information, but one thing is certain, the attempt to lead people to believe that Mr. Dobbie, of Elgin, is an illiterate man, will fall with those who know him, he being a man of education, and one whom every one respects.

FINE ARTS.—There is now on view at Mr. Harrison's Book Store, a painting by Mr. J. T. Ball, which may serve to show what effects water-colors are capable of producing in the hands of a master. The title of the picture is "a dream of the Highlands;" the subject is taken from the Perthshire Highlands of Scotland, and is represented under the effect of late twilight, the newly risen moon shedding her light over an expansive Lake, with Islands and ruins. The figures represent a hunting party in the olden time. We understand that Mr. Ball intends to dispose of this fine work by subscription, and hope the result will be sufficiently encouraging to induce him to produce other pictures on a similar scale.

COD AND SEAL FISHERIES.—A correspondent of the Montreal Minerve writing on the subject of the increasing encroachments of the American fishermen on the cod fishery at the Magdalen Islands, mentions a curious accident in connection with the seal fishery at Byron Island. Masses of ice from the St. Lawrence annually accumulate there, and during the month of March the seals bring forth their young upon the ice. As these crawl about, the people from the Magdalen Islands are on the watch to capture them. This year the men in the employment of a Mr. Wright, killed 600 of these in two days, and would have killed more than 1,000 in all, if on the third day they had not been attacked with inflammation of the retina, caused by the reflection of the sun's rays from the ice, which produced transient blindness. This affection of the eye lasted for three days, during which time the men were quite blind.

CHANGE OF ROUTE.—We are informed that it is the intention of Mr. Gildersleeve, the owner of the "Rochester," to put that steamer on her old route between Belleville, Bay ports, Kingston and Oswego, at a very early date. She will leave Belleville at half-past five, a. m., Kingston time, on Monday's, Wednesday's and Friday's, calling at all the Bay Ports and Kingston, leaving the latter place about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and arriving at Oswego about 8 p. m. Returning, will leave Oswego at 8 a. m., on Tuesday's, Thursday's and Saturday's, and Kingston at 2.30, arriving in Belleville about 11 p. m. The steamer "Bay of Quinte," which is now undergoing a thorough repairing, will again be placed on the Bay route between Belleville and Kingston, for three days in the week, i. e. she will leave Kingston on Monday's, Wednesday's and Friday's, at half-past three in the afternoon, calling at all the ports and arriving in Belleville about half past ten, p. m. Returning, will leave Belleville at two a. m., Kingston time, on Tuesday's, Thursday's and Saturday's. By the above arrangement there will be a daily boat up and down the Bay, and a tri-weekly steamer to Oswego, from all the Bay Ports.

Parliament Yesterday.

In the House of Commons last night Hon. Mr. Rose moved concurrence in the resolutions respecting the union of Newfoundland. Mr. Blake objected to the transfer to the Dominion of the public lands of the Colony, and moved an amendment for the retention by Newfoundland of her lands. After a long debate, the amendment was lost on a division, 48 to 93. A few other amendments were put and lost and the resolutions passed without amendment. The House then went into committee on the resolutions respecting the admission of Prince Edward's Island into the Union, which were agreed to. The House adjourned at half-past twelve.

Canadian Society.

On Thursday evening a large and influential meeting, about one hundred being present, was held in the Town Hall here, for the purpose of forming a Society, the object of which should be the advancement of the interests and general good of the loyal inhabitants of the Dominion.

After some discussion, on motion, L. H. HENDERSON, Esq., was appointed Chairman. Upon his assuming the Chair in compliance with the resolution, it was moved, seconded and carried, that J. PARKER THOMAS, Esq., be Secretary.

The meeting having been called to order, the Chairman briefly explained the objects for which they were assembled, which was to form a Society as above stated.

Mr. R. P. DAVY then in a short speech stated why he considered this Society desirable, and how the notice calling the meeting originated.

Mr. S. S. LAZIER spoke in favor of a Society being formed as a "Bay of Quinte Society," being of a more local though not less loyal than that named.

Mr. JOHN W. VERNER in a very effective manner spoke in favor of forming a Society that would include all British subjects, well-wishers of Canada—wherever born, whether on the waves of the broad Atlantic, the as a genuine lover of the sportsman's art, rocky Island of Newfoundland, the banks of the Red River, or on the shores of our delightful Bay. (Cheers). For his own part he had been born on the Isle of Jersey, but had become a resident of Canada, and intended to remain here. As to the producing capacity of the Bay of Quinte, he could, testify that it was inexhaustible, and he knew of no place where it was excelled.—(Cheers.).

Mr. A. R. DOUGALL in a forcible manner spoke in favor of the formation of a National Society, in which every one could take part as members, and in which all who desired could assist in the celebration of Dominion Day—our natal day. He referred to the advantages derived by new comers from Great Britain from the existence here of the National Societies of the old countries, and the friendly greetings with which they were received by their countrymen who had preceded them to this Canada of ours. He said that there were no Societies of the kind first spoken of at this meeting in the old countries.

Mr. J. PARKER THOMAS briefly advocated the desirability of forming a Society, which should be of a general national character, as a Canadian Society.

Mr. N. B. FALKINER, having been called upon, in responding to the call in a very humorous speech, advocated the formation of a Society for the purpose of doing as much good as possible for the young men of the town, and preventing the spending of time in questionable occupations and pernicious amusements, while at the same time the Society, by whatever name called, should partake of a National Canadian character. He was an Irishman by birth, and a loyal subject, and a Belleville boy, and intended to live and die here. (Cheers.) He would be happy to do anything in his power to advance the general good of the Dominion and Bay of Quinte in particular.

After some desultory discussion, Mr. S. S. LAZIER moved, seconded by Mr. JOHN W. VERNER, That a Committee be formed to decide upon the sort of Society to be formed, and name to be called, said Committee to consist of the Chairman, Secretary, Messrs. R. P. Davy, A. R. Dougall, N. B. Falkiner, Dr. Dorland, the mover and seconder, and that they report forthwith.

The Committee at once proceeded to the consideration of the matter referred to them, and reported the following:—

That the Society be called the 'Dominion Society of Canada.'"

That all Loyal inhabitants of Canada, British subjects by birth or naturalization, desirous of fostering the prosperity of the Dominion, shall be eligible for membership."

Moved by Mr. S. S. LAZIER, seconded by Mr. JOHN W. VERNER, That the report of the Committee be received and adopted.

Mr. FALKINER then addressed the meeting. He spoke in favor of having a more distinctive name than the one mentioned in the report, it being too large.—It would seem that by taking such a comprehensive a name that we were assuming to lead the whole Dominion. He said that the Dominion was now more populous than the United States were at the declaration of Independence, and he looked forward to the day, he trusted not far distant when Canada should take her place as one of the nations and great powers of the world.

Mr. A. R. DOUGALL on the other hand adhered to the name as reported, as anything less than that would be too small, and he wanted things done on a broad and liberal basis.

Several speakers expressed their approval or disapproval of the name as reported.

Mr. VERNER replied to the last speech of Mr. Falkiner, and defended the purport of the report.

The motion for the reception and adoption of the report was then put by the Chairman and carried.

Some irregular discussion here followed as to the grammatical construction of a part of the report.

Moved by Mr. N. B. FALKINER seconded by Dr. DORLAND, that the name in the report of "Dominion Society of Canada" be struck out, and the name of "The Canadian Society" be inserted instead.

A lively discussion ensued, after which the resolution was put and carried, the Society being called "The Canadian Society."

Moved by Mr. S.S. LAZIER, seconded by Mr. J. PARKER THOMAS, That a Committee of twelve be appointed by the meeting to draft Rules and Regulations for the government of the Society.—Carried.

The following Committee were then appointed:—Messrs. L. H. Henderson, S. S. Lazier, P. V. Doriand, J. P. Thomas, John W. Verner, Geo. J. Potts, N. B. Falkiner, A. R. Dougall, V. Selden, Fred. L. Bogart, R. P. Davy and F. C. Ridley. The Committee to meet at 8 p. m. this Friday evening, 11th inst., at Mr. Lazier's office.

The meeting then adjourned until Tuesday evening, 15th inst.

The Wesleyan Conference.

On Wednesday the report of the Sunday School Committee was presented. It showed that the attendance of scholars at the time of making the returns was 53,024, or 1703 more than last year. Of these 8,941 are over sixteen years of age, and 3,467 are members of the Church. The entire amount raised for missions and for school purposes by the scholars themselves was $21,526, which is an increase of $4,168 upon last year. The number of volumes in the Sunday School Libraries is 135,000 being an increase of 7,459. The report also spoke highly of the character of the admirable Sunday School papers published by the Book Steward—The Sunday School Banner and Sunday School Advocate, and urged, if possible, a reduction in the price of the latter. The Committee also recommended the appointment of a Sunday School Agent, to travel through the country, devoting himself exclusively to the Sunday School work.

It was resolved that the price of the Advocate should be reduced to 30 cents a copy for any number under 25, and 25 cents for any number over 25.

A sub-committee was appointed to revise the Sunday School literature provided for the young people under the care of the Wesleyan Society.

The Divorce Case.

The following is the report of the Select Committee of the Senate with respect to the divorce case of G. W. Jones.

"The Select Committee to whom was referred the Bill entitled "an Act for the relief of G. W. Jones" reported that, having heard said G. W. Jones and respondent his wife, and the several witnesses, and having considered their evidence and other testimony adduced, they are of opinion that the party from whom a divorce is sought should have such specific information given to her as to the criminal intercourse with which she is charged as will enable her to prepare her defence, and they are of opinion that the petition and the preamble of the bill referred to them, which embody all the information communicated to the respondent in this case, do not sufficiently set forth the circumstances upon which such a divorce should be granted, particularly in not stating any place or any period within which the alleged criminal intercourse took place, thus exposing the whole married life of the respondent to attack, and rendering it almost impossible for her to be prepared with exculpatory evidence; and they humbly recommend that they be discharged from further consideration of the Bill.

Hay and Grain.

Clover should be cut before the seed balls are ripe, also orchard grass; while timothy is better after the seeds are formed, and should be cut when the latter are between the milk and dough state. In curing all kinds of hay turn with the hay tedder about 9 a. m., and if the weather is good it may be cured and drawn into the barn the same day, otherwise it is best, especially with the clover, to put it in high slender cocks and cover with hay caps. Clover ought to be cured without much exposure to the sun, and it is well to sweat it in the cock. If your mowing grounds are not in condition for the use of mowing, tedding and raking machines, let not another season pass on any account without effecting this great improvement.

Wheat, rye, &c., should be cut when the grain can be pressed between the thumb and finger without forcing out moisture; the yellowness of the chaff and upper parts of the straw also indicates the harvest. If delayed beyond this time, much grain will be lost by shelling. Grass and grain use up their juice in ripening the seed. Hence grass should be cut early to save juices, and grain if cut in the dough state, will mature its seed from the juice in the stalk.

—Diptheria is very prevalent in Quebec.

—Patrick Buckley, of Ottawa, has been sent to the Lunatic Asylum.

—The Cuban insurgents are reported as having again been successful.

NO EXERCISE EQUAL TO LAUGHTER.—Nothing acts so directly upon the organs within both chest and abdomen. Ten hearty laughs, real shouts, will do more to advance the general health and vitality than an hour spent in the best attitudes and motions, if done in a cold, solemn spirit. Of course I know you can't laugh at will; so you must play with the dog, play with your children, introduce a hundred games which involve competition and fun. Open the folding-doors, back the center table, and go it. Play with the large family, the plan, play any of the games which you can recal from your early experiences.

Business Notice.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless, landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and equable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries NO REMEDY has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of COLD—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From REV. FRANCIS LONDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with no small anxiety, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without pain."

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

THE IRISH CHURCH.

LONDON, June 10.—The Right Honorable Gathorne Hardy, at a banquet given in Leamington, made a strong speech against the Irish Church Bill. He said dis-establishment was a concession to Fenianism, and a direct injury to the loyalty of men who had hitherto been ultra zealous in devotion to the Crown, for the sake of conciliating traitors. These men were to be injured. It was the tenure of land, and not the Irish Church, which lay at the root of the grievances of Ireland. It was not for him to say what the House of Lords would do with the Bill. He would accept their verdict as a conscientious and constitutional decision, which the country should receive with deference.

APPALLING DISASTER.—190 PERSONS KILLED.

LONDON, June 10.—Another sailing disaster occurred in the coal mines at Merthyr-Tydvil to-day. An explosion, the cause of which is unknown, took place while the men were at work. Two of the miners escaped from the pit, and it is reported 189 were killed.

DISTURBANCES IN PARIS.

LONDON, June 10.—Telegrams from Paris this morning report that the crowds in the Montmaitre district yesterday, dispersed on the appearance of the military, without offering any resistance. No damage was done beyond the breaking of some windows. Many of the men most prominent in creating the disturbance were arrested.

DISTURBANCES IN BELFAST.

BELFAST, June 10.—Thirteen members of the Orange Lodge in this city have been arrested for disturbance of peace. A collision occurred to-day between the police and the people, in which several persons were injured, but none fatally.

FRANCE.

PARIS, June 10.—Gen. Fleury has been appointed Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Italy. The Duke de Persigny has written a communication to the Emperor Napoleon, advising the introduction of further liberal reform.

The Marquis De la Valette, Minister of Foreign Affairs, at his official reception to-day, thanked the Prussian Charge de Affairs for the favourable tone of the Berlin journals in regard to the elections in France.

THE LATEST.

THE MURDER OF SPEAR.

LONDON, June 10.—In the House of Commons to night, in reply to an inquiry, Mr. Otway, the under Secretary for Foreign Affairs said the United States Government was desirous of having a full investigation into the circumstances of the murder of Spear.

MORE DISTURBANCES IN PARIS.

PARIS, June 10.—The Prefect of Police has had placarded throughout the city a proclamation urging all good citizens to aid the authorities in the execution of the law, and in the preservation of public order and peace. Much agitation still exists, and large crowds still linger in the streets.

SHIP WRECKED—15 LIVES LOST.

LONDON, June 11.—A despatch from Bombay reports the loss of the ship 'Great Northern,' near that port. Fifteen of her crew were lost.

RACES.

The third day of the Ascott races came off yesterday, and was well attended. The Gold Cup was won by 'Brigadier,' the Triennial stakes, by 'Kingcraft,' St. James' Palace stakes by 'Dunbar.' The sixth Biennial stakes by 'Typhon,' the seventh Biennial, by 'Pauder,' and the new stakes by 'Temple.'

American Despatches.

THE FENIANS STILL ALIVE.

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—John M. Moriarty President of the Irish Republican Association, Pennsylvania, has issued an address, calling on all Irishmen in the State who favor universal suffrage, protection of American industry, and the liberation of Ireland, to meet in each Congressional District, and elect one delegate and an alternate to attend the Irish Republican Convention in Chicago, on the 4th of July. The address states that the position taken by Senator Sumner deserves the support of all true Irishmen, and that the vast majority of Irish citizens will allay themselves with the Republican party for the practical enforcement of his policy and views.

SMALL POX.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The North German barque 'St. Bernard,' from Bremen, with 893 emigrants, arrived last evening with twenty cases of small pox on board, having had four deaths from the disease during the passage.

SOUTH LOOKING UP.

The Times Washington special says:—New York financiers, Railroad men and others here remark that the travel from the South to the North has been for the last few months larger than at any season since the close of the rebellion. This is looked upon as an evidence that the South has in some measure recuperated from the effects of the war, and that prosperity is again returning to her.

NEW ALBION HOTEL,

McGILL STREET,
MONTREAL, CANADA.

THE "NEW ALBION HOTEL," the largest Hotel in Montreal, has just been opened under the most favorable auspices.

Whilst the "New Albion" takes its position as a first class Hotel, and is really first class in every respect, except the charges, which better suit the ideas and requirements of the majority of travellers, than many of the so called "first class Houses," which deserve the title more through the amount of their charges than anything else.

Already the crowded state of the "New Albion" promises well for its future career; everything associated with its construction has been carried out with artistic taste and systematic correctness.

The large Hall, commodious office, spacious Reading room, convenient Dining, Coffee, Wash Room, etc., etc., on the ground floor; and the Reception Room and Suite of ROOMS DULY FURNISHED and THOROUGHLY VENTILATED LADIES' PARLORS, on the second floor, will form no small luxury during the present summer season. And, what is an exception to the general Rule in Hotels, the Bedrooms are all well furnished and lighted, there not being a dark room in the House.

Being situated on the widest and healthiest Street in Montreal, commanding a Magnificent View of the River St. Lawrence and the Victoria Bridge on the left, and a full view of the Victoria Square with its numerous "Jets d'Eau" and Mount Royal on the right, it cannot fail to commend itself to the travelling public.

From its situation on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare and commercial centre of the City it cannot fail to be, as the "Old Albion" has always been a strong favorite with the Merchants of Canada.

Notwithstanding the very large outlay in building and furnishing the house, the old price of $1 50 per day will not be departed from.

We, therefore, bespeak for ourselves a continuance of the patronage so liberally accorded to us during the past twelve years.

Seasonable hints to Fancy Farmers.

To have your fields well dressed, you must sow as large a breadth as possible. A grain of foresight in this matter will insure a slight of grain at harvest.

A man may fleece his sheep, but not his land. The farmer's game is "give and take."

It is not a lazy farmer who talks to his bull in the morning and stays till night—if the bed is in his garden.

Ploughshares are the best investment—the dividends are sure in fall.

Fawning is not commendable; but their is no objection to currying favor with one's cattle.

The best motto for dealing in stock hay is —never sell short.

It is sheer nonsense to shear sheep too early; take off your own and your flock's overcoats at about the same time.

Now is the time for the farmer to mend his ways—highways and by ways.

Kitchen gardens should be under picket guard—the fowls will come up to the scratch if the famer don't.

Fences should be looked to. Defense of the crops is often staked on a single post.

Raise all you can. If you can raise the mortgage on your farm, so much the better.

Thorough cultivation is essential: the more harrow-in pins you take the better off you will be in the end.

It is better to spend an hour hanging loose doors and gates than in hanging round taverns and stores.

It is no matter to whitewash your own walls than to blacken your neighbor's character.

Dull days may be spent in harrowing dentistry on your rakes and harrows.

If any one chews, let him by spend his tobacco money for the benefit of the "gregarines" in the back hair of his colts and calves.

A little soot from the chimney will suit the early cucumbers and nonsuit the bugs.—Commercial Bulletin.

How to Raise Turnips

There are several difficulties in the way of raising a satisfactory crop of turnips, some of which are poor soil, poor seed, injudicious management in many respects, and noxious weeds. All these things taken together effectually prevent a great many of the tillers of the soil from raising a fair crop of turnips. With skilful management, from five to eight hundred bushels of good turnips may be raised per acre at an expense of a few dollars. But wrong management, which has encouraged a luxuriant growth of noxious weeds rather than turnips, has exerted such a disheartening influence, that the experiment of raising field turnips has often been abandoned before a fair trial has been given. Although mellow and clean ground is desirable, still a farmer is often required to cultivate a heavy and cloddy soil, which is full of seeds of noxious weeds. Now, unless the management is judicious, the expense of raising only a light crop of turnips on such land will exceed the value of all the products as weeding, weeding, WEEDING, will be required for two or three months. And even then half the turnips will not be larger than a man's wrist. Whereas, had the management during the former part of the growing season been in accordance with the requirements of a crop of turnips, the product would have been twice as large, with half the manual labor.

Let us notice the principal details in raising a fair crop of turnips on heavy land, with as little manual labor as practicable. In the first place, we must always watch the state of the soil as to dryness, and plough it when it is neither too wet nor too dry to pulverize as thoroughly as if every foot of it had been spaded. If the ploughing can be done just at the right time, an excellent fallow will be gained.—Where the soil is light, this precaution will not be essential. But plough a heavy soil when it is either too wet or too dry, and hard ground, covered with lumps and clods, will form the seed bed instead of a friable and mellow soil, easy to be worked with any kind of crops.

A liberal dressing of rich manure should be ploughed in early in the growing season say about the time the ground is ploughed for Indian corn and potatoes. In about two weeks a crop of noxious weeds will have appeared. Now, on some bright day when the sun shines brigtitly, let the turnip ground be harrowed twice, to root up every weed. Continue to harrow or to scarify with a cultivator every two weeks, until the first of July. When the soil is disposed to bake, special care should be exercised to do the harrowing when all the lumps are just moist enough to fall to atoms at a slight touch. In case there are many lumps, let the ground be rolled. If these directions be observed, a moist and mellow soil will be prepared which will be as free from grass and noxious weeds as can be desired.

PASTE THAT WILL KEEP A YEAR.—Dissolve a tea spoonful of alum in a quart of warm water; when cold, stir in as much flour as will give it the consistency of thick cream, being particular to beat up all the lumps, then stir in as much powdered rosin as will stand on a dime, and throw in half-a-dozen cloves, to give a pleasant odor.—Have on the fire a tea-cupful or more of boiling water, pour the flour mixture into it, stirring well all the time. In a very few minutes it will be of the consistence of mush. Pour it into an earthen or china vessel; let it cool; lay a cover on, and put it in a cool place. When needed for use, take out a portion and soften it with warm water. Paste thus made will last twelve months. It is better than gum as it does not gloss the paper and can be written upon.

The Appetite for Tobacco Destroyed.

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed Tobacco.

ORTON'S PREPARATION!

ESTABLISHED 1865.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for no matter how strong the habit may be. If it fails in any case the money will be refunded. Perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. It is not known to use of tobacco. The will—Something is used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that Orton's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for tobacco, and leaves the person as free from any desire for it, as before he commenced its use. The Preparation acts directly upon the same principle that Quinine does upon the blood thoroughly cleansing the system and entirely eradicating the poison of tobacco. So more hankering for tobacco after using Orton's Preparation. Recollect it is warranted.

The time taken to allay all desire for Tobacco by the use of this Preparation varies slightly in different persons, the average time being about Five days. Some have no desire for Tobacco after using the Preparation Two days.

The Health and Purse of every Tobacco user in the country call loudly, ABANDON THE USE OF TOBACCO.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have used Orton's Preparation for the purpose of destroying the appetite for Tobacco, and can with truth say that we are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparation will certainly destroy the appetite for Tobacco quickly and permanently, and that without causing any nervousness, and without creating an appetite either for the Preparation or any substitute.

If not, why should we longer accept that system of reference in medicine?—that of the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are so readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more than twice the quantity that can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Art thou Living Yet?

BY JAMES G. CLARK.

Is there no grand, immortal sphere,
Beyond this realm of broken ties,
To fill the wants that mock us here,
And dry the tears from weeping eyes;
Where Winter melts in endless Spring,
And Love stands near with endless flowers,
Where we may hear the dear ones sing
Who loved us in this world of ours?
I ask, and lo! my cheeks are wet
With tears for one I cannot see,
Oh, mother, art thou living yet,
And dost thou remember me?

I feel thy kisses o'er me thrill,
Thou unseen angel of my life;
I hear thy hymns around me thrill
An undertone to care and strife;
Thy tender eyes upon me shine,
As from a bolng glorified;
Till I am thine, and thou art mine,
And I forget that thou hast died.
I sigh at lose each vain regret
In vision of a life to be;
But, mother, art thou living yet,
And dost thou still remember me?

The Springtimes bloom, the Summers fade,
Thy Winters blow along my way;
But over every light and shade
Thy memory lives by night and day.
It soothes to sleep my wildest pain,
Like some sweet song that cannot die,
And, like the murmur of the main,
Grows deeper when the storm is nigh.
I know the brightest stars that set
Return to bless the yearning sea;
But, mother, art thou living yet,
And dost thou still remember me?

I sometimes think thy soul comes back
From o'er the dark and silent stream,
Where last we watched thy shining track
To those green hills of which we dream;
Thy loving arms around me twine,
My cheek upon your virgin thy breath,
Till thou art mine, and I am thine,
Without a thought of pain or death;
And yet, at times, mine eyes are wet
With tears for her I cannot see,
Oh, mother, art thou living yet,
And dost thou still remember me?

Irritability.

Irritability is more than a most unlovely state, a sin of the flesh. It is not like envy, malice, spite, revenge, a vice which we may suppose to belong equally to an embodied and a disembodied spirit. In fact it comes nearer to physical depravity than anything I know of. There are bodily states, some conditions of the nerves, such that we could not conceive of even an angelic spirit confined in a body thus discarded, as being able to do anything more than simply endure. It is a state of nervous torture; and the attacks which the wretched victim make on others are as much the result of a disease as the snapping and biting of a patient convulsed with hydrophobia. Then again there are other people who go through life loving and beloved, desired in every circle, held up in the church as examples of the power of religion, who, after all, deserve no credit for these things. Their spirits are lodging in animal natures so tranquil, and so cheerful all the sensations which come to them are so fresh, so vigorous and pleasant, that they cannot help viewing the world charitably, and seeing everything through a glorified medium. The ill-temper of others does not provoke them; perplexing business does not set their nerves vibrating; and all their life long they walk in the serene sunshine of animal health. Look at Rover, there. He is never nervous, never cross, never snaps or snarls, and is ready, the moment after the grossest affront, to wag the tail of forgiveness—all because kind nature has put his dog body together so that it works harmoniously. If everybody in the world were gifted with a stomach and nerves like his, it would be a far happier and better world, no doubt. The man said a good thing who made the remark that the foundation of all intellectual and moral worth must be laid in a good, healthy animal life. Now I think it is undeniable that the peace and happiness of the home circles are very generally much invaded by the recurrence of its members of these states of bodily irritability. Every person, if he thinks the matter over, will see that his condition in life, the character of his friends, his estimate of their virtues and failings, his hopes and expectations, are all very much modified by these things. Cannot we remember of going to bed as very ill used, prosecuted individuals, whose friends were unreasonable, whose life was full of trials and crosses; and waking up on a bright bird singing morning, to find all our illusions gone with the fogs of the night? Our friends are nice people, after all; the little things that annoyed us look ridiculous by sunshine, and we were fortunate individuals. The philosophy of life, then, as far as this matter is concerned, must consist of two things; first, to keep ourselves out of irritable bodily states; and second, to understand and control these states when we cannot ward them off. —Mrs. H. B. Stowe.

The Fallen Son.

Follow him home from the scene of his debauch. He is an only son. On him the hopes of the family are centered. Every nerve has been strained to give him the choicest education. Parents and sisters gloried in his talents and looked forward to his future fame. Alas! already these visions are less bright.

Enter now the family circle. Parents surrounded by lovely daughters. Within the circle reigns peace, virtue and refinement—the evening has been spent in animated conversation and the sweet interchange of affectionate endearment. But there is one who used to share all this, who was the centre of that circle. Why is he not here? The hour of devotion has come; they kneel before their Father and God. A voice that used to mingle in their praises is wanting. An hour rolls away—another hour has gone. Why has all cheerfulness gone? Why do those parents start at every footstep?

The step of that son and brother is heard. The door is open—hesitaggers in before them and is stretched out at their feet in all the loathsomeness of intoxication.

Oh, who shall tell the sorrows of a home made dark with sin?—Rev. Dr. Wayland.

Brother and Sister.

As fathers love daughters better than sons, and mothers love their sons better than daughters, so do sisters feel towards a brother a more constant sentiment of attachment than towards each other. None of the little vanities, heart-burnings, jealousies, that—alas too poor human nature!—are but too apt to spring up in female hearts, can for an all events should arise between brother and sister; each is proud of the other, because it cannot interfere with self—nay, on the contrary, is flattering to self. Hence, if there be a bond of family union more free from the selfish blots that interrupt all others, it is that which exists between an affectionate sister and brother.

A Hundred Chances.

If our young men miscarry in their first enterprise they lose all heart. If the young merchant fails, men say he is ruined. If the finest genius studies at one of our colleges, and is not installed in an office within one year afterwards in the cities or suburbs of Boston or New York, it seems to his friends and to himself that he a right to lose his heartened, and in consequence the rest of his life. A sturdy lad from New Hampshire or Vermont, who in turn tries all the professions, who teams it, farms it, peddles, keeps a school, preaches, edits a paper, goes to Congress, buys a township, and so forth, in successive years, and always, like a cat, falls on his feet, is worth a hundred of these city dolls. He walks abreast with his days, and feels no shame in not 'studying a profession;' for he does not postpone his life, but lives already. He has not one chance, but a hundred chances.—R. W. Emerson.

A Mountain of Salt.

A California paper says that in the Pahnagar district, in southern Nevada, about one hundred and eighty miles from Austin, is a remarkable mountain of pure salt, seventy miles south of the silver mines.—It is about five miles long and six hundred feet high. The body of the mountain crystal salt, is of unknown depth. The salt is chemically pure, does not deliquesce when exposed to the atmosphere, requires blasting like rock, and is as transparent as glass. It could be mined with almost no cost; and, if transportation was provided, could supply the continent. We have been shown a brick of crystal salt cut from this mountain with an ordinary jack-knife.—It resembles, exactly, in appearance, a block of clear glass. It is the purest crystal salt we ever saw, is very hard, appears free from impurities, except a very trifle of alum; and we are assured that, without any preparation whatever except crushing, it will preserve meat equal to the choicest salt known to commerce. The only use made of it, so far, except the trifle consumed by miners and hunters for table purposes is as a flux for reducing certain ores; but, if a railroad were built to connect it with the civilized world, it would supply at once the whole Pacific coast. At present it is one of the natural wonders of an almost unexplored wilderness. We are told that one face of the mountain, where the salt is partially exposed, flashes in the sunlight like an enormous diamond, and is worth travelling miles to see.—Dig Post.

Mr. Corcoran's new church in Washington is to be called the "Louisa," after his deceased wife. In it sixty widows of worthy public servants, dying poor, are to be comfortably provided for for life. It has cost Mr. Corcoran over $300,000.

Lice on Cattle.—Another correspondent advised sulphur for cattle thus afflicted. "I used sulphur," he says, for this purpose in England, and for more than twenty years in this country, and always with good results. For a horse or cow, give about a tablespoonful of sulphur in any feed twice a week for three or four weeks, and you will have similar pleasant experience to relate.

Dig Around the Trees.—These warm days, followed by copious showers, will make the grass and weeds grow around the stems of the trees, as well as elsewhere. A handsome tree is certainly of more value than a cabbage or tomato plant; yet there are many persons who will take good care of the latter, but entirely neglect the former. Dig about the roots of your trees; not only close up about the stems, but fork up a good, wide space, so that the rain can pass down to the lowest roots, and not be absorbed by the grass and weeds. Keep them well cultivated, or mulch around all trees if you want them to grow and remain healthy.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, JUNE 12.

EXCURSION TO OSWEGO.—We are informed that the Steamer Rochester will make an Excursion to Oswego on the 4th of July, leaving here on the evening of the 3rd. Tickets to Oswego and back, $2.

FOUND GUILTY.—In the Court of Quarter Sessions, Montreal, Charles A. Clark and John McKinnon, of the firm of McKinnon & Clark, were found guilty of obtaining goods with intent to defraud. Mr. Kerr, their Counsel, intends moving to set aside the verdict.

A BIG LUMP OF ORE.—The Hamilton Times, of the 10th inst, says:—A huge mass of copper ore, weighing 22,200 pounds, passed over the Great Western railway per "Blue Line," from Lake Superior to Boston. This is the largest and purest lump of copper ore ever sent from the North-west to the Eastern market.

DISTURBANCES IN PARIS.—The state of affairs in France, and particularly in Paris, is not the most delightful. By our cable despatches to-day, it is evident the end of these disturbances is not yet. A telegram from New York says: "The Commercial's Washington special says, despatches by cable are said to have been received in this city to-day announcing fighting in Paris. It is alleged that the carnage has been fearful."

FROM HALIFAX.—A telegram from Halifax of the 11th says:—In the Assembly this afternoon Attorney General Wilkins moved his resolutions authorising an appeal to the English Courts to test the legality of Confederation. He said he did not propose that a delegation should be sent to England; he would prepare a case and submit it to eminent counsel. If their opinion was favorable he would take steps to bring a question involving the legality of the Act before the Courts. The resolutions were carried by a vote of 16 to 14. Five, including three members of the Government, avoided the vote.

THE MARKET.—The market and streets today did not look much like rain and decay. The market grounds were covered with teams; in the inside market, every available space was occupied, and the supply of everything seasonable was large, and prices considerably reduced. Farmers generally look jolly at the prospect of abundance, and merchants and business men wear a more contented look than has been their wont for some time past. Every one who comes in from the country says crops never looked better, and the prospects of an abundant harvest were never fairer.

Parliament Yesterday.

Several important returns were brought down.

Sir GEO. E. CARTIER laid on the table the report on the state of the Militia. He explained that what was now printed and would be immediately distributed were only a portion, but the most essential portion of the report, and would be useful when the House came to discuss the appropriations for the Militia.

Hon. MR. ROSE moved that the House resolve itself into Committee on certain resolutions relative to the affairs of the Province of Nova Scotia, respecting the terms of a certain arrangement affecting that Province. The hon. gentleman at considerable length explained the arrangement, the terms of which appeared in the correspondence published some time ago.

He was followed by Mr. Blake, who, in introducing the following amendment, made a lengthy speech: "That all the words after 'that' be left out, and the following added, 'the British North America Act of 1867 has fixed and settled the mutual liabilities of Canada and of each Province in respect of the public debt, and the amount payable by Canada to each Province for the support of its Government and Legislature: That the said Act does not empower the Parliament of Canada to change the basis of the Union thereby fixed and settled; That the unauthorized assumption of such power by the Parliament of Canada would injure the interests of the several Provinces, weaken the bond of Union, and shake the stability of the Constitution; That the proposed resolutions on the subject of Nova Scotia involve the assumption of such power; and that, therefore, this House, while ready to give its best consideration to any proposals to procure in a constitutional way any needed changes in the basis of Union, deems it inexpedient to go into Committee on the said proposed resolution."

Hon. J. H. Cameron, Mr. Harrison, Hon. Mr. Howe, Hon. Mr. Tupper and other members addressed the House, and after midnight the amendment was put and lost on a division of 57 to 96. The House adjourned at half-past two.

The Printing Question Again.

The Clear Grit economists—those gentlemen who are ever prating about corruption and parading their virtues before the public—those men who are always trying to discover motes in other's eyes while they see none in their own—those who were fond of accusing their political opponents of jobbery, of bribery, of corruption, and of everything that is dishonest and mean, have given another exhibition of their true character. It will be remembered that the House of Commons sent back to the Committee its report on Printing, directing that the Committee should give the contract to the lowest tender. The majority in the House was so decisive, the expression of the majority of the members was so emphatic, with regard to the injustice of the report, that it was never doubted the Committee would accept and bow gracefully to the decision of that body. Not so, however. Mr. Mackenzie and Mr. Young, and Mr. Bellerose and Mr. Sanborn, were not disposed to be cheated out of their little game so easily. They were bound that their favorites should have another chance, and by a majority of 10 to 6, the Committee refuse to accept the decision of the House, recommend that Hunter, Rose & Co's tender be accepted, though it is nearly $2,000 more than L. R. Taylor's, and have the assurance to ask the House in the face of its recent decision to accept the responsibility of deciding who shall have the contract. The Committee base their recommendation and report upon the facts that the late contractors did their work well, that they can give good security, and that some ten years ago, some one who tendered for and obtained the printing of Parliament, failed to carry out his contract, thereby causing great annoyance. The Committee do not presume to question the ability of Mr. Taylor to perform the work as stipulated by him,—they do not for a moment call in question the satisfaction of his sureties—they moreover, know that he is in every way competent to do the work, that he can give the most undoubted security, and that he has even gone so far, for the purpose of showing his capability of performing the work, as to offer to deposit the amount of security in hard cash in the public Treasury, and to double the amount if necessary. And yet in the face of these facts, the Committee have the assurance to coolly ask the House to reverse its decision deliberately come to the other day, and to throw away $2,000 a year for the next five or ten years. We observe by the proceedings in Committee that an amendment was moved to substitute Mr. Taylor's name in accordance with the resolution of the House, which was negatived by a vote of 10 to 6.

YEAS—Anderson, Branham, Beaty, Bowell, Ferguson, Stephenson—6.

NAYS—Dueau, Dumouchel, Odell, Oliver, Reesor, Sanborn, Bellerose, Brousseau, Mackenzie, Young—10.

The main motion was then carried, and the responsibility of deciding who is to have the contract now rests with Parliament. We have no doubt the House will confirm the decision came to a few days ago, and with the same decisive majority.

The Wesleyan Conference.

On Thursday the report of the Church Committee was presented. The application for aid to embarrassed Trust Boards amounted to $5,000, while the income of the fund was only $2,339.53. The committee was, nevertheless, able to make grants to forty-three churches. Many applications, however, had to be declined, some of which a slight aid would very greatly assist.

The conference had already decided to hold its next session in the town of Belleville, but the reconsideration of that decision was moved by Rev. W. Stephenson, and carried unanimously. A memorial from the Adelaide street Church, in Toronto, was then received, inviting the Conference to meet there next year, and tendering again the hospitalities of the city.

It was moved by E. Wood, D. D., seconded by L. Taylor, D. D., that the Conference accept this invitation.

Rev. G. R. Sanderson stated that the town of Belleville would cheerfully entertain 300 ministers, but could not undertake to entertain a greater number.

Rev. W. Stephenson, as the representative of the Adelaide street Church, urged the acceptance of this invitation.

The President, Rev. W. Punshon thought it beneath the dignity of the Conference to go begging for a place, or to hold its sessions where it was not invited.

On a vote being taken, the invitation of the Adelaide street Church was accepted unanimously.

The Report of the Victoria College was presented. Notwithstanding the withdrawal of the Government Grant, the College still maintained its efficiency, and was attended by a larger number of students than in any previous year. A motion was made to appoint an Agent to assist in the completion of the College endowment.—The President expressed himself in favor of the appointment of an agent. He felt that personally he could not work as he had worked, or he would not work long. He hoped to see cre long, the accomplishment of the endowment scheme. The endowment, which should not be less than $110,000, was to be invested in Dominion stock, in the name of four trustees, two in Toronto and two in Cobourg, whose joint consent was necessary to the expenditure of a single dollar. Thus the greatest security was guaranteed to the funds. In the afternoon, after a protracted discussion the Conference decided upon the appointment of an agent for Victoria College.

Rev. Dr. Evans was appointed co delegate for the ensuing year.

Rev. John Carroll was appointed Sunday School Agent, and editor of the Sunday School periodicals.

The last day, Friday, of the Session, a great variety of subjects came necessarily under review; and although the discussions and conversations evoked a marked diversity of sentiment and opinion, the findings were as nearly unanimous as could possibly be expected from so large an assemblage. No minority—and there were occasional minorities—either felt or expressed dissatisfaction with any vote recorded on the Conference Journals. This result is partly due to the good sense and christian principle of the ministers, and partly to the discriminating judgment and calm administration of the eloquent President and his able co-Delegate. Impartial in their administration, there was not a solitary appeal from their decisions during the protracted sittings of the Conference.

The following is a corrected list of the appointments on the Belleville District:—

Presbyterian Church

On Thursday, Principal Snodgrass and Prof. MacKerras, of Queen's College, and Rev. Mr. Fraser, of Prisville, ministers of the "Kirk," were invited to sit and deliberate with the Synod. The Presbytery of Toronto applied for leave to take on probationary trial for license, Messrs John M. Munro, George Chrystal, J. G. Calder and Donald McDonald, students. Referred to Committee for report. Leave was granted to the Presbytery of Montreal in the same way, for M. C. C. Stewart, M. A. The application of the London Presbytery, relative to Mr. Alex. McLaren, was referred to the same Committee as for Toronto.

An overture was read from the Presbytery of Ontario to recognize the right and duty of Presbyteries to dissolve the pastoral tie in cases where a minister's usefulness has been destroyed or so far injured as to render it advisable, in the opinion of the Presbytery, that he should leave and without the minister having resigned his charge. After a long discussion and various motions and amendments, it was moved by Prof. Young, seconded by Principal Willis. That this Synod dismiss the overture, and declare that no legislation on the subject is necessary.—Carried successfully by large majorities over all amendments and over the original motion, and the Synod so decided.

The Alleghanians.

We attended last evening one of the most pleasing Concerts ever given in Belleville, by this popular troupe of "Vocalists and Swiss Bell Ringers." Ontario Hall was filled before the time of commencement, with a select audience seemingly determined upon enjoyment, in which, they were in no way disappointed. The Programme embraced pleasing new selections of more refinement and variety, than the one given by them last season. The stirring opening Quartette was loudly applauded; "Don't you go Tommy"—Solo and Chorus—was feelingly rendered by Miss Amy Jenner, and the smoothly executed Quartette Chorus showed the fine harmony of the voices of the troupe. The Duett, "Larboard Watch," was charmingly sung by Miss Jenner and Mr. Phelon. Mr. P., who is a new acquisition to the Company, possesses a more than ordinarily fine bass voice. "Katey's Letter," sung by Miss Costa Horton, was genuinely encored. This attractive young lady—also a new member—has a fine contralto voice, which blends most harmoniously in the Quartettes. Mr. Galloway's comicalities cannot be surpassed. His "Jolly old Gentleman" crowned all his previous successes. But, the gem of the evening, was the entertaining Duett entitled the "Lovers Quarrel," between Miss Jenner and Mr. Galloway. Mr. G's pertinacity as a suitor, and Miss J's evident reluctance to—to use a Scotch phrase, "Buckle To," marked both as actors of no small merit. The music of the new Bells was, of course, a great feature. The entire Concert was a success. We recommend Mr. Waldron when next he comes this way, to announce this excellent company for more than one night, for they are always sure of a hearty welcome.

—Mr. John E. Owens, is probably the wealthiest actor on the American stage. His property is said to be considerable in excess of half a million dollars.

The Diamond.

The latest mails from South Africa bring us the news that there are numerous claimants for the great 81¾ carat diamond recently found and valued at £30,000.—Eight persons declare that in December last they negotiated a secret arrangement with Waterboer, chief of Griqua tribe. He transferred to them all his claims. They assert that the diamond referred to was found in Waterboer's country, and have procured an interdict on the gem in the Supreme Court until their claims were settled. The owners of the diamond assert that it was found on British territory at Leith. The Friend of the Free State is responsible for the story that the diamond was not found in either of those places, but has been in the possession of the Kafir or Hottentot doctor (from whom it was obtained by Nickerk), for the last ten or twelve years, by whom it has, during that time, been constantly used as as tooverpeed, or for purposes of Kafir witchcraft. There were twenty more diamonds recently found in the hands of different persons at Cape Town. However, when it became known that the above interdict was served, not a single individual could be found to own that he had one. The correspondent of the Graff Reinet Herald writes there are reports of another diamond larger than the 83¼ carat one having been found in South Africa.

Australian Meat in London.

On May 18, the members and friends of St. Mark's Workingmen's Club and Institute, Victoria Docks, sat down to a supper of Australian meat provided for them in St. Mark's School Room. There were nearly 150 working men and women present, the Chair being taken by the Rev. H. Boyd, A. M., who were supported by several of the local clergy. Arrangements were made for the supper being prepared by working women, so as to assist in familiarising them with the best and simplest modes of cookery. The tables were tastefully decorated with flowers, &c., provided by the members, who seem to take great interest in the proceedings. The dishes consisted of minced meat and mashed potatoes, meat boiled with rice and curry, boiled sausages, &c., which appeared to give unalloyed satisfaction, being very savory and tempting. The whole of those present expressed themselves as being much pleased with the dishes before them, and loudly applauded the remarks of Mr. Talberman, who was present, when he described the various improvements effected by him in the preparation of Australian meat for English consumption and the enormous development of the demand for the same. It appears that the meat is now disposed of almost as fast as it arrives from the various colonies to this country, and that a further extension of trade may speedily be expected, the Aerated Bread Company having arranged to supply the public with Australian meat at their various shops, nearly one hundred in number.

Business Notice.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless, landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squabble over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded, with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the in xpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

THE IRISH CHURCH BILL.

LONDON, June 11.—In the House of Lords this evening Lord Bateman asked for the intention of the Government in respect to the Irish Church Bill. Earl Granville and Lord Cairns opposed the question as unnecessary and inexpedient at the present time. Earl Granville, Secretary of State for the Colonial Department, said, in reference to outside rumors, that the Government had no intention to depart from their course, that was due to the House of Commons. The Duke of Abercorn presented a petition of the citizens of Belfast and vicinity, containing 80,000 signatures against the disestablishment of the Irish Church. In his remarks he said that this petition emanated from the most important demonstration ever held in Ireland. He showed the great changes that had taken place in the sentiments of the people since the general elections. He said he believed the North of Ireland were not singular in this particular.—He believed the change was going on rapidly, and certainly through the whole country on account of the injustice and partiality of the Bill.

THE COLLIERY EXPLOSION.

LONDON, June 11.—Later telegrams from Merthyr Tydvil, Wales, report the disaster in the colliery in that neighborhood, much less serious than at first believed. Fifty-six bodies have been rescued thus far, and it was thought the total number of killed would not exceed seventy-six.

ROBBERIES OF ARMS IN IRELAND.

LONDON, June 11.—Despatches from Cork state that robberies of arms and ammunition are of daily occurrence throughout the southern part of Ireland. Suspicion in all cases fastens on members of the Fenian organization. Extraordinary precautions have been taken by the authorities to guard against such outrages.

DISTURBANCES IN PARIS.

LONDON, June 11.—The agitation in Paris continued last night until after midnight.—Troops occupied Montmartre and the vicinity, and the cavalry passed through the streets all night. Shortly after midnight a crowd in one of the streets of Montmartre broke through a line of Policemen and formed a barricade, but were dispersed and pursued in all directions by the troops. Many windows were broken and other damage done to property in that quarter of the city. The cavalry charged on the crowd in the streets several times, and many citizens were wounded, but no one was killed. The police have been very active, and it is reported to-day that they have made 600 arrests since midnight. Further disturbances are apprehended, and extraordinary precautions have been taken by the Government to prevent them. The Estre and other Paris journals give returns showing the election of 199 official and 93 opposition Candidates. The editors of the Revel have been arrested on charge of conspiracy.

PARIS, June 11.—The Emperor and Empress to-day drove through Montmartre. The district was filled with crowds of people who enthusiastically cheered. Three members of the editorial staff of the Siecle newspaper and several of M. Rochefort's electoral Committee have been arrested. Domiciliary visits have been paid to several houses. There have also been several pre-arrestures.

THE LATEST.

FRANCE STILL AGITATED.

PARIS, June 11.—Gen. Cluseret has been expelled from France.

Great crowds of people still continue in the streets in Montmartre, and other quarters in Paris, and the agitation and excitement are unabated.

The Emperor and Empress, however, passed through the streets again this evening in an open carriage, with only the usual number of attendants.

FROM SPAIN.

MADRID, June 11.—The Cortes is discussing the proposition for a Regency. The Republicans have offered many amendments limiting the powers of the Regent.

A Conference of the Republican party was held at Cordova to-day. The attendance was immense, and the greatest enthusiasm was manifested.

Gen. De Roda has sailed for Cuba.

GREAT MEETING—MILITARY INTERFERE —A NUMBER OF LIVES LOST.

CORDOVA, Spain, June 11.—A great meeting of Republicans was held to-day for the purpose of protesting against a return to Monarchy. Deputies were present from every Southern Province, and speeches of a revolutionary character were made. During the proceedings the Spanish flag was outwaved in that of the United States, and the assemblage shouted for America and for General Grant. About 50,000 persons were present. While the meeting was in session the military and civil guard interfered, creating a panic. Many women and children were trampled down, and several lives were lost. The crowd then barricaded the streets and there is danger of a serious affray.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The Tribune's special says: It is rumored in diplomatic circles here, that Mr. Thorton will ultimately be superseded by an English diplomatic representative of the highest ambassadorial rank, and that the returning Minister will be promoted to Madrid, and that the new ambassador will, through a liberal hospitality, ascertain sentorial sentiments before opening further negotiations for the adjustment of the Alabama question. The proceedings, it is presumed will relieve the administrators of both Governments from the annoyance of a salute to confirm and insure a settlement acceptable to the States.

ARRIVALS.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The steamships Erin, from Liverpool, and City of Limerick, from Antwerp, have arrived.

Buy some Milk, Sir?

At Portland, May 3rd, by the Rev. E. C. Anderson, Mr. David Doherty, of Sidney, to Miss Annie Atkins, of Belleville, Ont.

NEW ALBION HOTEL,

McGILL STREET,

MONTREAL, CANADA.

THE "NEW ALBION HOTEL," the largest Hotel in Montreal, has just been opened under the most favorable auspices.

While the "Old Albion" has been long noted for the strict attention paid to its numerous guests, the "New Albion" takes its position as a first class Hotel, and is really first class in every respect, except the charges, which better suit the ideas and requirements of the majority of travelers, than many of the so called, "first class Houses;" which deserve the title more through the amount of their charges than merits.

Already the crowded state of the "New Albion" promises well for its future career; everything associated with its construction has been carried out with artistic taste and system in the correctness.

The large Hall, commodious office, spacious Reading room, convenient Dining Office, Writing Room, etc., etc., on the ground floor; and the Reception Room and Suite of SPLENDIDLY FURNISHED and THOROUGHLY VENTILATED LADIES' PARLORS, on the second floor, will form no small luxury during the hot summer season. And, while in all exception to the general Rule in Hotels, the Bedrooms are all self-ventilated and lighted, there not being a dark room in the House.

Being situated on the widest and handsomest Street in Montreal, commanding a Magnificent View of the River St. Lawrence and the Victoria Bridge on the left, and a full view of the Victoria Square with its numerous "Jets d'Eau" and Mount Royal on the right, it cannot fail to commend itself to the traveling public.

From its situation on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare and commercial centre of the city, it cannot fail to be, as the "Old Albion" has always been a strong favorite with the Merchants of Canada.

Notwithstanding the very large outlay in building and furnishing the house, the old price of $1 50 per day will not be departed from.

We, therefore, bespeak for ourselves a continuance of the patronage so liberally accorded to us during the past twelve years.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no remedy has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tasted its virtues but will promptly resort to it when attacked with a severe cough, cold, or any of those grave diseases, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous exception of pulmonary complaints.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From Rev. Erastus Lamson, Pastor of the Tenth Congregational Church, Fulton Ferry, Brooklyn, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and terminate. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two Sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the hoarseness to which we are peculiarly exposed."

Rivet the Last Pacific Rail.

BY GEORGE W. BUNGAY.

Rivet the last Pacific rail,
With a silver hammer and golden nail;
For over the hill and over the vale,
The iron horse is swiftly coming,
Along the prairies and fields of corn,
With red lips kiss his flying feet,
Will echo his wild scream repeat:—
His heart of praise he has in humming,
Hail to the steed of steam!
Hail to the iron steed!
Hail to the iron rail!
Hail to the West, all hail!

Now the rising and setting sun
Shall see the East and West are one,
Wherever the steed of steam shall run,
The Union shall be one forever.
State linked with State with iron bands,
Hearts linked with hearts, and hands with hands,
Hail to our broad free lakes and lands!
Hail to our free lands!
Hail to our free lands!
Hail to the gold rail!
Hail to the last rail!
Hail!
Over prairies of gold and green,
Over rivers that roll but ween,—
Pinned mountains of richest sheen,
The steam horse toils harder and harder,
Now scorns and rolls herds and flocks,
Now thundering over granite blocks,
Now climbing the steep shelving rocks.
Now up the Sierra Nevada,
Hail to the pilots below!
Hail to the peak of snow!
Hail to the hammer's stroke!
Hail to the echoes woke!

The Time to Farm.

There has seldom been a more favorable period in our agricultural history than the present. In the earlier days of farming, all the implements in use were clumsy and slow working. There was nothing in the line of machinery employed for farm work. Mowing and raking were literally manual labor; planting was done by the hoe and the hand, and the cultivator and scarifier were unknown; hay was lifted solely by the fork, and when put into the barn, it must be raised with arm-power to high scaffolds; harvesting of all kinds was done in a similarly laborious manner, the threshing of grain knew no machine but the flail, and huge piles of wood yielded to no force but the axe, in the reluctant hands of farmers' sons. These processes added to the expense and labor of producing. The prices, too were less remunerative than now, and the compensation received for pork or beef, for grain or potatoes, for wood or hay, was too often in goods from the village store, the trader determining the price of the article purchased, as well as of those which he sold.

Then, too, but little was understood of the soil and its treatment. Heavy loads of manure were yearly drawn from the cattle yards and hog-pens, spread upon the surface and turned under the sod, or placed in the hill at planting time, with no certainty on the laborer's part of its fitness for the seed it was designed to nourish into a harvest.

The farmers' sons and daughters attended their six weeks' winter schools, and, at an early age, an equal period in the summer. This was the sum of their educational facilities, and such as these were the inducements to remain on the farm.

It is no wonder with such obstacles in the farmer's path; and with so little to encourage them to cultivate the soil, that their sons should seek the shop for a trade, the city for employment that would bring the ready money, or engage in the field of speculation, that they might escape the trials and restraint of rural life. The country was drained of its young men. They filled manufacturing villages; they sought the town; they rushed to the open fields of the West, the sunny clime of the South, and the unwrought soil of the Pacific coast.

But this is the record of a former period—of a day to be remembered but not restored. Now, the sons of farmers receive an education in the schools, and in the daily pursuits of active life; they understand the nature of the land they till; they apply the fertilizers required; they employ mechanical power and labor of beasts to accomplish the severer processes of the farm. With the present facilities for agricultural pursuits, there is a pleasure as well as a profit in the work. All the products of the farm command a remunerating price, and are sought at the producer's door.

Now, then, is the time for the farmer to engage earnestly in the work before him Let his hands find no idle day, and his mind no hour unimproved. Now is the time to sow and gather in, and to reap the rewards of an intellectual industry. Farmers of New England,—study, learn every improvement; adopt, but not rashly, new modes of culture. Economise your strength and you will reap compensating harvests.—Manchester N. H. Mirror.

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is the preparation known to preserve the hair. Use it.

EMINENT MEN OF SCIENCE, have discovered electricity and magnetism are developed in the system from the iron in the blood. This accounts for the debility, low spirits, and lack of energy a person feels when this vital element becomes reduced. The Peruvian Syrup, a protoxide of iron, supplies the blood with its iron element, and is the only form in which it is possible for it to enter the circulation.

INTERESTING TO VOLUNTEERS.—An important article in the outfit of a soldier is a good Medicine in a convenient form, and the Canadian Pain Destroyer is just the article. It cures wounds, bruises, and frost-bites, and is the best Medicine that can be used for diarrhœa, and summer complaints generally, and is a sure cure for rheumatism, and that class of complaints brought on by exposure or fatigue; price 25 cts per bottle, to be had of all Medicine Dealers.

The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions through these upon the blood thoroughly cleansing the poison of tobacco from the system and thus stopping the unnatural cravings for tobacco. So sure to banish desire for it, it wastes.

The time taken to allay all desire for Tobacco by the use of the Preparation varies slightly in different persons, the range thus being about Five days. Some have no desire for Tobacco after using the Preparation Two days.

BRITISH PERIODICALS,

The London Quarterly Review.
The Edinburgh Review.
The Westminster Review.

AND Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.

THE reprints of the leading Quarterlies and Blackwood's Magazine have long been regarded as the best to keep the reader fully informed with regard to the great literary productions of the day, and the ablest articles on standard thinkers in Great Britain. The republication by the publishers of these periodicals was the result of the loss of the best of English articles to Canada, through the high tariff imposed by the United States on all foreign literature, and the monopoly of circulation which it created to the pages of those favored with free entry. The success of the enterprise has been so great that the publisher can fully justify the claim that they are the cheapest periodicals published.

These publications are printed with thorough fidelity to the Original copy, and are offered at prices which place them within the reach of all.

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 14, 1869. No. 37.

Some Plain Talk.

The last number of the Army and Navy Gazette speaks out as follows, with all the weight of its professional position :—

The relations between the United States and Great Britain are very much affected by the Irish element in the former, and by the condition of Ireland itself in the latter country. But it is obvious that, as regards the military question to be decided in the event of war, there is but little weight to be attached to either. Trite, a certain number of Irishmen would enter the American Army, and would probably take a forward part in any conflict between the troops of each nation, fighting with energy against their own countrymen in the service of the Queen. Equally true it is that Ireland itself would be an object point in the campaign, and that the Americans, by their agents, would seek to excite insurrection there, and might even be rash enough to send, or attempt to send, an expedition to foment or sustain a rebellion. But, after all, what would be the result of such a policy? The loyal population of Ireland, aided by the regular Army, and by the Militia regiments of Great Britain, which would be called out in the event of hostilities, would find no great difficulty in disposing of armed opposition on the part of the rebellious peasantry; and the Americans, who are unable to keep a line of Atlantic steamers afloat, would discover that the equipment of an expeditionary force to cross 3,000 miles of sea is one of the most onerous operations—next to the successful landing of it the most onerous—of modern warfare. The idea of "covering the seas with privateers" is quite absurd. Where would they get them? In America? If our fleets are not able to keep a pretty close watch on the great outfitting ports we much underrate their power, but admit that some privateers may escape. If they are sailing ships they can do little damage, for our cotton trade will be suspended, and the liners will be turned to other work. If they are steamers, and are minded to have a cruise far away, they may find it rather uneasy to get their coal; and certainly they will not meet with much aid or sympathy from the great European powers, except, perhaps, from their Russian allies. But it is not a game Britain can play, at least as well as her enemy! Our ocean going steamers are to theirs in proportion of at least, eight to one. Our iron-clads, of course are still more numerous; and with all their brag and swagger, the Americans know that they cannot make large rolled-plate such as are needed for the best class of armored vessels, and their big guns are inferior in every way to British rifled ordinance in any way but weight and size. If the enemy seeks to equip privateers in foreign ports, our Consuls will neglect their duty very egregiously if the Government is not informed of the progress made on every suspected vessel, and the navy will do its part very badly if there be not a little bit of a white ensign visible off the entrance just as our friend is ready to step out to sea. No government would ever dream of sending any force to invade the American States, but it is not so certain that attempts to ascertain whether the States of the South might not be aroused to strike a blow for their old liberties and for States rights would be neglected or unattended with success. There is a great element of weakness in the diffusion of British settlements and the establishment from a military point of view, but the remoter points present no facility to the aggression of an enemy, and we must make up our minds to some losses in our encounter with a vindictive and tolerably powerful antagonist. In the old war of independence, when Great Britain was fighting the colonists against tremendous odd and enormous advantages, there is no instance of the Americans being successful in a pitched battle with British regulars of equal numbers. With every respect for their courage and military spirit, it may be doubted if man for man, an American army would hold its own against a British army now, because it would necessarily be inferior in discipline and steadiness. But there is little probability of any conflict between equally large masses of troops of either country in the field, should such a dreadful contingency as open warfare come upon us. There are weak points upon the coast of the United States as there are on our own, but attacks on them would rather intensify than tend to terminate the struggle. It is pitiable that such thoughts should be forced upon us by the bitter vanity and paltry rhetorical artifices of such a man as Mr. Sumner, who, in his desire to oust Mr. Seward from the management of foreign affairs, and in his intense conceit, panders to the passionate resentment of his people. The national sentiments of great nations are not to be trifled with, and whether Mr. Motley comes with or without our instructions on the Alabama claims, our Government must obtain securities for the observance of decent behaviour in diplomatic relations. We are quite sick of this game of brag, and admit at once the Americans can beat us at it. If they will not forgive the country for demanding the surrender of Messrs. Mason and Sidell, why do they not say so? That is one of the offences they never can forgive; and, if at this moment a parallel case were to occur, in spite of the force of law and of public opinion, they would resist the demand to which they yielded in 1862, and would force Great Britain to adopt other means to vindicate her honour. Mr. Sumner, when he was in this country, was the toady of every man of title who would take notice of him, and, on his return to America during the war, he never desisted from the secret insinuations that Mr. Seward was a sworn foe to England, and that he (Sumner) alone kept the peace between the two countries. Now, to gratify his inordinate self-love and conceit, he excites his countrymen to regard us as enemies with whom, at an early and favourable moment, they are to proceed to direct, instead of suppressed, warfare.

Extraordinary Engine.

A writer in a London periodical thus describes a most minute model of the engines of the iron-clad steamship Warrior, made by Thomas Smith :—"This tiniest working model in the world is now in the possession of John Penn, of Greenwich, the eminent maker of the great engines of which it is the infinitely reduced counterpart. It will stand on a silver three-penny piece: it nearly covers less space, for its base plate measures one fifth of an inch by about 3-10ths. The engines are of the trunk form introduced by Penn; the cylinders measure ¼ of an inch diameter, and the trunk 1-20th. The length of stroke is 6-40ths of an inch. They are fitted with reversing gear, and are general similar in design to the great machines with which ships of the Warrior class are equipped. From the extreme smallness of this model a few minutes, such, for instance, as the air-pumps—have necessarily been omitted; there is a limit beyond which human skill and minuteness cannot pass. Still, so small are some of the parts that they require a powerful magnifying glass to see their form. The screws which hold the members together are only 1-80th of an inch diameter, and these are all duly furnished with hexagonal nuts, which can be loosened and tightened by a Liliputian spanner. The whole weight of the model is less than that of a three penny piece. It works admirably, and when working, its crank shaft performs from twenty to thirty thousand revolutions in a minute."

—In Watertown, Wis., there is a boy 13 years old, who is 5½ inches in height, and weighs only 18 pounds. When seven months old he was as large as children at that age ordinarily are, but from that time has ceased to grow, and has gained only two pounds in weight in twelve years.

TURKISH LADIES.—The blue eye is known among the Turkish ladies, and their jet black locks are suffered to fall beneath the turban. The hands are beautifully small and white, and adorned with rings and bracelets. No support to the bosom is ever used. The dress altogether, though it hides much of the symmetry of the figure, gives it a grand and enterprising air, particularly the elegant cash mere turban, of which European ladies, if they possess it, spoil the effect by not knowing how to put it on.

KILL THE WEEDS WHEN YOUNG.—Commence hoeing and cultivating just as soon as the weeds appear above ground, or a little before, if possible. It is a difficult task to get ahead of the weeds when they are an inch high, is nearly equal to four when they are that number of inches high. Some men never begin in time, consequently they are always behind, and their crops are in the same predicament. Always try to be a little ahead of your work and then it will never crowd, even if there are a few rainy days just at the time certain crops need cultivating.

HER MAJESTY'S GIFT TO SCOTLAND.—The London Telegraph says that on the people about Balmoral the Queen has announced her intention of conferring a boon which will be highly prized by those who, being imbued with the traditions of Scotland, attach a high value to education.—Out of the profits arising from the sale of "The leaves from a Journal," she has set aside the sum of £2,500 to provide schools and college bursaries for the benefit of scholars belonging to the district round Balmoral. Three or more bursaries of £5 each, tenable for four years will reward the zeal of deserving students at the schools of Crathie and Girnock. To the University of Aberdeen will be allotted three bursaries of £25 each, tenable for the same period, and open to the relatives of any person who are or have been servants, retainers, tenants or cotters upon the estates at Balmoral, Abergeldie, or Birkhall; and if no such student apply for the bursaries, the prizes will go to the sons of any person residing in the parishes of Crathie and Braemar. A greater boon Her Majesty could hardly confer on the poor students who seek the facilities of the parish school, and who then go to the University of Aberdeen.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION.—A meeting will be held at Hambly's on Tuesday Evening the 15th inst., at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of organizing a Rifle Association. Volunteer Officers and others favorable to the project are invited to attend.

CHILD FOUND.—The body of a new born child was found on the common back of the Station on Saturday. It was supposed to be two or three weeks old at the time of its death. An inquest was held before coroner John P. McDonnell. No clue as to the child's maternity was obtained.

RESCINDED.—A telegram from Halifax, of the 12th says :—" In the Assembly this morning, with closed doors the resolution of Attorney General Wilkins, authorizing the appeal to the English Court, was rescinded by a majority of two or three." What's in the wind now ?

The Harbor.

The contractors for dredging the harbor having nearly completed their work, the Harbor Committee have made an examination of the work done, and the work necessary to be done in order to make a good job of it, and we understand will report to the Council to-night in favor of an additional appropriation for that purpose. The amount asked for we do not know, but believe it is something less than $2,000. This sum we are informed will thoroughly cleanse the harbor, together with all the channels, of all deposits and accumulations of bark, saw dust, and other debris, giving free and easy access to the heaviest laden vessels. As to the desirability of having the work completed now there can be no question. A large part of the saw dust bank which for years has been a great source of annoyance to shippers, has been removed, but a consideable portion has yet to be removed, and it is to take this away that an additional appropriation will be asked for. Unless it is removed it may scatter itself by the action of the water into the channels already opened, while, if it is not removed, it will be a continued obstruction to vessels coming in and going out of the port. And we repeat there can be but one question as to the desirability of having the work done at once. The Dredge and apparatus are on the ground, and presuming that the contractors will not charge any more for work to be done than the price they now receive, it will be much cheaper for the Town to have the work performed by them. No firm could bring a Dredge here and have scows and other apparatus specially fitted for such work as has been done by the present contractors for a less sum than from five hundred to eight hundred dollars, and no one after going to that expenditure would be likely to take a $2,000 job at the rates now paid. It was hoped that the Dominion Government might be prevailed upon to give us some assistance towards this work, but it would appear from recent legislation that all their efforts are directed to curry favor with the Maritime Provinces, that all the spare cash they have is to be spent in buying honor and dredging for St. John's Harbor, and granting additional subsidies to Nova Scotia, and increasing the amounts to Newfoundland, while Ontario is permitted to dance and pay the piper. Efforts have been repeatedly made by our members to secure some assistance for this purpose, but without avail, and it is evident if the work is done at all, we will have to do it ourselves.

The importance of having a good harbor is apparent to every one, and if $2,000 additional to that already appropriated will be sufficient the money should be granted. It would be far better to lessen the amount to be expended on streets and sidewalks than to be deprived of the advantages which a good harbor would give us. By imposing harbor dues the amount asked for would soon be raised, and we are sure ship owners would far rather pay a reasonable fee than be subject to the annoyances which they have felt for for the past few years. We believe the additional appropriation to be asked for would be sanctioned by four-fifths of the property holders of the town.

Presbyterian Synod.

The afternoon of Thursday was taken up in consideration of the dissent and complaint against the finding of the Presbytery of Guelph in reference to the Galt Revival on the 11th of May, 1869. It may here be proper to state that two laymen, Carroll and Russell, had labored in the Galt and Guelph districts for a year or more past, and the result was a revival of a wonderful character. Hundreds were converted and joined the Church, and a great deal of good was accomplished. But these men who were chiefly instrumental and aided the ministers in doing good were only laymen, were moreover not members of that particular Church, and were not "authorised" to preach, and consequently there was some dissatisfaction amongst the Churches. An appeal was made against the work and the ministers who encouraged it were put on their trial. The Presbytery of Guelph sustained the ministers, and the following appeal to the Synod was the result :—

The following are the reasons for the dissent, and the names of the dissentients :—

"We dissent and complain to the Synod against the finding of the Presbytery on the following grounds :—We regard conscientiously that our subordinate standards teach, and the safety of our people require, that those who preach in our congregations should be accredited and authorized to do so by the Church, and be responsible to her constituted authorities; of the violation of which principle, in our bounds, the Presbytery take no notice."

This appeal was signed by seven members of the Presbytery, one of whom was a minister.

Thursday's afternoon session was occupied in discussing this question, without coming to any conclusion.

On Friday morning Rev. James Gilroy, Pastor of the John street Methodist Episcopal Church, being present, was invited to sit with the Synod as a corresponding member.

Rev. Mr. Inglis then moved, seconded by Mr. Kemp, That the Synod dismiss the dessent and sustain the action of the Presbytery.

Rev. Mr. McLaren moved in amendment, seconded by Rev. D. Watters.

"That, the Synod having read the papers, and heard the parties in that case, dismiss the complaint and appeal. But whereas it has appeared from the papers read, and the pleadings at the bar that there is a considerable measure of uncertainty in the minds of some of the brethren within the bounds of the Presbytery of Guelph in regard to several points of great practical importance, the Synod further declares, for the general guidance of the Church :—

1st. That ministers and Kirk-sessions are responsible for the teachings given at meetings convened by them.

"2nd. That while the ordinary ministers of the Work must be sufficiently gifted and duly approved and called by the Church, as is declared by the standards of the Canada Presbyterian Church, there is liberty for the exercise of the gifts of teaching and exhortation which may be possessed by any of Christ's people under the general supervision of ministers and Kirk session, subject to the ordinary review of the Courts of the Church.

"3rd. That whatever brethren believe that unsound doctrines have been taught, or irregularities, injuriously affecting the cause of Christ, tolerated in meetings held under the auspices of any minister at Kirk-session, it is the duty of those cognizant of the facts to proceed against such minister and Kirk-session, according to the laws of the Church."

Another amendment was made by Dr. Willis, declaring that lay agency should be under the control of the Kirk session, and recommending that a body of ten assessors be appointed to sit with the Presbytery of Guelph to consider all matters relative to this appeal.

Still another amendment was moved by the Rev. Mr. Young, seconded by Rev. Mr. Ure.

"That the Synod dismiss the dissent and complaint, and, while ready to acknowledge, with thankfulness to God, indications of spiritual good in any of the congregations of the Church, through whatever instrumentality it may have been produced, think it not unreasonable, without casting the least reflection on the course which has been adopted by the Presbytery of Guelph, to call the attention of Ministers and Sessions to the great importance of exercising due caution in regard to the qualifications of any laborers, not formally recognized by the Church, but of whose occasional co-operation, in public religious service, they may desire to avail themselves."

The whole of Friday was occupied in considering this question, and the discussion at times was carried on with considerable warmth. One speaker said he had been to Galt, and seen and heard of the revivals there ; he had read of the revivals at Pentacost, and to his mind the revivals at Galt assume precisely the complexion of God's revivals. He considered it a most wonderful movement. It had spread further than Galt; it had reached Fergus ; and he thought that the gentlemen who were from there, viz : Messrs. Smellie, Middlemiss, Smith and others, gentlemen who had spoken enthusiastically of the glorious revivals, gentlemen whose solemn averments ought to be received with the sacredness of an oath, deserved all honor from the Synod.

Another gentleman warned Ministers against inviting even a brother minister to come in and occupy their pulpits. There was no necessity for itinerant revivalists, we can have revivals just as well without them.

Rev. Dr. Irvine thought it was a matter on which the Court ought not to legislate at all. He thought like Gamaliel of old, if it was of man it would come to naught of itself ; but if it was of God nothing could be done against it ; therefore let it alone lest haply you be found fighting against God. Don't legislate. God will legislate if you let him alone. If these people are doing the work of God, don't let it go abroad that the Synod of the Presbyterian Church has done a thing that twenty years from now may stamp it and its deliberations with foolishness. As to lay preaching he wished every deacon and elder in his Church would go about holding prayer meetings and preaching in the open streets. As to lady preaching, about which so much had been said, he said he wished every woman in his congregation would go about gossiping and conversing about the Saviour. The woman at the well had gone into the streets exclaiming "See what a Saviour I have found !" He continued further, taking strong grounds against the Synod's legislating on the matter at all.

The debate was finally brought to a close in the evening session by the adoption of the Rev. Mr. Young's amendment by a large majority.

—In the case of the Queen vs. McKinnon & Clark, the motion to set aside the verdict has been withdrawn, and the case is reserved for the Court of Queen's Bench.

Ball, Esq., for trespass, arising about a dispute as to the possession of a piece of land in Sidney, and the right of possession to a quantity of potatoes growing thereon. Chas. Francis, for Appellant ; G. E. Henderson and S. B. Burdett, for Respondent. Verdict—conviction affirmed.

LEVI P. REDDICK, Appellant, AND JAMES REDDICK, Respondent.—Appeal from a conviction made by Geo. E. Ball, Esq., arising out of the matter of the above dispute. Appellant claims that he was servant of Peter L. Reddick, and committed the trespass complained of as such.

Chas. Francis, for Appellant ; G. E. Henderson and S. B. Burdett, for Respondent. Verdict—Not guilty, quashing conviction.

BRICKMAN CROUTER, Appellant, and JAMES REDDICK, Respondent.—Another appeal from a conviction made by Geo. E. Bull, Esq., a dispute arising out of the complaint made against Peter L. Reddick. The appellant claims that he was the servant of said Peter L. Reddick, and committed the trespass as such.

Chas. Francis, for Appellant ; G. E. Henderson and S. B. Burdett, for Respondent. After the jury was sworn Mr. Burdett took objection to the conviction. The Judge decided the objection good, and decided there was no such conviction as appealed from and dismissed appeal. The Judge in addressing the Jury commented upon the unfortunate circumstance of three separate convictions on a joint trespass, and said the conviction should have been joint; then one trial would have settled the matter.

FIFTH DAY.

SATURDAY, June 12.

THE QUEEN vs. ALEX. KUTTER, ALEX. RUTTER, JR., AND ALEX. ORR.—Defendants were indicted for an assault arising out of an unfortunate dispute about possession of a piece of land. The defendants arraigned and pleaded not guilty. Trial fixed for Monday.

ASSAULT CASE.

THOMAS GRAHAM, Appellant, and PHILIP R. PALMER, Respondent. The Respondent was collector of taxes for Thurlow in 1868. An appeal from a conviction made by George Phillips and Wm. Sills, Esq., for an assault on Respondent while attempting to collect taxes.

PHILIP R. PALMER SWORN. I live in Thurlow ; I was at Felix Graham's place in Thurlow in February last ; went there to collect taxes due by Felix Graham ; I made a seizure but did not remove anything ; I afterwards saw Felix Graham and said taxes must be paid ; he said he could not pay them until after the time I would have to make my return. I went again to Graham's, and when there told him I did not wish to give him any trouble, and would take anything he would point out, that would be sufficient to make the money ; I then said can I take this horse, referring to a mare he had just driven there ; I went towards the stable, when Felix Graham placed himself against the door, I then went to get some cows ; Felix Graham then come to me, and after some conversation with him he said I might take the mare and cutter ; I went to do so when Thos. Graham came in and threatened to smash my head, and raised a whip with the butt end and in a position to strike me with it ; he was near enough to me to strike me ; he then endeavored to get the halter out of my hand ; at this time Mr. Fairman came into the stable, and Thomas Graham in his presence again threatened to strike me ; Felix Graham remonstrated with his brother and told him to let me have the mare and cutter ; I started to take the horse ; Felix Graham came to Belleville with me and paid the taxes ; he did not strike me.

R. C. FAIRMAN, SWORN.—I was with Palmer at Graham's ; heard some conversation between them about taxes, until a jangle ensued, and Palmer said he would have to remove property ; Graham contended he had not been notified as required by statute ; Graham was angry and at first said he should not take any property, but afterwards said he had no use for anything he liked ; I heard a noise before I went into the stable ; when I went in Palmer was near the horse's heads ; Thomas Graham was behind him with a whip raised, and using threatening language ; he did not strike him ; I thought by his manner he would strike Palmer ; Felix said to Thomas to allow Palmer to take property ; Palmer insisted that he had given Felix Graham notice in town ; when Felix Graham told Thomas he let the property go he desisted ; the property I brought to Belleville.

For the defence the following witnesses were called :

FELIX GRAHAM, SWORN.—Palmer came to me in town after he had been at my place ; I said to him, I thought it would have been easier for him to come to my shop and get the taxes, than to go out to my place ; my brother came after and Palmer had been out to my place ; I saw Mr. Palmer drive past my store and I thought he was going out to my place ; I then went to the hotel and got my horse and drove out as fast as I could ; Palmer got there a few minutes before me, and when I got there he was in the stable untying a heifer ; I remonstrated with with him about pursuing such a course, and contended I had not been notified ; I told Palmer he might take any property he chose, but in a moment I withdrew from that, and told Thomas not to allow the property to be taken away ; all he did was under my directions ; when I heard Palmer say he had come prepared to remove the property, I thought there might be harm done, and then told Thomas to allow Palmer to take the horse ; he at once left, and the property was removed, on the same day I paid the taxes and costs.

ALEX. MILNE, SWORN.—I was in Graham's employ in February last ; heard Felix Graham tell Thomas to lock the stable and not allow the property to be removed ; heard J. Graham tell Palmer to take anything he liked ; did not see the assessment ; do not know which took place first, the permission to take property or the order to Thomas to lock the stable door. Verdict guilty, affirming the conviction.

Jellett and Gilbert, for Appellant ; Thomas Holden, for Respondent.

NOBLE et. al. vs. WALSH.—An action of trover to recover the value of a quantity of cordwood ; Plaintiff purchased the lires of wood from Defendant, with the privilege of cutting and removing the wood on or before the first April last. Plaintiff, owing to the severe snow storm in March, were unable to remove the wood by the time specified, and Plaintiff alleges Defendant refused to allow him to remove the wood after that time, and brings his action to recover value.

Verdict for Plaintiff for $180 50. S. S. Lazier or Fitz. ; L. Wallbridge, Q. C., for Deft.

—The biggest thing out : Attorney General Wilkins' endeavor to carry Nova Scotia out of the union on a Bill Stamp.

Parliament on Saturday.

Mr. MAGILL presented the first report of the special committee on the hop duty and salt interests, recommending the imposition of a duty of 5 cts per pound on hops.

Mr. ROSS moved concurrence in the resolutions relating to Nova Scotia.

Mr. WOOD moved in amendment to the motion for the second reading of the resolutions, "that it is inexpedient to disturb the financial arrangement settled between the provinces composing the Dominion of Canada, as settled by the British North America Act, in favor of Nova Scotia without at the same time making provision for increasing in due proportion and on principles just to the provinces of Quebec and Ontario, the amount of the debt allowed by the British North America act to the late province of Canada and the halt yearly payments to the provinces of Quebec and Ontario respectively."

The question occupied the House the entire day, when near midnight a vote was taken on Mr. Wood's amendment, which was lost. Yeas, 41 ; nays, 71

The resolutions were then concurred in seriatim after several divisions.

Mr. Ross introduced a bill founded thereon.

IRISH CHURCH BILL—ANTI-DEMONSTRATIONS.

LONDON, June 12.—Immense tory demonstrations have been held to-day in various parts of the kingdom. At Manchester over 200,000 were present. Resolutions protesting against the passage of the Irish Church Bill were passed, and a monster petition, embodying the substance of the resolutions was sent to Earl Derby for presentation to the House of Lords. At Liverpool 50,000 persons were present.—Speeches were made by distinguished persons, and the usual resolutions against the disestablishment of the Irish Church were unanimously adopted.

LONDON, June 12.—The Times says to-day, speaking of the position of the House of Lords on the Irish Church Bill:—"The Marquis of Salisbury's anticipation of the situation of Peers is now realized. We are in a crisis; one of those rare great occasions when the national mind is fully declared. The Lords must defer to the country, otherwise the machinery of the government cannot be carried on, owing to the fixed and unalterable constitution. The House of Peers must yield."

RIOTS IN PARIS.

PARIS, June 12.—About 200 arrests were made last night. The populace generally assisted the troops to preserve order, and the streets were clear by one o'clock. No outrages were committed.

The following is officially promulgated:—"To-day the recent disorders approach a termination, owing to the strength and energy of public opinion."

Ismael Pasha arrived here to-day.

THE LATEST.

FROM SPAIN.

MADRID, June 13.—In the Cortes yesterday Navarro advocated the election of the Duke of Montpensier to the Throne, and declared his preference for immediate and final action on the part of the Cortes to that effect.

Marshall Prim defended the present Government of Mexico, and announced that diplomatic relations would soon be resumed with President Juarez.

The Duke of Montpensier has entered Spain, and is now in Andalusia.

FROM RIO JANERIO.

NEW YORK, June 13.—A Rio Janeiro letter dated May 8th says the emancipation of slaves is being strongly advocated by a number of prominent citizens of Brazil.

The Count Dan had arrived at Asuncion and found the army completely disorganized.

Lopez's army in the Cordilleras is growing stronger every day, while the allies are unable to move, and are losing strength the longer they remain idle.

Nothing has yet been heard from Minister McMahon.

ALABAMA CLAIMS—MOTLEY BEFORE THE CABINET.

LONDON, June 13.—A Cabinet meeting was held here yesterday, and it is rumored, though the report cannot be authenticated, that an official communication from Mr. Motley was presented by Lord Clarendon. The report states that in his communication, Mr. Motley informs Her Majesty's Government of the rejection by the United States Senate of the Alabama claims treaty. He represents that the grounds for rejection were the insufficiency of the treaty as a full settlement of the question in dispute between the two countries. He intimates that the present administration concurs in the reasons which led the Senate to decline to ratify the treaty, and says that he is instructed to express the earnest desire of the American Government for a speedy and friendly removal of the matters in dispute, by a treaty which will do justice to all parties, leaving a question open for future misunderstanding or complication. He announces his readiness to receive and consider with liberality, any proposition Her Majesty's Government may make for a full settlement of the important international question at issue, as well as of the claim of individual citizens growing out of the action of either Government during the late war or rebellion.

FRENCH CABLE.

LONDON, June 13.—The expedition for laying the French Cable has commenced its work. Capt. NEW ALBION HOTEL,

McGILL STREET,
MONTREAL, CANADA.

THE "NEW ALBION HOTEL," the largest Hotel in Montreal, has just been opened under the most favorable auspices.

Whilst the "Old Albion" has been long noted for the strict attention paid to its numerous guests, the "New Albion" takes its position as a first-class Hotel, and is really first class in every respect, except the charges, which better suit the ideas and requirements of the majority of travellers, than many of the so called, "first class Houses;" which deserve the title more through the amount of their charges than aught else.

Already the crowded state of the "New Albion" promises well for its future career; everything associated with its construction has been carried out with artistic taste and system all well ventilated and lighted, there not being a dark room in the House.

Being situated on the widest and healthiest Street in Montreal, commanding a Magnificent View of the River St. Lawrence and the Victoria Bridge on the left, with a full view of the Victoria Square with its numerous "Points of Law" and Mount Royal on the right, it cannot fail to commend itself to the travelling public.

From its situation on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare and commercial centre of the City it cannot fail to be, as the "Old Albion" has always been a strong favorite with the Merchants of Canada.

Notwithstanding the very large outlay in building and furnishing the house, the old price of $1 50 per day will not be departed from.

We, therefore, bespeak for ourselves a continuance of the patronage so liberally accorded to us during the past twelve years.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no winter has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of Colds—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From REV. FRANCIS LOBDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Cough, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

Summer Rhyme.

Leaf on the bough and fly on the wing,
Birds that sing, winds that swing,
Roses thickly clustering,
Woodbine blooms that clamber and cling,
Farms that fresh in the woodland spring,
Flowers that sweets to the breezes fling,
Babble of streams and drip of wells,
Golden gleams and balmy smells,
Bees a-buzz in odorous bells,—
Whereso'er the world their gladness tells,
What the bliss they bring!

Summer is loose and spring's away;
Hearts be gay; pipe and play,
Revel and laugh the livelong day,
Bind the brow with the bloom of the May,
Love the limbs i' the foam and the spray,
Whirl i' the dance at evening gray,
Beat the moss with lightsome feet,
Tumble and toss the hay in the heat,
Stray in the grass, stray in the wheat—
This is the bliss of their birdes sweet,
These the words they say.

Pashunce or Job.

Everybody has the habit ov bragging on Job; and Job did have considerable bile pashunce, that's a fact, but did he ever teach a distrik skule for 8 dollars a month and board round, or run a kountrie noos-paper?

Did he ever reap lodged oats down hill on a hot day, and hev all his gallus but-tons bust oph at once?

Did he ever hev the jumpin teethake and be made to tote the baby while his wife was over to Parkinses in a tea squall.

Did he ever get up in the morning awful dri, and fut it three miles before breakfast to get a drink, and find that the man kept a temperance house?

Did he ever set onto a litter ov kittens in the old rockin chare, with his summer pantaloons on?

Did he ever undertake to milk a kicking heifer with a bushy tail, in fittime, out in the lot?—Josh Billings.

Figi women keep their babies obedient by telling them that white men are fond of broiled baby.

For the young.—Cleanliness is next to godliness,' said this is the reason, my little dears, why you are put in the tub on Saturday night, before being taken to church on Sunday morning.—Judy.

—Some one blamed Mr. Marsh for changing his mind. 'Well,' said he, 'that is the difference between a man and a donkey; the donkey can't change his mind, and the man can—it's a human privilege.'

—Master—Will, did you deliver the message?' Servant—Yes, sir; but I think the gentleman is rather queer.' Master—'Queer how do you mean?' Servant (laughing)—'Well, sir, he asked me where my hat was, and it was on my head all the time.'

A man named Tease has married a Miss Cross. He Teased her until she wouldn't be Cross any more. 'Query: Did it better her temper any to become a Tease?

A gentleman, talking with his gardener, expressed his admiration at the rapid growth of the trees. 'Why, yes, sir,' said the man, 'please to consider that they have nothing else to do.'

'Dar are,' said a sable orator, 'two roads through this world. De one am a broad and easy road dat leads to perdition, and de udder am a narrow and broad road dat leads to sure destruction.' 'If dat am de case,' said a sable hearer, 'dis cullud individual take to de woods.'

—The New York Leader wants to know if Patti's refusal to settle her husband's bill from her income can be termed incom-Patti-bility of temper?

—Ruskin lately asked Spurgeon: 'Where do you think I would go if I should die now?' To hell, be damned.' 'Well, that's frank. I've asked several preachers that question, and they evaded it.'

—A Parisian dandy entered a cafe the other day. 'What is the matter with you,' said a friend to him, 'you look so cross. 'Oh, something quite annoying has happened to me. My father has just died! Waiter let me have the Estrele.' 'Sometbody is just reading it," replied the waiter. 'another annoyance!' exclaimed the good son.

—The St. Peter Tribune learns that some time last fall, a lady of Ottawa, LeSueur County, "was badly frightened by a snake. This spring she was delivered of a child which was perfectly formed as far up as the hips. From that point upward the body is formed like a snake and the creature exhibits all the instincts of the reptile tribe. The upper portion of the body is all snake, while the lower is all human in its formation.

The Guide Post.

BAYARD TAYLOR, (from the German).

D'ye know the road to th' barl of flour?
At break of day let down the bars,
And plough y'r wheat-fields hour by hour,
Till sundown—yes, till shine o' stars.

D'ye know the road where the dollars lie?
Follow the red cents here and there;
For if a man leaves them, I can guess
He won't have dollars anywhere.

D'ye know the road to poverty?
Turn in at any tavern sign;
Turn in—it's tempting as can be,
There's bran-new cards and liquor fine.

D'ye know what road to honor leads,
And good old age? a lovely sight!
By way o' temperance, honest deeds,
And trying to do y'r duty right.

And when the road forks any side,
And you're in doubt which one it is,
Stand still and let your conscience guide;
Thank God, it can't lead you far amies.

Go, fearin' God, but lovin' more!—
I've tried to be an honest guide;
You'll find the grave has got a door,
And somethin' for you t'other side.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee from the Tropics at least 25 cents per lb. more than we now do?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicability of as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it insures the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For convenience it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroberant for delicate persons; a speedy and sure relief for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the fevers has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per bottle.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.

OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killer or Relief are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a Liniment. At 50 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

A Scrio-Comic Breach of Promise Case.

THE CRAIG-SPRAGUE SUIT IN ILLINOIS—LOVE, PERJURY AND ORTHOGRAPHY.

The Craig-Sprague breach of promise case now progressing in Wheaton, near Chicago, Illinois, and attracting much attention in the West, presents a curious mixture of serious affection, criminal experience, and ludicrous correspondence between the parties of the suit. The ludicrous, however, entirely overbalances the other effects, so far as the public is concerned, as the trial continues. The plaintiff, Miss Amanda J. Craig, of Cincinnati, has sued Elisha Sprague of Chicago, as our readers were informed last week, for $100,000. She is a woman of 38 years. Mr. Sprague is 53 years old. He testified when first called on the stand, that Miss Craig had confessed to him that she had been seduced and had been subjected to an abortion several years before. This testimony is apparently confirmed by that of two physicians, one of whom had refused to assist in an abortion, while the other had not refused. So far as we can see by the reports of the trial this part of the evidence is unrebutted. For this apparently sufficient cause Mr. Sprague broke off the marriage engagement which he had contracted previous to the confession.

The ludicrous portion of the testimony consists of the letters which have been offered in evidence by counsel. Sprague, though a man of large fortune, seems to have been utterly deficient in education, and the spelling of his letters are more ingeniously incorrect than those of either Artemus Ward or Nasby. An entire absence of punctuation marks is natural, perhaps, and capitals are used indiscriminately. The writer always assumes a gushingly affectionate and flowery style, and is frequently exclamatory and melodramatic. Miss Craig herself is well educated, and has been a school teacher; her letters are well written, and full of an affectionate warmth worthy of a lover young or old. "You have no idea," she says in one place, "You have no idea, dear idol of my worshipping heart—how I appreciate one little loving sentence from your dear fingers." Of these little "loving sentences" we select one or two letters from several pages of similar epistles published in the Chicago papers. The following was written after the confession of Miss Craig, and after Mr. Sprague had broken off the engagement. He had received a threatening letter from her:

"Maccanaw, Thursday in morning july 19, 1866.

my, Dear Amanda So you say you Love me how is it possible I say to myself the way you have acted as the matre towards me you know it was wrong to Demand of me what you did know you ad no right to Do so So I thought I would take a Pleasr Trip expecting to return in the course of 2 years I am stoaping now on the island of Maccanaw Between Lake Mishigan and Lake Ontario, my dear you cannot compell me to Do any thing But my God can. O God I call on him to Protect me and save furm sining against his High Laws. now my dear you should ave used kind words to me instead of saying you was going to take the Law. I do not fear all the Deavels in hell if I am Right and god is on my side. There is no reasons that can Drive me and I can see as far as a mill stone as them that pick itt and you can say in your Letter to Daning that your relations swear at me and I suppose you Do to when my back is turned. o Lord God I pray to the to take this Bitter cup from my Lips. o Mandy if I could take my love from you I would Be happy once more. But as it is I know it will be the cause of my Death, (fair well) fair well, fair well. May God bless you. Being the last time that I expect to see you let my nam never be thout of. so you say to me that your friends will use pistil well I am prepared to use them just as fast as the kan and as kuick. I can fire My waste in yld kats, you charg me with one thing that made me crazy when I think of it. The moar i feel and the moar I no it the moar i no it is false but my god kan it be so and you did not tell me in your letters to me, if I knew it was so or thought it was possible i would jump into the lake and bid fairwell to this world of troubel. To think you would keep a sekret from me. o that god would hear my prairs and take all the luv that I have furm you away from me. but i shall go kraisye I believe the way i feel to day. I hav not slep two hours for the last thre nites. I luv you above all others Mandy, tak your luv furm me if you think I am not worthy of it and never mendion my name and berry me for ever. if you wud have loyd me we wud have ad a happy time goin round the toun. there is some woms or uther goin to stop Ingland and purrie and they want me to go with them in Kaz i do jus rite wun Kis lettre ill let you no in tim of doing so and giv you the adres. I am in the island now I was sent a letter by the steamer Dupray that sade you cud get along better without me. thear is no woman that Kan drive me, nor man if pleasent words will accomplishament anything it will be with me. It is so cold and pleasant on this iland gets more so every da it i cood guverh this foglish luv i wood be happy hear during hest weather. I am intensefull in mi parts the I parted with you. The gong rings for diner fair well God bless you my luv fair well. Your devoat. "ELISHA."

In the following, written below the above, the writer expresses a religious tendency among many affections:

Chicago, April 20, 1866.

I cannott write much I cannott see one Bitt out of my Eys Gott the arisiplace veary Bad itt is Getting Beater I have 2 Letters from you Bitt cant see to Read them have nott broken them open will soon as I can Read them I wont trust no wone to Read them or to write for me I dount Know how you will send them as Lims itt is All Gess work I feel well itt my Eys wont the swealing is just Going Down a moy I worship the lord geasus for the Laws of god must be obeyed after I Put this Letter in a —— I will Gett sum wone to Duet. E. C. S.

The lover concludes one letter by a poetical quotation, as follows:

Love's Demand.

Keep thine Hart Pure Beneath thess eyes that Look so Deep and Love so well Though I stand close when thine angls flee my Life Lies under a Baleful spell iff all the Bliss of Earth Below and all the Bliss of heaven Above could woo the not from wrong and we Betrue to love Be true to love oh Give to Love no Bitter word or give to Love no seifish thought nor the hartless smile Like what is stired wen the world is answered nought for nought oh Give to love no artful sheck however in secret it seem Lett truth and Perfect truth this Smile Prove thee as noble as I deem though all thy Grace and Beauty fail oh could they ever fail for me and the very stars of heaven Grow pale Lett me Lose never my faith in thee Loves Loss as Less than truth I mine thy Sin may Light another sphere flitting in Darkness Lone and Blind I shall feel safe thine honor clear. E. C. Sprague.

The most ludicrous part of the whole case is, that the Jury brought in a verdict for Miss Craig for the full amount, $100,000. There was a great scene in the Court room when the verdict was returned.

Timber Regulations.

The following are the Government regulations on the Free Grants which were published in our columns some time ago, we now insert the new regulations respecting Timber:—

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor in Council was pleased to make the following Order or Regulation, under "The Public Lands Act, 1859," and it is hereby ordered, under said Act, as follows:—

All Pine Trees growing or being upon any Public Land hereafter to be sold, and which at the time of such sale, or previously, was included in any timber License, shall be considered as reserved from such sale; and such land shall be subject to any Timber License, covering or including such land, in force at the time of such sales or granted within three years from the date of such sale; and such trees may be cut and removed from such land, under the authority of any such Timber License while lawfully in force; but the purchaser at such sale, or those claiming under him or her, may cut and use such trees as may be necessary for purpose of building, fencing and fuel, on the land so purchased, and may also cut and dispose of all trees required to be removed in actually clearing said land for cultivation, but no pine trees, except for the necessary building, fencing and fuel aforesaid, shall be cut beyond the limit of such actual clearing before the issuing of the patent for such land, and all pine trees so cut and disposed of, (except for the necessary building, fencing and fuel as aforesaid), shall be subject to the payment of the same dues as are at the time payable by the holders of licenses to cut timber or saw logs.

All trees remaining on the land at the time the Patents issues, shall pass to the Patentee.

Provided, however, that this order shall not apply to any land to be sold as mining land, under "The General Mining Act of 1869," nor to land to be sold to any Free Grant locatee, under the regulations or Order in Council, bearing date this day.

Some Chinamen engaged in mining near Rocklin, Cal., discovered the remains of a mastodon, or bones of some animal of huge dimensions, now unknown in America.—One piece of the bones which had held one tooth measured nine inches in width by ten in circumference when whole. One of the teeth was measured, and found it to be three by five inches on top by six inches long, the others being about the same size. They were found on the bed rock, some nine or ten feet from the surface, imbedded in gravel.

Randall Sylvester of Freedom, Me., a man 82 years old, has lain in bed for 16 years, cannot speak above a whisper, and is a mere skeleton. He dreamed one night how to make a violin, although he had never seen one made. He was supplied with timber in the rough, and such tools as he could use while lying on his back, and dug it out with an apple-corer. The instrument is very beautiful, ornamented with shells resembling pearls, and the tone is very fine. It is composed of 92 pieces, but appears like one piece till examined closely.

A traveller in Arkansas found the following notice stuck on the ferryman's door at Cache River; "Noathis—Ef enny body cums hear arter liker or to git akross the River they can ges b low this hear horn, and if I don't cum wher my Betsey up at the Hous hears the horn blowin, shole cum down and sell them the licker, or set them akross the river, ime away from hoam John wilson. N. B. them that cum can't pearl, will have to go to the Hous arter Betsy taint but half a mile thar."

DIOGENES makes another good hit this week. His cartoon, entitled, "What a Shame!" represents Messrs. Rose and King in a parlor of the Bank of Montreal, as little boys playing with bladder balloons. Mr. King's goes well up with $3,000,000 Rest, but Mr. Rose's has collapsed, some of the boys having stuck pins into it, and he is crying. His balloon is called "Bank Bills."

DOMINION NOTES.—The following is a statement of the Dominion notes in circulation on Wednesday the 2nd day of June, 1869:—Payable at Montreal, $2,816,747; payable at Toronto, $1,178,263; payable at Halifax, $345,000. Total, $4,370,000. The specie held at Montreal is $450 000; at Toronto, $400,000; at Halifax, $99,000—total $949,000. The debentures held by the Receiver General are $3,000,000.

THE EXCURSION TO THE FALLS.—The public are reminded of the Excursion to Niagara Falls on Tuesday the 22nd, under the auspices of the St. Andrew's Society. In addition to the advertised inducements offered, arrangements have been made by which excursionists can cross the new Suspension Bridge to the American side for 10 cts. each. The view of the Falls from this Bridge is said to be the finest that can be obtained from any point. The price of the tickets is so cheap, and the advantages offered by this excursion are so great that we have no doubt large numbers of people from both town and country will avail themselves of it.

Depend Upon Ourselves.

A despatch from Earl Granville, Colonial Secretary, dated 14th April, which has just been laid before Parliament, contains a good deal of food for reflection. It was known some time since that Great Britain was about to withdraw a portion of the troops from this Dominion, and leave us in a great measure to depend upon our own resources. But we apprehend few were prepared for the sweeping change in the relations which Great Britain has determined to sustain towards Canada in a military point of view. It was expected that having thrown off the swaddling-clothes of infancy and assumed the dignity and position of manhood, Canada should assume something of the responsibilities of that position—should no longer lean upon and depend upon the mother country for means of defence. But it was hardly expected, in view of the present complicated relations between Great Britain and the United States, in view of the existence of an armed organization on the other side of the line, whose object is avowedly to make war upon Canada in revenge for some fancied wrong England has inflicted upon Ireland, that we would at once be left with but a handful of British troops, and that we would be obliged to maintain the naval force upon the Lakes if any such force were needed.

It appears from the despatch alluded to, that the Home authorities have determined upon withdrawing nearly all the troops from the Dominion, leaving 2,000 men at Halifax which is to be kept as an Imperial station, and distributing over Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick 4,000 men, which force by the way, "must be considered a temporary arrangement," for it is distinctly stated that "it will soon be unnecessary to maintain any English force in these Provinces, beyond what may be required for the training of the militia and volunteers, and the maintainance or schools of instruction." And it is further stated that we will be obliged to pay all expense of such instruction. The question of maintaining the force of the Canadian Rifles is also referred to, and we are gravely told that "it becomes a matter for the consideration of the local government whether that corps or any part of it, useful as it is believed to be, for local purposes shall be maintained at the expense of the colony." Lastly, the question of maintaining the naval force on the Lakes is considered, and we are told that "Her Majesty's Government are willing that the three Imperial gunboats should, if the Canadian government desire it, be employed this summer on the lakes or on the St. Lawrence; and it will be for them to consider what further armed naval force, not prohibited by the terms of the arrangement, should be kept up in Canadian waters. But Her Majesty's government are of opinion that this must be done entirely at the expense of the Dominion."

Canada is ready and willing to fight its own battles, to tax itself heavily to defend its shores from invasion, to raise a large force to protect its own honor as well as that of the mother country, and in case of a conflict between the United States and Great Britain, would cheerfully send its last man to fight side by side with British troops in maintaining the supremacy of the British Empire. This disposition has already been made manifest in a manner which must have convinced the Home authorities of the unswerving loyalty and attachment of the people of Canada to the mother country. But is it not too much to ask us in view of the peculiar relations at present existing between the two countries, that Canada should be subject to the whole expense of maintaining a military force necessary to be kept up in such a time as this?

County Court.

SIXTH DAY.

MONDAY, June 14, 1869.

BONESTEEL vs. TURLEY & BARTLETT.—The defendant Bartlett owed the plaintiff a note of $40, and sold him a buggy for $90, receiving $40 in cash and his note for the balance, when under an execution in favor of Turley against the goods of Bartlett; the buggy was taken from Bonesteel who is trying to recover the price of the buggy; the defendant claiming that the sale of the buggy to Bonesteel was a sham sale. Verdict $92 25 against defendant, Turley. L. Wallbridge, Q. C., for plff. Ross, Bell & Holden, for deft.

BURSHAW vs. REED.—The Plaintiff under a contract cut and drew for the Defendant a quantity of saw logs; when the Defendant measured the logs and made up the quantity by Scribner, tendering the Plaintiff $20 60 balance due him. The Plaintiff claiming $67 10 as balance still due him according to his measurement. Verdict for Plff.

Flint & Robertson Attorneys, R. P. Jellett Council for Plff. L. Wallbridge Q. C. for Deft.

PITCHATHLY vs. CASEY.—Action on promissory note and covenant of Mortgage. When the case was called on the Defendant's counsel withdrew his defence and consented to a verdict for the Plaintiff of $374 20.

Diamond & Dickson for Plff. J. D. Amour, Attorney. L. Wallbridge Counsel for Deft.

CUSHMAN et. al. vs. REID.—Action on a note made in Chicago, payable in American currency at ten per cent interest. Defendant did not appear at the trial, having given notice to the Plaintiff that he would apply to set aside the verdict on the ground that the case had been entered for trial at the County Court from a superior Court without an order. Plaintiff relying upon his right under the "Law Reform Act," proceeded to take a verdict for the value of the note in Canadian currency. Verdict for Plaintiff for $747 53. Jellett & Jellett for Plff. Lemon & Patterson for Deft.

BROWNLEE vs. BELAH.—This is a case of damage. The Plaintiff contending that he rented from Defendant the premises that he at present occupies; he (Defendant) to do certain repairs by the first of April, 1867, which repairs were not done until the next November, and the Defendant claims damages for the expense incurred on account of the repairs not having been done. The defendants plea, 1st. No promise alleged. 2nd. The fulfilment of the agreement. Mr. Jellett objected to the case being tried in this Court; he contending the Defendants claim as per particulars was more than $200, and the Court had no jurisdiction to try unsettled accounts to a greater sum than $200. The Judge ruled with the Defendant, thereupon Plaintiff's counsel appealed to amend his particulars. The Defendant objected and the Judge said he would allow the amendment on terms, which Plaintiff refused, and the case was thrown out, leaving the parties to commence a new suit in the Superior Court. Jury discharged.

Flint & Robertson, Attorneys; R. P. Jellett, Counsel for Plff; Bull and Diamond, for Deft.

TAYLOR vs. KING.—An action on promise brought by Plaintiff against Defendant to recover $5 20, the amount paid Defendant for a Piano, which was never received. The Defendant's plea was no value received, as the $300 was paid in Gold Mining Stock.

Jellett & Bro., for Plff; Dean & Gilbert, for Deft. Verdict for Plaintiff $5 20.

SEVENTH DAY.

WEDNESDAY, June 15th.

IRWIN vs. SHEWAN & MCCURRY.—This case was brought to collect $84, the price of Sewing Machines ordered by the Defendants. The Defendants did not appear at Court to defend. One of the Defendants in his plea denied the indebtedness, and the other Defendant claimed that the machines were bought in consideration that the Defendants were to be the sole agents for Guelph. When the jury returned to Court the Plaintiff elected to take a non-suit before the jury gave their verdict.

Lazier & Lazier for Plff.

—Ordinary risks have grown tame. A New York scrobat now allows himself to be blindfolded and put in a sack, and then throws a sommersault on a tight rope high up in the theatre.

—In the days of Queen Bess the fashionable people set out for the theatre at three o'clock p. m., and the most important part of a dramatic representation was expected to be over by dark.

—The guano on the Chincha Islands is nearly exhausted. In a few months these islands will be deserted, and then all the ships engaged in the trade will make for the Guanape Islands, five degrees south of the equator. There is a supply of guano at Baker's Island, in the Hawaiian group estimated at from 250,000 to 2,000,000 tons.

Parliament Yesterday.

Several Returns were brought down and several Bills were advanced a stage.

Mr. Rose announced that he would announce the Banking policy of the Government to-day.

In answer to Mr. Holton, Sir John A. Macdonald said it was not the intention of the Government to increase the salaries of the judges of Quebec.

Mr. Harrison inquired whether any, and if any, which of the following Acts of the Parliament of Ontario have been disallowed:—Law Reform Act of 1868; Act to secure the independence of Parliament; the Act for the payment of increased salaries to the Judge of the Superior Court of Law.

Sir John A. Macdonald said that no Acts of Ontario had been disallowed.

Mr. Galt gave a synopsis of the correspondence between the American Government and the Government of the Dominion, relative to the defence of the frontier in the years 1863 and 1864, showing that Canada had been put to great expense in defending the frontier of the States from the attacks of American refugees in Canada, and also showing that the American Government had acknowledged the prompt action of Canada on all occasions to preserve a strict neutrality towards our neighbors. He stated that the correspondence would be published in Blue Book form. He hoped an extra number would be struck off.

Mr. Bodwell made a motion to the effect that it is desirable that in future the Parliament of this Dominion should be called to meet for the despatch of business on some day not later than the 15th of February each year. He explained that the most inconvenient season of the year for assembling Parliament was the spring and the early part of summer. Professional gentlemen, and lumberers, and agriculturists, in particular, found it inconvenient to be away from home in the spring and summer.

Sir John A. Macdonald suggested that he would add the words "Except when the exigencies of the public service prevent it." Suggestion accepted, and motion carried.

Mr. Oliver moved the adoption of the report of the select committee on American silver currency.

Mr. Rose suggested that the last clause prescribing the course of action for the government should be struck out. This was done and the report, which merely affirmed that government interference was necessary to remove the evil, was then adopted.

After recess the Speaker took the chair at 4 o'clock, as there was no quorum, only seventeen members being present.

Gold in Mallorytown.

The Montreal Gazette contains the following account of the recent successful operations in gold mining at Mallorytown. The mill to which allusion is made, and which has proved so efficient is from the Iron works of G. & J. Brown, Belleville. The Gazette says:—Mr. Ira Mallory having ascertained some time ago that an extensive ledge of granite rock contained gold, caused excavations to be made at a point about one mile and a half from the Mallorytown Railway Station. A company has been formed with a capital of $150 000, consisting of Mr. Mallory and several other gentlemen in the vicinity, for the purpose of mining and crushing the rock and extracting the gold. An engine of 40 horse power, a ten stamp mill, and amalgamator, have been purchased, and the crushing of the rock began about two weeks ago. The first week being mostly spent in starting the machinery, only about 25 tons of rock were crushed, which yielded $5 per ton. Another lot of about the same quantity was crushed, which yielded about $11 per ton.

In three crushings the rock was taken indiscriminately as it was taken out, and all crushed, and the yield of about $400 from fifty tons was very satisfactory. As the mining proceeds, it will probably be found that portions of the rock contain no gold, which will of course be rejected before the crushing, and thus a higher amount of gold per ton be obtained for the labor expended. The gold is diffused through the rock, and is invisible to the naked eye, and quite free from sulphur and iron. A yield of $8 per ton will pay this company well, while the actual results are likely to be considerably above that.

"The Company intend to prosecute the works vigorously as an industrial enterprise. Much credit is due to Mr. Mallory for having gone so far in developing it. We shall be glad to learn of its future success.

The Council then adjourned until 2 o'clock to-morrow.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

SIR,—Among other excellent provisions, the Fisheries Act contains one which I may venture to express a hope that our active Inspector of Fisheries will cause to be carried into effect upon our beautiful rivers. It is enacted (31 Vic., Cap. 60, Section 12,) that, "Every dam, slide, or other obstruction across or in any stream, where the Minister may determine it to be necessary for the public interest that a fish-pass should exist, shall be provided by the owner or occupier with a durable and efficient fishway, to be maintained in practical and effective condition in whatever place, and in whatever form and capacity as will admit of the passage of fish through the same, (which place, form and capacity, any Fishery Officer may by written notice determine), under a penalty of four dollars ($4,00) for each day during which any such obstruction remains unprovided with a fishway after three days' notice in writing to the owner or occupier thereof." It is quite evident that the dams on the Moira prevent the access of the fish from the Bay to the spawning grounds or breeding places in the upper part of the river, whereby many millions of eggs of various kinds of fish are every season prevented from being hatched, and the public are deprived of a cheap, easily obtained, and peculiarly wholesome source of food supply; for instance, that lordly and delicious fish, the salmon, has been completely banished from our river, though they annually pass its mouth in large numbers to the lower waters and ocean of the Trent. By attending to this matter as he has done to the saw-dust nuisance, the Inspector will confer a boon upon the community along the whole extent of the Moira and its tributaries, and an especial favor upon the lovers of the rod and line.

PISCATOR.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

SIR,—I have no doubt but that you are aware that Mr. Massey, one of our Belleville police force, was out of town on Sunday, 30th May, with the intention of making a raid on our hotel-keepers throughout a portion of this County, for selling 'forty-rod' contrary to the statutes of Ontario. I believe he has been fortunate enough, after guzzling the fluid himself to his heart's content at the various places he called at, to have eight or ten of the jolly sons of 'Bacchus' arrayed in sackcloth before the 'Pachs of many tails' to answer the charge of non-compliance with our laws. Now, Mr. Editor, it is generally supposed that I am a party concerned and in connection with Massey. Although I was very kindly asked by Mr. Massey to accompany him for a drive in the country, to look at the growing crops, &c., and pilot his dear self the nearest way to the village of Frankford by way of O'Brien's Bridge—little did I think what he meant, nor yet did I ever surmise such a thing as that he was on an informing tour. I wish the public to understand that I know nothing whatever of Mr. Massey's real intentions at the time. I am a young man, and well known to the parties implicated, but God forbid that I shall ever enter into the business of a whiskey informer. By inserting the above in your valuable paper you will much oblige

Yours truly,
DAVID BRADFORD, JR.

Belleville, June 14th, 1869.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

SIR,—Having through the frankness of a medical friend been made aware that my name was mixed up with a ludicrous and bungling case of Surgery, I beg through the 'Daily Intelligencer' to correct the impression and simply say that I never saw the patient. A Mr. Wallace called on me in a great hurry, saying his wife had swallowed some artificial teeth, and requested my services. I told him if the accident had really happened, the best thing to be done was not to interfere with the case. He subsequently came in a frantic state, saying she had swallowed fourteen teeth and the frame-work in which they were set; that I could not give credence to. My opinion proved to be correct, as the teeth were subsequently found on a table in the same room. After this wonderful discovery had been made, it was ascertained that the woman had swallowed a fish-bone, and had mistaken it for her missing set of teeth. It certainly looks like a very fishy or scaly case, and one that I repudiate having anything to do within toto. I am, sir,

Your obedient servant,
JAMES LISTER, Surgeon.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless, landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squabble over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each one them had been bequeathed a case of Royalian Bitters.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, June 14.—The Times this morning, in a leader on the prospects of the Irish Church Bill in the House of Lords, says:—The week opens with all the elements of a dramatic situation. The action is great, the motive is great, and the end is certain. We are convinced that the Bill will pass its second reading. Every day it becomes clearer that England, after an agitation of 80 years, will voluntarily undo an injustice so long perpetrated. The scandal of the Irish Church establishment is at the root of the alienation of Ireland. Its destruction is an act of peace and unity between jealous and disunited races." The Times reviews the speeches of leading men of the Opposition, and concludes by such arguments:—"Justice may be, is often delayed, but not when a nation is awake to the sense of its denial. We feel assured that justice will not be delayed. By yielding now, the reputation and authority of the House of Lords will be established firmer than ever."

DUBLIN, June 14.—A great public demonstration was made here last night against the passage of the Irish Church disestablishment Bill.

OUTRAGES IN IRELAND.

CORK, June 14.—A shot was fired from the street on the office of the Constitution to-day. No one was injured. No clue to the perpetrators of the act has been obtained.

A collision occurred in Shandon yesterday between the police and the mob; three of the former were injured. Several of the rioters have been arrested.

THE PARIS RIOTS.

PARIS, June 14.—The city is now entirely tranquil. The Official Journal to-day publishes an account and explanation of the recent disturbances. It assures that the Government had received accurate knowledge beforehand of what was to take place, and was thereby enabled to take proper and sufficient precautions to prevent the agitation from assuming a more serious aspect. Officers of justice are in possession of the facts which provoked and accompanied the outbreaks. It is their duty now to trace the authority. The journal praises the patience, firmness and moderation of the troops, and congratulates the Government on the suppression of disorder without bloodshed, thus fulfilling its mission for the protection of humanity.

THE LATEST.

MASSACRE OF ENGLISHMEN.

LONDON, June, 14.—Letters from Dunedin dated April 15th, give accounts of the massacre of three Englishmen with their wives and families, and forty friendly natives by the Maori Chief. Troops were dispatched to the settlement, and on their arrival found only the ruins of homesteads which had been plundered and burnt. The settlers in the country were fleeing to the town for protection.

SEIZURE OF THE MARY LOWELL.

LONDON, June 14.—In the House of Commons to-night, Mr. Otway said the facts in the case of the seizure of the American brig Mary Lowell, were in dispute. The United States Government asserted that the vessel was seized in British waters while the Spanish Government maintains she was captured on high seas beyond British jurisdiction. Mr. Otway stated that the evidence adduced by Spain was in the hands of the law officers of the Crown, and it would be impossible to produce papers before the House at present.

FROM PRUSSIA.

BERLIN, June 14—It is understood the Prussian Government contemplates increasing the number of furloughs granted to the army next winter.

THE EXPELLED GENERAL.

PARIS, June 14.—Gen. Cascott, expelled from France, will sail for New York on Friday next.

FROM RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 14.—An Imperial ukase has been issued authorizing the establishment of an International Bank of Commerce, with a capital of five million roubles. The enterprise is promoted by both Russian and foreign Bankers, who will take up all the shares.

IRISH CHURCH BILL IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS—IMPORTANT DISCUSSION.

LONDON, June 15.—In the House of Lords during the discussion on the Irish Church Bill, Lord Granville regarded the idea that the Bill would prove destructive to Protestantism, as a myth. It would only deprive the Crown of the nomination of some Bishops, abolish Ecclesiastical Courts, and remove specific endowment. It would not interfere with the doctrine or discipline of the Church. He warned the House against opposing national will, and reminded them that the severest blow they had received was in the rejection of the Reform Bill and the final compulsion they were under to pass it.

The Archbishop of Canterbury said the Board of Bishops intended to do what there conscience considered wisest and best. On the decision of the House of Lords depended the issue affecting the Churches of Ireland and England as well as of the destiny of the Empire, and he would not agree with a blind acception or rejection of the Bill, and he was glad to hear that amendments to it would receive consideration. The cure of Ireland was perpetual religious and political agitation. He was not desirous of supporting either. He believed that those who urged rejection really desired to see the Bill pass for years. He was attached to the Irish Church; he believed that a blow injuring it would injure the English Church; he therefore desired to give a calm and serious consideration to the Bill, and to amend any to make it a good measure. The earnest endeavor of the House of Lords, containing Bishops of Church and of Law and of the landed interest of the realm, would be of more avail than any agitation excited by Members of Parliament.

Earl of Carnarvon was unable to understand how protestantism could stand if the sovereign lordship of the Church of Rome, but thought they were bound to recognize merits of freedom from State control; which had for so long a period been a kind of slavery. He repudiated the idea that the Bill would sent the fate of the English Church. He did not ever think it an act of spoliation as it distinguished private from corporate property, but on the wisdom of disendowing a corporation which was fulfilling duties of quasitemable character it was right to state that where the disestablishment granted partial disendowment must follow the monetary question. He argued liberality and generosity, and in conclusion advised the House not to reject the Bill, a majority of the Commons he said demanded its passage, but a minority of the House and country commended its consideration to committee.

The Bishop of Derby opposed the Bill on the ground that it ignored the Queen's supremacy, and would in the end bring the country under dom ation of Papal tenure. The House without taking any action at 12:15 ad journed.

NEW ALBION HOTEL,

McGILL STREET,
MONTREAL, CANADA.

THE "NEW ALBION HOTEL," the largest Hotel in Montreal, has just been opened under the most favorable auspices.

The name has "Old Albion" has been long noted for the strict attention paid to it's numerous guests, the "New Albion" takes the position—First class Hotel and is really that of the highest respect, except the charges, which better suit the ideas and requirements of the majority of travellers, than many of the so called, "first class Houses;" which deserve the title more through the amount of their charges than their merits.

Already the crowded state of the "New Albion" promises for it its future career; everything associated with its construction has been carried out with artistic taste and system attic correctness.

The large Hall, commodious office, spacious Reading room, convenient Dining, Coffee, Waiting Room, etc., etc., on the ground floor; and the Reception Room and Suite of PRIVATE APARTMENTS and THOROUGHLY VENTILATED LADIES' PARLORS, on the second floor, will further do no credit in forwarding the hot summer season. And, what is an exception to the general Rule in Hotels, the Bedrooms are all well ventilated and lighted, there not being a dark room in the House.

Being centrally situated, on the widest and healthiest Street in Montreal, commanding a Magnificent View of the River St. Lawrence and the Victoria Bridge on the left, and a full view of the Victoria Square with its numerous "Jets d'Eau" and Mount Royal on the right, it cannot fail to commend itself to the travelling public.

From its situation on Mcgill Street, being great thoroughfare from the commercial centre of the City to the Railway Depots.

It cannot fail to be, as the "Old Albion" has always been a strong favorite with the Americans of Canada.

Notwithstanding the very large outlay in building and furnishing the house, the old price of $1 50 per day will not be departed from.

We, therefore, bespeak for ourselves a continuance of the patronage so liberally accorded to us during the past twelve years.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no remedy has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is its superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of Colds—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to subdue every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From Rev. Francis Lobdell, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

Belleville, May 19th, 1869. d15

Divorce Case of G. W. Jones.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

Mr. EDITOR.—I send you the short speech I made on the second reading of the Bill entitled "An Act for the relief of George W. Jones," as also the report of the select committee to whom the Bill was referred, both of which please publish with this.

The Report bears me out in the speech I made against the reception of the petition on the 30th of April last, as it did not state any place at, or any period subsequent to A date of a legal ceremonial Marriage, and so has ended the first case in which the respondent has appeared, by council or otherwise, before the old Legislative Council or the Senate, or where both sides of the question has been taken into consideration.

The House adopted the Report yesterday without a dissenting voice.

Mr. Walker, of the firm of Walker & Pennock, Barristers, &c., of Ottawa, appeared before the select Committee for the respondent, and was complimented by the Chairman for the amount of information he brought to bear against the proceedings.

I am much pleased with Mr. Walker in the diligence which he manifested in working up this case for the respondent, and can safely recommend him for his research, as a person well qualified to take charge of the case of any respondent who may be so unfortunate as to require the services of counsel at the seat of the Dominion Government.

Yours, &c.,
BILLA FLINT.

Ottawa, June 11th, 1869.

SPEECH.

Hon. Mr. MCCREA moved the second reading of the Jones Relief Bill, and explained that the necessary formalities had been gone through as the law required.

Hon. Mr. FLINT would like to make a few remarks before the Bill was read a second time. When the petition was first before the House he had taken objection to it. That petition was ruled out of order on the 30th day of April, and at that time it was thought that by the rules of the House the petitioner would have to bring a new petition which would, like the former, have to lie on the table one day, and the next day come for reading. But instead of this the same petition was received by the House, an affidavit having been obtained of the necessary notice being served upon Mrs. Jones. This took place during his (Mr. Flint's) absence, and looked like taking an undue advantage of his not being in the House to protest against what appeared to him to be an informal proceeding. He did not wish to blame the House, but he did not think the petition should have been presented in the absence of the person who spoke against it. He had not changed his opinion in regard to the petition, he did not think it was a proper one to come before the House as it was incorrect, and it required more in it to make it such a one as the House should receive.—He was not going into the merits of the case, because it was to go before a committee of gentlemen well qualified to enter upon the merits of the case. He hoped every indulgence would be given to Mrs. Jones, as she is left destitute with no one to apply to but her friends. He stood there to see justice done in the premises. He had employed counsel, as had the other one on the opposite side, and they will be prepared to come before the committee when the case is entered upon. He was not going to oppose the second reading of the Bill, but he made these few remarks in order to set himself right in the matter.

The motion was then carried upon a division.

The Hon. Mr. CAMPBELL, from the Committee to whom was referred the Bill intituled, "An Act for the relief of George W. Jones," presented their report.

Ordered, that it be received, and the same was then read by the Clerk, as follows:

"The Select Committee to whom was referred the Bill entitled "an Act for the relief of G. W. Jones" reported that, having heard said G. W. Jones and respondent his wife, and the several witnesses, and having considered their evidence and other testimony adduced, they are of opinion that the party from whom a divorce is sought should have such specific information given to her as to the criminal intercourse with which she is charged as will enable her to prepare her defence and they are of opinion that the petition and the preamble of the bill referred to them, which embody all the information communicated to the respondent in this case, do not sufficiently set forth the circumstances upon which such a divorce should be granted, particularly in not stating any place or any period within which the alleged criminal intercourse took place, thus exposing the whole married life of the respondent to attack, and rendering it almost impossible for her to be prepared with exculpatory evidence; and they humbly recommend that they be discharged from further consideration of the Bill."

Committee Room, A. CAMPBELL.
9th June, 1869. Chairman.

On motion of the Hon. Mr. Campbell, seconded by the Hon. Mr. Mitchell, it was ordered, that the said report be taken into consideration by the House to-morrow.

WHAT CANADA WANTS.—There is sound sense in the following from the Brantford Courier (Ont.) What Canada requires is that we should so frame our tariff and trade regulations as to offer a premium to all our own local interests. Stop the transit of goods in bond between the United States and Canada by differential duties. Permit goods by Halifax and the St. Lawrence to come in at lower duties than by any other route, and lower still if brought by Canadian vessels.—Give us Cromwell's navigation law, by which he transferred the commercial supremacy of the seas from the Dutch to the English.—Aid our coal and salt and petroleum and fish interests. Aid our manufacturers to control the markets, not only of Canada and the North West, but aid them by their profits to establish a foreign trade. Aid our merchants to ship lumber, flour, boots and shoes, and other goods to South America and East Indies, and to return with profitable cargoes of coffee, sugar, teas and spices.

—Nearly all the ladies of the society of friends in Europe have discarded the peculiar dress of the sect.

—Nine out of every ten American newspapers sent to France are, it is said, confiscated in the French post office.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in tablets, at the expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we not adopt this system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medicine proportionately than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, King's evil, white swellings, tendency to insanity, pimples or humors of the skin. It purifies the stomach, liver and bowels, it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without resorting to the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. THOMPSON'S Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints and Indigestion. Their excellence is due to the fact that it is a mild and safe invigorant, corrective of the digestive powers; a good alterative tonic for ordinary invalid purposes; a prompt and efficient remedy for those diseases produced by sickness, or excesses as well as an agreeable and pleasant beverage at meals. They will clarify, and straighten hair, if their unique is not impoverished or by deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6. OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success in diseases caused by colds such as cold chills, fever and fever, bilious fever, fever in the pelvic limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may be said that there is no disease that can be used for all purpose for which it Pain Killers or Relievers are used, and in many cases where they have failed, such as dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, fevers generally, or congestion of any kind it can be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 25 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicines in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one dollar over regular price of similar preparations.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS

OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore P. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the Royal University of Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Turino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Giannelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1868, is without an exception, the most delightful, salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America. It is a Sovereign remedy that has for 12 years found a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Druggists of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Wine Merchants, Druggists and Grocers in Canada.

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 16, 1869. No. 39.

A Turkish Slave Market.

A correspondent of the London Star, writing from Smyrna, describes his visit to a slave market. He says:—

A party of us, under the leadership of our guide, passed along Frank street, and then turned up through the bazaars and the Persian market, and on till we passed through a kind of gateway, in which several Turks were smoking. Here we found a moderately sized square, surrounded by a number of low buildings; a few Turks were lounging about, and two or three boys, as black as ebony, stood eyeing us with considerable curiosity; but there was nothing to indicate the existence of a slave market—it might have been a market for any other commodity. Our guide, however, went to a door in the corner of the square, about which several people were standing, and some black boys were engaged in packing Turkish butter in tubs.

We entered, and there we found ourselves in the presence of a slave owner and his slaves. The man stealer was a stout sensuous, lazy-looking Turk, about sixty years years of age, sitting wrapped up in costly Eastern robes, with the everlasting pipe in his mouth. The slaves consisted of five women and two boys. Three of the women were comparatively young, ranging from nineteen to twenty-four years old, the other two about thirty, and the boys about thirteen or fourteen. Two women were sitting Turkish fashion on a broad divan or platform, and the boys were packing butter. All were black as ravens. We were asked to sit down, and coffee was immediately brought to us. One of the girls was remarkably good-looking, had on a good dress, and with necklace of beads and long gilt ear-drops, made some pretension to style, and the others were very passable as negresses from our European standpoint of beauty. Another Turk came in and took his place near the proprietor and spoke a few words of English.

We asked through our guide what was the price of the best looking of the girls.—The old men told us £300, and ordered her to stand up, which she immediately did, showing a fine form and an erect position. When I took out my pencil and paper to note the price, they all seemed to exhibit considerable interest in our visit; the price of the other two young woman was £250 each, and that of the two elder, who were strongly built, £300 each, and that of the two boys £350 each. Two of the women stood up for our inspection. Our guide, who was a native of Smyrna, told us that if we purchased any of them, we should receive papers from the Government, transferring the property to our possession, and it was with difficulty that we could make them understand that the papers would be of no value as soon as the slave and master reached the British dominions.

After giving them a little "backshish," we left the dirty den with our hatred of Eastern abominations very much intensified. I confess, as an Englishman, I can feel nothing but shame for our national friendship for the Turkish Government and its institutions. We are told that after the Crimean war slavery disappeared; but it is gradually spreading again; and in a country the Government of which is as corrupt as rottenness can make it, and whose officers, from the highest to the lowest, bow blindly before the power of "backshish," it it is no wonder that slavery should spread.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 13.—I purposely kept my letter open till I reached this city, so that I might make further inquiries into the subject. I have conversed with a gentleman long resident in Constantinople, and well acquainted with Turkish institutions and laws. He assures me that a large slave trade is carried on; that the Circassians sell their children for the Turkish market, and scarcely a ship arrives from Trebizond or Egypt without bringing some; that some of the Circassian girls will at times fetch one thousand pounds, but the Africans are very cheap; that if a gentleman wants to buy a slave, he sends for a slave broker, who takes his order for the kind of article that he requires, and then goes to the depots where they are kept. My friend accompanied me yesterday to the principal streets in Galata, where the Circassians are kept, and showed me the establishments with thickly trellised windows. The African market is across the Golden Horn, in Stamboul. He, however, informed me of two modifications in the system. The first, that the traffic is only legal among Moslems, that Franks can neither buy nor sell, and secondly that the slave has the option of refusing to go with any buyer; but if the slave does not object, a legal transference is made, and the fate of the unfortunate finally sealed. The first modification does not alter the principle of the wicked system, and the second cannot be of much value to a poor lonely, friendless victim, whose body belongs to a mercenary, and it may be cruel speculator.

—Robert Munro, aged 22 years, was drowned in Toronto Bay on the 14th inst., by the upsetting of a boat.

Medical Science in Japan.

An interesting account of the art and science of medicine amongst the Japanese is given in one of the American journals, by Dr. Vedder, an American physician, and now the chief medical adviser to the Prince of Negato. The Japanese doctors hold very good position in society. They originally derived their knowledge from the Chinese, but of late years the diffusion among them of Dutch literature has done much to their enlightenment. There are no schools of medicine in Japan, but the son scrapes together as much information as he may be able from his father, or the native practitioner dispenses his empiricism to the two or three pupils that generally reside with him. An attempt is being made to establish a school at Nagasaki, in connection with the hospital there, but it is likely to fail from the fact that dutch is the only foreign language allowed to be used. Physicians carry a couple of swords, and special respect is paid to their opinions, though they are generally paid for medicine alone; and, as may be imagined, the latter is ample and bulky. Sometimes, however, a special honorarium is given to the doctor at the close of the treatment of a case. Very little is known of anatomy. There are native names for veins, nerves, lymphatics, and the principal anatomical structures, but topographical anatomy is entirely unknown, since dissection is not permitted. The Japanese are quite in the dark with regard to physiology. The liver they imagine to be the seat of courage. The doctor feels the pulse of both wrists at the same time, in the belief that there is a heart on either side of the body. There are works on tumours in Japan, the contents of which have been dictated by fancy or the traditional accounts of disease. Foreign medicines, nevertheless, are in use nowadays, iodine of potassium, Hoffman's anodyne, quinine, henbane, phosphoric acid amongst others. These having been introduced into the country by the Dutch, who were likewise successful in importing the practice of vaccination, some thirty-five years ago, which, however, is very loosely followed notwithstanding smallpox everywhere prevails. The Japanese have no conception of such a thing as preventive sanitation. Skin diseases are propagated largely in the public baths. Midwives are the ordinary accoucheurs, but seek the aid of the native practitioner in cases of difficulty. Operative surgery is wholly unknown; fractures are treated by leeches and plaster. Crutches and slings are unheard of, but the moxa, bleedings, shampooing, and acupuncture are freely employed. It can be understood after this sketch what an alarming amount of life must be sacrificed in Japan to the prevailing ignorance of the first principles of the healing art. Tooth drawing is an exquisitely torturing operation. The tooth is first loosened with a mallet and a short stick, and then extracted with the fingers. Pieces of the jaw often come away attached to the tooth, a circumstance we are not disposed to gainsay.

Red River.

We find the following items of interest in the Nor Wester of the 23rd ult;

The enquiry as to whether "A steamboat could go from Lake Manitobah into the Saskatchewan? and as to whether the Saskatchewan is navigable above the Grand Rapids?" was answerd in our last issue showing the feasibility of connecting the Red River with the Saskatchewan at Cedar lake, "far above the Grand Rapids, Rapid Roche at Rogue and Cross Lake Rapids), by a system of Short Canals:—1st from Portage la Prairie to Lake Manitobah about 12 miles; 2nd, from Lake Manitobah into Lake Winnipegoosis about 12 or 15 miles; and 3rd, Lake Winnipegoosis with Cedar Lake, an enlargement of the Saskatchewan, which latter canal would be comparatively inexpensive to cut, and then the way would be clear to the foot of the mountains for river boats, and the perilous navigation of Lake Winnipeg, and the formidable Grand Rapids would be entirely avoided. We have not the least doubt but public attention will be directed to the development of so practicable and easy a communication with the immense plains of the Saskatchewan country, as soon as our government is instituted.

It is estimated by competent judges that a much larger area of wheat has been sown this spring than ever before in this Settlement. It is almost all up and is growing finely; and according to present appearances we shall be blessed with a bountiful harvest and our Canadian friends need be under no apprehension of encountering either starvation or famine prices should they emigrate hither this season. Come along and see our beautiful land and the productions of it. Make your homes among us, and by industry you will soon enrich yourselves and our common country.

Here is a characteristic mot of a French mother-in-law: "What affords me pleasure in the death of my little grandson is the grief which it will cause to my son-in-law."

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16.

GENTLEMEN'S GOODS.—The attention of the reader is directed to the announcment of new Goods at Geo. Ritchie & Co's.

CANADIAN SECURITIES.—Advices by last mail from Europe state that the Canadian securities were again in request at advanced rates. The Government sixes were quoted at 104 to 104½.

THE HARBOR.—It will be seen by the proceedings of the Town Council, that the sum of $2,000 was appropriated to complete the dredging of the harbor.

FIREMEN'S PIC-NIC.—Notwithstanding the cold and rain, there were a goodly number attended the Firemen's Pic-Nic to-day. Had the weather been favorable the steamer would have been crowded.

RAILWAY TRAFFIC.—The Railway Traffic Returns for the month of May show a gratifying increase as compared with those of last year. The business done by the Grand Trunk Railway was $90,000 in excess of that of May, 1868.

ENLARGED.—That spicy, cleverly conducted newspaper, the St. Catherines Daily Journal has been enlarged to the same size as the Daily Intelligencer, and appears in a new dress. We are glad to see this evidence of our cotemporary's enterprize and prosperity, and hope he may meet with increased success.

SOCIAL.—In Mr. Wild's Church to-morrow evening, at half past seven o'clock. Reading by Mr. H. Gardiner. Then refreshments served, after which Mr. Peter Barkey, by special request, will deliver his beautiful Composition entitled "The Canadian Dead." This is the closing social of the season. The public are cordially invited. Admission 12½ cents.

STRAWBERRIES.—A New York paper of late date says: Yesterday the supply of strawberries was the largest ever known in this city. The rain checked the sale of them and the market was perfectly glutted. Prices touched ten cents a quart for good qualities. In the afternoon the common average sold as low as six cents. Whole cargoes of Norfolk berries were thrown into the river.

CANADIAN SOCIETY.—The meeting of the Canadian Society, to receive the report of the committee appointed to prepare rules and regulations for the government of the Society will be held in the Town Hall, at eight o'clock, on Thursday, to-morrow, evening. A full attendance is earnestly requested as matters of importance will be discussed.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION.—A meeting was held at Hambly's last night for the purpose of organizing a Rifle Association in town. Capt. Nunn was called to the chair, Lieut. Bogart acting as Secretary. After some conversation it was resolved that two or three of the most eligible places for a rifle range should be visited, and also that the Rifle Associations in the principal towns in the Province should be communicated with as to by-laws, mode of working, &c. Another meeting will be held in the course of a few days, when the committee will report progress. The association is intended to be open to civilians as well as volunteers, and the promoters of it are sanguine of its success.

CROPS IN PRINCE EDWARD.—From parties who have had good opportunity of judging, we learn that the appearance of the crops in the adjoining county is most promising.—There is but little fall wheat sown, but what there is looks exceedingly well. The principal cereal, Rye, has been extensively sown, and presents a splendid prospect—the heads well filled and of good size. Hay, of course, promises to be an abundant crop—everywhere—and the prevailing wet weather is especially adapted to those parts of the county where the soil is shallow. Altogether we think we may safely congratulate our neighbors in a bountiful harvest, that is "good time they may enjoy it."

Presbyterian Synod.

On Monday a considerable portion of the Session was taken up with reports and routine.

The report of King's College showed,

Expenditure during the year.....	$6,227 77
Ordinary fund—income.....	5,663 85
Amount of expenditure over income.....	$ 563 92
Balance due to Professors.....	1,444 83
Total indebtedness.....	$2,008 75

Thirty-three congregations contributed the sum of $1,274 46 to the special fund to pay Mr. Young's salary. The Board also reported that they had considered the question of the endowment of the College, but had come to no definite decision, and referred the matter to the consideration of the Synod.

—Newspapers from all parts of Western Canada speak of the crops as promising one of the most abundant harvests ever gathered.

Voting Straight.

"We are glad to see our two Representatives, Messrs. Brown and Bowell, voting straight against the Government, on the question of a further indemnity to Nova Scotia, on an amendment by Mr. Blake, affirming the principle that the Dominion Government had no right to alter the terms of the Union Act. Their names appear with such staunch "Grits" as Blake, Cameron (Huron), Dorion, Holton, McFarlane, McGill, McKenzie, Ross, Young, &c. What next?—Hastings Chronicle, June 10th."

It no doubt seems inexplicable to some that Messrs Bowell and Brown have the independence to vote against the Government whenever in their judgment they deem it wise and proper to do so. The policy of the Grits has always been a blind devotedness to party, and if one of its members dared to vote against the dictum of its leaders, his doom was sealed. The black letters of the organs would either bring him back to the fold, drive him into the ranks of the Conservatives, or consign him to oblivion. Members of that party could talk glibly about their independence, could read eloquent homilies on the evils of a slavish adherence to political parties, but when the division list was called, when their leaders stood up and voted yes, every member of the party stood up and voted yes, and when they voted nay, not one of them kept his seat. That has been, and is the policy of the Grits, and woe to him who har the temerity to vote in opposition to the commands of his leader.

It is not strange, therefore, that the straight forward, independent course of such men as Messrs. Brown and Bowell, should be looked upon with astonishment by the subservient followers of Messrs. Geo. Brown & Co. The fact is, these gentlemen, while desirous of giving a cordial and generous support to the present Administration, are not fettered and bound. If the measures of the Government are such as they can honestly and conscientiously approve of, they will support them. If measures are brought forward by the ministry or the opposition which they believe are not for the good of the country, they will oppose them. Messrs. Bowell and Brown will go as far as any party men should go in supporting the present Administration. They have done so in the past, and no doubt will be found to do so in the future. But if it is expected they will give a blind support to any Administration, those expectations are not likely to be fulfilled. They went to Parliament to be something, more than mere voting machines. Their record thus far has been one of which they may justly be proud, and which has received the universal approval of their constituents. They prefer to give the present ministry their support, and would no doubt be willing to sink personal considerations rather than it should be defeated. But when asked to give their approbation to such obnoxious measures as the Militia Bill, the Great Western Railway Bill, the Newfoundland Resolutions, the Bill granting additional subsidies to Nova Scotia in violation of the Constitution, they prefer to do what they think is right, even if the Administration should go to the wall. In the course they have pursued, they have given these various questions an intelligent consideration, and while we have no doubt they would have preferred to sustain the ministry they found they could not do so without doing violence to their own judgment, and acting contrary to their own convictions of what was just and right; they therefore chose the latter course, and their names are found recorded with such "staunch" Grits as Mackenzie, Young and Holton. Would that we could say those Grits were actuated by the same high-minded motives.

Town Council

WEDNESDAY, June 15th.

A special meeting of the Council was called to take into consideration the advisability of making a further grant of money to dredge the harbor.

PRESENT.—His Worship the Mayor, and Messrs. Kelso, Starling, Watters, Tannahill, Holden, Kennedy and Henderson.

The Committee on harbor and town property handed in the following Report:—

"That the Chairman of this Committee be empowered to take immediate steps to enforce the payment of all moneys due the town from rear or otherwise. That there being a misunderstanding regarding the northern boundary of the water lot leased by Mr. Simpson, the Committee refer the subject to the Council for adjustment, and recommend immediate action, so that said boundary line be satisfactorily disposed of.

"That the measurement of the dredging of the Ferry slip is 85 yards, according to the measurement of J. Paul, the Chairman is instructed to pay, as per resolution of the Council.

"That the Committee feeling the importance of having the harbor thoroughly dredged, and as the grant already made is insufficient to complete the work, recommend that the further sum of $2,000 be granted for that purpose.

"That a By-Law imposing harbor dues be framed as soon as possible, so that a revenue may be derived to cover the expense of dredging the harbor.

"That the petition of the inhabitants of Big Island be referred to Mr. Bogart, the lessee of the Ferry, requesting him to report how he could accomplish the request of the petitioners.

"That six buoys be placed in the channel to mark the same, and be under the care of the Harbor Master, so that they can be removed at the close of navigation and replaced at the opening.

Report received.

The Council went into Committee of the whole on the Report of the Committee on Harbor and Town property. Mr. Kennedy in the Chair.

The first and second clauses of the Report were submitted and adopted.

Upon the motion for the adoption of the third clause, respecting the dredging of the harbor, Mr. Tannahill explained that if by this further grant they could put the harbor in thorough repair, they could by imposing harbor dues create a revenue of $2,000 to the town, and thought the present contractors would continue to work at the old rate.

Mr. Holden wished to know where they intended to do the dredging, and what guarantee they had that it would be done at the old rate and where the money was coming from to pay for it.

Mr. Tannahill stated the channel west of the Harbor was clear, but the channel to the east was not wide enough and thought the money could either be raised by Debentures for one year, or by using some of the street money.

Mr. Watters objected to the money being taken from the street fund, but thought it might be raised by Debentures as the money was much needed, for if the harbor is left as it is the saw dust will wash back again.

Mr. Holden said if the money was raised by Debentures, they would have to be paid within the year and thought the taxes for the present year were already sufficiently high and would move in amendment, to the effect that it was improper to appropriate $2,000, without knowing at what rate the work could be done, and the source the money would be derived from; and wished the further consideration of the subject laid over until the next regular meeting of the council.

Mr. Watters stated they would be too late if they left it over till the next meeting, as the dredge was going away before Saturday.

Mr. Kelso thought if immediate action was not taken the money already expended was about as well as lost, but considered less than $2,000 would answer.

Mr. Holden wished to know if there would be any contract laid before the council, and if the Mayor would sign a contract without it was first laid before the council.

The Mayor stated he would sign no contract without the consent of the council, and thought the Chairman of the Committee on Harbor and Town property should be authorized to contract at the old rate.

Moved by Mr. Kelso, seconded by Mr. Starling, that the Chairman of the Committee of harbor and town property be authorized to make a contract for the further dredging of the harbor at the present rate.—Carried.

The Report of the Committee on harbor and town property was then adopted.

Committee rose and reported. Report adopted.

Mr. Tannahill introduced a By-Law to enforce harbor dues, which was read the first time.

Moved by Mr. Starling, seconded by Mr. Kelso, That the Council resolve itself into a Committee for general purposes.

A warm discussion ensued, Messrs. Holden and Kennedy contending it was improper to call a meeting for a special purpose and resolve into a Council for general purposes. The motion was withdrawn.

Mr. Starling stated that Mr. McKenzie was here from Montreal with the hose, and as they had been tried he thought the matter should come up at once, and would like to hear the Chief Engineer on the subject.

Mr. Taylor, who was present, stated that they had tested 850 feet of the hose; first with a seven-eighths nozzle and a pressure of 133 lbs; then with a three quarter nozzle and a pressure of 140 lbs; he then added some of the old hose and run the pressure up to 170 lbs., when one of the couplings of the new hose drew off, and several started; then took off the new hose and put on 150 feet of the old hose, and run the pressure up to 220 lbs., and did not start the couplings.

To Mr. Starling.—We usually put on from 100 lbs. to 110 lbs., water pressure at fires. Mr. McKenzie stated that makers guaranteed the hose to stand 150 lbs. pressure, but he would only allow 140 lbs.; it only stood a few minutes at 170; do not put on the pressure so sudden at fires.

To Mr. Holden.—It is not as good as the old hose.

To Mr. Kelso.—I mean the hose and not the couplings. The hose is not as good as the sample sent, as it has been damaged by rubbing.

To Mr. Starling—The couplings are on the same principle as those we have. Some couplings started at 125 lbs. pressure.

Mr. Watters thought the committee on Fire, Water and Gas should test the hose and report to the council.

Mr. Starling thought the Engine never should be run as high as 170 lbs. pressure, and thought the hose had stood more than the same length of hose ever was made to stand, and would move, seconded by Mr. Kelso, that the hose be accepted from Mr. McKenzie.

Mr. Holden said the first hose had been sent back, and Mr. MacKenzie was notified that no other hose he would send would be received and the contract was therefore at an end. Mr. McKenzie's agent had been notified since the hose arrived that they would only be tested at his own risk, and as the engineer says the hose is not good he would be sorry to see them forced upon the town.

Mr. Henderson thought it strange they should stand in the position they did, and would like the matter referred to a committee, but thought that a test of 170 lbs. was not a fair test on such a length of hose.

Mr. Holden moved, seconded by Mr. Kennedy, that the hose offered for sale by Mr. McKenzie be not accepted till the Committee on Fire, Water and Gas report upon it.

Mr. Starling said Mr. McKenzie only wished fair play, and would remedy any defect that existed.

After a short discussion, Mr. Henderson moved, seconded by Mr. Kelso, that no action be taken to-night in the matter, and the Committee make a full report at the next regular meeting, what has been done. The hose to remain until then, at Mr. McKenzie's risk.

Mr. Starling's motion was then withdrawn.

Mr. Henderson's motion was then put and lost.

Mr. Holden's motion was then put and carried. The Council then adjourned.

Parliament Yesterday.

After some discussion about the "Count Out" the evening previous, Mr. Bowell moved that as the printing committee had declined to amend their former report, as recommended by the House, it be resolved that the contract for printing be awarded to Mr. L. B. Taylor; for the binding to Messrs. Hunter, Rose & Lemieux, and for paper to Mr. James Barber, of Georgetown, and that the joint committee on printing be instructed to prepare contracts for the due performance of the work in accordance with the conditions attached to the form of the tender.

The motion was carried and ordered to be sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. Rose said before the order of the day was called he would fulfil his promise made yesterday to state conclusion at which the Government had arrived in reference to the banking resolutions. The House would remember that when these resolutions were introduced the government stated that they were desirous of giving every opportunity both to the House and the country to correctly judge and appreciate their bearing. The government believed then as they did now that the opinion of the country was in favor of an uniform and safe currency. With reference to the existing bank charters, the conclusion at which the government had arrived was this: The charters generally expire on the 1st of June, 1870, and continued then till the end of the next session of parliament, but some four or five charters expired in the month of January, 1870, and thence to continue them till the end of next session of parliament, so as to put all the bank charters precisely on the same footing. In the meantime there would be another session of parliament, when the government would again bring before the House the consideration of these resolutions.

Sir John A. Macdonald moved concurrence in the amendments made in committee to the act respecting insolvency.

An amendment to the effect that criminal offences under the act be tried by the ordinary jury courts in all the same as in the other Provinces of the Dominion, was lost on a division of 63 to 76.

Another amendment that the Bill should apply to all parties, whether traders or non-traders, except that in the case of non-traders there shall be no voluntary assignments under this Act, was lost on a division.

The House then went into committee and amended the bill by making it obligatory on boards of trade to appoint an official assignee. The committee rose and the section as amended was concurred in.

On motion of Mr. Magill the House again went into committee and amended the 35th clause by giving creditors power to oversee and revise the acts of inspectors.

The amendment was reported and the clause as amended was concurred in.

Mr. Harrison moved an amendment to the 140th clause providing that the registration of marriage contracts, &c, shall be obligatory on all the provinces as well as in Quebec. Lost on a division.

Mr. Blake moved an amendment to the 20th clause, providing that the issue of the writ of attachment be rendered uniform throughout the Dominion instead of by an affidavit of one witness in Quebec and two in the other provinces.—Lost. Yeas, 62; nays, 80.

Mr. Blake objected to the 93rd clause as too stringent. He proposed in amendment, "That any member of a firm or company having a knowledge of the intention to incur a debt under fraudulent circumstances, should be held guilty of fraud and puniched accordingly."

Another motion to the same effect was substituted and the bill committed. Amended accordingly and reported.

LIVERPOOL, June 15.—There seems to be no diminution in the tide of emigration to America. For the week ending last Saturday evening, over six thousand men, women and children, left this port alone for New York.

THE FEELING IN PARIS.

LONDON, June 15.—The Times to day says the restoration of tranquility in Paris was the only event which could be reasonably anticipated when the citizens were indifferent and the military force immense. It rejoices that the inevitable result was obtained without bloodshed. Nothing now hinders the Emperor from adopting that constitutional course which the elections invite. Another battle in the streets might be made a cause for the indefinite postponement of the public liberties. Paris, on the second thought has chosen the more moderate among the liberal candidates for the legislature, and by her indifference rebuked attempted violence. There can be no excuse now for holding the city hostile to conciliation.

THE ALABAMA QUESTION.

The Times to-day has another article on the Alabama claims. It says that it cannot be denied that the work of building the Alabama was done knowingly by British builders in a British port. Though after the event it may be regretted that such proceedings were lawful, it is almost certain that they were not unlawful; but it would have been better for both countries if the government had seized the Alabama. The justifiability of this step was doubtful, but the refusal is the offence which England committed and which she is ready to submit to any tribunal as soon as the Americans desire.

THE LATEST.

THE IRISH CHURCH BILL—IMPORTANT DEBATE IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS —NO ACTION YET.

LONDON, June 15.—In the House of Lords to-night a great number of petitions against the passage of the Irish Church Bill were presented.

Lord Cairns gave notice of a question to ascertain if the Government intended to endorse the opinions contained in Bright's letters to the Birmingham meeting.

The debate on the Church Bill was then resumed.

Lord Grey said he felt the circumstances under which the Bill was sent to this House, but he urged the Earl of Harrowby to reconsider his motion for postponement in view of the consequences which might result should it be carried. If the Bill before them passed at all, it must be materially amended. The House now had, but might hereafter not have, the power to remodel the measure. The result of the late elections was emphatically in favor of the Bill, and it would be imprudent for the Lords to oppose it. If they were successful for a moment, they would soon have it returned, perhaps in a more objectionable form. He urged the consideration of amendments in fair conciliatory speech, and exhorted the House to accept the measure with dignity, and not incur the odium of the people by a collision with the House of Commons, which represented the deliberate opinion of the nation.

The Archbishop of Dublin complained of the hard, ungenerous and ill-bred manner in which the Church was treated, and denounced the Bill. He thought if it was necessary it might have been less severe.

The Bishop of St Davids said the sanctity of property was not to be considered, but what were the best means to apply in view of the public need. He disapproved of the excessive demonstrations of Protestantism, and said he valued its ascendency not as it was political and religious, but as it was moral and beneficial. He considered the Irish Church an anomaly. It had failed to fulfil its mission, and promoted discord. He urged the passage of the Bill to its second reading, and afterwards the introduction of amendments.

The Duke of Richmond explained that though he felt the injustice of the Bill, after great hesitation he had resolved to act in opposition to his party. He was sensible of the inefficiency of popular agitation, and was convinced that the constitutional course was to pass the Bill after amending the objectionable clauses, and leave the responsibility of accepting the amendments or withdrawing the Bill on the Government.

The Bishop of Peterborough opposed the the Bill, and appealed to the House to act fairly and impartially, and not humiliate themselves by abdicating abjectly their constitutional position, beseeching the nation to spare them because they were utterly contemptible and useless.

Speeches were made against the Bill by Lords Chilconsford and Clancarty, and in favor of it by Lords Fermoyne, Dr. Grey and Monck. The House, after a protracted debate, at one o'clock again adjourned without action on the Bill.

PERFECTLY QUIET.

PARIS, June 15.—The city has been perfectly quiet all day, and all signs of uneasiness and excitement have disappeared.

NOT TRUE.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—It is not true as announced by the Cable, that in the official communication, Minister Motley intimated that the American Administration concurs in the reasons which led the Senate to reject the Alabama Claims Treaty. He was instructed to explain the circumstances attending the rejection of the treaty without committing the Government to any line of policy.

NEW ALBION HOTEL,
McGILL STREET,
MONTREAL, CANADA.

THE "NEW ALBION HOTEL," the largest Hotel in Montreal, has just been opened under the most favorable auspices.

Whilst the "Old Albion" has been long noted for the strict attention paid to its numerous guests, the "New Albion" takes its position as a first class Hotel, and is really first class in every respect, except the charges, which better suit the ideas and requirements of the majority of travellers, than many of the so called, "first class Houses," which deserve the title more through the amount of their charges than aught else.

Already the crowded state of the "New Albion" promises well for its future career; everything associated with its construction has been carried out with artistic taste and scientific correctness.

The large Hall, commodious office, spacious Reading room, convenient Dining, Coffee, Wash Room, etc., etc., on the ground floor; and the Reception Room and Suite of SITTING ROOMS FURNISHED and THOROUGHLY VENTILATED LADIES' PARLORS, on the second floor, will form no small luxury during the hot summer season. And, what is an exception to the general Rule in Hotels, the bedrooms are all well ventilated and lighted, there not being a dark room in the House.

Being situated on the widest and healthiest Street in Montreal, commanding a Magnificent View of the River St. Lawrence and the Victoria Bridge on the left, and a full view of the Victoria Square with its monument to "Jacques Cartier" and Mount Royal on the right, it cannot fail to commend itself to the travelling public.

From its situation on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare and commercial centre of the City it cannot fail to be, as the "OLD ALBION" has always been a strong favorite with the Merchants of Canada.

Notwithstanding the very large outlay in building and furnishing the house, the old prices of $1 50 per day will not be departed from.

We, therefore, bespeak for ourselves a continuance of the patronage so liberally accorded to us during the past twelve years.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of COLD—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From Rev. FRANCIS LORDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

I'm Growing Old.

BY JOHN G. SAXE.

My days pass pleasantly away;
My nights are blessed with sweetest sleep,
I feel no symptom of decay,
I have no cause to mourn or weep;
My foes are impotent and shy,
My friends are neither false nor cold;
And yet, of that, I often sigh—
I'm growing old!

My growing talk of olden times,
My growing thirst for early news,
My growing apathy to rhymes,
My growing love of easy shoes,
My growing hate of crowds and noise,
My growing fear of catching cold,
All tell me, in the plainest voice—
I'm growing old!

I'm growing fonder of my staff,
I'm growing dimmer in the eyes,
I'm growing fainter in my laugh,
I'm growing deeper in my sighs,
I'm growing careless of my dress,
I'm growing frugal of my gold,
I'm growing wise, I'm growing—yes—
I'm growing old!

I feel it in my changing taste,
I see it in my changing hair,
I see it in my growing waist,
I see it in my growing heir;
A thousand hints proclaim the truth,
As plain as truth was ever told,
That even in my haunted youth
I'm growing old!

Ah me! my very laurels breathe
The tale in my reluctant ears;
And every boon the hours bequeath
But makes me debtor to the years;
E'en Flattery's honeyed words declare
The secret she would fain withhold,
And tell me in "How young you are!"
I'm growing old!

Thanks for the year whose rapid flight
My sombre muse too gladly sings;
Thanks for the glasses of golden light
That dint the darkness of their wings;
The light that beams from out the sky,
Those heavenly mansions to unfold,
Where all are blest, and none shall sigh;
I'm growing old!

A Railroad Ride over the Alps.

The correspondent of an English newspaper gives the following account of a ride over the Mont Cenis Railway.

The route is over the Paris and Lyons Railway from Paris to Macon, 275 miles directly south. At Macon the road branches southeasterly through Aix la Bain, celebrated for its mineral waters, and Grenoble, for the manufacture of gloves, dyes and liquors, made by the Capucine monks, to St. Michel, 148 miles from Macon, and 485 miles from Paris. The road from Macon to St. Michel passes through a rich farming country and among the Jura mountains, which lie to the north of the Alps. The Jura range does not rise to any great height, as seen from the railway, but the road running between the hills and along the banks of a small river makes an agreeable change from the level country between Paris and Macon, and introduces voyagers to a country and people which are not to be seen in any other portion of the French Empire; I allude to Savoys and the Savoyards who inhabit this wild and mountainous region, now annexed to France. After passing through the Jura range the road runs through a level country for about 50 miles where the Alps begin to show their numerous heads, which are covered with snow at this season of the year. The railway terminates at St. Michel, where the passengers leave his comfortable compartment cars and are compelled to stow themself away in rough mule constructed quarters, for here begins the new railway over Mount Cenis. The mountain railway track is three feet and seven inches wide.

The cars are made short that they may the more easily run round curves which are frequent while ascending and descending this mountain. One locomotive will draw three or four of these cars filled with passengers and their baggage, besides the mails. The distance up the mountain from St. Michel to the railway is twenty-nine miles, and the rise about six thousand five hundred feet above the level of the sea.

At Modama 10 miles above St. Michel, is the point where the tunnel pierces the mountain, and up to which point the new railway is being constructed. This tunnel when completed, will be nine miles in length coming out of the southern side of the mountain at Bardon, Neckie, near Sassa in Italy.

Frankness.

Be frank with the world. Frankness is the child of honesty and courage. Say just what you mean to do on every occasion and take it for granted that you mean to do just what is right. If a friend asks you a favor, you should grant it if it is reasonable if it is not, tell him plainly why you cannot. You will wrong him and wrong yourself by equivocation of any kind. Never do a wrong thing to make a friend or keep one; the man who requires you to do so is dearly purchased, and at a sacrifice. Deal kindly and firmly with all men, and you will find it the policy which wears the best. Above all, do not appear to others what you are not. If you have any fault to find with any one, tell him, not others of what you complain. There is no more dangerous experiment than that of undertaking to do one thing to a man's face and another behind his back. We should live, act and speak out of doors, as the phrase is, and do what we are willing should be known and read by all men. It is not only best as a matter of principle, but as a matter of policy.

The Appetite for Tobacco Destroyed.

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed Tobacco.

ORTON'S PREPARATION!

ESTABLISHED 1866.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for tobacco, no matter how strong it may be, in any case the use of which it fails in any case the money will be refunded. Perfectly safe and harmless. It is almost impossible to break by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature firmly rooted. With the use of it it is not. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that Orton's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for tobacco, and leaves the person as free from any desire for it, as before he commenced its use. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobacco and through these upon the blood thoroughly cleansing from the system and thus allaying the unnatural cravings for tobacco after using Orton's Preparation. Recollect it is warranted.

The time taken to effect a cure by the use of this Preparation varies slightly in different persons, the average time being about Five days. Some have no desire for Tobacco after using the Preparation Two days.

The Health and Purse of every Tobacco user in the country will loudly exclaim THE CURSE OF TOBACCO.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have used Orton's Preparation for the purpose of destroying the appetite for Tobacco, and can assure those who are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparation will certainly destroy the appetite for Tobacco quickly and permanently, without any bad effect upon the health, and without creating an appetite either for the Preparation or any substitute.

☞ Beware of counterfeits and all articles purporting to be like this, of the same name or otherwise. The great popularity of Orton's Preparation has induced unprincipled persons to attempt palming upon the public counterfeit and inferior articles. Purchasers will please order directly from the proprietor, or his duly authorized agents.

The price of Orton's preparation is $2.00 per box, or three boxes for $5, sent by mail to any part of the country, securely sealed from observation, with passage paid on receipt of price.

How to Send Money by Mail.—Enclose the amount in a letter, seal carefully, register the letter, and take a receipt for it of your Postmaster. Money sent by mail as above directed at my risk. An Agent wanted in every town.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in boxes, at an expense of at least three times what they now cost?

If not, who should no longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are more readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have on our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Mr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. THOMPSON'S Stomachic Bitters.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6. OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killer or Relief are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, tetanus complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 50 cents per package.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS

OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Ferri, Prof. of Chemistry in the R. University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by which time Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1868, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Dining Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, THURSSDAY EVENING, JUNE 17, 1869. No. 40.

Britain's Honor and Britain's Strength.

(From the Halifax Reporter.)

The reader of Kinglake's "History of the Crimean War" cannot but remember how conclusively he proves that the Cobden and Bright party in England—the "Peace-at-any-price men"—were responsible for that terrible war. They had made such a noise with their doctrines, their statements had been so vociferously cheered at public meetings, that the Czar concluded that England was done with swords and guns forever, unless her own soil was invaded. He was rudely wakened from his false dream, but only when too late to recede from his war policy. Our American neighbours have been several times in danger of making a similar mistake. They take to the amusement of pulling the old lion's beard, and tossing him. The lion bears patiently while he thinks they are joking; but when they mean mischief, and any appearance of earnestness offers,—when he is really insulted or injured,—there can be no mistaking his voice, his flashing eye, and his majestic tread; and then his assailants wisely seek to "stroke him down," and soothe the wrath they have evoked.

The Americans will not forget for some time the sensation which they felt when they learned how Great Britain received the rejection of the Alabama Treaty and the publication of Sumner's wild speech. It was evident that burning indignation throbbed in every British heart and flashed from every British eye. The national honor was at stake; and there is no sacrifice too costly to maintain that pure and unsullied. There is no power in the world with which Great Britain would be so reluctant to go to war as the United States. She would make great concessions and sacrifices for the sake of peace; but it is now as clear as noonday that she would not hesitate an hour to do battle for her honor, even with the United States—that she would not relinquish a foot of soil, or pay a shilling, or offer one syllable of apology, under the insulting threats of Sumner, or the insane ravings of the drunken Chandler.

Foolish things have been said about the defence of Canada, and the necessity of giving up the Dominion whenever the first gun was fired. This is nonsense. Britain could send her gunboats up the St. Lawrence, guard Quebec and Montreal, keep sole possession of the lakes, and make Canada untenable to an enemy, however strong. The enemy might capture and keep large tracts in the far west, but these would have to be relinquished whenever peace came.—England would no more give up Canada, or any portion of her possessions on this continent, under foreign pressure, than she would give up the Isle of Wight.

There was a time when Great Britain stood against Europe in arms and held her own. It was a dreadful struggle, and none but madmen would wish to see the contest renewed. At that very juncture the United States also engaged in a war against the mother country,—happily the last between the two people. If Britain did not shrink from war when she had to bear the brunt of a terrific conflict on her own coast, we may be certain she would not shrink from it now in a righteous cause. The old heroic fire still burns in the British breast.—The old flag is dear to thirty millions of freemen. There is no sacrifice which they would not make to maintain its honor.

Happily the enlightened and sensible classes in the United States understand the temper of the mother country. They remember the Crimean war. They know something of the conquest of India. They have taken note of the ten millions spent in the Abyssinian war, simply to save the honor of the country. History may be searched in vain for a parallel to this last British war; and wise men throughout the civilized world have studied it carefully and are studying it still for the sake of the light it throws on the British character.

The politicians, and to a large extent the people of the United States, were under the impression that since the war in the South was ended and the great breach in the Union superficially healed, the nations of the earth stood in constant dread of the power and majesty of Brother Jonathan.—John Bull was supposed to feel a full share of this awe. This false and dangerous impression has been dissipated, and we are glad of it. The threat of war will be less lightly uttered when it is seen that it may be taken in earnest, and that war is preferred to dishonor. We are glad to learn from the almost unanimous utterances of the United States press that there is nothing they desire less than war, and least of all, war with England. All parties, except insane and truculent Fenians, desire peace. Threats, brag, and wild talk, are intended only to tickle a foolish rabble.—The leaders are shrewd enough to know what a frightful calamity to the nation a war with England must prove. They know that the "conquered flag" of the late Confederacy would speedily be flung to the breezes of the South, and that all the might of Europe would combine to make "Secession" a lasting reality. The truth is that the condition of the South will compel the United States to keep the peace with Great Britain for a generation to come.

Fenianism in Ireland.

It is evident that Fenianism in Ireland is not yet dead. Now and then by the cable, we hear of an outrage in one part of that unhappy Island, a brutal murder in another, an attack upon some prominent clergyman's house in another, and the seizure of arms and ammunition in other part, showing clearly that that abominable organization has still emissaries plotting and doing mischief wherever and whenever they have opportunity. By the Nationists mails, which are to the 3rd inst., we have some further particulars respecting the operation of Fenianism in Ireland. The Cork correspondent of the London Globe telegraphs that Fenian manifestoes have been extensively posted and circulated in that city, beginning with "God save Ireland;" our prayer is heard." The bills urge that all Orangemen and Protestants shall be speedily put to death, and that Erin shall be conquered, and have restored to her sons all the land and property of every description in the possession of Protestants. According to the bill there are to be no more churches for Protestant worship in Ireland. They are to be swept away; but the British army must be spared if it does not go against the Irish people. They are appealed to desert the British standard and take arms with the Irish in defence of their faith and their fatherland. Should any constable who is a member of the Church of Rome arrest his brother Catholic for having arms, he is threatened, when the country becomes free, to be put upon the public works, and to be deprived of any share in the division of the property. Those constables who interfere with the rebellious movement are to be shot down, and the Catholics are exhorted to get arms by any means, and to shun the Protestants their "enemies."

Another manifesto denounces as "brutal" the treatment of O'Donovan Rossa in a British prison, and calls upon the Irish people to rise and avenge the wrongs of their brothers. The police have torn down the manifestoes, copies of which have been sent to the Government.

A Mother.

There is something in sickness that breaks down the pride of manhood; that softens the heart and brings it back to the feelings of infancy. Who that has suffered even in advanced life, in sickness and despondency—who that has pined in a weary bed in the neglect and loneliness of a foreign land, but has thought of the mother that looked on his childhood, that smoothed his pillow and administered to his helplessness? Oh, there is an endearing tenderness in the love of a mother to her son that transcendeth all other affections of the heart. It is neither to be chilled by selfishness, nor daunted by danger, nor weakened by worthlessness, nor stifled with ingratitude. She will sacrifice every comfort to his convenience; she will surrender every pleasure to his fame, and exult in his prosperity; and if adversity overtake him, he will be dear to her by his misfortune; and if disgrace settle upon his name she will love and cherish him; and if all the world cast him off, she will be all the world to him.

Population of the Globe.

There are about 1,288,000,000 souls of which 360,000,000 are of the Caucasian race.

552,000,000 are of the Mongol race.

190,000,000 are of the Ethiopian race.

170,000,000 are of the Malay race.

1,000,000 are of the Indo-American race.

There are 3642 languages spoken, and 1000 different religions.

The yearly mortality of the globe is 33,333,333 persons. This at the rate of 91554 per day, 3793 per hour, 60 per minute. So every pulsation of our heart marks the decease of some human creature.

The average of human life is 33 years.

One-fourth of the population dies at or before the age of 7 years.

One-half at or before 16 years.

Among 10,000 persons, one arrives at the age of 100 years, one in 500 attains the age of 90, and 1 in 100 lives to the age of 60.

Married men live longer than single ones. In 1000 persons 63 marry, and most marriages occur in June and December than in any other months of the year.

One-eighth of the whole population is military. Professions exercise a great influence on longevity. In 1000 individuals who arrive at the age of 70 years, 43 are priests, orators or public speakers; 40 are agriculturists, 33 are workmen, 32 soldiers or military employees, 27 professors, and 24 doctors. Those who devote their lives to the prolongation of that of others die the soonest.

There are 335,000,000 Christians.

There are 5,000,000 Israelites.

There are 60,000,000 Asiatic religions.

There are 160,000,000 Mahommedans.

There are 200,000,000 Pagans.

In the Christian Churches:

170,000,000 profess the Roman Catholic.

75,000,000 profess the Greek faith.

80,000,000 profess the Protestant.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY, JUNE 17.

We direct attention to the Chingarora Oysters, at Hambly's.

ACCEPTED.—A letter received in Montreal states that the Rev. Ashton Oxenden has accepted the office of Bishop of Montreal to which he was lately elected.

COUNTERFEITS.—Counterfeit four dollar Provincial Notes are in circulation. The bill is a genuine one, altered to a four, very skilfully executed, but easily detected on close examination, especially when it is remembered that there are no Provincial notes of the denomination of four issued.

ST. GEORGE'S PIC-NIC.—Don't forget the St. George's Pic-Nic to Massassaga Point, to-morrow. With the prospect of a fine day, the attendance of the Band of the Royal Canadian Rifles, and the various games and amusements provided, there will, no doubt, be a large crowd. The boat will make three trips during the day. For further particulars see advertisement.

NOT DISALLOWED.—With a great flourish of trumpets, the Globe announced the other day, that the Minister of Justice had disallowed certain Acts passed by the Ontario Legislature. Some of these Acts affected the Courts, and considerable uneasiness was caused by the rumor. Sir John A. Macdonald set the matter at rest, however, the other day, by announcing from his place in Parliament that none of the Acts passed that session have been disallowed. The rumor originated with the Globe. Was it manufactured out of whole cloth, with a view of having a slap at the Premier, John Sanfield McDonald? If so, it's rather dirty business.

At His Dirty Tricks Again.

The Globe's Ottawa correspondent is at his dirty tricks again, and evidently needs another "re-constructing" like unto that he received in the Russell House last winter. Mr. Sandfield Globe sent that following precious tit bit telegraphed from Ottawa by that paper's Ottawa scavenger:

"Messrs. Bowell and Brown, members for Hastings County, shirked the vote to-night on Mr. Holton's motion on the Nova Scotia Subsidy Bill."

If Messrs. Bowell and Brown had not already voted half a dozen times against the Subsidy to Nova Scotia and in favor of the principle affirmed by Mr. Holton's motion, there might be some justification for the Globe's attempt to make political capital because of their absence from the House. But with the record of these gentlemen's votes on the same question in the Globe's columns of the two days' previous, the attempt to injure them will be futile.—If Messrs. Brown and Bowell were absent from the House when the vote on Mr. Holton's amendment was taken, be assured they had good and sufficient reason. They are not the men to shirk a vote, nor shirk the responsibility of whatever votes they may give, as their record at home and in the House most unmist akably establish. It's unfortunate for the credit of the leading newspaper press of Canada, that it should permit its correspondents to slander and villify public men simply to gratify personal spite. We thought the punishment this correspondent received last winter would have served him for the rest of his natural life, but it is evident he delights in such dirty work. Probably he is longing for another lesson of the same sort.

Periodical Literature.

Every epoch in the history of human progress has its own peculiar characteristics, by which it is separated and distinguished alike from those which have preceded it, and from those which are to follow. The most marked character of the present age is the persistent effort to diffuse among the masses, the more exact and higher branches of knowledge, which in former times were confined to the closet of the philosophers or the laboratory of the chemist.

Among the various agencies adopted for effecting such diffusion, the most prominent and most effective is the periodical literature of the day. In its pages the discoveries of the chemist, the geologist, the astronomer, and the mechanician, are chronicled and circulated for the millions. The speculations of the theologian and the metaphysicism are canvassed and explained; the researches of the historian and the traveller are abridged, and their choice passages reprinted; the works of the artist are described and criticized; and the tales, essays, and poems of the best authors are published and reproduced. In this great instructive instrumentality, the daily and weekly papers and journals may be taken to represent the common school; the monthly magazines take the place of the grammar and high schools; while the more ponderous quarterlies occupy the position of the colleges and universities of the more regular educational system.

In proof of this tendency of the age, we have only to refer our readers to the numerous scientific and literary notices which have from time to time appeared in our own columns and in those of our contemporaries; and to the heaps of miscellaneous papers and journals which daily load the tables of the book stores, and the boxes of the post office, to be daily removed by lots of eager readers, to be replaced on the morrow by other serials of equal interest. Especially would we direct attention to the British periodicals, cheaply republished by the Leonard, Scott publishing company of New York; including Blackwood's Magazine, and the London, Westminster, Edinburgh and North British Quarterly Reviews. The first mentioned we noticed at some length a few weeks ago; and at present have only to say that it has been for many years, and still continues to be, the leader and chief of the British Monthlies.

The number of the London Quarterly which now lies before us, contains a review of Mr. Rassam's "Narrative of the British mission to Theodore, King of Abyssinia," in which the reviewer gives a lucid and concise account of the transactions which led to the invasion of that country, and terminated in the storming of Magdala, and the death of Theodore. Geological climates and the origin of species." A masterly summary of the facts and arguments in connection with the Darwinian theory of progressive development, in the form of a review of Sir Charles Lyell's "Principles of Geology," and "Elements of Geology." In this article the reviewer gives so clear and condensed a view of the principles advanced by that eminent geologist, and his reasons for their adoption, as to enable those who have not read, and may never read the works in question, to understand and appreciate their scope and tendency; and to prepare those who may be induced to enter upon their study, to follow intelligently the deeply interesting, though difficult problems of which it attempts the solution. A kindred article is to be found in "The aims of modern Medicine," which explains the modern theory of therapeutics, which has, to a great extent, supplanted the old method of depletion by bleeding, purging, and starvation, under which it has often been affirmed that more patients died of the doctor than of the disease, by a more rational, because a more simple and natural mode of treatment. History is represented by an able article on "The Religious Wars of France." Poetry by "Modern English Poets," and "Dante Alighieri." Politics by "The cost of Party Government," and "The Irish Church Bill;" both of which subjects are ably treated from the writers' particular stand points. The miscellaneous articles are "Travels in Greece," and an excellent and suggestive essay on "Female Education." As a whole the number (April 1869,) is calculated to be equally interesting to the literary and scientific man, to the politician, and to the general reader.

County Court.

This Court closed on Tuesday evening, having been in session eight days.

Mag. McGinnis was sentenced to one month in the Common Gaol for the assault of which she was convicted.

Charles Baker, convicted of Larceny, on account of his extreme youth was sentenced to only one month in the Common Gaol.

The case of the Queen vs. Porter and Orr, on application of defendants, was put over to the Assizes.

The following is the presentment of the Grand Jury :—

PRESENTMENT.

Province of Ontario, }
County of Hastings, } To wit:

The Grand Jury of our Lady the Queen, in accordance with His Honor's instructions, beg leave to report,—That they have carefully considered all the indictments laid before us. The Gaol has been inspected by us; we find it neat, clean and orderly. The prisoners have no complaints to make.

We would call special attention to the fact that as prisoners who have been sentenced to hard labor have not had their sentence effectually carried out, and as the County has incurred a large expense in building a wall around the gaol yard and other improvements, we think that some more effectual means should be taken to carry out the sentences of such prisoners, and we would recommend the Warden and the County Council to procure and furnish the Gaoler with the necessary implements to set the prisoners to work.

We beg to call the attention of the Warden and County Council to the filthy state of the water-closet at the foot of the stairs, leading to the Judges' and Barristers' room, and would recommend the same to be removed to the rear of the Gaol and make a passage thereto, as this is much required for the accommodation of Jurors and others.

We also found that the room used by the prisoners as a kitchen, is more like a dark cell than a place fit for cooking in, and requires to be lighted.

We would also desire to express our thanks to His Honor and the County Attorney, for their advice, counsel and assistance rendered us in the prosecution of our duties.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

(Signed), JAMES O. HUFFMAN, Foreman.

Parliament Yesterday.

Several reports and returns were brought down.

Sir John A. Macdonald moved that there be two distinct sittings every day during the remainder of the session—first, from 3 to 6 o'clock; second, from half-past 7 o'clock till the adjournment.

Mr. Holton thought there was no necessity for the motion; but he would not oppose it. He would ask, however what was the course the Government intended to pursue regarding the election law and other important measures on the paper.

Sir John A. Macdonald said with respect to the election law he would wait till the bill was distributed before announcing his course. The other measures on the paper would be proceeded with.

Mr. Holton—Including the Interest bill?

Sir John A. Macdonald—Yes.

The motion was then carried.

Several Bills were read a third time.

Mr. Rose moved the second reading of the Act respecting Nova Scotia. Hon. Mr. Holton made the following amendment:—"That the bill be not now read a second time, but that it be resolved that in the opinion of this House any disturbance of the financial arrangements respecting the several Provinces provided for in the British North America Act, unless assented to by all the Provinces, would be subversive of the system of Government under which the Dominion was constituted, and if effected as proposed by the bill in favor of one Province without at the same time providing for a general revision and re-adjustment of those arrangements, would be manifestly unjust to the other Provinces." A long discussion took place when the amendment was lost on a division of 52 to 97.

The second reading was then carried on a vote of yeas 50, nays 97.

The bill being in committee,

Mr. Blake moved to add to the 5th clause, making the arrangement a final settlement.

This was accepted by both sides of the House and the bill was reported.

Mr. Killam moved its recommittal to strike out Mr. Blake's amendment.

The motion was lost—Yeas 7, all Nova Scotians; nays 24.

The bill was then read a third time and passed.

The Prince Edward Island resolutions were concurred in, Mr. Rose agreeing to strike out all reference to the proprietary rights in land. The second resolution was amended by making any agreement entered into subject to the decision of Parliament. The resolutions as amended were concurred in.

Several motions for returns were carried, and the House adjourned at 1:35.

Presbyterian Synod.

On Tuesday, after some routine business was attended to, the report of the Presbyteries on the Hymn Book was presented.

Rev. Mr. Melville moved that the report be received, and that the English Presbyterian Hymn Book be adopted.

The Moderator ruled that the report did not state declaratively whether the majority of the Presbyteries were for or against the Hymn Book, and it was absolutely necessary that the yea or nay be clearly expressed. Some were clearly for it, some for the compilation of a new hymn book, one tentotally against it, and some for deferring the matter.

Rev. Mr. Topp moved, seconded by Mr. McTavish, that inasmuch as a majority of Presbyteries have not consented to the adoption of the Hymn, that the matter be dropped for the present.

Rev. Mr. Doak gave notice of this motion: That a committee be appointed to compile a hymn book, consisting of 200 hymns, for the use of the Canada Presbyterian Church, to be discussed at the next meeting of the Synod.

The Organ question came up again in connection with Knox Church Montreal, and after considerable discussion the following motion was carried: Rev. Principal Willis moved to receive the reference, approve conduct of the Presbytery, and while unwilling to impute intentional contumacy, regret that they should have to take a position, having some appearance of a disregard of the synodical authority; declare that the Presbyterian was warranted to expect of all union and congregational conformity to the existing order until it should be modified or allowed in due course.

The number of Ministers on the roll is 715. The number of communicants amount to 46,209 families, of an average of five persons each. Number of young persons in Sunday School, 34,490.

County Council.

SECOND DAY.

WEDNESDAY, June 16th, 1866.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment.

PRESENT:—His Honor the Warden, and Messrs. Rose, Rowe, Finley, Armstrong, Appleby, Anderson, Dacey, Conley, Walker, Chard, Jones, Cummings, Farley, Clapp, Daly, Cross, Caldwell, Emo, Gabourie and Stokes.

The minutes of the former meeting were read and approved.

The Report of the Grand Jury was read.

REPORTS.

The Report of the Commissioner appointed to repair Lonsdale Bridge, was read, stating that the bridge was in a very bad state, and would require about $400 to repair it.

Referred to Committee on Ways and Means.

The Chairman of the Committee on Equalization and Assessment, stated verbally that they expected to get through by evening.

PETITIONS.

From Wm. Carnahan, stating that he had taken the contract to supply the timber for Chisholm's Bridge, but in consequence of the bad state of the roads, and the long distance he had to draw the timber, he had been put to a considerable loss, and hoped the Council would accord such remuneration as they thought just.

Council went into Committee on Roads and Bridges. Mr. Appleby in the Chair.

The Report of the County Surveyor was read.

The petition from Daniel McNeal and others for a grant of $20 to repair the 8th concession bridge between Sidney and Murray, was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means for an appropriation.

Committee rose and reported, and asked leave to sit again.—Granted.

The application of the Sheriff respecting moneys claimed from the County on account of the Administration of Justice, was laid over until to-morrow.

The Reeve and Deputy Reeves from Sidney handed in an application for $900 to pay for the timber to be used in building the bridge at Chisholm's Rapids, and asked for another year to build the bridge in.—Carried.

A discussion arose as to what powers the County had to build a bridge over a government river, when the Warden was empowered to memoralize the government for permission and aid to build the bridge.

Council adjourned till 10 o'clock to-morrow.

—A Kansas City paper contains the following business card: 'Notary Public,—Miss Fanny Lyons, Main St.'

—Another 'last surviving servant of Gen. Washington' died in New Orleans the other day. The name on this occasion was Susan Johnson.

—A singular mirage was seen recently on Lake Ontario. The shore of Canada was visible, buildings on the lake shore loomed up, and vessels appeared sailing keel uppermost.

—A debating club lately discussed the important question, "Whether a cock's knowledge of daylight is the result of observations or instinct?"

—The quantity of wheat sent from Russia to England increases every year. England draws more wheat from Russia than from any other country; more even than from the United States.

The Prince of Wales has become a Freemason. This was announced by the Earl of Zetland at the quarterly communication of the United Grand Lodge of Freemasons. His lordship stated that the Prince had been made a mason by the King of Sweden, and had expressed his wish to join one or more English Lodges. Lord Ketland gave notice of his intention to propose at the next grand lodge that the rank of Past Grand Master be conferred on his Royal Highness.

Here is a nice father-in-law—a man to love and be proud of—Mr. William Cook, a warehouseman, as we say, or a dry goods merchant, as you say, died the other day, left to each of his sons-in-law £50,000 in money, and a fine estate. How they must revere his memory! This most excellent man—I declare I have the greatest respect for him, not having the honor of being his son-in-law—left this world worth £600,000, besides landed property. The greater part goes to his eldest son, the daughters only coming in for little clippings. But £50,000 is £2,500 a year. One can exist on that. Mr. Cook was a most exemplary man. May he sleep in peace, and may fathers in law like unto him be multiplied exceedingly!—London letter.

Business Notice.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless, landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each one him had been bequeathed a case of Roya ualian Bitters.

LONDON, June 16.—Advices from China state that the Chinese Government had apologized for the insult to the French Secretary of the Legation.

PRUSSIA.

BREMEN, June 16.—The King of Prussia has arrived in this city, and was entertained to-day at a banquet, given in his honour by the city. He made a speech, in the course of which he said, if Providence had willed the accomplishment of great and unexpected work through him, it was not by himself alone, but by his companions and allies also that the work was executed. All that was sought by the present generation had not been accomplished; but their successors would gather the fruit and witness the completion of that edifice, the foundation of which has been laid. In conclusion, His Majesty expressed his thanks for the reception he had met, and drank to the prosperity of the city of Bremen.

OUTRAGE IN IRELAND.

CORK, June 16—A party of four men attacked the house of Mr. Gray, a magistrate, at Black Rock, last night. The inmates resisted and fired upon the assailants. One of the latter was mortally wounded, and the others fled, leaving the injured man on the ground near the house.

LONDON, June 16.—News from South America states that a Brazilian iron clad ascended Paraguay to a point near the camp of Lopez, but were unable to proceed further on account of the shallowness of the water and want of coal. An English officer, with permission of the Brazilian Commander, passed through the lines of the allies, with despatches to President Lopez, and returned with despatches from McMahon, United States Minister.

LETTER FROM NAPOLEON.

PARIS, June 16.—The Emperor has written a letter to MARAN, one of the newly elected members of the Corps Legislatif, acknowledging the receipt of a communication addressed to him by that gentleman in the name of his constituents. The Emperor in his reply says:—"The Government is equally able to suppress disturbances and grant liberties, but concession of principles and personal sacrifices are always insufficient in the presence of a popular movement. A Government which would preserve its self-respect ought not to yield to external pressure." The Emperor adds, "I am well assured that these views are those of your constituents, as I am convinced that they are the same which are entertained by a majority of the Chambers."

NEW ALBION HOTEL,
McGILL STREET,
MONTREAL, CANADA.

THE "NEW ALBION HOTEL," the largest Hotel in Montreal, has just been opened under the most favorable auspices.

Whilst the "Old Albion" has been long noted for the strict attention paid to its numerous guests, the "New Albion" takes its position as a first class Hotel, and is really first class in every respect, except the charges, which better suit the ideas and requirements of the majority of travellers, than many of the so called, "first class Houses;" which deserve the title more through the amount of their charges than aught else.

Already the crowded state of the "New Albion" promises well for its future career; everything associated with its construction has been carried out with artistic taste and systematic correctness.

The large Hall, commodious office, spacious Reading room, convenient Dining, Coffee, Wash Room, etc., etc., on the ground floor; and the Reception Room and Suite of SPLENDIDLY FURNISHED and THOROUGHLY VENTILATED LADIES' PARLORS, on the second floor, will form no small luxury during the hot summer season. And, what is an exception to the general Rule in Hotels, the bedrooms are all well ventilated and lighted, there not being a dark room in the House.

Being situated on the widest and healthiest Street in Montreal, commanding a Magnificent View of the River St. Lawrence and the Victoria Bridge on the left, and a full view of the Victoria Square with its numerous "Gems of Each" and Mount Royal on the right, it cannot fail to commend itself to the travelling public.

From its situation on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare and commercial centre of the City it cannot fail to be, as the "Old Albion" has always been a strong favorite with the Merchants of Canada.

Notwithstanding the very large outlay in building and furnishing the house, the old price of $1 50 per day will not be departed from.

We, therefore, bespeak for ourselves a continuance of the patronage so liberally accorded to us during the past twelve years.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries NO REMEDY has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tests ed its virtue by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of Colds—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

FROM REV. FRANCIS LONDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

How to Ripen Tomatoes Early.

First, have stout, tapering plants, by giving them plenty of room, sunlight and air, from the commencement of growth. Then study the habits of the plant, and you will see that from the main stem, it throws out at intervals, three rough leaves and at a later period, from above the junction of these leaves with stem, start out secondary stems, with the same habit as the original. These continue to multiply themselves until you have a large vine, and plenty of small green fruit; necessarily late in ripening, for the reason that force of the plant has been spending in producing vine. Do not wait thus long and think to remedy the matter by slashing off the vine at random, to let in sunlight, as is a common practice, begin with the plant in time, and train it to suit you. The time to begin trimming is just when the first cluster of flower buds begin to appear. This will generally be at the junction of the further fifth leaf mentioned. At this time secondary stems will be seen above (inside) each of all the leaves below. Here begin your work. Pinch them all off at once, and when they start out again as they will, pinch off again until you conquer. You have now stopped the making of vine below this cluster of flower buds and all the strength and juices of the plant are sent upward by pushing forward the cluster of flowers and the secondary stems above. After a little commence your work above, and pinch off all these secondary stems, except enough to leave five or six clusters of fruit. Your vine so long as you continue to pinch off these stems is forced both top and bottom. Keep it tied up to a strong stake, and in due time your vine will be almost completely hidden by a mass of ripe fruit all in the sunlight.—Rural New Yorker.

To make Cows give Milk.

A writer, who says his cow gives all of the milk that is wanted in a family of eight persons, and from which were made two hundred and sixty pounds of butter this year, gives the following as his treatment. He says: "If you desire to get a large yield of rich milk, give your cow, three times a day water slightly warm, slightly salted, in which bran has been stirred at the rate of one quart to two gallons of water. You will find, if you have not tried this daily practice, that your cow will give twenty-five per cent. more milk immediately under the effect of it; and she will become so attached to the diet as to refuse to drink clean water, unless very thirsty; but this mess she will drink almost any time and ask for more." The amount of this drink necessary is an ordinary water pail full each time, morning, noon and night. Four hundred pounds of butter are often obtained from 60 of stock, and instances are mentioned where the yield was even at a higher figure.—Mass. Ploughman.

A Plea for those who Sleep in the Morning.

The fact is, that as life becomes more concentrated, and its pursuits more eager, short sleep and early rising become impossible. We take more sleep than our ancestors, and we take more because we want more. Six hours sleep will do very well for a ploughman or bricklayer, or any man who has no other exhaustion than that produced by manual labor, and the sooner he takes it after its labors is over the better, but for a man whose labor is mental the stress of whose work is on his brain and nervous system, and who is tired in the evening with a day of mental application; neither early to bed nor early to rise is wholesome. He needs letting down to the level of repose. The longer the interval between the active use of the brain and his retirement to bed, the better his chance of sleep and refreshment. To him six hours after midnight is probably as good as two hours before it, and even then his sleep will not so completely and quickly restore him as it will his neighbor who is only physically tired. He must not only go to bed later but lie longer. His best sleep probably lies in the early morning hours when all the nervous excitement has passed away, and he is in absolute rest.

VOL. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 18, 1869. No. 41.

The North West.

Report of the Committee on Immigration — The North-West—Interesting testimony as to its value and resources—A home for Millions.

OTTAWA, June 16.—The second report of the standing Committee on Immigration and Colonization contains a large amount of information relative to the North-West territory, principally from Dawson's evidence before them, which is given in full by way of question and answer.

Mr. Dawson explains that since 1859, when he gave evidence before a Committee of the Legislature, explorations through British territory to the Red River Settlement, had been carried on under his directions, and through the summer of 1865 further examinations were made of the eastern sections of the route, and detailed in his report of the 1st May last. He stated that, under ordinary circumstances, when the communication is opened, and when steamers are placed on the navigable sections, and stages on the remaining sections, Red River Settlement may be reached in two days and a half or three days from Lake Superior. That route would be greater, better, and cheaper than the route through Minnesota, as railroads by that route have only yet reached St. Cloud, which is 500 miles by road from Red River Settlement. But even if the railroads were carried to Pembina, on the boundary line, the route by Lake Superior would still be the best for immigrants, as it would be greatly cheaper, and as there would be so much of the distance by water, and would be over 500 miles shorter. That from what he could learn the population of Red River Settlement was about 15,000; but this does not include a large floating population, who make Red River their headquarters. That he was not aware of any settlement with so small a population so well provided for with educational facilities. There are schools and colleges where the youth of the country may acquire an education not inferior to what may be obtained in any country. There are seminaries for females where young ladies may learn all the usual accomplishments that may be required in any civilized settlement; and as for religious wants, there are clergymen of the various denominations in full proportion to the population. That in reference to convenience for the reception of immigrants on their arrival at Fort Garry, how they could get located or employed, or what means of sustenance could they procure in the interior, there had always been—with the exception of one year—when a plague of grasshoppers destroyed the crop—a superabundance of food for sale at low rates, and more was not raised for west of a market. In the event of improvement going on, there would always be considerable employment for those newly-arrived, who would or should generally drop out of the labor market before another year, to cultivate their own farms, the facility for doing so being so very great in a prairie country at once fitted for the plough, as compared with a wooded country, where a lifetime has to be spent in getting rid of timber and stumps. For the permanent location of settlers, steps should be at once undertaken by the Government for the survey of townships, first in every available position where the nucleus of settlement already exists, and extending from these centres as rapidly as possible. Of course, a proper survey of the lands already occupied should be the first thing undertaken, so as to determine the extent, and set proper boundaries, to be confirmed by sufficient titles under patents from the Crown. The surveys could proceed, and in the meantime such settlers as may reach the country in any way can squat to suit themselves, and their possession will of course be respected, and the pre-emptive right of purchase given to them, as has always been the case in Canada, when the country comes to be surveyed. When the route by Lake Superior is opened, and facile communication with the country established, all the machinery of your Emigration Committee and all other influences combined, put in motion by the Government of the Dominion, or private or provincial associations, cannot crowd into it a greater tide of population than it will be ready to absorb, even if the bulk of the vast mass of European emigration, annually seeking the shores of America, should be directed to it. For the first few years the influx of settlers need only be limited by the capacity of the numbers that may have preceded them to produce food enough for those to arrive in the following year. After that, the produce of the country will sustain any number of immigrants that may come. That the great mass of immigrants should consist of farm laborers, but with as large a population of the better class of farmers capable of conducting agricultural operations in conformity with all the modern improvements. The country being so readily fitted for scientific farming, the more of that class that can be introduced at an early period the better, as the system of cultivation thus inaugurated will give a tone to the operations of the more ignorant, and lead to the speedy development of a higher character of agriculture. The ordinary proportion of mechanics and trades people should follow as a necessary consequence of extensive settlement. That, in reference to obtaining supplies of lumber for buildings and fences, the country from the height of land west of Lake Superior, the water-shed drained by the River Winnipeg and its tributaries, and through which the route to Red River has to be opened presents a vast area in many respects similar to the valley of the Ottawa, and abounding in pine timber and water falls, suitable for saw mills; and this will, no doubt, at an early day, become the seat of an extensive lumber trade destined for the supply of the prairie country to the west of it. For the immediate want of settlers there is an abundant supply of timber in most parts of the country along the banks of the rivers and streams, and which, though of an inferior character for the purpose, will suit very well for the wants of the early settlers, both for fencing and building; and as the country progresses they will obtain a supply from the pine regions, as Chicago and the prairies west of it do now from Northern Michigan. The more westerly regions will, in like manner, obtain a supply from the country along the base, and in the valleys of the Rocky Mountains, which abound in timber of good quality. In reference to grist mills, there is the difficulty abroad in common with all other prairie countries, of great alluvial plains, the waterfalls suitable for the purpose, being of rare occurrence, and over considerable tracts entirely wanting. Instead of the numerous small mills, therefore, which supply the wants of a more broken country, larger milling establishments will spring up, either where there are great powers or by steam; while wind mills, though less reliable, will, in the meantime, sufficiently supply the local wants of the country in parts where the want of water power is the reference to fuel, the settlement will chiefly proceed, in the first place, near the banks of the rivers, where there are generally, at intervals, considerable belts of wood, in various parts of the country. Of course settlers will choose their locations with a view to these facts. Then there is abundance of coal in the country, in some places so near the surface as to be obtainable without coal; and being on the banks of navigable rivers, can be cheaply transported to all parts where navigation reaches. The great coal fields as yet known are found in the western part of the fertile belt towards the Rocky Mountains, along the eastern base of which, indeed, they extend across the Athabaska and Peace rivers, and even further north. Coal has also been found on the tributaries of Red River, though as yet to a small extent; but its mere existence being as yet proved, it is of course impossible to say to what extent further development may show its abundance on the reverse. It is, however, on coal that the country will mainly depend permanently for its ultimate supply of fuel, and there is no need to apprehend any shortcoming in that particular, as the great coal field which extends towards the Rocky Mountains is said to be the largest in the world. In reference to grazing farms, vast herds of buffalo that swarm on the plains, indicate the capabilities of the country for stock raising in a high degree. The mineral resources of the country are yet but imperfectly known. In parts which he (Mr. Dawson) had explored near Rainy Lake and other places, there are good indications of gold and silver. In the vicinity of Lake of the Woods and generally on the east side of Lake Winnipeg, iron, lead, plumbago, &c., are found. Miners in the States at Montana, near the boundary line, have penetrated north of the line, and declared our territory, both on the eastern and western slopes, equally as rich as their mines. In the North West there are large quantities of petroleum, and salt is found near Lake Winnepegoos in almost a state of purity. He described the climate as milder than at Kingston. His evidence is altogether most interesting, and shows that our new territory is unequelled by any in the world.

In answer to a question if he thought the Indian population would become troublesome, he said not, if properly handled, and liquor excluded from the regions where they predominate. The Indian wars in the States were, he believed, chiefly due to the agents of the Government. The Indians with us have heretofore been accustomed to live with the whites in amity, and it will be our fault if that friendly relation is disturbed. There is no powerful tribe in any part of the territory where settlement is likely to progress rapidly for some time to come, and the Indians of the Lakes of the Woods only require to be well managed, to be fast allies. In respect of bringing out the surplus agricultural and mineral products, the first opening of the route would not admit of large quantity of heavy, bulky freight; but as the progress of the route is intended to be progressive till its finished state, with forty miles of rail at the eastern end, ninety miles at western, and continuous navigation between the points, freight of all kinds could be transported by that route cheaper than from any point on the same meridian to the south of the boundary. Horned cattle and horses could also be raised in vast numbers, and transported at a profit, and large quantities of wool could be profitably produced and transported over the route, even in its preliminary stage of development.

TO THE WEST,
VIA
GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.
GREAT REDUCTION IN FARES.

TICKETS issued to all parts; fewer changes of Cars to the principal cities of the West than by any other route.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, JUNE 18.

NOT YET HEARD FROM.—The steamship United Kingdom, which left New York on the 17th of April, for Glasgow, has not been heard from. She is now sixty days out. Great are the perils of those who go down to the sea in ships. She had 23 passengers, besides crew.

CHANGES.—Governor Seymour of British Columbia is dead, and Mr. Musgrove, at present Governor of Newfoundland, has been appointed to succeed him. In consequence of Mr. Musgrove's approaching departure, Mr. Carter, Attorney-General of Newfoundland, who was on a visit to Ontario, has been called home.

LONDON SOCIETY for June, has been handed us by Mr. E. Harrison, bookseller. It is as usual replete with choice and entertaining reading, and is very profusely and richly illustrated. London Society maintains its position as one of the leading English monthlies of its class.

THE PEACE JUBILEE.—A telegram from Boston says: "The inauguration of the Peace Jubilee took place about 2 o'clock, p. m., yesterday. An immense crowd numbered 40,000 was in attendance. The first piece, grand chorale, "A Strong castle is our Lord," was sung by the full chorus with the grand orchestra and organ. This was admirably rehearsed as were the other pieces in which Ole Bull and Parepa participated.

TO RESUME.—The Montreal Gazette learns on good authority that the Royal Canadian Bank will shortly resume payment. Our informant believes this will be within the 60 days permitted by the charter. We hope the information may prove correct, for there cannot be a doubt that this bank with its $2,706,186 of discounts did a great deal to stimulate industry in the Province of Ont.; or that the sudden stoppage of the amount of banking accommodation has caused a great deal of distress.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for July has been received. It is a capital number. The following illustrations are given:—The Wreck; a steel plate—Colored Fashion plate. Six figures—The Signal; a tinted picture—The Exchange; a handsome wood-cut—A large extension sheet of fashions, containing thirty-nine engravings—Four designs of the latest style of bodice, etc—There are also twenty-two designs of useful articles in the work department—A cottage is also given, with the plans—Marion Harland, Ino Churchill, Pique, and Helen Maxwell have first class stories in this number. Published by L. A. Godey, Philadelphia, at $3 a year.

NEW INSOLVENTS.—The new Insolvents gazetted this week are:—William H. Easton, Merrickville; Thomas H. Taylor, Belleville; Louis Damache, St. Raphael; Richard Hoskins Allan, Toronto; Augusta Gerard, Montreal; Edwin L. Shoddard, Chatham; Holmes & Ross, Frelighthurgh; Nicholas Wilkinson, London; John Peel, Carden Township; Henry Stewart, & Alexander Watson, Wellace Township; Noble Johnson, Opa Township; John Weir, Peel; Onesime Thibodeau, Montreal; Theodore Desparders & F. The Interest Question.

It has been found by many that in the hurry to prorogue Parliament, the Interest Bill introduced by the Government would be overlooked, and thrown over until another session, with a number of other measures. The announcement of Sir John A. Macdonald that the Bill would be proceeded with and passed, sets that question at rest. It is too apt to be the case when Parliament is taken up its mind to adjourn within a given time, that measures are hurried through without receiving the consideration they are entitled to, and that others, no matter how important, are carried over until another session. The desire to be relieved from Parliamentary duties is very natural, particularly when it is considered how irksome and tedious and tiresome they become to men who do their duty. What with attending Committees in the forenoon, answering ten to twenty letters a day from their constituents, attending sittings of Parliament from three o'clock p. m. until one and two o'clock next morning, visiting Departments to see after other people's business, and various other duties, the member who faithfully performs these duties does not rest upon a bed of roses, and it is unnatural that he should be anxious to be relieved from them at the earliest possible moment. This anxiety oftentimes leads to the passage of measures without having been properly considered, and to the postponement of others, the enactment of which the country is clamorous for. We trust that in the hurry to adjourn, the Interest Bill will not be amongst the "slaughtered innocents." The country has waited patiently and long for an Act limiting the rate of interest, and now that the Government has been prevailed upon to introduce a measure, which, though, it may not be all that is desired, is a step in the right direction, we hope it will be pressed to its third reading before the House rises.

Parliament Yesterday.

Mr. Mackenzie wanted to ascertain the views of the Government regarding the winding up of the affair of the Bank of Upper Canada.

Mr. Rose replied, stating that up to this time the administration of the estate of the Trustees had been very fair, and until the meeting of the shareholders the Government did not wish to disturb existing arrangements.

Several Bills were read a third time and passed.

The Committee on Banking reported several Bills.

Mr. Rose introduced a bill to extend the charters of certain banks to the 30th of June, 1870, and thence to the end of next session of parliament.

After a lengthy debate on the Intercolonial Loan, the House went into Committee on supply.

Mr. Mackenzie asked whether it was the intention of the government to proceed with the fortifications.

Sir George Cartier said the Imperial parliament had not yet passed an act providing the Imperial guarantee loan for £1,100,000 provided for by the Canadian act, though, as would be seen by the late despatches, the Imperial government was willing to give it.

Mr. John Sandfield Macdonald could have no objection to obtaining the guarantee, but he would do nothing in the way of building fortifications until the next session of parliament. He did not think the country was prepared for an expenditure for such a purpose, and the money might be turned to better use.

Mr. Mackenzie asked the minister of militia for an assurance that nothing would be done in the matter until next session.

Sir George Cartier had explained the present position of the question, but could not give the assurance asked for. It was a point which the hon member should not press.

On the items of Salaries to Militia officers Sir Geo. E. Cartier said the appropriations for district paymasters and quartermasters were only asked in case of need. It was only a certain emergency that such officers would be appointed, if they were required by the Adjutent-General. It was his desire to save as much as possible, and he would strike out the $5,400, and $1,800 for clerks and messengers to the District Deputy Adjutant-Generals. (Hear.)

The item of salaries of the military branch and district staff $52,925 was then passed, less the $5,400 and $1,800 which were struck out.

Item 39, appropriating a certain sum to Col. Grey, a member of the House, for service rendered in assimilating the Laws of the Dominion, was objected to by Mr. Mackenzie, and a long debate ensued. It was carried on a division.

On the motion of concurrence in the item for the penitentiary at Kingston, Mr. Masson, (Soulanges) moved in amendment that the salaries be the same as last year.

Mr. Chamberlin argued that the present warden had claims for an increased salary.

Sir John A. Macdonald said the act introduced last session had imposed additional duties on the warden.

The House divided on the amendment, which was carried. Yeas, 56; nays 44.

The following is the division:—

YEAS.—Messrs Anglin, Bellrose, Benoit, Bertrand, Blake, Bodwell, Bolton, Bourassa, Bowell, Bowman, Brousseau, Brown, Caron, Cayley, Chevel, Costigen, Coupal, Currier, Fortier, Fortin, Gaucher, Gaudet, Gendron, Godin, Holton, Lacerte, Leviconte, Little, Macdonald (Glengarry), Mackenzie, Magill, Masson, (Soulanges), Masson (Terrebonne), McCarthy, McConkey, McMonies, Mills, Oliver, Paquet, Pelletier, Pinsonneault, Poser, Redford, Renaud, Robitaille, Ross, (Champlain), Ryan (Montreal West), Rymel, Scatchard, Snider, Stirton, Wells, Whitehead, Wilson, Wood, and Young—56.

NAYS.—Messrs Ault, Beaubien, Blanchet, Burton, Carling, Cartier, Cartwright, Chamberlain, Dobbie, Dufresne, Dunkin, Ferguson, Gibbs, Gray, Grover, Hagar, Harrison, Hunt, Keeler, Langevin, Lajoun, Sir John, A. Macdonald, Macdonald, (Middlesex), Macdougall, (Lanark), Merritt, Morris, Morrison, (Niagara), Munro, O'Connor, Perry, Pope, Rankin, Read, Rose, Ross, (Prince Edward), Shanley, Simard, Simpson, Sprout, Stephenson, Street, Tilley, Walsh, Workman—44.

Mr. Bellerose proceeded to move another amendment that no allowance be made to the retiring warden, when the Speaker ruled it out of order.

The House adjourned at 1.30.

County Council.

THIRD DAY.

THURSDAY, June 17th, 1869.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment.

All the members present.

The Minutes of former meeting were read and approved.

The Committee of Equalization and Assessment handed in the following Report:

That the following be the Equalization for the year 1869:

Sidney,	$ 877,737	$ 1,370,000

Total,		$5,970,000

Referred to a Committee of the Whole on Equalization.

BY-LAWS.

Mr. Appleby introduced a By-Law to appoint an Arbitrator for the County for certain purposes stated.

Moved by Mr. Flint, seconded by Mr. Armstrong, that the treasurer be authorized and directed to advertise and sell all lands in arrears for taxes.

The Council went into Committee of the Whole on Equalization.

Hon. R. Flint in the chair.

The equalization of Sidney was adopted.

On the motion for the adoption of the equalization of Thurlow, it was moved by Mr. Farley, seconded by Mr. Clapp, that the assessed value of Thurlow remain as it was.—Lost.

The equalization of Tyendinaga was adopted.

Upon the motion for the equalization of Huntingdon, Mr. Emo thought that Huntingdon was used very unjustly in the matter, as there were only three concessions in Huntingdon that could be called land, and would move, seconded by Mr. Finley, that the assessment of Huntingdon remain as last year.

Mr. Daly stated the way they equalized the assessment was by taking a farm in each township which they knew, and working from that and found that Hungerford had been worse dealt with than any other township.

Mr. Jones wished to know why Marmora had been raised, and wanted to know where they found a good farm in Marmora to equalize from.

Mr. Wood stated the Committee had done everything they thought was fair to all the Townships, and Marmora had been raised on account of the revenue they derived from wild land, and the Marmora Company, and the Committee found a good farm in Marmora with a brick house on it, only assessed at $500.

After some further discussion Mr. Emo's motion was put and lost.

The equalization of Madoc, Marmora and Lake, and Elzevir, was put, and carried.

Upon the motion for the adoption of the equalization of the assessment of Tudor,

Mr. Caldwell thought they had put Tudor too high, as two-thirds of the land in Tudor were non-resident land, and on one road beat where there used to be twenty-four inhabitants, there were now only three.

Mr. Wood proposed Huntingdon should be reduced $4,000.

Mr. Emo thought they should reduce it at least $12,000, half the amount they had raised it, and compared the Township with Hungerford.

Mr. Gabourie said if Mr. Emo wanted to have a big Township, they had plenty of land they would let him have for the asking.

Upon the motion for the adoption of the equalization of Trenton being put, Mr. Cummings thought Trenton was far too high, as they were taxed in Trenton at the rate of $7 per head.

The adoption of the equalization of Stirling was then put when Mr. Conoy stated that Stirling paid $950 to the County last year, and only had one little bridge, costing about $100 to keep up, and moved, seconded by Mr. Walker, that Stirling be reduced $5,000.

Moved by Mr. Caldwell, seconded by Mr. Cross, that Tudor be reduced $4,000.—Lost.

Moved by Mr. Emo, seconded by Mr. Finley, that the sum of $6,000 be taken off Huntingdon and added to Hungerford and Rawdon.—Lost.

Hon. Mr. Flint was in hopes Mr. Emo would not leave the Council, as Huntingdon could get no one to fill his place if he left; he had done all he could to get the assessment of his Township lowered, and that was as much as any one could do.

Mr. Emo said he had been in the Council a long time and had never seen Huntingdon so badly used before.

Mr. Emo's motion was then put and lost.

Committee rose and reported.

The yeas and nays being demanded, upon the adoption of the report of the Committee on equalization, they stood as follows:—

YEAS.—Cross, Stokes, Gabourie, Cummings, Jones, Corly, Walker, Rose, Rowe, Armstrong, Dacey, Chard, Appleby and Flint. 14.

NAYS.—Emo, Finly, Farley, Clapp, Daly and Caldwell.—6.

The Council then adjourned until two o'clock, p. m.

Presbyterian Synod.

On Wednesday, after some routine business, a committee was appointed to draft an address to the Governor.

Several reports were read and adopted.

The Rev. Mr. McLaren presented the Report on Foreign Missions. It gave a succint and clear account of the work of Missionaries in their different stations, and spoke hopefully of the work done, and opening up before the Church in the North-West Territory, and gave interesting information regarding the mission under the care of the Rev. J. Nisbet, in the Saskatchewan. The attention of the Church was also directed to the duty of entering upon Mission Work among the heathens, either in the Hebrides, China or Brazil; and it was stated that more students now attending the Theological Hall, intend mission work.

The reception of the Report was moved by Rev. Dr. Inglis and supported by Mr. McKay, Elder.

It was discussed at a considerable length. The recommendations of the report were adopted with one or two exceptions; one was to the effect that the British Columbia and Red River Mission be transferred to another fund. This suggestion was disposed of by a motion that it be not meanwhile adopted, but that correspondence be had with the Church in Scotland and Ireland in reference to the mission work in British Columbia and Red River.

At the suggestion of the Moderator, Mr. Carter, of New York, addressed the Synod on the subject of Foreign Missions. He spoke of his having been actively engaged on the committee of Foreign Missions in his Church for about thirty years. They expended annually $317,000 on a foreign mission, $250,000 on home missions, and $80,000 for the freedman's mission. He spoke of the large amount contributed by the Canadian Church to Foreign Missions. He referred eloquently to the work in China, and urged the duty and advantage of the sustenance of the Foreign Mission.

The discussion on the report was continued.

The question as to the fund for foreign missions being considered until about eleven o'clock, when the Synod adjourned.

More Light.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

DEAR SIR.—Will you be kind enough to inform your humble servant and the rest of your benighted readers, as to what has become of the gas lights that used to illumine our Streets and light the pathway of the belated wayfarer to his destination. If I am not mistaken, the Gas Company charges, and the Town pays $24 a year for each street lamp, all of which are supposed to be regularly lighted. With such an expenditure the town should not be left in darkness with the chances of actions against the Corporation for damages for ankle breaks through the agency of dilapidated sidewalks. I ask the foregoing question, because in going home last night between 10 and 11 o'clock, there was not a single street lamp lit within the range of my vision, although the night was as dark as Erebus. I again ask why should things be "thus?" And why should they "overcome us like a summer cloud without our especial wonder."

Yours, &c.,

REPUBLICAN AGITATIONS IN SPAIN.

MADRID, June 17.—Great public meetings have been held in Valladolid and Leville, to protest against the presence in Spain of the Duke of Montpensier.

CUBA.

HAVANA, June 17.—An expedition of about six hundred fillibusters from the United States are reported to have landed recently and joined the forces under Jordan.

NEW YORK, June 17.—Several members of the Cuban Junta have been arrested and held to bail by the United States Marshal for violating the neutrality laws.

RIOTING IN NORMANDY.

PARIS, June 17.—A very formidable collision occurred yesterday at St. Etienne among the coal miners on one hand and the national troops on the other, whereby several lives were lost. The miners made an attempt to rescue some prisoners held by the military. Fire-arms were used on both sides, but the rioters were finally dispersed after seven of them had been killed. Five soldiers were badly wounded.

PARIS DISTURBANCES.

PARIS, June 17.—The city is entirely tranquil. The manager of L'Appel newspaper, recently started in the interest of the anti-dynasty party, has been sentenced to four months' imprisonment, and to pay a fine of three thousand francs, and each printer in the establishment was sentenced to one months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of a thousand francs.

THE LATEST.

RELATIONS WITH MEXICO.

LONDON, (midnight), June 17.—In the House of Commons to-night, Mr. Otway, the under Foreign Secretary, in reply to an enquiry, said when the Republic of Mexico was re-established, it declined intercourse with powers which recognised the Emperor. The British Minister at the city of Mexico consequently withdrew. Her Majesty's Government had no objection to re-open relations, but overtures must come from Mexico.

DEBATE IN THE COMMONS.

Mr. Gladstone in reply to a question from Dr. North, explained that Bright wrote his recent letter to the Birmingham meeting without consulting his colleagues and on his own responsibility. The Government had no intention of threatening the House of Lords; each estate of the Kingdom was entitled to full freedom of speech, and he would regard with great jealousy any attempts to interfere, especially if made by a Minister of the Crown. He himself and his colleague Bright, both discouraged any popular action tending to interfere with the independence of the House of Lords. Whenever overtures had been made to them to attend public meetings, they had both steadily declined.

DEBATE IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS—A GREAT SCENE.

In the House of Lords to-night there was a crowded attendance, and great interest was manifested in the proceedings.

Lord Cairns, amid cheers from the Opposition, put the question whether Bright's letter had been expected by other members of the Government, and whether, in the present crisis, it was proper support and assistance to the Government. He said the Government must either endorse or repudiate the letter.

Earl Granville in reply, admitted the authority of the letter, and said the Cabinet had declined to discuss the policy to be pursued if the Bill shou'd be rejected. He knew that neither of his colleagues, except Bright, had any knowledge of the contents of the letter until it was published. He thought the Cabinet was not responsible for individual opinions of one of its members, and for himself he regretted Bright's language, but he had Bright's authority for stating that he had no intention to express disrespect to their Lordships, and if any pain had been caused to them by his words he expressed unfeigned regret.

Earl Granville then proceeded to make some remarks on the Irish Church Bill, when Earl Derby rose to a point of Order. A great scene followed. Lords Harrowby and Salisbury also rose amid intense excitement.

Earl Grenville reiterated his statement that the Government repudiated any intention of menacing the House of Lords.

The debate on the Bill was then resumed.

Earl Derby then objected to the principle of the measure. It was a great repudiation, and was contrary to the Act of the Union and Coronation Oath. He believed the agitation on the subject was owing to the action of the Liberation Society, in connection with other parties, calculated to sever the Church and State not only in Ireland but in England. He objected not merely to the special details, but to the entire principle of the Bill.

In his speech in moving the second reading Lord Granville had only referred to details and not to the general principles of the Bill.

Men like the Archbishop of Canterbury who supported the reading, objected to the details of the bill. In respect to the Maynooth grant provisions for capitalization of yearly grants was inconsistent with the preamble of the bill. Taking in view the treatment of the amendment on a former occasion, he distrusted Earl Granville's assertion that all amendments would receive careful consideration. The course he (Derby) had taken was not as leader of the Conservatives, but on his own convictions that the bill was impolitic and immoral.

NEW ALBION HOTEL,
McGILL STREET,
MONTREAL, CANADA.

THE "NEW ALBION HOTEL," the largest Hotel in Montreal, has just been opened under the most favorable auspices.

Whilst the "Old Albion" has been long noted for the strict attention paid to its numerous guests, the "New Albion" takes its position as a first class Hotel, and is really first class in every respect, except the charges, which better suit the ideas and requirements of the majority of travelers, than many of the so called, "first class Houses;" which deserve the title more through the amount of their charges than aught else.

Already the crowded state of the "New Albion" promises well for its future career; everything associated with its construction has been carried out with artistic taste and systematic correctness.

The large Hall, commodious office, spacious Reading room, convenient Dining Office, Wash Room, etc., etc., on the ground floor; and the Reception Rooms and Suite of SPLENDIDLY FURNISHED and THOROUGHLY VENTILATED LADIES' PARLORS, on the second floor, will form no small luxury during the hot summer season. And, what is an exception to the general Rule in Hotels, the Bedrooms are all well ventilated and lighted, there not being a dark room in the House.

Being situated on the widest and healthiest Street in Montreal, commanding a Magnificent View of the River St. Lawrence and the Victoria Bridge on the left, and a full view of the Victoria Square with its numerous "Vets d'Eau" and Mount Royal on the right, it cannot fail to commend itself to the travelling public.

From its situation on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare and commercial centre of the City it cannot fail to be, as the "Old Albion" has always been, a strong favorite with the Merchants of Canada.

Notwithstanding the very large outlay in building and furnishing the house, the old price of $1 50 per day will not be departed from.

We, therefore, beg leave for ourselves a continuance of the patronage so liberally accorded to us during the past fifteen years.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no answer has been found so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of Cold—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From REV. FRANCIS LORDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

Montreal Tea Co: Montreal, April, 1868.—To the Montreal Tea Company, 6 Hospital Street, Montreal:—We notice with pleasure the large amount of tea forwarded for you to different parts of the Dominion, and we are glad to find your business so rapidly increasing. We presume your Teas are giving general satisfaction, as out of the large amount forwarded, we have only had occasion to return one box which, we understand, was sent through a mistake.

GENTLEMEN,—The Tea I purchased of you in March has given great satisfaction, and the flavor of it is very fine. It is very strange, but since I have been drinking your Tea I have been quite free from heartburn, which would always pain me after breakfast. I attribute this to the purity of your Tea, and shall continue a customer.

Some New Epitaphs.

A curious gatherer of quaint epitaphs has contributed quite a number to the London Scotchman, some of which are quite new, and some—particularly the one on a baby—quite old.

'Here lies at rest, I do protest,
One chest within another;
The one of them is very good,
Who says so of the other?'

On a very old man,

'He lived to a 105 because he was strong.
100 to 5 you don't live as long.'

On Martha Shiell:

'Poor Martha Shiell has gone away,
Her Lordship she could, but her could'nt stay;
Her had 2 bad legs and a baddish cough,
It was her 2 bad legs that carried her off.'

The following, although quaint, is very coarse:

'Here lies the body of barren Peg,
Who never had no issue but one in her leg;
And when she was alive she was so cunning,
That when one leg stood still the other kept running.'

Mr. Proctor's antipathy to medical men did not save him from the common fate of humanity:

'Here lies John Proctor,
Who lived and died without a doctor.'

On Professor Walker who wrote a treatise on English Particles:

'Here lies Walker's Particles.'

On Doctor Fuller:

'Here lies Fuller's earth.'

On a dustman,

'Cease to lament his change, ye just,
He's only gone from dust to dust.'

Dr. Chard's medical practice seems to have been large, if not particularly successful:

'Here lies Dr. Chard,
Who filled the half of this churchyard.'

The following is a quaint mixture of specific information and sentiment:

'Here lie two babes as dead as nits,
Who died of agonizing fits;
They were too good to live with we,
So God took them to live with He.'

On another babe:

'Since I was so quickly done for,
I wonder what I was begun for.'

The subject of the following seems to have appreciated the good things of life overmuch:

'Here lies the bones of Joseph Jones,
Who ate while he was able;
But once o'erfed, he dropt down dead,
And fell beneath the table.'

On a woodman:

'In Kent so good I was lopping wood,
And down fell from a tree;
I met with a check and broke my neck,
And so death lopped off me.'

There is no evidence that Jonathan Pound was an Irishman, but his epitaph contains an unmistakable bull:

Here lies the body of Jonathan Pound,
Who lost at sea and never was found.

A little boy was once asked if he had any liking for cats. "Oh, yes," he replied "I like them very much—to throw stones at."

Deaths from suffocation by burning gas becoming so frequent that the term asphyxia will probably be soon corrupted into gasflaia.—Chicago Post.

Suppose that, at a musical party, one should wish to hear a solo on the violin from a clergyman present, in what terms would the request be made? Why, fiddle D. D.

The Appetite for Tobacco Destroyed.

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed Tobacco.

ORTON'S PREPARATION!

ESTABLISHED 1865.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for tobacco, in any person, no matter how strong the habit may be. It fails in any case the most perfectly safe and harmless imposition to be practised by the mere exercise of needed to assist nature in throwing off the poison, if there is not the least need it who are willing to fact that Orton's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for tobacco, and leaves the person as free from any desire for it, as before he commenced its use. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobacco and thus allaying the should thoroughly clear the system of the poison of tobacco, and thus allaying the nausea, no more hanker after tobacco. No more hankering after Orton's Preparation. Recollect it is warranted.

The time taken to allay all desire for Tobacco by the use of this Preparation varies slightly in different persons, the average time being about Five days. Some have no desire for Tobacco after using the Preparation Two days.

The Health and Purse of every Tobacco user in the country call loudly, ABANDON THE USE OF TOBACCO.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have used Orton's Preparation for the purpose of destroying the appetite for Tobacco, and can assure those who are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparation will certainly destroy the appetite for Tobacco quickly and permanently, without any bad effect upon the health, and without creating an appetite either for the Preparation or any substitute.

Beware of counterfeits and all articles purporting to be like this, of the same name or otherwise. The great popularity of Orton's Preparatith has induced unprincipled persons to attempt palming upon the public counterfeit and inferior articles. Purchasers will please order directly from the proprietor, or his duly authorized Agents.

The price of Orton's preparation is $2.00 per box, or three boxes for $5, sent by mail to any part of the country, securely sealed from observation, with passage paid on receipt of price.

HOW TO SEND MONEY BY MAIL.—Enclose the amount in a letter, seal carefully, register the letter, and take a receipt for it of your Postmaster. Money sent by mail as above directed is at my risk. Agents wanted in every town.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our teas and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least one dollar per pound extra?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are so readily prepared as tea or coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more than enough to make an ingredient for any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession hundreds of testimonials as to the practicability of as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tumors, ulcers, sore eyes, pimples or boils, tetter or ringworm, St. Anthony's fire, scald head, sore legs, and in fact every species of humor that settles in the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S

Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.
OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds such as acute chills, pleurisy, inflammation, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used for, such as cramps in the stomach, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or obstructions. ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the recipe, and was awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception, the most powerful, delicious, and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite with the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imported to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Wine Merchants, Druggists, and Grocers in Canada.

The Poor Man's Jewels.

My home it is a poor one
To all who pass it by;
They cannot see its beauty,
And neither faith, can I,—
That is, in paint or timber,
In doorway or in roof,—
But that it has its beauties,
I'll quickly give ye proof.

Come hither young ones, hither,
Your father's steps are near—
That's Bet with hair so yellow,
That's Sue with eyes so clear;
That's Will with tawny trousers
Tucked in his stocking leg
And yander two wee darlings
Are beauty Jean and Meg.

A cluster of fair jewels,
Five in the rugged set;
If any man has brighter,
I have to learn it yet;
And Tom, when I was swinging,
These arms with weary strain,
Their blessed faces cheer me,
And makes me strong again.

I sometimes sit and wonder
"What will their future be,"
If they must delve and patter
A treadmill round like me.
And scarcely, at the year's end,
Have half a groat to spare—
And see bad men put over them,
'Twill be too hard to bear.

But then, I think as nations
Rise in the scale of might,
God puts the poor man forward,
And gives him power and light;
And learning, Tom, will do it—
And Christian truth will show
That heaven makes no distinction
Between the high and low.

So, though my home's a poor one,
To all who pass it by,
And none can see its beauty
Save mother, God and I;
The future may be grander
For some great glory won—
Some gem set in the ages
By even a poor man's son.

Want of Mercy.

In a small town on the Ayrshire coast, these things have occurred within the last forty years. A clergyman in the Church of Scotland loved one woman and married another, having been enslaved for the moment by the passion for gold. The furies of remorse immediately assailed him. And then came furies from without—the furies of Scottish wrath at his sin and mercenary deed. He was a proud and sensitive man, and one Sunday morning, not having the courage to face his congregation, he shot himself. A clergyman of the Free Church acted nobly in a somewhat more objectionable fashion. In England, as he was not really a bad man, mercy would have come to him, would have pardoned him, and would have told him to sin no more. Scottish vengeance shot its arrows at him, and the poor wretch drowned himself. A clergyman of what is called the United Presbyterian Church, had the most outstanding abilities and the most tender and generous heart; his only fault was that of being too social and sympathetic, but those very members of his congregation who had most enjoyed the affluence of his humor and the lustre of his thought were the first to accuse and assail him, were the promptest to desert him, when envious dastards showered malignant whispers to ruin his reputation. He was arraigned before the Ecclesiastic Courts, and by the verdict of inquisitors, more cruel than Torquemada, he was, on the most frivolous charges and on the most trifling evidence, banished from his home, dear, very dear, to him and his children. For a season this fallen seraph struggled on in that chaos of five hundred thousand souls called Glasgow. One morning, when the mists were just beginning to creep sluggishly away from the Clyde, a policeman found the fallen seraph lying dead in the street. Men die swiftly of broken heart when famine is glaring behind. The successor of this man in his priestly office sinned like him, and suffered like him. Now, if these four men had been depraved men, I should not say a word in their defence; but, instead of being worse men, they were better men than the majority of their countrymen. The English have their own faults, but they do not, like the Scotch, hunt a brother or sister to death, because he or she has made a few false steps and a few flagrant mistakes. Oh, my friend! I do not say—Let us be very pitiful—for this is easy; but, Let us be very merciful—for this is difficult.—Fraser's Magazine.

How Small Expenditures Count.

Five cents cents each morning. A mere trifle. Not thirty-five cents per week. Not much, yet it would buy coffee or sugar for a whole family. $18 25 a year. And this amount invested in a savings bank at the end of each year, and the interest thereon at six per cent, computed annually, would in twelve years amount to more than $670—Enough to buy a good farm in the West.

Five cents before breakfast, dinner, and supper; you'd hardly miss it, yet 'tis fifteen cents a day—$1 05 a week. Enough to buy a wife or daughter a dress. $54 60 a year. Enough to buy a small library of books—Invest this as before, and in twenty years you would have over $2,000. Quite enough to buy a good house and lot.

Ten cents each morning; hardly worth a second thought; yet with it you can buy a paper of pins or a spool of thread. Seventy cents per week; twould buy several yards of muslin. $36 50 in one year. Deposit this amount as before, and you would have $1,340 in twenty years; quite a snug little fortune. Ten cents before each breakfast, dinner and supper—thirty cents a day. It would buy a book for the children. $2 10 a week; enough to pay for a year's subscription to a good newspaper. $109 20 a year. With it you could buy a good melodeon on which your wife or daughter could produce sweet music to pleasantly while away the evening hours. And this amount invested as before, would in forty years produce the desirable amount of $2,000.

Boys learn a lesson. If you would be a happy youth, lead a sober life, and be a wealthy and influential man. Instead of squandering your change invest in a library or savings bank.

If you would be a miserable youth, lead a drunken life, abuse your children, grieve your wife, be a wretched and despicable being while you live, and finally go down to a dishonored grave, take your extra change and invest it in a drinking saloon.

The Rude Comforter.

A mother, in the habit of asking her children before they retired at night what they had done to make others happy, found her two twin daughters silent. The question was repeated. I can remember nothing good all this day, dear mother; only one of my schoolmates was happy because she had gained the head of the class, and I smiled on her and ran to kiss her; so she said I was good. The other spoke more timidly. A little girl who sat with me on the bench at school has lost a little brother. I saw that while she studied her lesson, she hid her face in her book and wept. I felt sorry, and laid myself on the same book and wept with her. Then she looked up and was comforted, and put her arms around my neck; but I do not know why she said I had done her good. The mother embraced her children and said, to rejoice with those who rejoice, and weep with those who weep, is to obey our blessed Redeemer.

The Farmer's Luxuries.

Talk of epicures! of broiled wood-cock, and pies of pheasant tongues! What is all that, with its highest seasoning, compared with the relish with which three hours' mowing has seasoned these bits of common food to that ruddy-brown farmer and his sons! The ambrosia of the idle deities of Olympus was mere pea-soup compared with the dainty loaf of brown bread to the man who "gives out sets in by the sweat of his brow." It is in this seasoning of toil that Nature and Providence bless the humblest food to the farmer with relish unknown to the epicures of Royal Courts. Drink, is it? Juleps, nectarine punches, and other artistic mixtures to delight the taste! Look into that deep dark well, with the cold water just perceptible. That is more delicious drink to the farmer than was ever distilled from nectar for Jupiter. He has no golden or silver goblet to drink it from. The old oaken bucket, swinging on its iron swivel, is better to him than all the chased ware of luxury. See him at the windlass or the well sweep, with his face red and dusty, and his mouth and eyes chafed with hay seed, and his throat dry with thirst. Hear the big bottomed bucket bump against the moss-covered stones as it descends. There is the splash, and the cold, gurgling sound at the filling; and now it slowly ascends, with a spray of water drops dripping against the wall, every one giving a new edge to the farmer's thirst. There it is, standing on the curb before him, mirroring his moistened and reddened face, which bends to the draught. There is drink for you, that Nature has distilled for the farmer's lips, the like of which fabled Olympus never knew. So with sleep. How many thousands of men, clothed in fine linen, faring sumptuously every day in the most gorgeous abodes that wealth can furnish, would give half their fortunes for the deep enjoyment of the farmer's slumbers.—Thoughts and Notes at Home and Abroad.

The Value of Exercise.—All the tonics beef tea, and good food in the world will not add a hair an inch to the narrow chest of a sickly boy. All the "airing" he may get from morning to night in Southern climes will not infuse stamina and real improvement into him unless intentionally or otherwise, exercise happens to be combined with them. No marvels are pretended to. The weakly offspring of unhealthy parents will never, under any training, become an athlete; nor does he want to become one. But it is simply certain that if proper exercise in the proper way, he will become a healthy, serviceable man, instead of passing through a delicate youth into a valetudinarian manhood.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, JUNE 18.

CANADIAN SECURITIES.—We observe by the London Times of the 5th ult., that Canadian Sixes have again advanced, and were then quoted at 105 to 107.

CRICKET MATCH.—The Port Hope Canadian says a match is arranged to take place at Port Hope on Wednesday next, between the Belleville and Port Hope Clubs.

PROTESTANT IRISH SOCIETY.—All Protestant Irishmen favorable to the formation of an Irish Protestant Association in this town, are requested to meet at the Town Hall on Wednesday evening next, at 7:30 o'clock.

THE MARKET.—The Market to-day was again crowded, and for an hour or two the inside market was so crammed that it was exceedingly difficult to pass and repass.—With such a crowd in hot weather it would be unendurable. Some steps ought to be taken to enlarge it at once.

DEFEAT OF THE SPANIARDS.—A despatch from New York, of the 18th, says: The Herald's Havana special says:—"General Quesada's report of the battle of May 16th, says there were two engagements, resulting in victories for the Patriots. The Spaniards retreated in a panic, losing 250 killed and wounded. The Cuban loss is reported at 25."

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—The formal induction of the Rev. James C. Smith, M. A., to the pastorage of this Church will take place, D. V., on the evening of Monday, the 21st inst. The following members of the Kingston Presbytery are expected to take part in this interesting ceremony, viz: The Rev. James Williamson, L. L. D., the Rev. W. Maxwell Inglis, M. A.; the Rev. Robert Neill; the Rev. Alexander Buchan and the Rev. Samuel McMorine, B. A. The services will commence at half-past seven o'clock precisely. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

A PRETTY SPECIMEN !—"HUBERTUS."—This person, who acts as chief newsmonger to the Globe, appears to have a knack of getting thrashed. Yesterday, it would appear, he made some remarks of an offensively inquisitive or inquisitorial kind to a gentleman, and went so far as to remove that gentleman's hat from its proper resting place, the consequence of which was that he felt the impact of five bones in the region of his grinders, and a boot dexterously but vigorously applied to certain soft portions of his body. Not liking the treatment overmuch, he asked leave to depart and departed."

This scavenger of the press has again got into difficulty, as appears from the above which we copy from the Ottawa Citizen of the 18th. What a disgrace to a leading newspaper to have a man upon its staff whom society has to kick every few days, in order to compel him to keep his nose out of other people's business!

Annexation League.

The Repeal League of Nova Scotia has been turned into an Annexation League.—A despatch from Halifax of the 18th says: "The Chronicle of this morning says the following resolutions were passed unanimously, at the recent convention of delegates held in Halifax;—Whereas, in the opinion of the members of this Convention, the further continuance of Nova Scotia in the Canadian Confederation will be but a daily progress to ruin; and, whereas, our only hope of commercial prosperity, national development and permanent peace, lies in closer relations with the United States, therefore resolved, that every legitimate means should be used by the members of this Convention to sever our connection with Canada, and to bring about a union on fair and equitable terms with the American Republic; Resolved that the Convention recommend the formation of leagues throughout the Province, for the purpose of carrying the foregoing resolutions into effect."

Parliament Yesterday.

Hon. Mr. Rose brought down a message from His Excellency transmitting further estimates for the year ending 30th June, 1869, and 30th June, 1870. He moved that they be referred to Committee of Supply.—Carried.

Upon a motion of Mr. Rose for concurrence in the Militia items a long debate ensued, a synopsis of which we will publish in a future number.

Hon Mr. Rose said he would move the House into Committee again on the vote respecting the salaries of the Warden and other officers of the Penitentiary at Kingston. The Government felt that they owed a respectable acquiescence to the feelings expressed by the House last night that the salaries of these officers should be reduced, and he therefore proposed to go into Committee of the Whole with a view of reducing the amount for the service by $1,325, which was the aggregate amount of the increase.

The Supplementary Estimates were then taken up and concurred in.

Several Bills were read a second and third time, and the House adjourned at 1:20 a. m.

"Voting Straight."

The Toronto Globe is a faithful exponent of the doctrine that all is fair in politics. It was never known to do justice to a political opponent, and it is no matter of surprise that it refuses to acknowledge that Messrs. Brown and Bowell were honest in voting against the Government on the Nova Scotia Subsidy Bill and other measures. We are much better pleased at the estimate the Globe has put upon the motives which actuated these gentlemen in their Parliamentary career, than if it had spoken favorably of them. Commendation from such a source would have looked exceedingly suspicious, and its condemnation on many accounts is far preferable.—Looking at it as a mere question of policy, it would have been a matter of sincere regret to the numerous supporters of the members for North and West Hastings, if their conduct not received the approbation of the Globe. No public man either in or out of the ranks of the Grits, who has been petted and praised by that journal, but has had cause for sore lamentation. Many public men can date their downfall from the time when the Globe commenced to build them up, and it is a matter of sincere gratification, that in estimating the conduct of our members, the Globe has pursued its usual course.

It is quite natural that the Globe should question the sincerity of Messrs. Brown and Bowell in their opposition to the Government on the measures spoken of, and refuse to give them credit for honesty and integrity of purpose. It cannot distinguish between an honest and independent support of a Government, and a blind and slavish adherence to party. The difference between such staunch Grits as Mackenzie, Young and Blake, and the members for Hastings, can be summed up in a nut-shell. The policy of the former is to turn out the Ministry at all hazards, whether their measures be good or bad. The policy of the latter is to secure good legislation. If the measures of the Ministry are good they will support them, if they are obnoxious they will oppose them. To accuse them of being responsible for these obnoxious measures, when they have steadily and persistently voted against them, is a most extraordinary statement which scarcely needs any comment, it being so utterly frivolous and absurd. But the argument of the Globe is: because the Ministry have introduced obnoxious measures they must, forsooth, go to the wall and give place to their opponents who have opposed those measures. So far as they could, the members for North and West Hastings have resisted those measures. In taking this course they were governed by the highest [illegible] and were prepared to [illegible] representatives, viz: That of voting in accordance with their own convictions of what is right, and of what the country requires. But this is not the policy of the Globe, nor of such staunch Grits as Messrs. Blake, Mackenzie and Young. It is their policy to defeat the Ministry any way, and it matters not what the measure might be, whether it be good or bad, if they saw an opportunity of [illegible] them out, they would [illegible] a solid phalanx to accomplish that end. There is a vast difference between the factious, obstructive opposition of the "staunch Grits," and the honest, independent position of such men as Messrs. Bowell and Brown.

It is exceedingly refreshing to hear the Globe talk of whipping members into the traces. It has been so used to that sort of thing, and has succeeded so often in whipping its followers, like "flogged hounds to its feet," that it must needs imagine its opponents are as easily driven. It has made a unanimity agencies, as the result has been turned into a solid phalanx to accomplish that end. There is a vast difference between the factious, obstructive opposition of the "staunch Grits," and the honest, independent position of such men as Messrs. Bowell and Brown.

Supplementary Estimates.

The supplementary estimates for 1868 and 1869 for services not provided were laid before parliament this p. m., as follows:—Administration of justice, $3,000; penitentiaries and prison inspection, $46,700; additional emigration agencies, $4,700; Fort Garry road, $17,226 46; J. Begley, $14,000; Intercolonial railroad, $98,000; repairs to steamer Druid, $3,372; buoys and beacons, N. B, $1,000; cost of confederation medal, $2,000; to provide for the salaries of certain deputy heads and secretary, treasury board, &c, $3,700; maintenance railroads N. S. and N. B., $40,000; post-office, $15,000. Total $250,288 46. To be re-voted for railway, barrack and militia service, $130,418 66.

Supplementary estimates for 1869-70:—Two year's gratuity to the late warden, Kingston penitentiary, $5,200, sick seamen, St. Catharines' hospital, $500; Intercolonial railway, $2,500,000; for the North-West Territory, opening up communication, &c., $1,460,000; light house and coast service, $5,990; promotion artificial fish-breeding, $2,000; further estimates for immigration expenses, $5,000; collection of customs, out-door service, Halifax, $20,000; for purchase Red River Territory, $1,460,000; grant to the widow of Mr. Perry, $500; to meet the claims of representatives of Dr. Hogan, killed on the N. S. railway; $5,775; to meet the claims of the town of St. Catharines for outlay during the Fenian raids in 1866, $800. Total, $5,465,675.

The Globe's Correspondent.

Since writing the paragraph referring to the Globe's telegraphic report from Ottawa, in which Messrs. Bowell and Brown are accused of shirking the vote upon Mr. Holton's motion, we have learned that these gentlemen were engaged upon important business connected with their Parliamentary duty, the day upon which the vote was taken; and that having affirmed the principle involved in the motion of Mr. Holton, they did not consider it necessary to neglect that duty for the purpose of being present to record their names a second time upon a motion in which the principle contained in Messrs. Wood and Bowell's motion of the day previous, had already been voted upon. That our readers may fully understand these resolutions, we give them in juxtaposition:—

WOOD'S MOTION.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this House it is inexpedient to disturb the financial arrangements settled between the Provinces composing the Dominion of Canada as settled by the British North America Act, in favor of Nova Scotia, without at the same time making provision for increasing in due proportion, and on principles similar just to the Provinces of Quebec & Ontario, the amount of debt allowed by the British North America Act to the late Province of Canada, and the half-yearly payments to Provinces subject to the other of Quebec and Ontario respectively.

HOLTON'S MOTION.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this House any disturbance of the financial arrangements respecting the several Provinces provided for in the British North America Act, unless assented to by all the Provinces, would be subversive of the system of Government under which this Dominion was constituted, and if effected, as proposed by this Bill in favor of one Province, without at the same time providing for a general revision and readjustment of those arrangements, would be manifestly unjust to the other Provinces.

Here it will be seen that Mr. Holton's motion is identical with that of Mr. Wood's which Mr. Bowell seconded, and Mr. Brown voted for, with this exception: Mr. Wood's made special reference to Ontario and Quebec, while that of Mr. Holton's included all the other Provinces. Now had our members voted against this latter motion they would have been justified, because New Brunswick has already a special subsidy not given to Ontario or Quebec, the Quebec [illegible] having been changed in London for the special benefit of that Province, but they did not do so, having been otherwise engaged. We shall not further defend these gentlemen from the Globe's charge, but remind our readers of the former gross falsehoods of which we convicted this man, Hubertus, whose lying and spying propensities are so well known in Canada.

County Council.

THIRD DAY.

Tuesday, June 15th, 1869.

TWO O'CLOCK, P. M.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment.

All the members present.

MOTIONS.

Moved by the Hon. D. Flint, seconded by Mr. Appleby, that four copies of the Hastings Directory be given to each Reeve and one to the Clerk of each Municipality, and the balance sent to the Emigration Office, and other public places throughout England, Ireland, Scotland and the Continent.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Gabourie, seconded by Mr. Cummings, that $150 be granted as a special donation to Hungerford, to aid in repairing Sheery's Bridge.

Referred to Committee on Ways and Means.

Council went into Committee on Ways Means. Mr. Farley in the Chair.

Mr. Gabourie's motion being put, Mr. Gabourie explained that Hungerford expended the year before last $130 on the bridge, and last year $700, and as the bridge was first built by the County, he thought it scarcely fair that they should saddle the Township with the whole expense of keeping it in repair.

After a lengthy discussion, it being the unanimous opinion of the Council that they could not grant any money for that purpose without rescinding a former By-Law, the motion was withdrawn.

The following petitions were not entertained.

For a grant of $100 in aid of the Lunatic Asylum at Hamilton. From Dr McNeal and others, for $20 to repair the 8th concession bridge between Sidney and Murray.

Moved and seconded that $10 be paid the commissioner appointed by the county to build Allen's Bridge.—Carried Moved and seconded that Wm. Conly receive $40 for loss sustained in getting out the timber for Chisholm's Bridge.—Carried.

Moved and seconded that $10 per thousand be paid Mr. Beatty for 8 thousand feet pine lumber, to be delivered at Hog Lake Bridge.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Armstrong, seconded by Mr. Row, that the sum of $900 be given to the Reeve of Sidney, to pay for the timber of the Chisholm's Rapids Bridge.—Carried.

Moved and seconded that a Committee composed of the Hon. D. Flint, Mr. Cross and Mr. Warden, be appointed to see Mr. Tumelty and value the amount of his claim.—Carried.

Several accounts were ordered to be paid.

Committee rose, reported progress, and asked leave to sit again.—Granted.

Moved and seconded that the time for building Chisholm's Rapids Bridge be extended to 1870.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Gabourie, seconded by Mr. Stokes, that the County Surveyor be ordered to examine Mair's Bridge and report.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Appleby, seconded by Mr. Dacey, that the Clerk be authorized to procure for the use of the Council 25 copies of the last Statutes of Ontario.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Gabourie, seconded by Hon. D. Flint, that the County Surveyor be authorized to examine the County Road near lot 11 in the 11th con. of Hungerford, and mark the boundary of the road.—Carried.

Mr. Emo wished the Council to define the line between Rawdon and Huntingdon.

Council went into Committee of the Whole on estimates. Mr Flint in the chair.

Committee rose, reported progress, and asked leave to sit again.—Granted.

The Council adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow.

MOTIONS.

Moved by Mr. Flint and seconded by Mr. Emo, that the County Surveyor be instructed to warn by posters all persons occupying the County roads either by living on the roads or placing obstructions thereon, and to prosecute all persons allowing hogs to run at large on the County roads.

The committee on Roads and Bridges resumed. Mr. Appelby in the chair.

A By-Law respecting a road allowance between Madoc and Elzevir, was read a second time.

A By-Law to equalize the assessment of the different Municipalities, was read a second time.

A By-Law to levy moneys on the different Municipalities, was read a second time.

EXCITING DEBATE IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

LONDON, June 18.—In adverting to the course of the House of Lords on the Reform Bill in 1832, Earl Russell implored their Lordships to act in accordance with the spirit of the constitution, and accept decision of the nation as final and binding.

The Duke of Abercorn opposed the bill, as the production of a man eager for personal and party triumph, rather than for the good of his country. The result would be, the alienation of Protestants, the introduction of discord, and failure to conciliate the Catholics.

The Duke of Argyle argued that disestablishment and disendowment could not be accomplished. He admitted that the question was forced into consideration hastily, not by protracted agitation, but by the logical result of political freedom. He urged their Lordships to consider carefully all the circumstances, and endeavour to be in harmony with the nation, and declared the present movement was dictated by a desire to erase the foulest stain on England's rule of Ireland.

The Bishop of Lichfield said his experience of the operation of disendowed churches, led him to oppose the bill unhesitatingly. The disendowment was unfair and unjust, as the churches have fully discharged their duties in maintaining Protestantism, religious freedom, and liberty of conscience.

Lord Westbury regarded the bill as full of evil, and the effect of a mistaken policy, which was likely to produce dangerous results. Still he felt bound to vote for its passage in an amended form, but if amendments were not accepted, he must vote for the rejection of the bill. It was the constitutional duty of the House to bow to the expressed will of the people and to respect any policy coming from them, but they should not pass a bill full of evil and mischief. The House was bound to see that the will of the people is really and deliberately expressed; on any other principle the House would become an hereditary oligarchy, which was entirely out of place. In the British constitution the coronation oath was the only compact between the Commons and the people, from which Parliament representing the people can release the Crown, and does so in every question sent to the House of Lords which is inconsistent with the terms of the coronation oath. The oath of union is a similar compact which Parliament has full power to abrogate. It is a serious point to deprive a corporation fulfilling its duties, of its property, and we can only do so when it ceases to discharge its obligation. After analysing the rights of the Church to its property, he maintained that it had the same equal right to hold it as a private individual had to possess his estates. Admitting the allegation that the Irish Church was a badge of conquest, would this movement stop here or must the land be restored. Then the questions at issue were Church, Education and Land. The latter should be dealt with first. He depricated the introduction of the bill at the present critical juncture, and refused to appropriate any portion of the endowment to education. It was not only cruel but perfectly absurd and unjust in the extreme.

Lord Hatherly warmly supported the Bill. He said whatever shortcomings Bright or Gladstone might have, want of clearness was not one of them, and last year they both fully unfolded the policy to be pursued. He regretted the long delay in the performance of this act of justice, and asserted the right of the State to interfere with and regulate property intended for religious and charitable purposes, when its doctrine was opposed to public good, and it could be better and more usefully appropriated. He said the acts of Elizabeth clearly intended the Church to be that of the nation, and drew a fearful picture of the manner in which the policy of their acts had been carried out, but that policy had entirely failed, though it was seconded by Bishops and Clergy. The attempt to force this Church on the people was one of the worst evils of Ireland. He exonerated the Clergy of the present day from complicity in these acts, but the odium attached descended to them. The present measure was only to establish a new epoch of religion in Ireland. Instead of ruining it would give the Church, for the first time, a fair field and a chance of conciliating the people. He strongly defended the justice and necessity and sound policy of the Bill. He argued that a portion of the revenue should be devoted to education, but as the nation was unable to agree to their use in that way, there was no course to adopt any other than that specified in the Bill, which had been fully endorsed by the country. He exhorted the House to give it their calm consideration, irrespective of party feelings, and he believed all would unite in the desire to settle the question on a fair and impartial basis.

Lord Cairns said the subject had been completely exhausted, together with the charges against the Church. She proclaimed Christianity and truth to all willing to receive them, so her mission was not a failure, with regard to existence she had given in the execution of penal laws. He said the church ought not now to be blamed for failing to be before her age, a hundred and fifty years ago the union of Church and State was the only security for religious freedom, and independence of thought. It could not be severed without shaking Protestantism to its foundations.

DEBATE CONTINUED—GREAT EXCITEMENT—A DIVISION EXPECTED—PRINCE OF WALES PRESENT.

LONDON, June 19th, 5 p. m.—The debate in the House of Lords to-night creates intense interest. There is a determination to force a decision, but it is not expected before 4 a. m. The Chamber is crowded with spectators. Among them is the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Cambridge, and it is apparently their intention to sit out the debate. The best calculators reckon the passage of the bill to a second reading by 12 to 20 majority. The general belief is the House of Lords will strip the Bill of its disendowment features, and leave the disestablishment only. This is likely to be more embarrassing to the Ministry than the direct rejection of the Bill.

A DIVISION TAKEN.

33 MAJORITY.

INTENSE EXCITEMENT.

At three o'clock the House divided amidst great excitement. The division resulted as follows:—

For second reading, 179; against it, 146.—Majority for the Bill, 33.

Rumours are received here of an attempt to drive Bright from the Cabinet.

The result was hailed with great cheering in the House, which was taken up by the spectators in the galleries and lobbies, and by an immense crowd of people in the streets.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no remedy has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of Colds—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to mitigate every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From REV. FRANCIS LORDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

Facts and Fancies.

Timely fruit—early dates.

Paper cuffs—newspaper attacks.

"Hark!" cash—counterfeit money.

Emblems for stone yards—flags.

Stylish conveyances—Hansom cabs.

Dismissed suits—cast-off clothing.

Sure cures for office-seekers—sinecures.

The oldest woman's club—the broomstick.

Government securities—the army and navy.

Ring-leader—the parson at the marriage service.

The times that try men's soles—when running after bad debts.

"I come to steal," says the rat. "I spring to embrace you," says the trap.

It does'nt necessarily require a great deal of land to go into the nursery business.

Which is the best on the whole—to have your boots rubbed up or polished down?

What quadrupeds are admitted to balls, operas and dinner parties?

White kids.

What medicine does a man take when he has a cross wife.

Elixir.

There are two classes that catch at straws—drowning men and lovers of cobblers and juleps.

What religious sect should make the best gardeners?

The Bhudd-ists of the Flowery Land.

By a strange coincidence, peace itself is affer all, the greatest "army contractor" in the world.

When may a man be said to be dressed in borrowed plumes.

When he's tarred and feathered.

Why are weaknesses more to be pitied than idiots?

Because bankrupts are broken and idiots are cracked.

Polite smoker at side of railway car: "Allow me to assist you to a-light."

Severe old lady: "Thank you, I do not smoke."

Recipes.

A useful cement for closing up cracks in stove-plates, stove-doors, etc., is prepared by mixing finely pulverized iron, such as can be secured at the druggists, with liquid water-glass to a thick paste, and then coating the cracks with it. The hotter the fire then becomes, the more does the cement melt and combine with its mental ingredients, and more completely will the crack become closed.

A correspondent gives the Country Gentleman the following receipt: Take a good flavored pumpkin, cut it up fine, and stew it up with a little water until it becomes very rich and consistent; mix rather less white corn meal, with sufficient sweet milk to make a consistent dough; make it up in dodgers three fourth of an inch thick, and bake it in a hot oven. Eaten with good butter and milk, nothing is more palatable. I never knew any one that did not relish it.

To keep vermin from grain in the bin, and level, we may spread evenly over it a quantity of slacked lime—one quart to twenty five bushels or in that proportion. If rats and mice come upon it they will do so but once—and will leave the premises. The lime must be fresh slacked and perfectly dry. To keep out insects the lime must be mixed thoroughly with the grain. It can be separated from it by running it through a fanning mill, on which grain used for stock feed it will do no injury—a small quantity is rather a benefit to animals.

'Uncle Jack,' in the Southern Cultivator, gives the following recipe for potato pudding: Take good sound potatoes, wash them clean, scrape off the outside skin thin, grate them; to five heaped tablespoonfuls add one quart of boiling milk, and five eggs, beat them up with five spoonfuls of sugar, a lump of butter about the size of an egg, a teaspoonful of salt; flavor with nutmeg or other spice or spices, to suit the taste; stir all well together.—Now for the cooking: Don't put it in a crust, but in a clean oven; stir a few times at the start, to prevent sticking, and bake until surely done.

To make an excellent pudding: Take three tablespoonfuls of tapioca soaked in cold water till it is swelled enough, then add one quart of milk and put it in a double kettle, or in a pitcher, and set into boiling water, and when the tapioca is sufficiently tender, add the yolk of three eggs, a small teacup of sugar, a little salt; stir this into the boiling milk, season with vanilla, then pour half in a dish, add the whites of the eggs beaten to a froth, then pour the remainder on the top. You can make it in the morning, as it is to be eaten cold, and is very nice.

To cure weak eyes in horses:—Make up a wash of alum and water which reduce to blood heat, and with a quill blow the liquid into the eye. After trying the above preparation three times, take a piece of alum, as large as the end of one finger, and burning it in the fire reduce it to powder, and blow it stoutly by the same process into the eye. We have tried burnt alum on a number of horses that have had sore eyes, and have always found it a valuable remedy. It will remove all scum and restore clearness to the eyes.—American Stock Journal.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles at an expense of at least four times what we pay now?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple as-tweets herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medicinal properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

DR. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroberant for delicate persons; a good tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the frame has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.

OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds such as acute rheumatism, inflammation of the kidneys, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a purgative. Sold at 50 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy

THIS Celebrated Preparation, which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition of Turino, Italy, by whose family Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America. Curiosity of the Marriage Ceremonial.

From "The Wedding Day in all Ages and Countries," a book from the press of Harper & Brothers, already noticed in the Evening Post, we clip some interesting extracts on the marriage rites and customs of different people and epochs.

MARRIAGE IN ASSYRIA AND BABYLON.

Among the ancient Assyrians all marriageable young girls were assembled in one place, and the public crier put them to sale one after another. The money which was received for those which were handsome, and consequently sold well, was bestowed as a wedding portion upon those who were plain. When the most beautiful had been disposed of, the more ordinary looking were offered for a certain sum, and allotted to those who were willing to take them. Hence all the women were provided with husbands. The Babylonians like the Assyrians, held a kind of market of their daughters at certain times every year.—They were assembled in a public place, where they were disposed of to the highest bidder by the public crier. The money given for the purchase of the handsome ones was applied to portion out those who were deficient in personal attractions. This custom is said to have originated with Atossa, the daughter of Belochus.

ANGLO-SAXON CUSTOMS.

The Anglo-Saxon held the nuptial tie in the greatest respect, and no marriage was lawful without the consent of the woman's Mundbora or guardian.

If such consent was not obtained, the husband was liable to penalties, and he acquired no legal rights over either the wife or the goods. For this consent the lover always paid a mede or price in the nature of a present, according to the rank of the lady. It was therefore advantageous to a father that the "spindle side," or female part of his family, to use Alfred's term, should out-number the "spear-side," or male members thereof. The parties were solemnly contracted, and a friend of the bridegroom became surety for the woman's good treatment and maintenance. Her dowry was fixed; and all the relations of both parties within the ninth degree were invited to the marriage feast. Each one made some present to the couple; and the Mundbora gave them arms, furniture, cattle and money. This was called the Faderfrum, or father's gift, and was all the fortune the bridegroom received.

On the day before the wedding, which generally took place within six or eight weeks from the time of the contract, the invited friends of the bridegroom went to his house, where they spent the day in feasting. On the next morning they went armed and on horseback to the house of the bride, under the conduct of the foremost man, to receive her and conduct her to her husband. This martial show was both for complement and to prevent a rescue by any former lover. The bride was led by a matron, called the brides-women, followed by many young woman, termed the bridesmaids, and attended by her Mundbora and other male relations.—On her arrival she was received by the bridegroom and solemnly betrothed by her guardian.

The united companies then proceeded to the church, attended by musicians. No marriage was lawful without the presence of the Mundbora at the ceremony, and he gave the bride to the bridegroom, saying, "I give her to thy honor and thy wife; to keep thy keys and share with thee in thy bed and goods." The parties received the nuptial benediction from the priest, sometimes under a veil or square piece of cloth, called the care-cloth, held at each corner by a man, to conceal the bride's blushes; but this was not used in cases where the bride was a widow. After the benediction both of the parties were crowned with flowers, which were kept in the church for the purpose. A ring was used at the marriage as well as the betrothal. Some authors say that at the marriage of the Anglo-Saxons, the Mundbora presented the bridegroom with one of the brides' shoes, as a token of the transfer of authority, and she was made to feel the change by a blow on her head given with the shoe. The husband was bound by oath to use his wife well, on failure of which she might leave him; but he was allowed to bestow a moderate castigation upon her.

WEDDING RINGS IN ENGLAND.

Although a ring is absolutely necessary in a Church of England marriage, it may be of any metal, and of any size. Some years since a ring of brass was used at Worcester at a wedding before the registrar, who was threatened with proceedings for not compelling a gold one to be employed. A story is told of the wedding of two paupers, who came to the church and requested to be married with the church key, as the parochial authorities had not furnished them with a ring. The clerk, feeling some delicacy about using the key, fetched an old curtain ring from his own house, and with that article the marriage was celebrated. The church key was used in lieu of a wedding ring at a church near Colchester early in the present century; and that was not a solitary instance within the past one hundred years in this country. The Duke of Hamilton was married at May Fair with a bed curtain ring. "Notes and Queries" for October, 1860, relates that a ring of leather, cut transversely from a finger of the bridegroom's glove, was used as a substitute for the wedding ring on one occasion. A clergyman unjustifiably stopped a wedding in India because the bridegroom offered a diamond ring instead of one generally in use. In Ireland the use of a gold ring is superstitiously required.

THE WEDDING RING OF MARY AND JOSEPH.

Whatever may be the fact as to the use of marriage rings in the Bible days, monkish legends relate that Joseph and Mary used one, and, moreover, that it was of onyx or amethyst. It was said to have been discovered in the year 996, when it was given by a jeweller from Jerusalem to a ladidary of Clusium, who had been sent to Rome by the wife of a Marquis of Etreria, to make purchases for her. The jeweller told the lapidary of the preciousness of the relic but he despised it, and kept it for several years among other articles of inferior value. However a miracle revealed to him its genuineness; and it was placed in a church where it worked many curative wonders. In 1473 it was deposited with some Franciscans at Clusium, from whom it was stolen; and ultimately it found its way to Perugia, where a church was built for it, and it still performed miracles; but they were, as Hone says, trifling in comparison with its miraculous powers of multiplying itself. It existed in different churches in Europe at the same time, and each one being as genuine as the others, it was paid the honors by the devout.

An Important Order.

The Commissioner of Inland Revenue has, under orders in Council, issued the following regulations for the storage of crude or refined petroleum or benzine, or any other similar article which will not stand prescribed fire test and to have in possession under license for sale, and other purpose, benzine and other similar light product of petroleum, viz.:—

1st. In cities and towns where there are municipal laws regulations respecting storage of petroleum, and the product thereof, petroleum, benzine, and all other products of petroleum, if duty thereon has been paid, may be stored in any building or place which is in conformity with the municipal regulation in that behalf, and when bonded for duty they may be stored in such authorized buildings or warehouses, as are conformable to municipal regulations.

In cities and towns where there are no such municipal laws or regulations, and in all villages and places other than cities and towns, petroleum, benzine, and all other products of petroleum, if in quantities exceeding two barrels of crude or refined petroleum, or ten gallons of benzine or any other similar article which will not stand the prescribed fire test, shall be stored only in isolated buildings, or on premises which are at least two hundred yards distant from the next nearest building, not owned or in the occupation of the person to whom petroleum, benzine, or any other article belongs, provided always that a license to have in possession, and to store all such refined petroleum and products thereof which will not stand fire test before quoted, shall in each case have been previously obtained from the Inland Revenue Department.

A case of the ownership of a poor old horse worth seventy-five dollers, has been on trial in Buffalo nine years, and is as far from settlement as ever.

A small boy "peeked" under the canvas containing the three-eyed ox, at Louisville, was quietly prodded through the head with a pitchfork in the hands of the exhibitor.

She tripped along with ribbons flying from a bren new hat she'd just been buying. She held her head up very high, and thought "Well, she'll just old pie!" An orange peel lay on the track, she tripped upon her back—lay Mavin Simkins.

The Hon. Wm. H Seward and party were in Chicago Monday. They have started on a tour of six month's duration, comprising a trip by the Pacific Railroad to San Francisco, where they propose taking a steamer for Sitka. The party also propose to visit India and China before their return home.

It appears to be the opinion in England that the wheat crop there this year will be neither early nor great, owing to the cold and north and east winds which prevailed during May. It is thought also that is not likely to be dear; some maintaining that it will never be dear again, and that beet will never be cheap. The prices of wheat will be low while no war deprives America and Russia of the facilities of sending their produce to the English market. The supply of beef is already below the demand, and the taste for it, and the means of purchasing it are increasing.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, JUNE 21.

INDUCTION.—Our Town readers are reminded of the induction of Rev. J. C. Smith, M. A., which takes place this evening in St. Andrew's Church. Services commence at 7:30 o'clock.

NOTICE.—All Irish Protestants favorable to the formation of an Irish Protestant Benevolent Association in this Town, are requested to meet at the Town Hall, on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

THE TOWNSEND FAMILY.—It will be seen by advertisement that this family appear in the Ontario Hall to-night in one of their popular entertainments. They have been playing to crowded houses in Toronto, Hamilton and other points west, and their performances are very highly spoken of by the press of those localities. The play to-night is the highly interesting drama in three acts, entitled the "Foundling of Paris, or the unfortunate Madelaine," to be followed by the popular Comedy, "The Romp, or don't judge by appearances."

CHEAP EXCURSION.—Our readers are reminded that the great and cheap excursion to Niagara Falls under the auspices of St. Andrew's Society of Belleville, comes off to-morrow.—Excursionists leave Belleville by the 6 o'clock train to-morrow morning; at Toronto they take steamer to Niagara, and from thence to the Falls by rail. The tickets are put at the exceedingly low rate of $3.25, thus enabling every one who desires to go and see one of the greatest natural wonders of the world, and have a delightful trip by both rail and water. The Society deserves a great deal of credit for getting up these cheap excursions, and we trust they will be amply rewarded by a large party to accompany them in the excursion.

ST. GEORGE'S PIC-NIC.—The annual Pic-nic of the St. George's Society took place on Friday last. Notwithstanding the threatening aspect of the weather during the greater part of the day, and the fact of a heavy rain early in the morning, the attendance was quite large, and everything passed off in the most satisfactory manner. Had the weather been more favorable we have no doubt it would have been one of the most successful affairs of the kind that was Mississaga. This delightful spot never appeared to better advantage than on this occasion. The steamer 'Prince Edward' carried the bulk of the Pic-nicists. The tug 'J. T. Hoyden,' also made one or two trips to the Point during the day, flaunting a fine appearance with her canvas awning, flags and streamers. The yachts 'Rivet' and 'Spray,' and others of smaller capacity, also a large number of sail boats and skiffs dotted the bay in the immediate vicinity of the ground, and added greatly to the beauty of the scene. The fine band of the Royal Canadian Rifles disoursed sweet music to the dancers on the green sward, while the shores re-echoed with the laughter of the merry groups who were enjoying themselves in the various sports and pastimes provided for their amusement. The picnic was an enjoyable one. The parties returned to town about eight o'clock all thoroughly pleased with the good time they had spent, and that nothing had occurred that would in the slightest degree tend to mar the pleasures of the day.

The Dredge Gone.

Much to the surprise of the people of the town, the Tug J. T. Hayden, with the Dredge and scows, left this port on Saturday evening for the West. It was hoped that when the additional appropriation of $2,000 was made to complete the dredging of the harbor, this Dredge would have been engaged to do the work. We believe there is some difference between the town and the contractors with regard to the amount offered for clearing out the Ferry slip, and that in consequence of the treatment the latter have received, they have no desire to engage in any further contract with the town. We presume the matter will be brought up in the Council to-night, and shall therefore refrain from any comments until we see what explanations are made by the Committee. One thing we may say, that the contractors have made many and lasting friends during their brief stay amongst us, and it is with sincere regret we bid them such a hasty good-bye, and more particularly that their departure has been occasioned by any misunderstanding between them and the town.

Militia Changes.

In the Official Gazette of Saturday, we find the following appointments and changes:

15th Belleville Battalion of Infantry, No. 6 Company—The resignation of Ensign W. G. Diamond is accepted.

16th Prince Edward Battalion of Infantry—Assistant Surgeon, John Milton Platt, M. D.

No. 3 Company, Wellington—Ensign, Thomas McFaden.

49th Hasting's Battalion of Infantry, No. 2 Company, Stirling—Lieut. provisionally, Ensign Robert Potts; Ensign provisionally, Sergt. John Ackers.

No. 5 Company, Tyendinaga—Ensign provisionally, Color-Sergeant Jas. R. McLean.

"Voting Straight."

Let us look a little more narrowly into the Globe's article pitching into the members for North and West Hastings. It seems that the head and front of their offending is that they have had sufficient political independence and honesty to vote upon all questions in a manner which they believe to be for the best interests of the country. But, says the Globe, if they disapproved of the details of the Militia Bill,—"the Great Western Railway Bill,—the "Newfoundland Resolutions, and the "Nova Scotia Subsidy," they ought to assist in depriving the ministry of power as soon as possible. Suppose they followed the advice of the Globe, what would they gain, particularly upon the important questions here selected by the Globe as being of vital importance to the country? It is well known by those who have read the debates in the House of Commons, that the leaders of the opposition, save one or two, are adverse to any Militia organization, and would rather see the whole force disbanded, and this country gradually merged into that of another. Is this what the Globe desires the members for Hastings, who hold views diametrically opposed to such a course, to assist in accomplishing?

Following this is the Great Western Railway Bill, which lost to the country over a million of dollars. What was to be gained by ousting the Ministry and placing in power Mackenzie and his followers? These gentlemen, not only supported the Government proposition, but declared in debate the settlement to be, not only a fair one, but too exacting, and were willing to give more of the public money than was proposed to be given by the Government. Mr. Holton, even accepted the Government proposition, as stated by himself, without even taking the trouble to investigate the figures. Yet these are the men whom the Globe is of opinion should occupy a position on the Ministerial benches. What did the Globe do upon this question of giving over a million of dollars to the Great Western Railway Corporation, a corporation of acknowledged wealth? Did it lend the weight of its influence to save this money to the country? No, but remained, as is its wont when the interests pecuniary or otherwise of its friends are at stake, silent! Why was this? The answer is simple; George Brown has not forgotten his profitable wood contracts with the Great Western Railway; the establishment of a depot at Bothwell, and what is equally important, the fact, that the employees of that Road at all elections cast their influence in favor of the Grit candidates, and so long as this is done, the country may rest assured that the Globe and its friends will be as mum as mice when the interests of that Road are at stake, though millions may be lost to the country.

Coming down to the Newfoundland portion of the Globe's friendly remarks upon this point? Could the members for North and West Hastings succeed in having their views carried out by a change of Ministry? If there be one question more than another that shews the duplicity of the Grit party, it is that referring to Newfoundland. At the Quebec Conference George Brown and his followers solemnly agreed to give Newfoundland $150,000 per annum for its wild lands, which are acknowledged to be valueless. Yet now, such was not in power, they condemn others for carrying out their views. Never did leaders of a party present a more humiliating spectacle than did Mackenzie and the Ontario Grits when voting to condemn the Government for proposing to do what they, the Grits, had pledged themselves to carry out when they voted for the Quebec Resolutions. Yet, forsooth, because men who were not so pledged, voted in accordance with their own convictions of right and the best interests of the Dominion, they are condemned for not assisting to place in power these men of no principle, who, if once seated upon the Treasury Benches would belie all their former professions.

The last reason given why the members for North and West Hastings should give every vote against the Government, is because they do not approve of the price paid to conciliate the Nova Scotians, nor the mode by which it was done. Well, suppose they do not, what was to be gained by changing the men in power? Let any one read the debates for an answer. Mackenzie declared more than once, that Nova Scotia was financially ill used in the allotment of its debt and the amount of subsidy to be given to her, yet he voted against the Government proposition to give her what this model of Grit perfection declared she should have. Even Blake declared he was willing to accept the proposition if he could be assured it would be a finality.—With such sentiments does any one believe for a moment that Mackenzie & Co would not have given Nova Scotia even more to conciliate her, were they in power? Aye, and the Globe would sing their praises for attempting to allay discontent, and joining in one homogeneous whole the Provinces of British America. Such is the difference between being in power and out of power.

The Globe is untruthful as well as disingenuous in its article. It says Messrs. Bowell and Brown never vote against the Government "when there is the slightest "likelihood of the Ministry being outvoted." Could we believe the Globe ignorant of passing events, we would charitably excuse this statement, but when we know that the Globe is conversant with every vote given in Parliament, we can but believe that, as usual, it has willfully and maliciously given publicity to that which it known to be not only unfair but absolutely untrue. Did not these gentlemen vote against the Government upon the tariff when McDougall held the lash over their heads, and when there was every probability of the item being carried against the Government? Did they not vote against the Government and assist in defeating the item upon the Militia estimates? Did they not vote against them upon the Governor General's Salary when resignation and threats of an appeal to the people were held over their heads, and the general belief prevailed that the Ministry would be defeated? Did they not the other evening give their votes against portions of the estimates and assist in defeating the Ministry? Yet with these facts fresh in the mind of the writer of the Globe, he hesitates not to say the members for Hastings never vote against the Ministry "when there is "the slightest likelihood of the Ministry "being outvoted." We do not know that audacious impudence could go further.

Not satisfied with these false statements, the Globe proceeds to insinuate that these members have "blunt axes" to grind, and that when needed, "the crack" of Sir John's "whip will allay the "spasmodic fits" of independence of members. Had not the Globe's conductor been behind the scenes, and seized the moments of power for self-aggrandizement, we should not be led to the belief that he was judging others by himself. People do not forget how, with the power of the Globe at his back, he fattened on wood contracts from the Great Western Railway. Nor how he utilized the party when for forty-eight hours he held power in 1858, to effect the Upper Canada Bank for his own special benefit. Nor how he succeeded at a particular moment when his power could be felt through the Globe for or against the giving, or renewing of the Ocean Mail Subsidy, to extract a loan of some $20,000 from the Messrs. Allan, who own the mail service vessels. Does the Globe forget the antecedents of its chief editor? Not at all, but knowing them well, affects to believe that others are as politically dishonest as himself.

Parliament on Saturday.

Our columns are so crowded that we can give but a very condensed report of the proceedings of the House on Saturday. The supplimentary estimates were gone into and adopted.

The Interest Bill was taken up, and as a large number of members had left, and as the Banking question had been left over, it was urged that the Interest question be laid over.

Mr. Bowell hoped that the measure brought before the House at this late season would receive the attention which it deserved. He spoke at some length of the importance of having some limit to the rate of interest, and on this subject, all complaining of its injurious effects on the country. Many persons were obliged to leave the country in the section which he represented, from the rates of interest imposed by money lenders. The bill before the House was not such a one as he would like to have: but half a loaf was better than no bread. (Hear, hear.)

Sir John A. Macdonald explained that all the members who would support his resolution would express their willingness to go on with the measure this session, and all who opposed would vote to have it postponed till next session.

The division was then taken with the following result:—Yeas, 58; Nays, 57.

But it appeared that Mr. Fortier had paired with the member for Compton. Mr. Fortier voted with the Government. Dr. Grant being called on, said he voted nay. The votes of Mr. Kempt and Mr. Little, who were not then in the House, were objected to.

The Clerk subsequently declared the vote to be yeas 56, nays 55.

Yeas.—Anglin, Beaty, Blake, Bodwell, Bowman, Carling, Cartwright, Chamberlin, Chipman, Coffin, Currier, Dobbie, Forbes, Gibbs, Grant, Hagar, Harwood, Heath, Hunt, Hurdon, Keeler, Lawson, Levesconte, McDonald (Inverness), McDonald (Middlesex), Macfarlane, Mackenzie, Magill, McConkey, McLean, McMonies, Merritt, Metcalfe, Morris, Morrison (Victoria), Morrison (Niagara), Munro, Oliver, Bay, Redford, Ross (Wellington, C. B.), Simard, Simpson, Snider, Stephenson, Stirton, Street, Thompson (Ontario), Wells, Whitehead, Wilson, Wood, Wright (Ottawa County), Wright (York, Ontario, W. R.), Young.—55

The motion was declared carried.

Mr. Mackenzie called attention to the fact that before the vote was declared carried, the Hon. Mr. McKeagney left the Chamber.

The House went into Committee, Mr. McCarthy in the chair.

Mr. Macfarlane moved that the Committee rise.

On a division, the Chairman declared the amendment carried.

The Committee rose and reported.

Several Bills were read a third time.

With the consent of the House Sir John A. Macdonald moved that Monday be a Government day, and that the House meet from 11 till 4, 3 till 6, and 7:30 till the adjournment; with the consent of the House His Excellency, the Governor General, would prorogue the House on Tuesday or Wednesday.—Carried.

The House adjourned at 12 o'clock.

Diocese of Ontario.

The Anglican Synod met at Kingston last week; the Delegates in attendance from Belleville were, F. McAnnany, Dr. Hope and Edward Harrison, from St. Thomas' Church, and P.D. Conger from Christ's Church. What seemed to be an important matter with the Synod, was the election of Delegates to the Provincial Synod, as that body has the power of enacting laws for the governing of the Church in Canada. The below for the Lay Delegates resulted in favor of Thomas Kirkpatrick, Hon. Jas. Patton, F. McAnnany, Jas. Rosamond, J. B. Lewis, J. M. Ferres, E. J. Senkler, A. Hooper, S. Fizzle, John Twigg, H. S. Macdonald and Mr. May.

SUBSTITUTES.—Judge Jarvis, W. B. Simpson, Dr. Henderson, Hon. John Hamilton, H. D. Shaw, D. F. Jones.

The Bishops address to the Synod is a very interesting document, which we will endeavor to make room for to-morrow.

—The sailors in Kingston have struck for higher wages, demanding $1 per day, instead of $25 per month.

400 Norwegian immigrants went up by the 'Passport,' on Saturday, all bound for the Western States.

—It is again rumored that immediately after Parliament is prorogued, Rev. Mr. McMahon, the Fenian priest, is to be released.

—Dr. Maclean, son of Mr. Maclean of Belleville, has been appointed one of the delegates to represent the American National Medical Association at the British Medical Association, which meets at Leeds in August.

—A daily moderate use of the bleached foot stalks of celery leaves, as a salad, is an excellent remedy for weak nerves, and, frequently effects an entire cure. It is also used with success in cases of palpitation of the heart. Every body engaged in daily labor, weakening the nerves, should use celery daily in season, and onions in its stead when not in season.

MISSING OCEAN VESSELS.—The following vessels have not been heard of since the various dates mentioned:—The Iron, which sailed from Quebec on the 17th of November, and passed by the Traverse on the 20th; the Oregon, from Quebec on the 27th of Nov., for Swansea, and from Bic Island next day, in charge of the mate (the master having died after the vessel left Quebec); the Charles G. Colgate, from Miramichi on the 24th of December, for Liverpool, and which was spoken with on or about the 5th of January off the coast of Florida; the Cynthia, from Summerside, Prince Edward Island, on the 4th of December, for Queenstown; the Swift, from P. E. Island on the 4th of December, for Queenstown; the Forest Queen, of Prince Edward Island, official No. 54,237, from Shields on the 26th of October; the Coral, from Quebec on the 12th of November, for Liverpool, left by the Pilot off Bic about the 22nd of November; the Glanes, official No. 39,255, of and for St. John's N. F., from Teignemouth on the 23rd of November, and the Nobo, from Gibraltar, on the 21st of November, for Havre de Grace.

Business Notice.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless, landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squabble over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

ORANGE DEMONSTRATION.

LONDON, June 19.—An immense Orange demonstration occurred at Enniskillen, Ireland, yesterday. A great procession, music, banners, speeches, toasts, &c., were the prominent features of the occasion. It is estimated that twenty thousand people were present.

THE LATEST.

FROM SPAIN—REGENCY ESTABLISHED.

MADRID, June 19.—The Cortes has passed a bill giving the acts of the Provisional Government the force of law, and conferring upon it the power to carry them into effect. After a stormy debate the Republicans had succeeded in bringing before the Cortes a resolution expressing the disapproval of the presence of the Duke of Montpensier in Spain, and demanding that the Government order him to return to Portugal.

Gen. Pezuela, a strong supporter of the ex-Queen, arrived here on the pretext of visiting his estates in Segovia, claiming his right to do so as a citizen under the constitution. He was arrested and sent to Aronjuez to await further orders. He will probably be exiled to the Canaries. It is said that a steamer is now waiting at Cadiz to take him to the Island.

A conspiracy for the restoration of Queen Isabella, has been discovered at Grenada.

On taking the oath of office yesterday as Regent of Spain, Marshall Serrano made a speech in which he promised to respect the constitution and liberties of the country.

President Rivero in reply assured him of the support of all Spaniards.

The members of the new Ministry were presented to the Cortes yesterday.

Gen. Prim addressed the Chamber. He promised that the Government would observe all the provisions of the constitution and exact equal respect for them from the nation. He exhorted the majority of the Cortes to continue united in action, and urged the Republicans to preserve an attitude of moderation.

After a long discussion the resolution condemning the presence of the Duke of Montpensier in Spain, was rejected by a vote of 94 to 67.

Gen. Prim opposed the resolution, arguing that the Duke had perfect liberty to inhabit any part of the country.

FROM PRUSSIA.

BERLIN, June 19.—In the Zollcrein to-day, Mr. Delimick said that the new Charge de Affairs at Mexico had been instructed with respect to that Government, and he hoped to lay a treaty before the Diet at its next session.

MORE TROUBLE.

PARIS, June 19.—It is said that the Government has ordered the arrest of all Carlists and Isabellists on the frontier.

FROM AUSTRALIA.

LONDON, June 20.—Later advices from Melbourne report that the troubles in the Colonial Parliament continued. The members expelled for bribery had been re-elected, and the parties guilty of bribing the legislators who were sent to jail by order of Parliament, were released by the Judges, on the ground of wrongful committal. The Parliament now appeals to Privy Council.

PERFECTLY TRANQUIL.

PARIS, June 20.—The city of Paris remains perfectly tranquil. No attempt has been made to renew late disorder. Mr. Burlingame is making preparations to leave for St. Petersburg with the Chinese Embassy.

FROM SPAIN.

MADRID, June 20.—The President of a Republican Cuban Cadiz, has been arrested for making a speech against Marshall Serano. The action of the authorities caused great excitement in Cadiz. In the Cortes yesterday, Gen. Prim said the Government must be held inflexible and supported in repressing disorders. They have proposed economical reform in the administration of the Finance.

FROM RIO JANEIRO.

LISBON, June 20.—The mail steamer from Rio Janeiro has arrived; she brings dates from Buenos Ayres to the 5th inst. The session of the Argentine Chambers had commenced.—President Sarmiento in his opening speech, declared that the strongest friendship existed between the allied South American forces. SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no remedy has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of Cold—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From Rev. Francis Lobdell, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

Belleville, May 18th, 1869. d15

Night Air.

An extraordinary fallacy is the dread of night air. What can we breathe at nigh but night air? The choice is between the pure night air from without and foul night air from within. Most people prefer the latter. An unaccountable choice. What would they say if it is proven to be true that fully one-half of all the disease we suffer is from occasioned by people sleeping with their windows shut? An open window most nights in the year, can never hurt any one. This is not to say that light is not necessary to recovery. In great cities night air is often the best and purest to be had in the twenty-four. I could better understand shutting windows in town during the night, for the sake of the sick. The absence of smoke, the quiet, all tend to make night the best time for airing the patient.

One of the highest authorities on consumption and climate has told me that the air in London is never so good as after 10 o'clock at night. Always air your rooms, then, from outside air, if possible. Windows are to open, doors are made to shut —a truth which seems exceedingly difficult of apprehension. Every room must be aired from without—every passage from within. But the fewer passages there are in a hospital, the better.—Florence Nightingale.

Dangerous Medication.

Thousands of deaths occur every year from the unadvised use of dangerous medicines. It often arises in this way: A person is suffering, the family physician is called, he writes a prescription, it is taken, and instant and grateful relief is experienced; the patient desires to know the name of the marvellous remedy, bears it in mind, and if there is a recurrence of his ailment, or if there is something similar, he ventures to send for it (the remedy) direct to the druggist. On being relieved again he becomes enthusiastic, and volunteers advice to his friends. They are relieved—sometimes!—and forthwith he begins to think he knows "about as much as one of the doctors." A little later, it is not unusual to see a record in the newspapers that Mr.— was 'found dead in his bed this morning.'

In the cases above, all were men of intelligence and position, and yet they allowed themselves to fall into the habitual use of the most dangerous remedies known to science. We would advise every one:

1. Never to keep dangerous medicines in the house.

2. Never to use a dangerous drug except by the immediate advice of your family physician.

3. When, in the use of any remedy, you find yourself inclined to employ it oftener or in larger quantities to produce the same effects, whether it be spirits, tobacco, snuff, tea, coffee, chloroform, ether, or any other stimulant or poison, be assured that you are on the very verge of destruction, and and that you are liable any day to an instant death.

4. When you find yourself inclined to take anything, even a cup of tea or coffee, to enable you to perform any work in hand, mental or bodily, avoid it as you would a deadly poison. The three greatest men of this century in our country, in pulpit, bar or forum, died drunkards; and long before their death it was known to their friends that they were incapable of an effort without being first fortified by a glass of brandy.—Holt's Journal.

A horrid man down East says he believes in the woman's movement—on washing day.

A Western reporter describes a young criminal as a "broth of a boy, temperamentally beardless, pathologically dropsical."

"A prudent man" says a witty Frenchman, "is like a pin. His head prevents him going too far."

Teacher—"Gerty, you were a very good girl to-day."

Gerty—"Yes, ma'am; I couldn't help being good, I had a stiff neck."

The smack of a parting kiss caused the horses attached to a bridal carriage in St. Louis, to run away with the happy but frightened pair, and smashed the wedding bonnet of the bride!

The New York Tribune says, that each Arizona savage killed by the United States troops, costs the country $50,000 and $100,000, and very sensibly asks—"What do we get in return?"

To KEEP CLEAR OF BED BUGS.—Take the white of four eggs and ten cents worth of quicksilver; put them into a bowl and beat to a perfect froth. Take a feather and dip into the preparation, and apply to every part of your bedstead where bugs congregate themselves; do this once a year, and you will never see a bedbug in your house. This plan is cheaper, if not better, than drawing their teeth.

Business Notice.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless, landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

—There are to be three steamers on the Saguenay route this season, instead of two as formerly, so that uncomfortable crowding of passengers will be in future avoided.

—One of the largest collieries in the North of England—the Monkwearmouth colliery—is stopped, owing to a strike. It is the deepest colliery in the North, and nearly 1,000 men and boys were employed.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in pills instead of a dozen of at least four times when they now cost ?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are readily prepared as tea and coffee ?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the invaluability of as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz :—

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, scurvy, boils, swellings, tendency to loss, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels, it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For convivence it has no equal; it is a mild and safe stimulant, and recommended for delicate persons : a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes ; a powerful corrective, if any of the frame has been reduced by sickness ; an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.

OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with great success in diseases caused by colds such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatism, pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which PAIN KILLER or Relief are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or disorders, &c. It may also be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 50 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri. Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salutary and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval in every instance.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Ottawa, Friday, June 18.

The Speaker took the chair at three o'clock.

MILITARY ESTIMATES.

Hon. Mr. Rose moved the reception of the report of Committee of Supply—salaries of Military Branch and District Staff, $52,925.

Mr. Bowell would like to know from the Minister of Militia before this item passed, why the two Deputy Assistant Adjutant Generals were, where they were stationed, and what was their duty; also the salaries of the Brigade Majors, as they were not stated in the detailed estimates; and what the duty of the medical staff officer was. These explanations were necessary before the estimates could be properly discussed.

Sir Geo. E. Cartier replied that one of the Assistant Deputies was Lieut. Col. McPherson, of Montreal, and the other was somewhere in New Brunswick; their duty was to assist the other officers in these places. The Medical Officer was Dr. Girdwood, of Montreal, who had to examine all the accounts sent in by those who had pensions or gratuities given to them, and to examine the credentials of applicants for Surgeons to Battalions; this was not a permanent appointment. The salaries of Brigade Majors were not fixed by law but by order in Council.

Hon. J. S. Macdonald said when the increase of the staff had been made he had objected, and was assured the arrangement was only temporary. Since that time not a single officer had been dispensed with. He wished to know how long this was to continue.

Sir Geo. E. Cartier said it was the intention of the Government to reduce the staff as much as possible; but with respect to this and the Brigade Majors, the question would be considered, when the new Adjutant General arrived, which would be in July, his great military experience would be applied to the improvement of the organization.

Hon. Mr. Dunkin urged the importance of keeping up the efficiency of the regimental staff.

Mr. Bowell had listened to the explanation of the Minister of Militia with no little attention, hoping they might be such as to convince him of the necessity of maintaining so large and expensive a staff in connection with the Militia force of the Dominion; but regretted that the explanation had only convinced him of the correctness of the opinion already expressed, that there was an expenditure in this Department not justifiable in our present position. The Minister of Militia stated that one of the Deputy Assistant Adjutant Generals was in Montreal, and that he had many duties to perform; when the fact was Mr. McPherson, one of the best Volunteer Officers in the' Province of Quebec, had been superceded, and a gentleman who had never been connected with the force, but formerly a member of the House of Assembly, appointed over his head; and not wishing to dismiss Mr. McPherson, he had been kept on the staff, without anything to do; and the country must not be surprised if some new office be created for him. With reference to the Medical Staff Officer, it mattered very little to Dr. Girdwood whether he was placed permanently on the staff or not, so long as he drew his $800 a year regularly, (Hear, hear,) and other sums: for looking at the public accounts it would be seen that $80 was paid to this same officer for medical attendance upon a messenger. Who this messenger was, or what right the country had to pay his Doctor bills, no one vouchsafed to tell the House. Did the Minister of Militia pretend to say that medical gentlemen who have received their degrees and diplomas from Colleges, and other seats of learning, had to send their credentials to Dr. Girdwood to be examined before they could be appointed surgeons to a battalion? These papers spoke for themselves, and no medical man having any respect for himself, would submit to such an indignity, nor should they be subjected to it. (Hear, hear.) The salaries paid to Brigade Majors did not appear in the estimates, but upon turning to the public accounts it would be seen that $18,882 had been paid in 1868, to seven of these officers, making $2,697 each, which he supposed included allowances, contingencies, etc., which no one could find out by the accounts as published. The hon. member for Cornwall, and Atty. General for Ontario had called attention to this fact, and it would not be irrelevent to compare the expenses of each military district as managed by that honorable gentleman, and for some time after he left office. As an example he would take the district of which Brockville was the headquarters. From November 1862, to November 1865, the staff in this district consisted of one Brigade Major at $600 per annum, and he believed travelling expenses amounting to about $1,000. During this period it must be remembered the greatest proportion of the Battalions were enrolled, and the office not overworked. From November 1865 to December 1866, an appointment was made of another officer which was only to be temporary, but like all such appointments became permanent at $1,200 a year. But what is asked now, by the estimates before us for the same district, with no more work to do? A Deputy Adjutant General, at $1,200 a year, and $500 allowances; a Clerk at $600 a year; a Messenger at $200 a year; a Brigade Major to cost, if the public accounts are to be taken as a guide, $2,697; a District Paymaster at $600, with an allowance of $50 per month when employed paying the Volunteers, and a Quarter Master at $600 per annum; making, without including the $50 per month to Paymasters, whose employed as indicated, the sum of $5,397, to do what used to be done as well, and as efficiently for $1,000. What use there was in such a staff he could not understand. It was only a few weeks since, that an officer was sent out to Brockville from Ottawa, to examine a lot of tent pegs which had been manufactured in or near that town; notwithstanding the fact, that the staff to whom allusion had been made were living in that neighborhood; among them Lt. Col. Atchelly, then, whom there is not a better officer in the service, a man of experience, who knows what a tent peg is as well as any officer. He did not hesitate to say, that one man, a Clerk and a Messenger could do all the work of the whole staff, fully as well, and much more satisfactorily to the Volunteer force, because these gentlemen were in each others way, and it took double the time to get any work done. As an example he would mention, that the enrolment returns of a Riding had been made on the 17th of March, but did not find their way to Ottawa until a few weeks ago, and not then until they had to be telegraphed for, after reasons had been asked why the enrolment money had not been paid. (Hear, hear.) When the Militia Bill was under discussion last year the Ministers of Militia had stated that certain officers would not be appointed, but that he wanted the power in case of trouble; but instead of pursuing that course they had not only been all reappointed, but more besides. He did not hesitate to say that a saving of from 50 to 75 per cent could be saved without effecting the efficiency of the staff in the least.—The present year it was proposed to reduce the drill pay of the volunteers to $6.50 per man. This was economy in the wrong direction; much better reduce the expenses of the staff and give the money to those who really earn it. There was another point to which he wished to call the attention of the Minister of Militia; it was to the amount of money paid to the Dominion Rifle Association, which was partly eaten up in travelling and other expenses connected with it. What was the fact? The whole affair was a failure, and the money utterly and uselessly spent. Most of the matches were between gentlemen, who, in case of trouble when the rifle would have to be used, would not be the men to walk into the ranks. In fact, many were gentlemen and officers who would not have to use a rifle in times of danger. If this money is to be given let it be divided among the different Battalions and encourage Battalion rifle matches, by which means those who in time of need would be taught how to use the weapon of defence put into their hands.—This he hoped would be considered by the Minister of Militia, and if the funds of the country would not justify a large sum, let a small one be given with the understanding that the officers or others should supplant the grant with a sum equal to that given by the Government. To continue the present grant to the Dominion Rifle Association, was to throw it away, and this he would find to be the opinion of almost every man who had had anything to do with it. He had considered it his duty to call attention to these facts, and hoped the Minister of Militia would consider them and practice economy where it could be done, and aid still further the rank and fyle, and the country would sustain him. There was a remark made the other day by the Minister of Militia when these estimates were under consideration, to which he would allude before closing his remarks, and that was the insinuation thrown out by that hon. gentleman, that he (Mr. B.) was actuated by other than proper motives in the course he pursued last session when the Militia Bill was under discussion. He (Cartier) then said "the member for North Hastings did not propose to reduce the salary of the Deputy Adjutant General, Lieutenant Col. Powell, when he made his motion to reduce the salaries he (Cartier) did not know what were his motives, but supposed it was for economy." The hon. Minister of Militia who had such an extraordinarily retentive memory, could not have forgotten the reasons assigned by him, (Mr. B.); but like many other politicians he found it convenient to remember such portions as suited his purpose. When accused the other day by the member for Chateauguay, (Mr. Holton) of "tergiversation." a charge which certainly should not have been made, for every one who has watched the politicians of Canada, know that they have never deviated from the strict patch of political rectitude, (laughter), nor voted against, nor violated their principles, (laughter), he affected no little indignation; when so sensitive himself, it would be as well for him to respect the feelings and motives of others and not by insuendo to attempt to cast discredit upon the actions of those just as sincere, and more so, than himself. (Hear, hear).

Hon. J. S. MACDONALD admitted the great difficulty which the head of the Militia Department had in keeping down staff appointments; but hoped that the Minister of Militia would accept such statements as had just been made by his hon. friend (Mr. Bowell) uncontradicted by any other member, as a true expression of the public opinion. The member for North Hastings was perfectly correct when he said that the staff was entirely too large, and such was the universal opinion of the country. He had been disappointed in the Military Schools. The class who passed through them, attracted by the money they could earn, were not, as a rule, fitted either by education or general bearing to take the position of officers in the time of danger.

Hon. Mr. BIANCHET entered into a defence of the staff organization, believing it to be necessary for the maintenance of the service.

Mr. ROSS, (Prince Edward), on behalf of the commissioned officers and men, asked how many men were to drill, and what they were to receive?

Sir GEORGE E. CARTIER said the estimates provided for the drilling of 40,000 men, as required by the Act. They would drill 20 days, three hours' drill being accounted a day, and permission was given to perform two days' drill on one day last year. The men would receive half a dollar and the officers a dollar, for each drill.—Tents and blankets would also be provided.

Mr. ROSS regretted that the number of drills had been reduced, and urged the propriety of encouraging the men by a more liberal allowance.

Mr. JONES (N. Leeds) corroborated the statements of the member for North Hasting (Bowell), and the views expressed by him and the member for Cornwall.

Sir GEORGE E. CARTIER enumerated the savings which had been effected on the appropriations for the several branches of the militia expenditure during the current year. With respect to the enrolment which had been made at a cost of $18,000 less than the estimate, it was the first complete enrolment which the country had ever possessed. He had predicted that the country had 700,000 militia men, and he was glad to say that the result of the enrolment had shown 656,000 men. The total saving on current year's service was $125,000; and the estimates for next year were $275,000 less than the expenditure for this year.—He admitted that reductions in the staff might be made; but he would not undertake to say where until the arrival of the Adjutant General. (Hear, hear). He said the new militia law was a great success; and for the great credit of the Province of Ontario he stated that its quota of 80,000 had not only been filled up, but there were 4,000 volunteers in addition seeking enrolment, whom they had to refuse. (Hear, hear).

The several items of the militia service were then concurred in.

The House adjourned at six o'clock.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

SIR,—It may be a peculiarity of taste on my part, but I emphatically object to the habit of the few dealers of the town depositing their daily supplies of this summer luxury on the side-walks, where it often lies for half an hour, exposed to the erratic practices of uncultivated canines. Perhaps a notice of this kind will induce a little more attention to cleanliness.

Yours truly,

A BOARDER.

—A noticeable feature in ships passing through the Welland Canal is, that many of those upward bound are heavily laden with freight, consisting principally of iron ore, salt, and general merchandise.

—The use of utensils of copper for culinary purposes is dangerous, and copper ware employed in the kitchen should always be coated with tin. In Sweden though copper is one of the principal products of that country, the use of copper vessels is prohibited for the preparation as well as for the preservation of food.

WRECKS IN 1868.—Lloyds Statistical Committee have just issued their annual statement of the number of shipwrecks and casualties reported during the year 1868, together with the average and comparative percentage of the two previous years. From these it is satisfactory to observe the practical benefit now resulting from the operation of the Act of 1865, establishing compulsory proof of cables and anchors. It appears the average casualities arising from default of anchors and cables in 1866 and 1867 numbered 748, as against 417 only in 1868. In 1866 and 1867 the average annual loss is stated at 1,995, while in 1868 the total was reduced to 1,118, a saving of 877; and this, notwithstanding the unusually severe and tempestuous character of the weather, as evidenced by the greately increased number of ships dismasted in 1868 over former years.

Business Notice.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless, landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squabble over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

"HO FOR SAN FRANCISCO."—We understand that Mr. R. P. Davy is now prepared to issue Tickets direct to San Francisco, via. Pacific Railroad, at reasonable rates. We advise those who intend going by that route to give him a call.

C. F. FILLITER, Esq.—We are pleased to notice the name of C. F. Filliter, late of the 15th Belleville Volunteer Battalion, second son of Lt-Col. FILLITER, in the list of successful candidates for direct Commissions in the Line, at the recent examination at Chelsea Hospital.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY EXPLORATION.—Mr. Venner, of the Geological Survey of Canada, assisted by Mr. B. Harrington and others, has again commenced his exploration in the back townships. The country to be examined lies between the Addington and Frontenac roads, and we believe the survey will extend northward to the Madawaska. During the past two years Mr. Venner has examined the County westward to the Burleigh road, in Peterboro County, and northward to the York Branch River, and the results of these Surveys will shortly appear in a printed report.

THE TOWNSEND FAMILY.—This highly respectable and talented company performed for the first time this season, in Ontario Hall, to a fashionable and delighted audience. This Tuesday evening will be presented the beautiful Three Act Play, (as per advertisement in another column), entitled the "Orphan of Geneva," Mr. John Townsend making his first appearance this season in his celebrated character of "Carwin," the Demon Advocate, supported by his accomplished daughters, and the whole family. This play has been received throughout England, Canada, and the States, with great favor, and was performed by the "Townsend family" last week at the Music Hall, Toronto, to a crowded and enthusiastic audience. The accomplished vocalist, Mrs. Harry Townsend, who was received last night with great favor, will follow with a popular song, and the entertainment will conclude with the roaring farce of "The Three Pair of Lovers." We bespeak a crowded house to-night.

How "Independence" is Manufactured.

In Montreal there is a sensational paper called the Star, which amongst other characteristics, is noted for its hearty and vigorous advocacy of Independence. Not in that manly, self-reliant spirit which some papers advocate the Independence of Canada, but in a manner which belittles everything that is Canadian, everything that is British, and lifts up for admiration everything that is Yankee, everything that pertains to the United States and its inhabitants. It has not the manliness to come out openly in favor of annexation like the Nova Scotia Repealers, whose cause it endeavours to serve. But in a covert and underhand manner, under the specious guise of independence, it is trying to do the work of the Annexation League as effectually as the boldest of its advocates. In this work it has been ably assisted by the New York Tribune, who would fain make the American people believe that the Star is the leading exponent of public opinion in Canada. And so far has it gone in its alliance with this Annexation journal, that a special correspondent has been despatched to Montreal to assist in creating and fostering the annexation sentiment. This correspondent in his zeal to promote the interests of his masters, has overshot the mark. In a recent letter to the Tribune, this correspondent gave the names of a large number of prominent business men who were put down as openly advocating not only independence, but insinuating that they were in favor of annexation to the United States. And to make his assertions have the semblance of truth, he said he knew whereof he was speaking, having repeatedly conversed with these gentlemen, and had the knowledge he possessed from their own mouths. Of course this bold statement of the Montreal correspondent naturally created a good deal of interest outside to know whether it was true or not, and at length we have a flat contradiction of that statement from some of the principal persons whose names were made so free with. The New York Tribune publishes the following communication, and as expected, the parties who sign it do not appear to have the distinguished honor of an acquaintance with the person who speaks so flippantly of "Ogilvie and I, you know:"

(To the Editor of the New York Tribune.)

SIR,—In the New York Tribune, a few day's since, appears a letter from its Montreal correspondent, purporting to be the opinion of the "leading men of Montreal," on the subject of the political severance of the connection between this country and Great Britain, amongst others, a most unwarrantable use of our names has been made as favoring such opinions. We beg most emphatically to state, that the correspondent referred to has been guilty of a gross piece of impertinence, the individual himself being entirely unknown to us, and never had expression of our views on this subject or any other, that we are aware of. We request, as a favor, your publication of this our unqualified repudiation of the statements contained in the article referred to.

Montreal, June 15, 1869.

The Montreal Gazette says another letter, in the same sense, is now on its way to the Tribune, from some of the other parties so freely implicated by the unfounded operation of its Montreal correspondent, and the Gazette asks, by the way, who is he? And this is the method by which Independence is manufactured.

Parliament Yesterday.

OTTAWA, June 21, 1869.

The House commenced its Session at 11 A. M.

MR. MCLELLAN.

Sir John A. Macdonald in reply to Mr. McKenzie, said the member for Colchester had not been called to the Senate.

JUDGES OF SUPERIOR COURTS.

When the House was in Committee of the whole on the allowances to Judges, Sir John A. Macdonald said the Act of the Legislature of Ontario increasing the salaries of the Judges, had been referred to the English law officers, and by them decided to be beyond the jurisdiction of the Legislature of Ontario.

INSOLVENT ACT.

The Insolvent Bill as amended by the Senate, limiting the time of its operations to four years, and other minor points, was passed.

ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE.

On motion of Sir John A. Macdonald, the House went into Committee on the Act respecting the summary Administration of Justice in certain cases, and reported the Bill with amendments; read a third time and passed.

DISEASE OF ANIMALS.

The House went into Committee on HON. Mr. Langevin's Bill respecting contagious diseases affecting animals, and passed the Bill.

SUPPLY.

The House passed the Bill, after some little discussion.

CRIMINAL LAW.

Sir John A. Macdonald's Bill respecting the Criminal Law, to repeal certain amendments therein mentioned, passed through its remaining stages.

BANK CHARTERS.

Hon Mr. Rose's Bill, to continue for a limited time the charters of certain Banks, was read a second time, considered in Committee, and passed.

DUTIES OF JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

On motion of Sir John A. Macdonald the House went into Committee on the Act respecting the duties of Justices of the Peace out of sessions in relation to persons charged with indictable offences, and passed the Bill.

DEBT OF THE PROVINCE OF CANADA.

Hon Mr. Wood, seconded by Mr. Young, moved for a full return of the debt of Canada, specifying the amount due by Ontario and Quebec to the Dominion.

WEIGHING OF GRAIN.

Mr. Walsh moved that the House go into Committee of the Whole to consider the following resolution:—That it is expedient that weighers of grain be appointed, and that they be entitled to a fee of 25 cents for each load of grain weighed by them. He said this was an object of much importance to the farming community. His idea was that weighers of grain should be appointed by the Boards of Trade, and he wished to have the resolution adopted in Committee and to introduce a Bill founded on it which might be printed and considered during the recess.

The House went into Committee on the resolution. After some discussion the Committee rose without reporting, thus killing the Bill.

RATE OF INTEREST.

Mr. BOWELL moved the second reading of his Bill relating to the interest on money, and in doing so said that he had availed himself of the suggestion of the Minister of Militia, that when the Bill was moved it could be amended in Committee, though he had not much hope at that period of the session, the last day but one, to succeed in carrying it though its several stages, particularly after the fate of the Government resolution the day before. If it could not be carried now he would take an early opportunity next session, to push the Bill to a second reading, when he hoped it would be treated upon its merits and not with the levity which had characterized the proceedings a few evenings since. He would not discuss the merits of the Bill at that stage, but would simply move its second reading, seconded by Mr. Brown.

After some further discussion, the Bill was allowed to stand till next session.

SUPPLY.

A long debate ensued upon the Supply Bill, and the House adjourned.

Chancery Judgement. Toronto.

SANDERSON VS. BURDETT.

Decree for plaintiff with costs. Sale of land decreed, and personal order against Burdett and Cameron for balance of purchase money. Bill dismissed against Heyden & Dafoe with costs, payable by Cameron. A. B. Deagall for Sanderson. Ferguson for Burdett. Cameron & McMichael for Cameron.

Smith vs. School Trustees.—Not decided yet.

Town Council.

MONDAY Evening, June 21, 1869.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment.

PRESENT.—His Worship the Mayor; Messrs. Henderson, Kelso, Starling, Foster, Vandusen, Holden, Tannahill and Watters.

The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

PETITIONS.

A petition asking for repairs to a street near the Station, was presented.

A petition from P. Clark was presented, asking for the position of Harbor Master.

A petition for aid from John Armstrong, was presented.

A petition was presented from the Chief of Police, asking for liberty to attend the St. Andrew's Excursion.

ACCOUNTS.

Several accounts were then read.

REPORTS.

The Treasurer's semi-monthly report was read, stating there were no available funds on hand.

The Finance Committee's report was read, recommending the payment of a number of accounts.

A report from Mr. Bogart was read, stating that he could make a trip to Big Island every Thursday, but thought it would require $10 per week more than the fare collected, to make the trip remunerative.

The report of the Committee on Fire, Water and Gas, was handed in, stating that they had tested the hose, and it did not stand 135 "Hydraulic" pressure, and that the hose offered is of an inferior quality, and not capable of standing equal pressure with the old hose, and is composed of a softer material, and smaller than the hose at present in use.—They therefore recommend that the hose be not received, as it is the intention to procure the best hose possible.

The Committee on Harbor and Town property handed in their report, stating that they had examined into the difficulty between Mr. Simpson and the town, and found that Mr. Simpson had taken possession of property belonging to the town, once occupied by Mr. Pretty, of which they had notified him, and also that the Dredge had left for Chicago, and therefore the grant of $2,000 additional for dredging the harbor, would not be required.

The reports of the Committees on Finance, Fire, Water and Gas, and Harbor and Town Property, were then received.

The Council went into Committee on Ways and Means. Mr. Kelso in the chair.

Upon the clause of the Finance Committees report, recommending the payment of $250 to the School, Mr. Holden stated that the $250 ... the balance ... Committee thought the School Trustees were entitled to, but the School Trustees also claimed an additional $500 which the Council received annually from the Government, although it was not in the estimates laid before the Council by the Trustees. He (Mr. H.) was willing to pay the full amount of the estimates, but thought the Council should not admit any further liability without careful consideration.

A short discussion ensued when the amount recommended by the Committee was ordered to be paid.

Mr. Holden handed in an account of $473 59 from Mr. Brown for sundry work done for the town, but the Committee did not feel warranted in recommending its payment.

Committee rose and reported. Report received.

Upon the motion for the adoption of the first clause of the Finance Committees report recommending the payment of $250 to the School Trustees.

Mr. Kelso stated that the money asked in the estimates by the School Trustees was the amount they required, besides the $500 which they knew was received annually from the Government, and should be paid over to them, as they were justly entitled to the amount.

A long discussion ensued, in which some of the members became quite eloquent when Mr. Foster moved that the clause be referred back to the Committee to have the sum of $250 erased and the sum of $750 inserted in its stead, but receiving no support his motion fell through.

The Report was then adopted.

Upon the motion for the adoption of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee's report Mr. Starling moved, seconded by Mr. Foster, that the part of the Report respecting the hose be erased, and the following clause inserted in its stead: "That the hose be accepted upon Mr. McKenzie putting the couplings in good order so as to stand a pressure of 150 lbs."

Mr. Holden stated he was willing to do anything that was fair in the matter, but was not willing to have the town suffer, as the couplings had drew at 125 lbs. pressure, he thought Mr. McKenzie should give a guarantee that the hose would stand 150 lbs pressure before they were tried again, as from the Report of the Chief Engineer, the hose were of an inferior quality in every respect.

Mr. Henderson said he did not know what position the town was respecting the matter, but thought Mr. Holden was prejudiced.

Mr. Starling thought the hose never had a fair trial.

After a lengthy discussion the members of the Council warming up considerably in the interests of the town, Mr. Starling's motion was put and carried on the following division:—

YEAS—Messrs. Henderson, Kelso, Starling, Foster, and his Worship the Mayor.

NAYS—Messrs. Kennedy, Vandusen, Watters and Holden.

Mr. Tannahill with the consent of the Council not voting.

The report was then adopted.

The petition of Mr. Bogart was referred to the Ferry Committee.

The petition of the Chief of Police was granted.

Council adjourned.

DEATH OF H. J. RAYMOND.

LONDON, June 21.—The announcement of the sudden death of Henry J. Raymond, which was received here by the Cable on Saturday, creates deep feelings of sorrow. The Pall Mall Gazette regrets Mr. Raymond as a publicist and journalist, and his death creates a gap that cannot be filled. The Daily Telegraph in a similar article says in private life Mr. Raymond was amiable, courteous, loyal and hospitable, and he was beloved by all, even when opposed to many in politics.

STRENGTHENING THE MILITARY FORCE IN IRELAND.

In the House of Commons this evening Sir John Gray, member for Kilkenny, asked the Government if there was any reason to apprehend further trouble in Ireland, and if the military force in that country was to be strengthened.

Mr. Fortescue, Chief Secretary for Ireland, stated that the Government was informed that Mr. Johnson, a prominent Orange leader in Ireland, had called a meeting to celebrate the anniversary of the battle of July. This was not an act of hostility to the Government, but the practice of increasing the military force in Ireland about the time of the anniversary was never more necessary than in the present year.

LONDON, June 21st.—In the House of Lords to-night, Earl Gray gave notice that he should move to-night in the Irish Church Bill that portion of the preamble which provides that the property and proceeds of said Church shall not be held or applied for the maintenance of any ministry or for the teaching of religion.

By time and allowance, the 'Julia' won the first prize, £100, and the 'Egeria' second prize, £50.

DUTY ON PETROLEUM AND SUGAR.

BERLIN, June 21.—The Zollverein parliament having rejected the proposed duty on petroleum, Count Von Bismarck declared that the Presidency of the Zollverein would not consent to any revision of the actual duty, unless the Chamber re-considered its action. NEW ALBION HOTEL,
McGILL STREET,
MONTREAL, CANADA.

THE "NEW ALBION HOTEL," the largest Hotel in Montreal, has just been opened under the most favorable auspices.

Whilst the "Old Albion" has been long noted for the strict attention paid to its numerous guests, the "New Albion" takes its position as a first class Hotel, and is really first class in every respect, except the charges, which better suit the ideas and requirements of the majority of travellers, than many of the so called, "first class Houses;" which deserve the title more through the amount of their charges than aught else.

Already the crowded state of the "New Albion" promises well for its future career; everything associated with its construction has been carried out with artistic taste and systematic correctness.

The large Hall, commodious office, spacious Reading room, convenient Dining, Coffee, Wash Room, etc., etc., on the ground floor; and the Reception Room and Suite of APARTMENTS FURNISHED and THOROUGHLY VENTILATED LADIES' PARLORS, on the second floor, will form no small luxury during the hot summer season. And, what is an exception to the general Rule in Hotels, the Bedrooms are all well ventilated and lighted, there not being a dark room in the House.

Being situated on the widest and healthiest Street in Montreal, commanding a Magnificent View of the River St. Lawrence and the Victoria Bridge on the left, and a full view of the Victoria Square with its numerous "Jets d'Eau" and Mount Royal on the right, it cannot fail to commend itself to the travelling public.

From its situation on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare and commercial centre of the City it cannot fail to be, as the "Old Albion" has always been a strong favorite with the Merchants of Canada.

Notwithstanding the very large outlay in building and furnishing the house, the old price of $1 50 per day will not be departed from.

We, therefore, bespeak for ourselves a continuance of the patronage so liberally accorded to us during the past twelve years.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no remedy has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of COLDS—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From REV. FRANCIS LOBDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

The Slave Trade of the Nile.

The expedition with which Sir Samuel Baker is going to attempt the conquest of the Upper Nile country, consists of 200 Arab cavalry and 1,200 Nubian infantry, armed with breach-loaders, and carrying 14 mountain howitzers. Sir Samuel also takes three steamers, one paddle-wheel, 130 feet long and 20 feet beam; and one screw, 80 feet long and 17 feet beam; and one screw, 50 feet and 9 beam. These vessels are of steel, and are to be transported in pieces to the place of launching, where they will be put together. It is expected that this will be about 200 miles north of the equator, and that by means of the steamers the expedition will reach the Albert Nyanza Lake by Christmas. Sir Samuel carries with him a supply of English hardware and fancy goods, such as his experience has shown him will be suited to trade with in the interior of Africa. He will establish stations at distances suitable for business, and also for keeping up his communications with Egypt. The Viceroy has made him general-in-chief of the expeditionary army, with power of life and death, and the title of Governor-General of the kingdoms beyond the Egyptian frontier. The expedition is to start on the 1st of July.

Josh Billings on the Mule.

The mule is half horse and half jackass and then kums to a full stop, natur diskovering her mistake. Tha weigh more akkording to their heft, then the hoss, yet their ears are big enuff for snow shoes. You ken trust them with any one whose life ain't worth enny more then the mule's. The only way to keep them into a pasture is to turn them into a medder jining, and let them jump out. Tha are ready for use as soon as tha will do to abuse. Tha haint got enny friends, and will live on huckle berry brush, with an occasional chance at Kannada thistels. Tha are a modern invention, I don't think the Bible eludes to them at all. Tha sell for more money than enny other domestick animile. You kant tell their age by looking into their mouths, enny more than you could a Mexecan cannon. Tha never have no disease that a good club won't heal. If tha ever die, tha must kum rite to life again, for I never heard nobody say ded mule. Tha ar like some men, 'very corrupt at hart.' I've known them tu be good mules for six months, jist tu get a chance to kick somebody. I never owned one or never mean to unless there is a law passed requiring it. The only reason why tha are pashaus is because they are ashamed of themselves. I have seen eddicated mules at a surkus. Tha would kick and bite tremenjis. Enny man who is willing to drive a mule, ought to be exempt by law from running for the Legislatur. I herd tell of one who tell oph from the tow path on the Erie canawul, and sunk as soon as he touched water, but he kept on towing the boat to the next station, breshing throug ears which stuck out of water 2 feet 8 inches. I didn't see this did, but an auctioneer told of it, and I never knew an auctioneer to tell an untruth unless it was absolutely convenient.

To Folks who Quarrel.

'The chest of drawers will stand beautiful under the window,' said Tom Lavery.—'Under the window!' repeated his wife—as pretty a little woman as you'd see in a day's walk, but with a cruel tongue that would give nineteen to the dozen any day and not think it a trouble—'under the window,' she said again, with a scornful curl on her lip, 'it shall never go under the window, where I have breath in my body; it shall stand sorenenst the window, where it will be seen and admired; under the window, indeed! I wonder you don't say chimney!' 'It shall go under the window, Mayna Lavery; its too nisy going I have been with you entirely. You are never satisfied, full or fasting, and think all the world must cirtsey to you, it shall go under the window and you'd better not dare to hinder it. It never shall,' said Moyna, 'I'll pitch the window into the street first.'—'And I'd pitch you after it for company,' said Tom. On this Moyna raised a 'wirrathrue' that you'd hear from his Bantry, and Tom's loud voice had more noise than sense in it—and Tom took the stick to his wife—and she screamed murder, and at that lucky moment the door opened, and there, sure enough, stood Father Barry, and, as became a holy and good man, he asked them what they were after, and as Moyna had the nimblest tongue, she said her husband was that Omathawn that he would have the chest of drawers under the window, which she would never give into, never! she'd lay her bones in the green churchyard first? 'But where's the chest of drawers?' said Father Barry—and may be the fool's look didn't come over their faces. "The chest of drawers,' said one. 'Is it the chest of drawers?' said the other; 'oh, sorra a chest of drawers we have at all—yet.'

ORTON'S PREPARATION!

ESTABLISHED 1866.

One box of Orton's Preparation will destroy the appetite for tobacco, no matter how strong it may be, in any case the most perfect cure will be effected, and it is almost impossible to break by the mere exercise of the moral and will power; it is firmly rooted. With the use of this Preparation there is no trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that Orton's Preparation will certainly destroy the appetite for tobacco quickly and permanently, without any bad effect upon the health, and without creating an appetite either for the Preparation or any substitute.

☞ Beware of counterfeits and all articles purporting to be like this, of the same name or anything like. The great popularity of Orton's Preparation has induced unprincipled persons to attempt palming upon the public counterfeit and inferior articles. Purchasers will please order directly from the proprietor, or his duly authorized Agent. ☜

The price of Orton's preparation is $2.00 per box, or three boxes for $5, sent by mail to any part of the country, securely sealed from observation, with passage paid on receipt of price.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of one dollar per ounce? Sometimes we think they would.

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plant roots, and are as readily prepared for tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have on our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicality of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as scrofula, rheumatism, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. Irregulties in the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without robbing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe purgative. For children fed on delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful corrective of the Premo habit. It has been reduced by sickness; no excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a derangement of the stomach. Sold at 50 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.

OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success in all cases caused by colds and fevers, as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes to which Pain Killer or Relief is now used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, bilious attacks, female complaints or obstructions. It may also be used as a general success as a Liniment. Sold at 25 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Henry J. Raymond

THE NEW YORK PRESS ON HIS DEATH.

From the Tribune we take these few particulars of Mr. Raymond's life :—

"In the death of Henry J. Raymond, editor of the New York Times, the press of our city has lost one of its ablest and most eminent members. Mr. Raymond, after graduating with distinction at the University of Vermont, came directly to this city in the autumn of 1840, and was employed on the New Yorker, for which he had written with force and spirit while a student.—The Tribune, was started the next April and Mr. Raymond held the second place on its editorial staff from the outset until the autumn of 1848, when he resigned it to accept a like position on the Courier and Enquirer, which he likewise relinquished after a few years; visiting Europe with his family, and being repeatedly elected to the Assembly of the State, whereof he was in the second term chosen speaker. He now started the Times, from which he was from the first sole editor, though well served by assistants. He was chosen Lieutenant Governor of our State in 1854 and elected to Congress from our VIth district in 1864. Mr. Johnson in 1867 nominated him for Minister to Austria, but the Senate did not confirm the selection.

"Genial, unassuming, and thoroughly informed by study, observation, and travel, Mr. Raymond was a delightful companion, and his society was widely courted and enjoyed. A thoroughly capable and effective canvasser, he has for years shunned public speaking whenever it could be avoided, finding enough to do without it, and having no decided love for the sound of his own voice. Snatched away so suddenly in the prime of life and in the midst of its activities, his death makes a void that will not easily be filled, while his widow and child ren are called to mourn a loss at once astonishing and irreparable."

In another part of the same paper there is this beautiful tribute to his worth :—

"In the great newspaper offices, in the club-houses, in Wall street, in committee rooms, in all places where men of culture and of learning meet together, a little whisper of news came yesterday which awed the bravest and saddened the lightest heart. It was only the news that is told every day of some man well known to his fellows, only the news that a kindly face would be no more seen among them, a heartsome voice by no more heard, a firm step no longer ring down familiar ways. And yet few faces could be more missed than this one lying upturned in such dreamless sleep; few voices die out of more listening ears, few steps fail whose coming had brought assurance of a friend's approach to a greater host of friends. Gov. Raymond is dead, said the brief report. But no man who heard it repeated it in that form. 'A great journalist is dead,' said one voice; 'An able politician is gone,' said another. And so multitudes remembered him, each giving him honor for some distinctive power, but all adding in softer voice, 'and he had no enemies.' It is a good record to have left. A young man still, an over-worked, over-anxious, over-eager man, ambitious, liking position, liking money, liking all the prizes and all the warm, sweet gifts in life, in close relations with hundreds of men of most different capacities and purposes, he yet leaves no personal enemy, not one who shall say, 'he was a false friend.' In his life there was much bitter speech about the politician, the editor, the legislator, the editor—none concerning the man. Now that he cannot explain ways that seemed unwise or tortuous, his bitterest detractors, touched by the sweet charity and wisdom which are the gift of death when he takes away one we have known, will be the first to explain the unwisdom or the crookedness. They will see that what they called disingenuousness and timidity might have been a fear of bigotry and one-sidedness, an eagerness to behold the truth from all sides, an incapacity to regard any step, or declaration, or triumph, as conclusive. A poor boy from the country, brown-handed, rustic, he achieved a college training, and came alone to a great city to conquer his place among men. He worked as no digger on the railroads could work. His place was low; his wages was small; but he bent his genius to the occasion as if he had been premier, and the applause of the world his guerdon. By and by the obscure name was in men's mouths. By and by, again he was himself a recognised power, and graduated from journey-work into the mastership of his own newspaper. He had conquered his place. Money and influence, and the applause were his. And in these prosperous days no one was so ready to help him who was down to serve a friend at some cost to himself to make the places of his associates pleasant and honorable, to do distasteful tasks which other men hesitated at.

"While his hands were full of business and his life full of activities, the strange, swift order came to him to leave all this for larger occupation. There was no time to say his farewells to old associates, but they crowd to say a tender farewell to him.—There is no journalist to take his place; the epitome of his kindness and loyalty is written thus. Pure sunshine floods the earth this morning, and filters down in mist of gold on the cool, sweet sward of Greenwood, where his eyes last looked on it. The golden mist will float above a new grave, where he shall lie beside the lad he loved so much, and skimmering in the sun, will seem to make a ladder through the shining air whereon the angels of the Lord shall ascend and decend.

"His hands are folded on his breast;
There is no other thought expressed
Than long disquiet merged to rest.

"Mr. Raymond passed the afternoon previous to his death in Greenwood, making arrangements for the interment of his son Walter's remains, and called at the office of the Times about six o'clock in the evening. After a few minutes' conversation with the writer of this sketch, on matters pertaining to the business of the paper, he returned home. After dinner he sat with his family and some friends who came in, until between 9 and 10 o'clock, when he left them to attend a political consultation; and his family saw no more of him until he was discovered about 2:30 next morning, in the hallway unconscious and apparently dying. He had locked the outside door and shut the inner one, and was then apparently stricken with the malady that closed his life. The most eminent medical aid was at once summoned, and the utmost that science and skill could do were done, in vain. He remained unconscious, and died tranquilly about o'clock on the morning."

Prince Edward Mutual Insurance Company.

The Annual meeting of this Company was held in Conger's Hall on Monday last, 14th inst., at 1½ p. m.

On motion, G. Striker, Esq., took the chair, and the Secretary of the Company, Mr. Twigg, was appointed Secretary.

The chairman called upon the President, L. B. Stinson, Esq., to read the Annual Report.

From this the fourteenth annual report, we condense the following general statement, referring the interested reader to the report itself for particulars :—

No. of policies issued last year	319
Amount of property insured	$287,913.00
" Premium Notes	7,502.31
" Cash Premiums	740.07
Total number of policies in force	1,548
Total amount of property insured	$1,642,423.00
Average on each policy	925.00

The number of policies now in force is about 229 in excess of last year. The losses during the past year amount to $2,830 88. The Directors report that they thought proper to refuse the payment of the loss sustained by Mr. King, of Brighton. A suit was instituted thereon, which resulted in favor of Mr. King.

The Treasurer's Account shows a balance on hand of $26 48.

The General statement of the Company's affairs shows the total amount of Assets to be $57,637 26, being in excess of the total liabilities by $52,259 71. The losses were $2,830.

It was moved by S. P. Niles, Esq., seconded by R. Clapp, Esq., and Resolved, "That the Annual report as read be adopted."

The question as to the advisability of issuing Policies of Three years as well as Five years, was brought up, and a motion favorable to it was read, but upon being put to the meeting was lost.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS.

The Election of Directors was proceeded with.

D. B. Solmes and John Abercrombie, Esqs., were appointed Scrutineers.

The Scrutineers declared by their report the following gentlemen elected viz : L. B. Stinton, W. A. Richards, James Caven, David W. Rutan, William Delong, H. A. McFaul and James Johnson, Esqs.

A vote of thanks was given to and suitably acknowledged by the Chairman for his services, and the meeting closed.

DIRECTORS' MEETING.

After the close of the general meeting the New Directors met at the Secretary's Office and appointed L. B. Stinson, Esq., President, and Wm. Delong, Esq., Vice-President for the present year; also Committees on Finance and Printing were appointed, and they adjourned.

Picton, 14th June, 1869.

—Six millions of strawberry baskets manufactured every season! What a pile they must make! Yet such is said to be the absolute number. One of the largest factories is in Bergen County, N. J.; another one in New Britain, Conn., is capable of turning out 6,000 baskets in a day.

—Dr. W. H. Russell, the well known correspondent of the Times, entertained the Prince of Wales two or three weeks ago at a dinner at the Garrick Club. They were together in the East, and the correspondent is about bringing out a narrative of the tour. This is the first Prince of Wales who ever had a newspaper reporter for his host, but we dare say it will not be the last.

—A noticeable feature in ships passing through the Welland Canal is, that many of those upward bound are heavily laden with freight, consisting principally of iron ore, salt, and general merchandize.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23.

FALL RYE.—A gentleman brought into the office this morning a stalk of Rye seven feet two inches in length. It was obtained from a field on the Front of Sidney, and the party said the whole field presented the same luxuriant appearance.

A TOUR OF THE MARITIME PROVINCES.—It is announced that His Excellency Sir John Young, will make a tour of the Maritime Provinces this summer. Instructions have been issued to have the steamer Napoleon III., fitted up and to be in readiness for His Excellency on the 25th of July.

THE EXCURSION TO THE FALLS.—The Excursion party to the Falls under the auspices of St. Andrew's Society went off yesterday morning in high spirits. Three passenger cars were completely occupied by the Excursionists, and other cars contained a goodly number of the party. Altogether probably 300 accompanied the Excursion. They are expected to return to-morrow.

THE FISHERIES.—Intelligence from Gaspe speaks of the continued success of the fisheries, especially salmon and cod. Of the former, much more has been caught than for twenty-five years past, and of the latter, one firm had 108 draughts of large fish brought on shore from thirteen fishing boats in one day.

EMIGRANTS.—Miss Rye, with 100 servant girls, passed West on the Grand Trunk Railway this morning. An effort was made to have some of them remain in Belleville, but they were all engaged for Toronto and Hamilton. On the same train were 250 English emigrants, for whom situations had previously been obtained by the Bureau of Agriculture, Toronto.

FIRE.—This afternoon a fire broke out in the roof of a frame building on Front street near the corner of Wharf street. It was fortunately discovered before it had got much headway, and, through the exertions of the people living in the vicinity, was kept smothered until the arrival of the engines, when it was speedily extinguished. The roof was pretty much destroyed. The building was owned by the Rev. Michael Brennan, and occupied by Mrs. Helferty.

THE TOWNSEND FAMILY.—A large and fashionable House again greeted the Townsend Family last night on their production of the "Orphan of Geneva," which was most admirably played, and enthusiastically received. This (Wednesday) evening as will be seen by advertisement in another column, the great sensational play of "Nick of the Woods" will be produced—the Manager, Mr. John Townsend, sustaining six different characters, supported by the several members of his talented Family. A popular Song, by Mrs. Harry Townsend will follow, and the evening's Entertainment will conclude with "My Neighbor's Wife." Miss Florence Townsend, Miss Constance, and Mrs. Harry Townsend sustaining the principal characters. We advise all lovers of the Drama to witness this performance, and to go early, as a crowded House may confidently be expected.

COMPLIMENTARY DINNER.—A few gentlemen of the town having learned that J. T. Hayden & Co., contractors for dredging our harbor, were about leaving for Chicago, where they have an extensive contract, met at the Dafoe House on Tuesday evening last, and entertained Mr. Davis, the representative of that firm, at a dinner. The chair was occupied by M. Bowell, Esq., M. P., and the Vice-chair by Thos. Kelso, Esq. President of the Board of Trade. After the cloth had been removed, the usual toasts were drunk, that of the guest with more than usual enthusiasm, he having endeared himself to every one with whom he had formed an acquaintance. Many compliments were passed and the best wishes of all present expressed for the success and prosperity of Mr. Davis and his partner, and we but express the sentiments of every one when we say that few men have ever come amongst us who leave more sincere and devoted friends behind them than will these gentlemen. The "spread," was the best ever prepared in Belleville, and mine host of the Dafoe, deserver much credit for his success in this respect.

Albert University.

This year the annual exercises of this growing Institution promises to possess more than their usual interest. On Sabbath, the 27th inst., at 11 a. m., the Rev. Prof. Wild, M. A. will preach in his Church the Baccalaureate sermon before the University. University men will appear in Academic costume.

Monday evening Prof. McIntyre, M. A., will deliver the annual lecture before the Alumni, in the College Chapel. Scotchman as he is, he takes "Culloden" as his theme, and mayhap may be trying to show that it was a good thing for once that Scotchmen were beaten. Admission to the Alumni lecture is by complimentary ticket.

The University Convocation will open in the College Chapel at 2½ o'clock p. m., on Tuesday, 29th inst. B. A. Theses, Prize Essays and Poems will be delivered, and prizes, honors and degrees conferred. Admission will be by complimentary ticket, under the direction of the Registrar of the University Senate, the Rev. Dr. Hapgood.

The Annual College Dinner of the Alumni and friends, will take place on Tuesday evening, in the College Hall, and will no doubt, as in the past, be a pleasant re-union, and afford ample range for many fine speeches and ardent wishes for the welfare of the College. Tickets for admission are with the members of the Alumni Committee.

The Oral examination for classes preceding Matriculation in Albert College and Alexandra College will be held on Monday, 28th inst. To these, as to the Baccalaureate, the public are invited. The written examinations for Matriculation into the University, and for the several years in its Statutes, have been in progress two or three weeks. And we are happy to learn as a gratifying token of the prosperity of the University, and of the good it is likely to perform, that there is a very large class of candidates for Matriculation. We believe this Institution in our midst is doing a good work, enlarging its usefulness and commanding a greater and greater measure of public confidence and support. We heartily rejoice with the enterprising Agent, Rev. Mr. Wild, with the success of his canvass, and trust he may yet go on to accomplish still greater things for the College, and the community at large.

Parliament Yesterday.

The House met at 11 o'clock, a. m., yesterday. About twenty members were present.

Mr. MORRIS brought under the notice of the House the propriety of carrying out the suggestion of Mr. Mackenzie, as to distributing a number of Russell's works on the North West. He understood they could be furnished at 60 cents a copy.

Hon. Mr. DUNKIN approved of the suggestion and wished that a portion of the copies for distribution should be printed in French.

Sir G. E. CARTIER thought it desirable there should be a distribution of five copies to each member. But was not sure to what fund the cost should be charged.

Mr. HOLTON suggested that it might be paid by the Government out of the appropriations for unforseen expenses.

Mr. MACKENZIE said the other House had instructed the Printing Committee to arrange for a distribution of 10 copies to each member. A meeting of the Committee was called for this morning, but a quorum was not present. His own impression was that five copies were sufficient.

The matter was then dropped, with the understanding that the Government would provide five copies for each member, and charge against the appropriation for unforseen expenses.

In the afternoon after some routine business, the Usher of the Black Rod announced the arrival of His Excellency, whereupon the Commons prorogued to the Senate Chamber.

THE PRORGGRATION.

Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate:—

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,—

The time has come when I am able to release you from your labours, and I have the greatest pleasure in doing so, inasmuch as the Session of which the opening was delayed for the reasons you are cognizant of, has necessarily been protracted to a period somewhat later than suits the general convenience. Satisfaction may, I think, be expressed at the result of your deliberations. In addition to the long list of measures and amendments on subjects of internal policy which have passed under your notice, your records show that memorable steps have been taken towards the accomplishment of the great scheme of uniting the whole of British North America in a single Confederation. You have sanctioned the arrangement entered into in London by the Imperial Government in reference to the North-West Territory. That wide expanse will, I hope, ere long be opened to settlement, and become the abode of myriads of thriving and industrious immigrants. The terms of the delegates from Newfoundland, and which it may be expected will prove acceptable to the people of that island, have met with your concurrence. The basis has been laid for negotiations with the Government of Prince Edward's Island. Moreover, what is not of less importance, seeing that the good will of the people already within the Dominion is a matter perhaps of greater, at least, of equal concern with the acquisition of new territories, you have adopted the precautions of timely and well-considered liberality in order to satisfy reasonable demands, and conciliate attachment in Nova Scotia. The Acts rendering the Criminal Law uniform will insure an exact and equal procedure, and cannot fail to be conducive in the highest degree to the public advantage.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

In Her Majesty's name I thank you for the supplies you have granted for the public service. Though the revenue accruing from import duties has not reached the expected standard, I rejoice to think that a vigilant supervision of the public expenditure has obviated the necessity of imposing any fresh burdens on the people.

Honourable Gentlemen and Gentlemen:

I will not detain you further than to express the hope that in returning to your homes you will find the country blessed with every prospect of an abundant season, and that you will continue your services to the State by encouraging industrial pursuits, diffusing contentment, and upholding the authority of the law in your respective neighborhoods.

Hon. Mr. CAUCHON then announced that His Excellency was pleased to prorogue Parliament to the 31st July, and Parliament stood prorogued accordingly.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer,

The following address of condolence was passed a late meeting of the Medical Association, and you will confer a favor by publishing it together with the reply:—

ADDRESS.

DEAR MADAM,—At the meeting on the 23rd inst., of the Medical Association of the County of Hastings, of which the late Dr. Power was a member, the kindest references were made by all present to your lamented husband, and we were requested by the Association to convey to you an expression of the high esteem and regard in which he was held by them while living, and of the kindly recollections with which his memory is cherished, now that it has pleased God to take him from among us. Our dear friend had commanded the esteem of his professional brethren by his ability, uprightness, and blamelessness as a physician, as he had won their regard by his unvarying courtesy as a man. The Association beg you to accept their deep sympathy in your great bereavement, and venture to hope that a knowledge of the regard in which the memory of your late husband was cherished by those who knew him best, may soften somewhat your great sorrow. Allow us, dear madam, to add the assurance of our personal affection for your dear husband, and of our deep sympathy with yourself under your inestimable loss.

We are, dear madam,
Most sincerely yours,
WM. HOPE, M. D.
JAS. LISTER, M. D.
ROBT. STEWART, P. L.

REPLY.

TO DRS. HOPE, LISTER, AND STEWART, and the Members of the Medical Association of the County of Hastings.

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your very kind letter of condolence, expressing your sorrow for the death of my dear husband, and your sympathy for me. Be assured, gentlemen, that your letter, expressing as it does the good opinion held by your Association of my late husband as a physician, as well as your esteem and regard for him as a man, will ever be cherished by me as a sacred memento. For myself, gentlemen, allow me to thank you for your kind sympathy, and I pray the Giver of all good gifts that you may long spared for the protection of your dear families.

MARY POWER.

THE BRAZILIAN QUESTION.

The Herald's Washington special says: Ex-Minister Webb had an interview yesterday with Secretary Fish, on the Brazilian question. He denounces the authorities there and says they have no more respect for us than for Hayti. He thinks that we ought to give them a good thrashing in consequence.

The Tribune's special says: It is understood the President fully endorses the course pursued by Mr. Webb. It appears he was simply carrying out the instructions of Mr. Seward. It is presumed the Brazilian Government will make ample apology to our Government on the arrival of Mr. Webb's successor.

DECREASE OF PUBLIC DEBT.

The World's special says: It is thought that a decrease of public debt of about five millions, will appear in the statement of the 1st proximo.

—Blonde hair is worth double the price of black, according to New York yesterday.

—A Texan who has arrived in San Francisco, via the Pacific Railroad, writes home that the distance between that city and Boston is equal to 911 games of euchre, 168 drinks, and 117 cigars.

—A despatch from Pictou, Nova Scotia, says the steamship Merrick, of the Montreal line to this port, ran her anchor fluke into the steamship Her Majesty, at the coal dock here this morning, making a large hole. It is supposed there will be several thousand barrels of flour damaged. The hole in Her Majesty has been temporarily stopped, and she proceeds on her voyage to Halifax.

Business Notice.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squable over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came: the room was crowded with anxious expectants: the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

NEW ALBION HOTEL,
McGILL STREET,
MONTREAL, CANADA.

THE "NEW ALBION HOTEL," the largest Hotel in Montreal, has just been opened under the most favorable auspices.

Whilst the "Old Albion" has been long noted for the strict attention paid to its numerous guests, the "New Albion" takes its position as a first class Hotel, and is really first class in every respect, except the charges, which better suit the ideas and requirements of the majority of travellers, than many of the so called, "first class Hotels;" which deserve the title more through the amount of their charges than aught else.

Already the crowded state of the "New Albion" promises well for its future career; everything associated with its construction has been carried out with artistic taste and scientific correctness.

The large Hall, commodious office, spacious Reading room, convenient Dining, Coffee, Wash Room, etc., etc., on the ground floor; and the Reception Room and Suite of SPLENDIDLY FURNISHED and THOROUGHLY VENTILATED LADIES' PARLORS, on the second floor, will form no small luxury during the hot summer season. And, what is an exception to the general Rule in Hotels, the Bedrooms are all well ventilated and lighted, there not being a dark room in the House.

Being situated on the widest and healthiest Street in Montreal, commanding a Magnificent View of the River St. Lawrence and the Victoria Bridge on the left, and a full view of the Victoria Square with its numerous Quays, Banks and Mount Royal on the right, it cannot fail to commend itself to the travelling public.

From its situation on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare and commercial centre of the City it cannot fail to be, as the "Old Albion" has always been a strong favorite with the Merchants of Canada.

Notwithstanding the very large outlay in building and furnishing the house, the old price of $1 50 per day will not be departed from.

We, therefore, bespeak for ourselves a continuance of the patronage so liberally accorded to us during the past twelve years.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no REMEDY has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of Colds—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From Rev. FRANCIS LOBDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

Like a Laverock in the Lift.

It's we two, it's we two, its we two for aye,
All the world and we two, and Heaven be our stay,
Like a laverock in the lift, sing, O bonny bride!
All the world was Adam once, with Eve by his side.

What's the world, my lass, my love!—what can it do?
I am thine, and thou art mine; life is sweet and new,
If the world have missed the mark, let it stand by,
For we two have gotten leave, and once more we'll try.

Like a laverock in the lift, sing, O bonny bride!
It's we two, it's we two, happy side by side.
Take a kiss from me, thy man; now the song begins;
"All is made afresh for us, and the brave heart wins."

When the darker days come, and no sun will shine,
Thou shalt dry my tears, lass, and I'll dry thine.
It's we two, its we two, while the world's away,
Sitting by the golden sheaves on our wedding day.

Iron and "Composite" Ship Building.

The fact that iron ships, especially steamers, are not uncommon, is patent to every observer, but probably few outside of the shipping would have ever realized the extent to which they have crowded out wooden ships. In Great Britain especially is this the case. A wooden steamer, either for ocean or river service, is never thought of there, and every year the demand for iron sailing ships also increases. Official returns show that, of one hundred and nine vessels built on the Clyde last year, only fourteen were constructed of wood: and the same preference is exhibited in the other ship-yards of Great Britain. The reason of this is primarily that the first cost of an iron ship in England is less than one of wood. The former is more buoyant, consequently drawing less water than a wooden of the same tonnage, and possesses much greater stowage capacity, because of the smaller space required for ribs, knees, &c., which occupy so much place in the wooden craft, from their necessarily large dimensions.

For some time a serious obstruction prevailed against iron ships. The plates being comparatively thin, below the lead line they were frequently eaten away by corrosion, as the compositon became rubbed off by grazing or touching bottom, and it would require very little strain to tear them through, and to guard against which required great vigilance and frequent examinations. This objection, however, appears to no longer exist, or to have become much modified, to judge by the decided preference given now a-days to iron vessels.

There is another description which is thought highly of by shipbuilders. They are technically called "composites," being built of both materials. The frames are all of iron, with wooden planking. At first they were in disfavor, from the failure to secure cohesion between a metal which contracted and expanded with changes of temperature, and the comparative elasticity of wood work, and causing galvanic action. But this defect has been overcome by coating all the iron brought into contact with the water, and now a properly built composite vessel is considered by experts to be stronger than either a wood or iron one.

Changes in the Wheat Producing Regions.

The New York Post publishes some interesting facts in reference to the remarkable changes in the wheat producing regions of the United States during the present century. At its commencement Delaware was celebrated for producing the best wheat in the United States. Maryland, Virginia and Pennsylvania took also a high rank. Eastern New York wheat was then also in high repute. Washington and Saratoga counties and the valley of the Mohawk were distinguished for their large crops. The weevil and the midge arrested this prosperity; and Western New York succeeded to the rank previously held by the East and the more Southern States.—The Genesee country was celebrated for the quality of its wheat; and the crops averaged from 15 to 35 bushels per acre. The wheat district of New York then extended eastward to the borders of Oneida and Chenango counties; and the fame of Genesee wheat led to the adoption of the name of Genesse by a county and a district in the State of Michigan. It was not, however, till about 1845 that wheat from Ohio and Michigan was regarded as equal to that produced in Western New York. But after that time the development of the West became more rapid; and their wheat went to all the markets of the world.—Genesee wheat is now but a tradition; the agriculture of the district has been turned in other directions. But the most remarkable and most significant fact is the rapidity with which the boundaries of the wheat districts have changed. It advanced in one decade from Pennsylvania, New York and Virginia westward to Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan; then to Wisconsin, Iowa and other Western States; and now the palm is carried by California and Minnesota, the average yield in these last two States being now about 24 bushels per acre.

—The use of utensils of copper for culinary purposes is dangerous, and copper ware employed in the kitchen should always be coated with tin. In Sweden though copper is one of the principal products of that country, the use of copper vessels is prohibited for the preparation as well as for the preservation of food.

The Appetite for Tobacco Destroyed.

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed Tobacco.

ORTON'S PREPARATION!

ESTABLISHED 1866.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for Tobacco, in any person no matter how strong the habit may be. If it fails in any case the money will be refunded. Perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. It is almost impossible to break off the use of tobacco by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature in overcoming a habit so firmly rooted. With the help of the Preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that Orton's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for tobacco, and leaves the person as free from any desire for it, as before he commenced its use. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobacco and through these upon the blood thoroughly cleansing the poison of tobacco from the system and thus allaying the unnatural cravings for tobacco. No more hankering for tobacco after using Orton's Preparation. Recollect it is warranted.

The time taken to allay all desire for Tobacco by the use of this Preparation varies slightly in different persons, the average time being about Five days. Some have no desire for Tobacco after using the Preparation Two days.

The Health and Purse of every Tobacco user in the country call loudly, ABANDON THE USE OF TOBACCO.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have used Orton's Preparation for the purpose of destroying the appetite for Tobacco, and can assure those who are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparation will certainly destroy the appetite for Tobacco quickly and permanently, without any bad effect upon the health, and without creating an appetite either for the Preparation or any substitute.

☞ Beware of counterfeits and all articles purporting to be like this, of the same name or otherwise. The great popularity of Orton's Preparation has induced unprincipled persons to attempt palming upon the public counterfeit and inferior articles. Purchasers will please order directly from the proprietor, or his duly authorized Agents. ☜

The price of Orton's preparation is $2.00 per box, or three boxes for $5, sent by mail to any part of the country, securely sealed from observation, with passage paid on receipt of price.

HOW TO SEND MONEY BY MAIL.—Enclose the amount in a letter, seal carefully, register the letter, and take a receipt for it of your Postmaster. Money sent by mail as above directed at my risk. An Agent wanted in every town.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters.

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroberant for delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the frame has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.

OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 20 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Exhibition of a Two Headed Girl.

A writer describing the musical festival at Boston, thus refers to a 'side show' exhibition near the Collseum :-

If the crowds that bustled to catch a glimpse of President Grant over the heads of those tall people who always get in the front row, had known the "most remarkable human being ever born to live" was quietly displaying herself a few feet distance, perhaps they would have taken their homage where it is due. This most remarkable human being is Miss Christie Millie, a young lady of African color and lineament. We say she, for brevity ; but there are two of her in most respects—two heads, necks, busts, two pair of arms, shoulders and legs, and but one waist. As the exhibitor says in the brief address which he delivers thrice hourly, you may call her she or they, but he has always called her the wonderful two-head girl, and thinks he will alway do so. Miss Millie is of pure negro blood, her skin black, her lips thick and protruding, her nose broad and forehead low. Yet there is an intelligent cast to her countenance which would have led to her classification as a "smart nigger" on the auction block. Indeed it is said that in the palmy days of her childhood and slavery, $30,000 was her price ; but this was her valuation as a specimen of deformity, rather than her intrinsic worth. She is short, one of her legs is somewhat shorter than the other, though the difference is hardly noticeable. Her arms are long, as also are her hands, the fingers possessing that slender formation and those lithe movements which seem to indicate an aptitude for manipulating currency. Her hair is glossy, and though comparatively straight when it escapes from the gorgeous coronets of black velvet and jewels which encircle her heads, falls about her shoulders in close ringlets. Which head answers to Christine and which to Millie is not ascertainable, although there is a difference in the faces. One is bright, laughing, and always wearing a pleasant expression ; the other settles, when at rest into a look of morose or sullen discontent. The happy face sells her photographs, the other dispenses biographies. Both sets of nimble fingers take the money, and the long arms make change for each other across the common waist, Millie's side giving Christine's five half dimes for a scrip quarter, and Christine's half returning the five without grumbling the next minute, Christine Millie's two selves are joined together at the lower part of the spine, back to back, one set of organs supplying the lower part of the body, upon which two perfect chest organizations rest. They chat lively enough, with two different persons at one time ; they evidently think of different matters, and only in stooping, sitting down, or walking, when one proceeds backwards or sideways, does their uncomfortable unity appear. They sing a duet, the lively head taking the soprano, and the other a tolerable alto ; and they sing very nicely to those who are not disposed to criticise. They certainly have the rich, sympathetic negro voice, and with it the deficiencies of the same. As the lecturer above referred to remarks, there is no humbug about this girl. She has certainly got a double supply of those external organs which go to make up a colored girl of the period, and is as certainly joined together in a most substantial manner near the point where the Grecian bend begins in better favoured females. This girl is but 17 years old ; though as there are two of her she might be called 34, without violating figures, and is a curiosity which seems attractive as it is rare.

Pure Cistern-Water.

Cistern-water becomes foul and offensive because it contains a large amount of organic matter derived from the roof of houses, absorbed from the air, etc. This matter may be in the form of germs, or it may be in the process of growth or decay. It may be animal or vegetable or both, the latter condition generally prevailing. This matter undergoes rapid growth and decay, and exceedingly rapid multiplication. When the temperature is warm, as in the summer, there are two ways to correct the evil.

First, by entire separation of all organic matter from the water ; second, by its complete destruction while in the water. The first object can scarcely be accomplished as no simple filter would separate all germs, and even if separated, the water could not be kept for use exposed to the air. The proper method of purification is, therefore, by chemical destruction. This may be effectually, economically and safely done by the permanganate of potassa, used in the proportion of about an ounce to fifty gallons of water. A destructive chemical change takes place, the organic matter is reduced and the whole mass is precipitated as an inert and harmless sediment. The chemical reaction is marked by a purple coloring of the solution, and this color indicates the presence of organic matter. The permanganate should be added until this color disappears, when you may know that the organic matter is entirely destroyed, for an infinitesimal quantity of the latter will be detected by the former. This preparation of potash may be obtained at any druggist's.—A Physician, Hearth and Home.

Horrors of the Trapeze.

AN OUTRAGEOUS PERFORMANCE IN PHILADELPHIA.

(From the Philadelphia Enquirer.)

A scene of considerable excitement occurred at the American Theatre, Walnut st., above Eighth, on Saturday evening during the flying trapeze performance of two artists announced on the bills as Lilla and Zoe. One of their feats consists in Lilla, a full-grown young woman, swinging herself by means of ropes suspended from the ceiling, from a platform erected in front of the gallery, entirely across the auditorium, until she touches with her feet a trapeze that hangs at considerable altitude over the orchestra. Securing herself on this trapeze with her feet, her body swings downwards, and she remains in that position while Zoe, a child of 11 years of age, mounts the platform in the Gallery, and seizing the iron rings attached to the ropes mentioned, throws herself off, and darts towards Lilla, and when nearing her the child throws a somersault in mid-air, and her only chance from being crushed to death by falling from the dizzy height among the audience in the parquet, is being caught by Lilla, who hangs with head downwards from the trapeze.

Certain death would be the result of the slightest mistake made by either of the performers. On Saturday evening the feat was successfully performed, it is true, but Lilla barely caught the child as she revolved in the air. As the latter was descending, however, to the stage, the man whose duty it was to catch her from the hands of Lilla failed to do so, and the poor child fell to the platform placed over the orchestra, a distance of several feet, and struck her head and otherwise injured herself.

The child was picked up, when she immediately placed her hands to her head, saying that she was seriously hurt. Notwithstanding this, she was most inhumanly ordered to remount the platform in the gallery and repeat the feat. The child obeyed, but such conduct on the part of those having charge of the exhibition was too much for the audience to stand, and there was a unanimous cry of "No, no!" "Shame, shame!" "Take her back," "Take her back," &c. In the meantime the child mounted the platform, and then stood ready to repeat the feat, but the audience rose en masse, to their great credit, and prevented the ropes from being handed to her. Unable to combat such a display of public indignation and disproval, the child was ordered to retire, which she did amid the most tumultuous applause. Now whether she could have performed the feat again in her then condition will be seen from the following :

After she had retired, the stage manager advanced and stated that she desired to perform another feat and that she was not injured, and the consent of the audience was asked. There was a general cry of "No, no," and considerable hissing ; but taking advantage of a few cries of "Go on," from the boys in the gallery, the child again appeared and taking hold of the rings swung herself off for the purpose of catching the hanging trapeze and then making a somersault while descending into an outstretched net. As the audience felt would be the case, the child essayed the feat, but failed to catch the trapeze, owing to her nervous state, which was natural under the circumstances, but she was saved from injury by her commendable presence of mind in not letting go of the ropes. The consequence was that she swung backwards and forwards amid a scene of much excitement, and was relieved from her perilous position by the audience, who caught her and carried her to the stage.

—A new wooden pavement has been invented, consisting of blocks grooved for the purpose, laid close together and fastened with wooden keys, no nails or bolts being used. This peculiarity will be claimed, prevent the arch moving up or down.

—The ancient military monarchy of Austria is teaching the nations how fast it is possible for "an old dog" to "learn new tricks." The civil authorities now are forbidden to enforce the sentence of military courts, and the military authorities are prohibited from meddling with citizens, except in matters strictly within their own purview. Indeed, the advancement of Austria from heavy handed despotism toward real national and individual liberty, since the "sharp, short and decisive fight" with Prussia, has been and is one of the most wonderful phenomena of the age of wonders.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY, JUNE 24.

FOURTH JULY.—The steamer Rochester, Capt. Comer, will take an Excursion from Belleville and Bay Ports to Oswego, on the 4th of July. Particulars in a few days.

IRISH PROTESTANT BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.—Remember the meeting of the Irish Protestant Benevolent Society at the Town Hall to-night, commencing at 7:30 o'clock.

BASE BALL MATCH.—A match between the Hastings Base Ball Club, and a picked nine from the Belleville Cricket Club, will be played on the ground of the latter, on Friday the 25th of June.

DOMINION BADGE.—A very neat badge commemorative of Dominion Day, is for sale at Laferte's. The design is excellent, and the low price at which it is sold, 25cts., will enable every boy to have one.

EXCURSION TO KINGSTON.—It will be observed by advertisement that an excursion to Kingston will take place on Dominion Day, by the steamer Rochester or Bay of Quinte.—Fare to Kingston and back, $1.

INDUCTION.—The ceremony of inducting Rev. J. C. Smith, M. A., to the pastorate of St. Andrew's Church of this Town, took place on Monday evening, the 21st inst. The Church was well filled throughout with an attentive and appreciative audience. Rev. Mr. McMorin preached the Induction Sermon. Rev. Mr. Buchan, of Stirling, delivered the charge, which was plain, pointed and full of instruction. Rev. Dr. Williamson, of Kingston, made a brief and interesting address to the congregation, commending to them their new Minister, and expressing the hope that his labors amongst them would be attended with success. After these services were over, the congregation welcomed their Minister. Rev. Mr. McLaren, of the John street Presbyterian Church, was present at the services. Mr. Smith, the new pastor, is an able and eloquent speaker, and is a valuable accession to the staff of clergymen in this town.

THE TOWNSEND FAMILY.—Another full and fashionable house greeted the "Townsend Family" last night, on their production of the great sensational Play of "Nick of the Woods," which was listened to with the most breathless attention, and was enthusiastically received by the audience. This (Thursday) evening (being an extra night, in consequence of the Company's great success in Belleville) will be produced Shakspeare's celebrated Play of the "Merchant of Venice." Mr. John Townsend appearing in his favorite character of Shylock, supported by his talented and accomplished daughter as Portia, by his son Harry as Bassanio, and by the whole Company. Mrs. Harry Townsend who was again last night most rapturously encored will follow with two of her most popular Songs, after which Mr. John Townsend will deliver an address in defence of the "Drama and Stage," as an intellectual public amusement. To conclude with the laughable Farce of "Family Quarrels," in which Miss Florence Townsend, and the family will appear. This is a great bill for the closing night of the season, and will assuredly draw an overflowing house.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONCERT.—A Concert in aid of the Sabbath School Library in connection with the Wesleyan Methodist Church, in Belleville, was given in Pinnacle Street Church, on Wednesday evening, June 23rd, by the scholars of the School under the direction of NATHAN JONES, Esq. There were about 100 children, varying in age from 6 to 18 years, who sang the different pieces selected, in excellent time, and with remarkable sweetness. The "Sunday School", sang by two children, daughters of Mr. Jones and Mr. E. Miles, and only about 6 years of age, was rendered with a correctness that was really astonishing. Miss Carman, daughter of Mr. J. W. Carman, who sang a Solo, was rapturously encored. This child has a very sweet voice and gives evidence of excelling as a vocalist. The Temperance Song, sang by Master Wensley, was well rendered and brought forth an encore. As a whole the Concert was a great success, and much praise is due to the instructor of these Sabbath School children, Mr. Jones, who devotes his time and talent in this particular from a love of the School, for the manner in which he has perfected the children in singing. The audience was briefly addressed by the Hon. Billa Flint, Superintendent of the School; Thos. Holden, Esq., and the Rev. Mr. Sanderson, who spoke in the highest terms of the state of the Sabbath School, and the singing of the children.

—It is reported that Sir Geo. Cartier is to go to England immediately, and remain there until the next session.

EXCURSION FROM KINGSTON.—Our streets were enlivened this afternoon by an excursion party from Kingston, under the auspices of the Good Templars of that city. The party to the number of 500 arrived here about 4 o'clock, and were to leave for home again at half-past five. It is a pity the Good Templars Society of Belleville had not been notified of their visit, for we are sure they would have only been too glad to have extended to them the usual courtesies

Dominion Day.

From the apathy and indifference displayed by those who usually take the lead in getting up public demonstrations on holidays, it is evident the celebration of Dominion Day, 1869, so far as Belleville is concerned, will be a tame affair. When the birth day of our "New Nationality" was inaugurated, Belleville was foremost amongst the Towns and Cities in Canada in doing it honor, and when the second anniversary came round, what place in the Dominion celebrated the occasion so heartily and so enthusiastically as did Belleville? Surely we have not tired of commemorating the great work of the establishment of the New Dominion on this continent. Surely we will not permit it to be said of us that our zeal for the new order of things, our loyalty to Confederation, our attachment to the institutions which have been founded after so much labor and trouble, are no more lasting than the morning dew or evening rain. Because Parliament, out of a false idea of sympathy for the disaffected in Nova Scotia, refused to make the first of July a Statutory holiday, we will certainly not refuse to commemorate an event so important to the present and future interests and welfare of this country. It has been by common consent established as a holiday by the people of Canada, and from one end of the old Provinces to the other, preparations are being made to celebrate it in a suitable manner. We trust, although there is but little time to make arrangements, that something will be done by which there will be a proper observance of the day by the inhabitants of Belleville. The Mayor, at all events, should issue his proclamation, making the first of July a holiday.

Ontario Rifle Association.

The first meeting of the Ontario Rifle Association was opened in Toronto on the 22nd. Representatives were present from Battalions from Sandwich, Windsor and Sarnia on the West to Prescott, Ottawa and the boundaries of the Province to the East. Tent accommodation for 400 men is provided on the rising ground north-east of the ranges, and in the order, discipline, &c., arrangements have been made to have a close observance of the practice at Wimbledon. Guard rooms are provided, police regulations instituted, a reading room, newspaper and periodical booth, refreshment booths, sutler's tents, &c., are provided, and a general provision made for the well-being of those expected to be present.

The proceedings were opened by His Excellency the Lieut-Governor firing the first shot, and as usual on such occasions, a "bull's-eye" was made. There was considerable delay in the proceedings of yesterday, which was accounted for by a number of circumstances which were unavoidable, and but little progress was made in the first match, which is called "ALL COMERS' MATCH.—Open to all members of the Ontario Rifle Association, whether by direct constitution or through affiliated associations. First prize $25; second prize $20; third prize $15; five prizes of $10; ten prizes of $5; ten prizes of $4; ten prizes of $2. In addition to these, the Hon. D. L. Macpherson offered one prize of $30 and one of $20 to those competitors in this match from the Counties of Simcoe, Grey and Bruce, who may make the highest scores. Snider Enfield, Government issue. Ranges 200, 500, and 600 yards; 5 shots at each range.

The firing was resumed yesterday, but the high wind that prevailed operated to some extent against the accuracy of the shots. The winner of the first prize in the "All comers Match" is Private May, of St. Catherines, who scored 49 out of a possible of 60; the second, Sergeant Stanley, of the Queen's Own, who scored 48; and the third prize, Lieut. Bailey, of the 47th Battalion, who scored 47. Amongst the other prizes given in this match, the biggest score was 46, and the lowest 39. The scores generally show creditable, and in some cases splendid shooting.

The match for members of Affiliated Associations, brought 300 competitors on the ground. It was commenced at five o'clock yesterday evening, and the first stage of 800 yards was not finished when shooting closed for the day.

Wesleyan Female College.

The Hamilton Spectator gives a lengthy account of the midsummer examinations at the Wesleyan Female College, in that city, which seem to have passed off in a highly successful manner. The Spectator says: "Taken in its entirety the entertainment was a very enjoyable one, and exhibited the musical talents and accomplishments of the pupils in the most favorable light. The audience was large, select and appreciative, among whom we noticed Rev. Morley Punshyn, and several old gradutes of the College."

Respecting the examination of certain classes, the Spectator says:

"Ye Gentle Birds," a song by Miss Gussie Smith—very sweet and sweetly sung.

"Watch and Pray," a very beautiful sacred trio composed by Mr. F. W. Wellman, of New York, delightfully performed by Misses Smith, Lincoln and Allison.

"The fourth class in French was next examined by Miss Higgs, the instructor in that language. The most of the members of this class have been receiving instructions in French only about ten months, and certainly exhibited a remarkable degree of aptitude and proficiency for this length of time. Miss Bowell, of Belleville, was individually complimented by her teacher for diligence and rapid advancement.

"Best Collection of Pressed Flowers.

"First Honor—To Miss Emily A. Hunt London.

"Second Honors (equal)—Misses Gussie L. Smith; Alice E. Lukes, Newmarket: Mary M. Beatty, Omemee; Carrie H. Bowell, Belleville; and Maggie M. Graham, Port Erie."

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

There is a certain statute as to Attornies, which prevents them from acting in open Court, or from addressing the Court until called to the degree of Barrister, nor is an Attorney entitled to the black gown.

A Barrister shall wear in Courts the stuff gown; a Queen's Counsel the silk gown; and the Judges shall wear a gown differing from the others in material, shape, and color.

All these are expected by the profession to be earned fairly, for no one of good taste ever thinks of "pluming himself in other's feathers" by putting on any of their gowns until entitled to do so.

This rule has lately in one instance in this County, been violated. If gentlemen of the legal profession who are supposed to know their duty in this respect, will violate their rules, it is time the matter should be brought before the law Society.

MODESTY.

June, 17th 1869.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

MR. EDITOR.—A person called at the Church last evening, and left word he had left some papers for me at my house.

On returning home from the Children's Concert, I found a letter containing eight dollars in bills, which read as follows:—

" Mr. Flint deer sir

" In clase 8 dolours in this leter to Pay yow

" Ie never did intend to pay yow it it wasent for feer of god

" think wele on it

" do as we wood wish to be don by.

" My writing is Poor but my Mening is good."

There was no date, and it is quite evident that her usual writing is disguised.

I receive the money with thanks to the writer, but would feel much obliged to him if he would give me the circumstances, as well as his name, which if done shall be kept a profound secret.

If it is for a debt, many others might go and do likewise, and thereby ease their consciences, and do me no harm. If for other reasons, others might profit by an honest return.

BILLA FLINT.

Belleville, June 24, 1869.

Great Meeting in Ireland.

In reference to the great meeting on the church question near Dublin, an account of which we gave in our last edition, the Dublin correspondent of the Times says:

"The cry sent forth from beneath the walls of Derry on Saturday, was caught up yesterday at Killyman, County Tyrone, where a monster meeting of Orangemen was held on Tannamore hill. It is reported in the Express to have been one of the most successful open-air demonstrations which have yet been made against the bill. From 10,000 to 12,000 people collected from a not very populous district extending for miles round Killyman. The place of meeting was a hill situate on the demesne of Mr. Richard Lloyd, J. P. The platform and the chair were festooned with orange lilies and other flowers. Seventy-four lodges were represented. They marched into the field with bands at their heads, and wearing their sashes, and the air resounded with the tunes of the 'Boyne Water, and 'Protestant Boys.' A large force of police was on duty. There was a numerous array of respectable persons on the platform. Mr. Lloyd, who is Deputy Grand Master of the County, took the chair, and gave the keynote to the assembly. The time had passed, he said, when a man need be ashamed to be called an Orangemen. He had been one for upwards of 40 years, and he had made a good many, and hoped to make many more. They had meet to protect the Bible, and not allow Gladstone to seal the book, or to let Paul Cullen substitute another for it.' They would never let Paul Cullen raise the host in the streets of Dublin, and establish an Inquisition in Ireland. He promised that on the next 12th of July they would have another grand meeting, and Brother Johnson, of Ballykilbeg, would take the chair. They were as many and as ready at the beat of the drum to go out and take their Minie rifles and to march to the Boyne as their fathers were before them."

—A very destructive fire occurred in Brantford on the night of the 22nd inst. It broke out in the back store of Adam Burgy's furniture store, supposed to be caused by the boiling over of Benzine varnish. The fire spread rapidly to the front part of the building occupied by a show room. At this time a heavy west wind rose, blowing the flames to the opposite side of the street, setting fire to Mason & Hamilton's drug store. The fire spread rapidly eastward on both sides of the street, until about 5 a. m., when it was stopped on the north side of Colborne streets, at Cleghorn's hardware store, and on the south side at Victoria buildings. Loss $100,000.

News Condensed.

—The iron has arrived for the first section of the Wellington, Grey and Bruce Railway.

—Dr. Russell, of the London Times, entertained the Prince of Wales at dinner the other day.

—The British Post Office authorities propose to reduce the postage on newspapers.

—Large numbers of Americans are going down the St. Lawrence to the watering places.

—The Hastings Good Templars will have an Excursion to Mill Point on the 8th of July.

—A despatch from St. John, N. B., says:—"Very rich deposits of gold have been discovered in a lode of quartz rock, situated in the River, York County."

—The Kingston Whig in a notice about the fisheries in the vicinity of Kingston, makes mention of an extraordinary catch a few days ago by two brothers named Campion, well known fishermen, of 2,000 whitefish, at the Brothers, from a shoal of fish coming down the Bay of Quinte.

—Liquid glue, superior to mucilage, may be made by dissolving glue in an equal quantity of strong hot vinegar, adding a fourth of alcohol and a little alum. This will keep any length of time when placed in closed bottles, and will glue together horn, wood, and mother of pearl.

FISH DIET.—Prof. Agassiz says that fish is a kind of food which refreshes the system, especially after intellectual fatigue! There is no other article that supplies the waste of the head so thoroughly as fish diet; and the evidence of it is in the fact that all the inhabitants of the sea shores the world over are the brightest population of the country. Fish contains phosporous to a large extent, a chemical which the brain requires for growth and health.

JURY JOKE. At Lockport, N. Y., a few months ago, the seat of a juryman absent from the Supreme Court, was taken possession of by a dog. The Judge, addressing one of the counsel, said "You see, Mr. Lanning, that the jurymen's seats are all occupied. Are you ready to proceed?" The lawyer raised his glasses to his eyes, and after a brief survey of the jury-box made the witty reply: "Your honor, that fellow might do for a judge; but I should hate to trust him for a juryman." The Judge joined heartily in the laugh that followed.

—The wine and brandy product of California is at least 8,000,000 gallons. France, which has a less area of good vineyard land than California, produces an average of 600,000,000 gallons yearly of wine and spirits, worth about $160,000,000 at the place of production. About one-third of this product is exported, representing a value of from $60,000,000 to $100,000,000. It is quite probable that the wine product of California inside of ten years will equal in value the present gold product (say $25,000,000), and that it will rise in time, when the State is thickly populated to a yearly value of $60,000,000 or $80,000,000 at least.

Business Notice.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless, landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squabble over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

THE LANCASHIRE COTTON TRADE.

LONDON, June 23.—A deputation of gentlemen representing the Lancashire cotton trade have united in a request to the Duke of Argyle to obtain Government assistance in the production of cotton in the British Colonies. They set forth the great depression in the trade at present, and show that relief can only be had by the Government lending aid to enable India to develope the growing of cotton, so as to compete with the United States.

THE ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, June 23.—The bondholders of the old Atlantic Telegraph Company have held a meeting, at which they appointed a committee to guard their interests and procure a settlement of their claims.

THE BERMUDA FLOATING DOCK.

LONDON, June 23.—The expedition with the great floating dock for Bermuda sailed to-day for the West Indies.

THE FRENCH ATLANTIC CABLE.

PARIS, June 23.—Advices have been received from the steamship 'Great Eastern' up to Tuesday noon. At the time she was 174 miles out from Brest, paying out the cable nicely. The weather was pleasant and all on board well.

POLICY TOWARDS ROME.

VIENNA, June 23.—The Government announces a policy of reserve in respect to the Ecumenical Council, as the course to be adopted by the Council cannot be foreseen.

POLITICAL DISTURBANCES.

FLORENCE, June 23.—Great precautions are being taken by the authorities at Naples, Turin and Milan, to guard against an outbreak. It is feared that the revolutionists are inciting disturbances. There have been several arrests at Genoa.

THE LATEST.

THE IRISH CHURCH.

LONDON, June 23.—The Irish Church Bill will soon come before the House of Lords again. On motion to go into Committee no line of action in dealing with the provisions of the Bill has yet been marked out, but the general feeling of the Peers is in favor of making amendments based on the principle of concurrent endowment.

NEWCASTLE RACES.

At the Newcastle races to-day the Northumberland Plate, 900 sovereigns added to a handicap, and sweepstakes of £25 each, was won by 'Romeo,' b. c. The 'Spy' lentine 'Misotis' by a length. Seven ran. Betting at the start was 2 to 1 against the 'Spy,' 6 to 1 against 'Misotis.'

AN ALLIANCE.

PARIS, June 23.—Prince Henri, of Bourbon, has married Miss Payne, an American heiress. He has not renounced his position as a candidate for the Spanish throne. (The Henri, of Bourbon, alluded to above, is probably the Duke of Seville, cousin of ex-Queen Isabella.)

NEW ALBION HOTEL,
McGILL STREET,
MONTREAL, CANADA.

THE "NEW ALBION HOTEL," the largest Hotel in Montreal, has just been opened under the most favorable auspices.

Whilst the "Old Albion" has been long noted for the strict attention paid to its numerous guests, the "New Albion" takes its position as a first class Hotel, and is really first class in every respect, except the charges, which better suit the ideas and requirements of the majority of travellers, than many of the so called, "first class Houses;" which deserve the title more through the amount of their charges than aught else.

Already the crowded state of the "New Albion" promises well for its future career; everything associated with its construction has been carried out with artistic taste and systematic correctness.

The large Hall, commodious office, spacious Reading room, convenient Dining, Coffee, Wash Room, etc., etc., on the ground floor; and the Reception Room and Suite of SPLENDIDLY FURNISHED and THOROUGHLY VENTILATED LADIES' PARLORS, on the second floor, will form no small luxury during the hot summer season. And, what is an exception to the general Rule in Hotels, the Bedrooms are all well ventilated and lighted, there not being a dark room in the House.

Being situated on the widest and healthiest Street in Montreal, commanding a Magnificent View of the River St. Lawrence and the Victoria Bridge on the left, and a full view of the Victoria Square with its numerous "Jets d'Eau" and Mount Royal on the right, it cannot fail to commend itself to the travelling public.

"From its situation on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare and commercial centre of the city it cannot fail to be, as the "Old Albion" has ance of Ca...s strong favorite with the March-

GRAIN.—There is very little of any kind offered. In the last two days wheat has slightly improved, and the best would bring 90c. Other grain at quotations.

PROVISIONS.—The market for Butter has declined during the last week, on account of the falling off in the price abroad. The highest wholesale price yet paid for Cheese here is from 12c to 12½c, retailing at 13c. A decline of 4s in England during the last week makes buyers careful.

WOOL.—Wool has improved slightly, and the best is now taken as high as 30c.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no REMEDY has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of COLD—fully believing that its remedial power is sufficient to overcome even the most severe form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From REV. FRANCIS LORDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut:

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for a Cough, Cold or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached with no difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

Cabinet Officers.

A correspondent of the New York Herald occupies two columns of that paper in describing the private habits of the U. S. Cabinet officers. The following is a condensed summary of what he says:

"Secretary Fish is the only member of the Cabinet that keeps house. He is of medium size and height, with florid complexion, strong prominent features, and side whiskers deeply tinged with gray.—He is a rapid and earnest conversationalist, and despatches business, as he conducts conversation, with energy. He will leave the office $50,000 poorer than when he entered it, because he will live far beyond $3,000 per annum, as has been his custom for many years. Secretary Cox occupies the parlor floor of a genteel boarding house, and is the finest looking man in Washington. His hair and eyes are of a dark brown, and his cheeks are ruddy with health. When his family return from Cincinnati in the autumn, they will enter upon housekeeping in a moderate way. No compensation other than fame and a consciousness of duty well discharged will remain with this gentleman at the close of his official term. The Secretary of War is in poor health, and therefore unable to enter upon the cares of housekeeping. His family are in Danbury, Conn. In person, he is of medium height, of pale complexion, its sallowness is intensified by ill health, and hair and beard as black as a raven. General Rawlins has accumulated a moderate property, and is living within his income as a Cabinet Minister. Secretary Borie is the wealthiest man in the Cabinet. He is short of stature, dark complexion, black eyes, hair tinged with gray, and with full gray beard. He at present boards at Willard's but will shortly remove to Wormley's new restaurant, where he has engaged the entire second floor, though Mrs. Borie will pass the summer at their splendid residence near Philadelphia. With the Atty.-General and the Secretary of the Treasury, New England men are already familiar. Postmaster-General Cresswell has acquired and inherited in person and by marriage a liberal estate. He is without children, and at present resides with his wife, at the aristocratic boarding house in Washington."

A Clerical Anecdote.

Some thirty five or forty years ago, a Mr. Williams, a clergyman of the old school, somewhat eccentric, came to Salem from the country to exchange desks with one of his brethren in the ministry. During the Sabbath noon intermission he said to his daughter—

"I am going to lie down. If St. Paul himself comes, don't disturb me."

Mr. Bently who preached in the East Church, who had been very intimate with Mr. Williams, but had not seen him for several years, hearing he was in town, hurried off after dinner to make his friend a call.

"Where is brother Williams?" he inquired, as he met the daughter.

"He can't be disturbed, sir, not even if St. Paul should call."

"I must see him!" was the impatient rejoinder, in the inimitable manner peculiar to Mr. Bently.

Resistance to such a must was out of the question. The room of the sleeper was invaded. With no gentle voice and a corresponding shake, Mr. Williams was aroused. He was delighted to see his old friend Bently, reiterating with fervency his gratification.

"I think, Brother Williams, that you are a little inconsistent.'

"How so, Brother Bently?'

"Didn't you tell your daughter you were not to be disturbed even if St. Paul called? You appear very glad to see me.'

"No, no, brother, not inconsistent at all. I was—I am glad to see you. The Apostle Paul! why, I hope to spend a blessed eternity with him; but you, Brother Bently, I never expect to see you again.'

LOVES OF THE ANGELS.—"There is nothing—no, nothing—beautiful and good that dies and is forgotten. An infant, a prattling child, dying in its cradle, will live again in the better thoughts of those who loved it, and play its part, though its body be burned to ashes or buried in the deepest sea. There is not an angel added to the host of heaven but does its blessed work on earth in those who loved it here. Dead! Oh, if the good deeds of human creatures could be traced to their source, how beautiful would even death appear!—for how much charity, mercy, and purified affection would been to have their growth in dusty graves.

FLOWERS IN THE TROPICS.—It is a very common but mistaken notion that rich and gorgeous flowers are a conspicuous feature of tropical landscapes. So far is this from being true that they are quite rare. The tropics produce abundant masses of greenery. Often in Brazil, or in the most luxuriant forests and jungles of the old world, scarce a single brilliant blossom will be seen in a long walk. Even the famous orchids generally have green blossoms, and those which are such splendid ornaments of our conservatories are quite rare. They are no such brilliant effects of masses of colour as are to be seen so abundantly in the apple-trees of temperate climes. In fact, a very large portion of the most showy cultivated flowers, like the lilies of Japan, are from countries within the temperate zones,

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS
OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which is a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Receipt, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception a Safe, Speedy, Pleasant and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite in society, the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Wine Merchants, Druggists, and Grocers in Canada.

Prepared and sold wholesale by the Proprietor.

Let there be Harmony in things Essential—Liberality in things not Essential—Charity in all.

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 25, 1869. No. 47.

Europe.

The latest dates are to the 10th inst.

The son of the Czarewich, of Russia, born June 6, has received the name of Alexander.

The Turkish Sultan has conferred the title of Pacha on Samuel Baker, in order to give a proof of the interest he takes in the latter's expedition.

The elections in Amsterdam of members to the second Chamber resulted in a complete Liberal triumph—all the three Liberal candidates being elected.

The "Norseman" arrived in England from Natal, June 8th, bringing two cases of diamonds, among which was the eighty-three carat diamond, which was insured on the passage for £30,000 ($150,000).

It is claimed by a Florentine professor that somnambulism may be cured by simply winding a copper wire slender and flexible, around the leg of the patient, leaving an end long enough to touch the ground. The theory is that the wire conducts away the electricity of the body.

Thirteen Orangemen were arrested for drumming along the Shankhill road in Cork, Ireland, June 9. The constabulary were obliged to draw their swords. The mob stoned the policemen, some of whom were severely cut. The prisoners were escorted by a strong guard of policemen armed with rifles, and were conveyed to the head police office.

The magnificent stories of gold discoveries in South Africa are likely to prove highly fabulous. According to news from Natal to the 17th of April the result of the gold explorations was still unsatisfactory. Munch's discovery has been denounced as a gross fabrication. More miners have arrived from Australia, and many have resolved to persevere in their researches.

The result in the elections in the Netherlands to the Chambers of Deputies is announced up to the evening of June 9. Of the 31 successful candidates 20 are Liberals, 12 of whom sat in the last Chamber; and 11 are Conservatives, of whom three are new members. A second balloting will be necessary in five electoral districts. The results of six elections are not yet known.

Recently Mabel Grey gave a dinner at St. James' Hall. Seventy tickets were issued at £10 a head. They sold rapidly at a premium among the husbands, brothers, and sons of respectable women. "Every club in London" says one who was there, "was represented. The feast was worthy of Lucullus; Mabel outdid herself." Men go to churches and listen to denunciations of crime, they subscribe for Magdalene asylums, and hear the Sinaitic commandments, "Non Machaberis," repeated in fashionable and elegant language by accomplished preachers—but then they dine with Mabel Grey at £10 a head.

THE CORK RIOTS.

The following particulars are given of the riots in Cork, brief mention of which has been made in the cable despatches. It seems that one Johnson, a printer by trade late of Dublin, has been examined, and remanded by the magistrate, on a charge of seducing soldiers from their allegiance by means of circulars he placed in their hands as they passed through the streets. The document called on them to desert with their arms, and officer their countrymen to sack the gunshops, provision stores &c., and take the best horses, and force the shopmen and constabulary into their ranks. The circular appeals to Roman Catholic soldiers not to serve heretics. Two witnesses who were examined in support of the charges against the three policemen engaged in the Ballyhelgue affray, stated that a wanton attack was made on the crowd. There was no disorder then or before the policemen came up. The first collision was provoked by sub-Constable Walsh striking a man named O'Hara with his sword. Previous to this there had been no violence or stone throwing. The constable, Fleming, also used his sword without being attacked. Crowley did not draw his sword, and was not molested.—Crowley sought to dissuade his two comrades from bringing out their rifles. The second collision was brought on by the policemen attempting to drive the crowd at the point of the bayonet back to the barracks. Some people were stabbed and stone-throwing began. Offers were repeatedly made to the policemen to give the names of the people present. The magistrates determined to take information against Walsh and Fleming, and adjourned the case for further evidence.

—Creaking doors is stopped by rubbing yellow soap on the hinges. This is better than oil.

—Vast ruins have been discovered in the Zulu country, in South Africa—obelisks with colossal carvings, terraces, and halls of hewn stone, or cut out of the solid rock. The natives regard them with mysterious awe, and keep strangers from them, for fear that if they are approached no rain will fall for three years.

Fish-Breeding at Newcastle.

We have received a copy of the special report of Messrs. Whitcher and Venning on Fish-breeding at Newcastle, Ontario.—This has been carried on there on Baldwin's or Wilmot's Creek by Mr. Wilmot since 1865, for the first two years at his own expense, and since with a small aid from Government. This stream was formerly filled with salmon, but they had been almost extirpated by excessive fishing, and by the fouling of the stream by manufactures, &c. Mr. Wilmot undertook to restock it with the true salmon (salmo salar) and his experiments have been wonderfully successful. He intends to exhibit at Ottawa the parent salmon, the girlse, and the infant fish. He has a hatching house and reception house, the former 64 feet long and 24 wide with a stone cellar seven feet deep impervious to frost. In this safe place (the ova being hatched in winter) are placed on trestles, many wooden hatching troughs, each twelve inches wide and eight deep, three feet from the ground, slightly inclined to cause a gentle flow of water to ensure aeration. The water is supplied from a canal dug from a stream, carried into a tank, and thence into the troughs, through pierced tin spouts. The canal is dammed, and turns the salmon into the tailrace below, leading them into the reception house. The whole establishment is fitted to dispose of some four or five million of eggs. The ova being expressed from the female salmon and impregnated with the milt are placed on grills, in the troughs, so arranged that the water flows over and under them and hatch out in 150 to 180 days. Great care and attention is required for success. For the first six weeks after hatching the young fish need no feeding, being supported by the oily egg which adheres to them. Afterwards they are fed with boiled bullock's liver grated fine. Outside the buildings are ponds, made by damming the creek, where the young fish are kept till strong enough to journey to the sea, from whence they return, as they returned to Wilmot's Creek to again give eggs for future hatching.—Fully seventy per cent of the eggs were successfully hatched out, a large proportion considering the delicate nature of the operation. Mr. Wilmot was equally successful with salmon trout and a cross between them and salmon. His white-fish eggs were destroyed by an accident. Similar experiments have proved successful elsewhere, restocked exhausted rivers giving an abundant supply of delicious food. We have no doubt that Messrs. Whitcher and Venning are correct in stating that any such establishment may be made self-sustaining and that by this means we may add greatly to our piscatorial wealth.—Citizen.

A Model Newspaper Dun.

The following "touching appeal" is from an English paper. We have seen many "duns," but this is the most pathetic and at the same time original of them all:

"Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it."

"We are greatly in need of money just now, in order to meet our paper bills and other liabilities, and as there are thousands of dollars due this office from subscribers, we would kindly, but earnestly, ask all who are in arrears to remit immediately, if possible, a part at least of their indebtedness."

"Say not unto thy neighbor, 'Go, and come again, and to-morrow I will give thee,' when thou hast it by thee."

"How Much Owest Thou?—The date opposite the name on the paper wrapper is the time to which the subscriber has paid: thus, 'Jan. 1, 67,' means that the subscription expired Jan. 1, 1868, which at the rate of $2 per annum would indicate $3,84 due the first of the month. Jan. 68,' would leave $1,84 due September 1, &c. Thus each one can easily determine the present condition of his account with this office. How much owest thou?"

"Woe unto him that useth his neighbor's service without wages, and giveth him not for his work."

A Phenomenon.—A phenomenon of a most extraordinary nature, says the Pall Mall Gazette has lately been witnessed by the inhabitants on the borders of the Caspian Sea. This huge salt lake is dotted with numerous islands which produce yearly a large quantity of naptha, and it is no uncommon occurrence for fires to break out in the works and burn for many days before they can be extinguished. Early in April, owing to some subterranean disturbances, enormous quantities of this inflammable substance were projected from the naptha wells, and becoming ignited, notwithstanding every precaution, converted the whole sea into the semblance of a gigantic flaming punch bowl, many thousands of square miles in extent. The fire burnt itself out in about forty-eight hours, leaving the surfaces strewed with the dead bodies of innumerable fishes. Herodotus mentions a tradition that the same phenomenon was once before observed by the tribes inhabiting the shores of the Caspian Sea.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, JUNE 25.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.—We are requested to intimate that the Rev. Mr. Baylis, of St. John's N. B., will preach (D. V.) in the Congregational Church on Sabbath next, 27th June. Service will commence in the morning at 11 o'clock, and in the evening at half past six.

GOLD IN NOVA SCOTIA.—The Halifax Express says :—" According to the report of the Commissioner of Mines to December 31st, 1868, embracing a period of fifteen months, the total yield of gold for the period named was 27,359 ozs., 8 dwts., 17 grs.; and eleven new crushers were licensed, and six others erected."

ELECTION OF COUNCILLOR.—The election of a Councillor in room of John Sutherland, Esq., resigned, took place this forenoon. GEO. VARS, Esq., was nominated by Wm. Sutherland, Esq., seconded by N. B. Falkiner, Esq., and there being no opposition was declared at the end of the hour, elected by acclamation.

GOLD NEWS.—Those interested in the gold mines of Hastings will be gratified to learn that the Turley & Gilbert crusher is to start on the first of July. They propose working their own rock from their lot, in the 9th concession. Gold has been found in very rich quantities on this lot, and hopes are entertained that the operations about to commence will be amply remunerative.

RAN OVER.—On Wednesday afternoon, a down freight train ran over a French-man, hailing from Quebec, named McDonald, about five miles west of Belleville. His arm was broken, his head badly cut and other injuries were sustained. It is thought he may recover. It's the old, old story—a whiskey bottle half empty was found by his side.

THE CROPS IN QUEBEC.—The Quebec Chronicle says: "From various parts of the country come cheering accounts of the crops. The season has been very favourable for agricultural operations, and a larger breadth of land than usual has been sown. A good harvest would be an immense benefit to this Province, and so far the prospect is good. A very large crop of hay is with good reason expected.

MASONIC.—A telegram from Halifax, dated the 24th, says :" The union of all the Masonic bodies in Nova Scotia was effected last night under the name of the Grand Lodge of Nova Scotia. Hon. Alex. Keith, President of the Legislative Council, was elected Grand Master ; A. A. Stevenson, Grand Master of Canada, presided. At the Installation ceremonies to-day, 600 Masons walked in procession to St. Paul's Church, where religious services were held. They are holding a banquet to-night."

WESTWARD HO !—The Toronto Globe says :—" Yesterday morning Mr. DAWSON, Government Surveyor, left here by Northern Railway with 150 men, who are to be employed in surveying the country lying between Fort William and Fort Garry.—Twenty-two laborers, to work on the road between those two places, also went with him, and another party are to follow next week. They go from Collingwood to Fort William by the Chicora."

LUMBER EXPORTED TO THE UNITED STATES.—The returns submitted to the Senate relative to lumber exported to the States for years ending 30th June, 1863 and 1868, show :—For 1863, from Ontario and Quebec, 229,599,930 feet ; from Nova Scotia, 7,681,980 feet ; from New Brunswick, 12,421,180 feet ; for 1868—from Ontario and Quebec, 572,528,580 feet ; Nova Scotia, 7,676,280 feet ; New Brunswick, 17,042,111 feet. Grand total for 1863, 249,703,060 : for 1868, 587,251,961.

FOR THE NORTH WEST.—North-West, the star of Empire takes its way. The tide of emigration has commenced fairly to set in, the point of attraction being the Red River. It is said that every boat leaving Owen Sound takes up emigrants with horses, waggons, &c. The route principally followed now is by steamer to Sault Ste Marie, thence by American steamer to Superior city, and on by overland route via St. Cloud. This will be the best route so long as navigation remains open, or until the Fort William route is opened out.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE.—The Leonard Scott Publishing Co., New York. The June Blackwood commences with a pleasant little tale "Late for the Train" another of the "Historical sketches" is given this month of "She Skeptic," David Hume ; Part II of "A year and a day" ; The "Viceregal Career" of Sir John Lawrence ; "American Reasons for Peace," of course advising our democratic neighbors to keep the peace for their own good, and three of O'Dowd's papers ; a very good number for hot weather, well written and not heavy.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION.—An adjourned meeting of those favorable to the formation of a Rifle Association, are requested to meet at Hambly's at 8 o'clock, on Monday evening next. The object is a very praiseworthy one, and we trust to see a large attendance.

EMIGRANTS.—Two emigrant trains passed west yesterday afternoon, one containing 700 emigrants, Norwegians and Germans, all bound for the Western States ; the other containing 380, of which 140 were Germans, destined for the Western States, the remainder, 200 Scotch and 40 English, stop in Canada.

THE INDIAN WAR.—A letter from Western Kansas to the N. Y. Tribune shows that the Indian war, as it is called, is not yet over. He says :—" A few hundreds of red men are roving about, making assaults upon emigrants and exposed settlements. A number of white men have been killed, and some women carried into captivity."

FIRE.—On Wednesday, a house north of the Railway Station, owned and occupied by John McDonald, an employee of the G. T. R., was completely destroyed by fire. The greater part of the household effects were saved. The insurance on the building expired only a short time ago, and he did not think it worth while to renew it, so the loss to McDonald will be considerable.

A PUBLIC HOLIDAY.—The Montreal Gazette says : "The Governor General having expressed a wish that Thursday, the 1st of July next, should be kept as a holiday, His Excellency the Lieut. General commanding directs that the Royal Standard shall be hoisted at Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, and Toronto, and that the troops at all stations shall parade at such time as the Commandant may appoint ; the Royal Artillery to fire a Royal Salute, and the Infantry a feu de joie.

NEW INSOLVENTS.—The following new Insolvents are gazetted : Benjamin Green, Peterboro ; Mohr & Girhardt, Tavistock ; J. L. Demers, Montreal ; B. F. White, Markham ; Ashley West, Shefford ; W. K. Moore, Peel ; Jas Henderson, Galt ; John W. Shisler, Streetsville ; Jno. Gilchrist, Peterboro ; F. B. Well's, Preston ; Edward McGrory, Jr., Montreal ; Jno. Ford, Montreal ; R. Mimmons, Monck ; C. Stenson, Emily ; W. Deacon, Sherbrooke ; Edward Grand, Guelph ; F. A. Meyer, Seaforth ; Thos. Bunt, Pilkington ; C. Small, Toronto ; G. R. Martin, Sherbrooke.

SAW DUST.—The time has not yet come to suppose that we had no Fishery Inspector in the County. It is literally covered with saw dust, and where the eddy whirls the water, the dust is seen fully mixed with the water, giving the appearance of a stream full of saw dust, floating gradually down ... ledge itself at the mouth of the harbor. We have seen by the Police Reports that a number of Mill owners have been brought before that Court and fined for allowing saw dust to fall into the river, with a caution to prevent it in future. All this appears to be of no avail, for the river is as full of saw dust as it ever was, and if the throwing of this material into the river be not prevented, it will not be long before it will be necessary for the town to make another appropriation of $6,000 to dredge the harbor again.

ARREST FOR SELLING A TESTAMENT.—A telegram from Quebec, of the 24th inst., gives the following account of an arrest of a singular character, which took place at St. Henry, about nine miles from Quebec. "Two gentlemen just arrived from France were arrested at the instance of the priest of the parish, charged with selling him a copy of the New Testament. No fine was ultimately imposed, but the one guilty of selling a copy of the Gospel was condemned to pay nearly $6 in costs. It is also positively stated that one of them, who are both Colporteurs of the French Canadian Missionary Society, was arrested without a warrant. Influential gentlemen in Montreal are determined, is is said, to have the matter fully investigated, and legal measures are to be taken against all concerned in the extraordinary proceeding. It is to be regretted in the present state of political feeling among the British of Lower Canada that a religious question should arise calculated to stir not only their anger, but also of every Protestant in the Dominion.

Wesleyan Female College.

The examinations of this College closed on Wednesday forenoon, the whole number of classes examined being fifty-seven. The Spectator says :—

All did exceedingly well, and reflected much credit upon the efficiency of the several teachers under whose guidance they had received instruction.

Amongst the closing exercises was reading compositions. The Spectator says :

"Miss Nellie Sawyer, of Hamilton, read a touching and pleasing, yet saddening theme, called "Hushed Voices." It was somewhat shorter than many of the other themes, but amply compensated for brevity by beauty of expression. It was listened to throughout with marked interest ; and not a few cheeks grew damp with tears as she referred lovingly to the memory of a deceased schoolmate, Miss Frankie Wood.

"The beautiful Hymn, commencing 'Dearest Sister, thou hast left us,' was feelingly sung by Misses Lincoln and Allison, and those who had withstood the moving sentences of the preceding theme, broke down when the singers' voices trembled with emotion and paid to the sacred memory of the dead, the tribute of unbidden tears."

The next term will commence on the 8th of September.

Not what we Expected.

The treatment Canada has received from the present English Cabinet is not what we expected. The demand of the Government for damage done to the arms served out to the volunteers during the Fenian invasion, is rather shabby, when all the circumstances are taken into consideration, and the following remarks of the Kingston News, in commenting upon this matter, will be approved of by the whole country. The News says : " Our people did not expect that they would be treated so shabbily as to be charged with this portion of the cost for defending our part of the Empire from an aggressive attack that was dictated as a revenge upon Imperial power. The amount is small, and after bearing still greater outlay in the same Imperial cause and quarrel, we can well afford perhaps to pay it ; but if a case of this kind is to serve as a precedent, the prospect, in view of a greater difficulty and of war between the United States and Great Britain, is not sufficiently assuring."

Ontario Rifle Association.

About midday the second or Affiliated Association Match terminated. The first prize ($50) in this match was won by the St. Catherines Rifle Association—the three men who shot being Capt. Thompson, who made 35 points ; A. May, 36 do ; and J. B. Disher, 36 do.

The second prize—a Snider Enfield and $5—was won by T. McKelcan, who made 37 points.

The third prize—a Snider Enfield—was won by A. S. Russell, who made 36 points.

About two o'clock the squads for the third contest were marched to their respective butts, this being the one in which the prize offered by Lieut. Gen. Stisted was to be competed for. Only non-commissioned officers and men of regular and volunteer corps were allowed to compete. About 200 entries were made, and before any shots had been fired, the men were inspected by Brigade Major Denison, in order to see if they were in correct military uniform. The Leader says : " many of them were ruled out, much to their discomfiture, owing to the absence of a belt or forage cap—so strict indeed was this surveillance by the ... Sergeant ... was obliged to retire from the contest on account of wearing an artilleryman's belt instead of a Queen's On. We thought this was rather hard, as the person alluded to was an old and tried volunteer, having been in the ranks of the Queen's Own for many years."

Sergeant Fearman, of the 87th Battalion, won the first prize of $30 ; Sergeant Bears, of the 13th Battalion, obtained the second $20 ; Dr. Oronhyatekha, of Frankford, won the third prize, $10.

The Battalion match was commenced immediately afterward, and some little progress made.

The Hastings St. Patrick's Protestant Benevolent Society.

The meeting of the Irish Protestants of Belleville, as already announced, was held last evening in the Town Hall, and resulted in a complete success.

Francis McAnnany, Esq., was called to the Chair, the duties of which he discharged in his usual able and gentlemanly manner. Dr. Potts was called on to act as Secretary, pro tem.

After discussing the object and necessity for the organization of a Society that would be National in its character and distinctive in its operations, it was unanimously resolved to name the Society " The Hastings St. Patrick's Protestant Benevolent Society."

The gentlemen who have identified themselves in the formation of the Society are men that do not believe in failure, and therefore it may be confidently assered that the prospects of " The Hastings St. Patrick's Protestant Benevolent Society," are bright in the future of its existence.

The following names were nominated to be a Committee to draw up a Constitution and By-Laws, viz :—Thomas Kelso, Esq., Chairman, Dr. Potts, Galbraith, Harrison, Sisson, Falkiner, Scholes and Charters, who are to report to the general meeting to be held on next Wednesday evening, the 30th inst., for discussion and final adoption.—After which the election of officers will take place.

The Protestant inhabitants of Belleville, and the County generally, are invited to attend.

Chambers in Toronto.

CONLIN V. ELMER.—This cause was heard at the last Belleville sittings. The bill was filed to reform a mining lease of lands in Madoc, and the suit is one of many that has arisen out of the gold fever in that part of the country. The decree will declare that by the true agreement between the parties, the defendant was to have a mining lease only ; that the plaintiff was to retain the use of the property for agricultural purposes and all other purposes, not inconsistent with the mining rights simply, specified in the lease, and that the lease should be reformed. Reference to Master at Belleville to settle a new lease accordingly. Plaintiff to have costs at law and in this suit. MacLellan & MacLellan Solicitors, and C. E. English, Counsel for Plff. Diamond & Dickson Solicitors, and Thomas Moss, Counsel for Deft.

POLITICAL DISTURBANCES

FLORENCE, June 24.—The official journals here state that large crowds assembled in the streets of Genoa, but committed no violence, confining their demonstrations to the utterance of seditious cries. They finally dispersed without making any resistance to the police. Slight demonstrations are also reported in Naples.

THE EMPEROR AT CHALONS.

PARIS, June 24.—The Emperor to-day visited the Camp of Chalons, and made a speech to the soldiers. He reminded the army that this was the anniversary of the battle of Solferino, and said he was pleased to see that they had not forgotten the great cause for which they fought ten years ago. The emperor continued as follows: "; revive the remembrance of battles fought by your fathers and yourselves, for our recent victories are the history of the progress of civilization. You will thus maintain the military spirit, which is the triumph of noble over vulgar passions. It is fidelity to the flag; devotion to the country. Continue in the same course and you will always be worthy of so great a nation."

FURTHER OUTRAGE IN IRELAND.

CORK, June 24.—The buildings on a farm in this vicinity were entered last night by men in disguise, and destroyed. No clue to the perpetrators of the outrage has been obtained.

THE GREAT EASTERN.

LONDON, June 24.—At last telegraphic accounts from the steamship Great Eastern, she was 204 knots out from Brest, and had paid out 310 knots of cable. The signals through to the shore continued perfectly. Weather delightful; all well.

CONFEDERATE BONDHOLDERS.

LONDON, June 24.—Another meeting of Confederate Bondholders was held here last evening, to protest against parts of Senator Sumner's speech against the Alabama Claims Treaty, and to petition the House of Commons against granting any compensation for such claims of the United States, unless they are adjudicated by an impartial tribunal on principles of equity and international law.

DIPLOMATIC CORPS.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Very few of the Foreign Diplomatic Corps will remain here during the summer months. Edward Thornton, British Minister, and Clarsford, first Secretary of Legation, go in a few days to New York.

TROUBLE IN THE SOUTH.

LOUISVILLE, June 24.—A detachment of mounted men has been sent by order of the General commanding, to assist the civil authorities in ridding Lincoln and adjoining counties of marauding bands that have been holding away there for some time past.

FROM CUBA

NEW YORK, June 25.—Recent dates from Cuba state that a considerable number of regular Spanish soldiery have deserted to the Patriot army. There is also a great deal of sickness among them. The Republicans have received as much or more aid from Mexico and other points in the way of munition, &c., than has yet been obtained from the United States.

HORRIBLE BUTCHERY.

The Sun's Cuba special says: A great number of families from Puerto Principe abandoned that city together, and guarded by a force of Patriots encamped in the woods. When Letona knew that these families were almost unprotected, he attacked them at night with a large force and slaughtered large numbers of children, women and old people. The news given to the Capt.-General shows that the number of those whose throats were cut, amounts to 2000, and as all are children, women, and old persons, the barbarous monster author of those unheard of crimes, excuses himself by saying the night was obscure and he could not see.

A FILLIBUSTERING EXPEDITON STOPPED.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The United States Marshal for New Jersey is reported to have seized a tug boat and a large barge on which Cuban expeditionists were about to embark last night, thus preventing their departure.—They returned to this city, but will leave to-night.

RESIGNATION OF MR. BORIE.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Hon. A. Borie has resigned his position as Secretary of Navy, and Hon. G. M. Robertson, of New Jersey, formerly Attorney General of that State, has been appointed to succeed him. Mr. Borie felt compelled to resign by the multiplicity of his private affairs.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no remedy has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of Cold—fully proving that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From Rev. FRANCIS LOBDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it with the most perfect success for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

Hoeing and Haying.

Conditions of soil and weather that are favorable to the growth of crops, are also favorable to the growth of weeds, and unless special and constant pains are taken to eradicate the weeds, they will overtop and choke the crop. Such seems to be the order of Providence. The virtues and vices spring up and grow together, and unless special culture is directed to the suppression of the latter, the former will yield but little if any fruit.

As in moral so in physical culture, a large portion of the time and strength of the cultivator must be employed in removing that which would injure the growth of the valuable or ornamental products which he is striving to develop. The very culture which will give strength and vigor to the plant, will give vigor and strength to the weeds if suffered to stand by its side.

In the early part of the season, while the plants are small, and before other work becomes urgent, we generally keep our grounds clean, and we seem to suppose that the weeds are effectually subdued. But as children, however tenderly cared for in early life, if exposed to evil influences and evil examples, without restraint, will develop bad habits and dispositions, so without constant attention during that portion of the year in which the temperature and moisture causes the seed to germinate, the weeds will grow.

Most farmers intend to get the hoeing done before the commencement of haying. This was the rule among our fathers, who did not generally commence their haying as early as do good farmers now a days. When our hay consisted mostly of red top and natural grasses, it might be allowed to stand longer without injury, than the clover and hedgegrass, on which we now so generally depend, and which experience teaches us must be cut while it retains as much as possible the property of grass. This renders it necessary to begin haying some ten to fourteen days earlier than formerly, and the cultivator and hoe cease to work among the corn and potatoes so much earlier.

If a portion of the farm is devoted to market gardening or early fruits, these must be attended to in this season or they will be lost. We know a man who had a field of early potatoes, which made a fine show in June, and promised a fine crop, but the dry weather of the heated term checked the growth of the tubers, and at the same time ripened up his strawberries so rapidly that they required all the force he could raise. By the time the strawberries were picked the weeds fairly overtopped the potatoes, and now what should be done? If he undertood to gather up the tares he would pull up the wheat with them. If he let them both grow together till the harvest, he would have a small crop of potatoes and a large crop of weed seed for next year. So he just put in the plough and turned under both weeds and potatoes, and sowed turnips. Perhaps it was rather an expensive green crop with which to enrich his soil; but almost anything is better than a crop of weeds.

During the latter part of July and August, the moist, sultry weather which we usually have, greatly favors the growth of weeds, and the corn and potatoes are then so large that we cannot work among them without injuring the plants. Our method of planting is predicated on the idea that the ground is free from weeds, and that the plants should be placed as near as they will grow without interfering with each other. But in rich land and in old land the weeds were sure to come in a moist season. Now would it not be better on such soil to plant the rows at least one foot wider apart than we usually do? This would enable us to work among them two weeks longer, and without injuring the plants; and should we not be less reluctant to give our fields the benefit of another cultivation than we now are? and should we not generally on rich, weedy land get quite as much to the acre as we do now? With the improved machinery we now have, we can get our hay in in half the time it formerly took us; and this, with commencing earlier, will give us opportunity to put in the plough and hoe again after haying, and leave our fields clean at harvest time. We must give up the old maxims and practice which have been handed down as an heir loom, and adapt our methods to the circumstances in which we live.

Those who cut their hay early last season had as fine weather as they could desire, and observation will show that we generally have fine weather from about the 20th of June till the middle of July—the very time to cut our cultivated grasses. Afetr that the weather grows "catchy" and much hay is hurt in the making. Let us learn wisdom by experience, and adopt such methods and so plan our work that everything shall be done at the proper time and to the best advantage.

—"There is nothing—no, nothing—beautiful and good that dies and is forgotten. An infant, a prattling child, dying in its cradle, will live again in the better thoughts of those who loved it, and play its part, though its body be burned to ashes or buried in the deepest sea. There is not an angel added to the host of heaven but does its blessed work on earth in those who loved it here. Dead! Oh, if the good deeds of human creatures could be traced to their source, how beautiful would even death appear!—for how much charity, mercy, and purified affection would be seen to have their growth in dusty graves."

The Appetite for Tobacco Destroyed.

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed Tobacco.

ORTON'S PREPARATION!

ESTABLISHED 1866.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for Tobacco, in any person no matter how strong the habit may be. If it fails in any case the money will be refunded. Perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. It is almost impossible to break off the use of tobacco by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature in overcoming a habit so firmly rooted. With the help of the Preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that Orton's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for tobacco, and leaves the person as free from any desire for it, as before he commenced its use. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobacco and through these upon the blood thoroughly cleansing the poison of tobacco from the system and thus allaying the unnatural cravings for tobacco. No more hankering for tobacco after using Orton's Preparation. Recollect it is warranted.

The time taken to allay all desire for Tobacco by the use of this Preparation varies slightly in different persons, the average time being about Five days. Some have no desire for Tobacco after using the Preparation Two days.

The Health and Purse of every Tobacco user in the country call loudly, ABANDON THE USE OF TOBACCO.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have used Orton's Preparation for the purpose of destroying the appetite for Tobacco, and can assure those who are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparation will certainly destroy the appetite for Tobacco quickly and permanently, without any bad effect upon the health, and without creating an appetite either for the Preparation or any substitute.

☞ Beware of counterfeits and all articles purporting to be like this, of the same name or otherwise. The great popularity of Orton's Preparation has induced unprincipled persons to attempt palming upon the public counterfeit and inferior articles. Purchasers will please order directly from the proprietor, or his duly authorized Agents. ☜

The price of Orton's preparation is $2.00 per box, or three boxes for $5, sent by mail to any part of the country, securely sealed from observation, with passage paid on receipt of price.

HOW TO SEND MONEY BY MAIL.—Enclose the amount in a letter, seal carefully, register the letter, and take a receipt for it of your Postmaster. Money sent by mail as above directed at my risk. An Agent wanted in every town.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are as readily prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicability of, as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tendency to boils, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroberant for delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a powerful recuperant after the frame has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.

OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds, such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, neuralgia, rheumatic pains—in fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery, summer complaints, cholera morbus, female complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 20 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

Vol. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 26, 1869. No. 48.

Only the Clothes She Wore.

The following verses are by the late Mr. N. G. Shepherd, and are his last literary production. He left the manuscript at the office of Appleton's Journal, received the money for it, and a few hours afterwards died from the effects of intoxication. The poem is founded on an actual incident, the clothes only of a drowned woman remaining at the Morgue for identification :

There is the hat
With the blue vail around it, just as they found it,
Spotted and soiled, stained and all spoiled—
Do you recognize that?

The gloves, too, lie there,
And in them still lingers the shape of her fingers,
That some one has pressed, perhaps, and caressed,
So slender and fair.

There are the shoes,
With their long silken laces, still bearing traces,
To the toe's dainty tip, of the mud of the slip,
The slime and the ooze

There is the dress,
Like the blue vail all dabbled, discolored and drabbled—
This you should know, without doubt, and, if so,
All else you may guess!

There is the shawl,
With the striped border, hung next in order,
Soiled hardly less than the light muslin dress,
And—that is all.

Ah, here's a ring,
We were forgetting, with a pearl setting,
There was only this one—mate or date?—none!
A frail pretty thing.

A keepsake, maybe,
The gift of another, perhaps a brother,
Or lover, who knows? him her heart chose,
Or was she here—free?

Does the hat here,
With the blue veil around it, the same as they found it,
Summon up a fair face with just a trace
Of gold in the hair.

Or does the shawl,
Mutely appealing to some hidden feeling,
A form, young and slight to your mind's sight,
Clearly recall?

A month now has passed,
And her sad history remains yet a mystery,
But these we keep still, and shall keep them until Hope dies at last.

Was she the prey
Of some deep sorrow clouding the morrow,
Hidding from view the skies happy blue?
Or was there fool play?

Alas! who may tell?
Some one or another, perhaps a fond mother,
May recognize these when her child's clothes she sees;
Then will it be well?

Saying Prayers.

A writer in the People's Magazine has the following :

I remember being present once while a mother was hearing her child say its prayers, which opened my eyes greatly as to how the act of simple worship may be conducted.

'Come here, Johnny,' said the mother, addressing an eight-year old boy, and say your prayers. I am sure the lady won't mind waiting as you are all ready for bed.'

The mother lolled back in her chair, and the boy flopped down on his knees, and began in a loud rapid gabble, his eyes always roaming about the room with a startling look of intelligence as to what was going on. 'Our Father chart in 'eaven. Allowed be Thy name. 'Thy'—a dead pause and an irrepressible yawn.

'Now, then' exclaimed the mother, in a loud voice, very much as though she were driving a donkey through the streets, 'go on, can't you child? 'Kingdom come.'

'Kingdom come. Thy will b'done on earth as 'tis in 'eaven. Give us this day our daily bread, give us'—but here the boy's eye is irresistibly caught by a fly on his mother's knee, at which he makes an ineffectual dab.

'Leave that fly alone, you tiresome boy, can't you, and attend to what you are about —'our trespasses.'

'Our tresp'sses as we 'give them that tres-pass against us. And lead us not into'—another dead pause.

'Bless me! whatever takes the boy? You can say your prayers well enough when you like; its just as if you didn't know them.—Go on, can't you, or I'll flog you. Into temptation, but deliver—'

Thus exhorted and threatened the lad finished the Divine prayer at a yet more rapid gabble than he began and was then dismissed to bed, having 'said his prayers.'

Now I ask you, my sisters, what possible sense of worship could that lad so taught have had? What could prayer be to him but the idlest form, to be thrown away the moment he is his own master, and very small blame to him either! Would it not be better to let it alone altogether, than make such an irreverent mockery of it as this?

Bishop Beverage has truly and strikingly said — Who knows but the salvation of ten thousand immortal souls may depend on the education of a child.

The Blessedness of Beneficence.

How diversified, how great, how sublime is that pleasure! You know it, who exercise yourselves in beneficence with genuine Christian sentiments. You know what your hearts enjoy, what pure and heavenly transports pervade them, when you weep with those that weep, and are so happy as to dry up the tears of the mourners; when you can take the forlorn to your care, and can minister help to the destitute; when you have an opportunity to rescue the innocent, to feed the hungry, to give drink to the thirsty, to alleviate the distresses of the poor, to mitigate the pains of the sick, and to assuage the anguish of the afflicted soul; when you can compensate,as much as in you lies,the widow for the loss of her spouse, and the orphan for the privation of his parents; when you convey some rays of light, of comfort, of hope, of satisfaction, into the abodes where sorrow, dismay, and wretchedness prevailed. You know the feelings of your heart, what streams of pure, celestial transports rush into it,when you are able to contribute somewhat to the advancement of discipline and order, of the glory of God and religion, to the instruction, to the improvement, to the correction, to the spiritual and everlasting happiness of your brethren.—Zollikofer.

The Consolations of Christianity.

That future state of existence, of which Christianity first gave us a clear and distinct view, affords a prospect to us that cannot well fail to cheer and enliven our hearts, and even bear us up under the heaviest pressures of affliction. Without this support, there are, it must be owned calamities sufficient to break the heaviest spirits, and to subdue the firmest minds. When the good and virtuous man is unjustly accused and inhumanly traduced; when enemies oppress and friends desert him; when poverty and distress comes upon him like an armed man; when his favorite child, or his beloved companion, is snatched from him by death; when he is racked with incessant pain, or pining away with incurable disease; when he knows, moreover, that he can have no rest but in the grave, and supposes that rest is the absolute extinction of his being; no wonder that he sinks into melancholy and despair. But let the divine light of immortality break in upon him, and the gloom that surrounds him clear up. Let this day-star arise before him, and it will shed a brightness over the whole scene of his existence, which will make everything look gay and cheerful around him. He is no longer the same being he was before.—Bishop Porteous.

A Slight Mistake.

A gentleman of unquestioned respectability, went home recently late at night.—The [illegible] and after entering the gate and in approaching the house, he was surprised to see the figure of a man rise suddenly and face him. The circumstance was well calculated to make one tremble. Burglars were in the city. It was reasonable to suppose this one. But the gentleman understood that in such emergencies it was best to put on a show of courage even if you didn't feel say. To this end he put his hand in his pocket and then withdrawing it extended it towards the supposed outlaw, as if he had a pistol in it, and meant to shoot him. The gentleman did the same. Now the gentleman was only making believe he had a pistol, for he had none; but he was not certain that the intruder was equally deficient in fire-arms. On the contrary, he had thought he was armed, and the steady glitter of a pistol he was sure was guttering before his eyes. His hair bristled with horror and he cried out :

'Stop you rascal, don't shoot, don't shoot.'

But still the arm was extended, and the fear of death was heavily upon the gentleman.

He shouted murder, thieves and robbers. The loud outcries of the frightened citizen aroused his wife, who came rushing to the door, terror-stricken, inquiring the cause of the alarm.

'Why that rascal is going to shoot me!'

'What rascal, my dear? inquired the lady.

'There, don't you see him?' pointing to the still silent figure.

'Why, my dear, that's your shadow!'

'What!'

'Your shadow.'

'Blessed if it ain't—I thought it was a man.'

'No, my dear, it's only the reflection of a brute, and a very tight one at that.'

And the 'salubrious' citizen was conducted to the couch.

NEWS FOR CHAMPAGNE DRINKERS.—A recent wine circular from an English Wine House says :—There seems likely to be a considerable increase in the manufacture of imitation 'champagne,' 'sparkling hocks," and "sparkling Moselles." From a circular issued by some Belgian chemists, it appears that they have patented a machine for the manufacture of such imitations. The produce can, it is stated, be sold at 1 fr. per bottle, or less than 10s. per dozen, and yield a profit of more than £30, upon 1000 bottles, with the additional advantage that the "residum" (we quote from the French version) can be "treated aneously made into vinegar." A list is given of ninety-three houses to whom, amongst others, the right to use the patent has been conceded, and as this list is described as the third, probably the concession has also been extensively made in Germany and elsewhere. No doubt considerable quantities of these imitation wines will find their way from France and Germany to this country, and be sold as the genuine products of Champagne, the Rhine and the Moselle.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, JUNE 26.

THE HOSE.—The Chief Engineer informs us that the new Hose was tested under the direction of the Committee on Fire, Water and Gas, and after the required test, proved unsatisfactory, sustaining the report of the Chief Engineer presented at a former meeting of the Council.

A PUBLIC HOLIDAY.—A telegram from Ottawa, June 25th, states that the Privy Council have decided to recommend the Governor-General to issue his proclamation for a general holiday on the 1st of July.—The observance of this proclamation is not obligatory but it is expected it will receive general observance.

MASONIC CELEBRATION IN MADOC.—A telegram from Madoc, June 25th, says: The Masonic body had a grand turn out yesterday. The weather was fine, and all appeared to enjoy themselves. The Italian Harp Band discoursed excellent music, and the time both during the afternoon and evening was passed in tripping the light fantastic toe. Every thing passed off satisfactorily.

SALMON FISHING.—The Salmon fishing in the Gulf of the St. Lawrence is said to be better this year than it has been for many years past. From Gaspe, Saguenay, and Moisie the good news comes that the takes are said to be better than at any time during the past twenty years. Single gangs of nets are catching from forty to one hundred fish each day, the average weight of most of which exceeds twenty pounds. This great improvement is said to be the result of the protective system.

SIGN OF GOOD TIMES.—One of the best evidences of the thrift and prosperity of the yeomanry of the country and the prospects of a good crop, is seen in the large number of Reapers which are being purchased. Up to the present time this season seven cars of these machines have arrived at Belleville Station, and about sixty Reapers and Mowers have been delivered to buyers. It is a pity that our farmers are obliged to go abroad for such Implements when we have extensive Foundries and Manufactories at which they might be made.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Friday afternoon, Mr. Henry Cornell, a painter, while adjusting a plank in a scaffolding in St. Thomas' Church, slipped and fell to the floor, a distance of about thirty feet. Fortunately he did not strike the seat when falling, but fell between two pews. His injuries, though very severe, we believe are not dangerous. His head was badly cut and his back and side were somewhat injured. Dr. Lister was called in and did all that medical skill could to alleviate his sufferings.

SAD ACCIDENT.—A very melancholy accident occurred yesterday afternoon, which resulted in serious if not fatal injuries to a young lad, son of Mr. R. H. Jones, aged about eight years. It seems that the boy was in the Woollen Factory of Mr. John Lazier, and while playing near the Picker put his left hand up to it, when it was drawn in between the feed, and before he was rescued, the arm as far as the elbow was torn into shreds, the bones and flesh falling upon the floor in pieces as if cut by a chopping knife. The boy's head came in contact with the feed, and his face was somewhat cut and three teeth knocked out. Fortunately the accident was discovered in time to save the poor child from one of the most horrible deaths that can be imagined. Dr. Burdett was called in and did everything possible for the little sufferer. He amputated the arm about three inches above the elbow, which operation the boy bore bravely. This morning the child was progressing favorably, and hopes are entertained of his recovery.

THE COAL TRADE.—The Montreal Gazette says:—A proof of the growing coal trade between this port and Pictou, Nova Scotia, may be had in the increasing number of large vessels engaged in the trade. Since Confederation two steamers, the 'Hamborough' and 'Her Majesty,' the former carrying one thousand, and the latter eight hundred tons of freight, have been regularly plying between this city and Pictou. This season a large barque, the 'Panama,' has brought a full cargo of Nova Scotia coal, and we learn that before long one or two more large sized vessels will be put in the trade. One of the most forcible arguments used against Confederation by the anti-Confederates was that Canada would never take coal from them, preferring to get it direct from the mother country. We hope in a few seasons more to show by the number of large-sized vessels engaged in the trade, that their fears for the coal trade, like a great many others, were more the result of prejudice than a desire on the part of this portion of the Dominion to get from far distant coal beds what they have in inexhaustible quantities at their own doors.

Common School Examinations.

The examination of the Common Schools for the term ending June 25th, have been held during the past week under the direction of the Local Superintendent, and it has afforded us much gratification to witness the good progress which is being made in Common School education in our town.

School No. 1, near the Canifton road, taught by Mr. Macoun, reflected very great credit upon that able and zealous teacher and his worthy assistant, Miss Shanks. It is to be regretted that their advantages in the way of school accommodation—we allude particularly to the want of galleries—are not such as to enable them to compete on even terms with some of the other Schools.

We were particularly interested in the examination of School No. 2, Coleman Ward, under the care of Mr. Beatty, assisted by an able staff, Mr. Hughes, Miss Templeton and Miss Kerr. This building has been so enlarged that there are now four gallery rooms corresponding to the four sub-divisions of the School. About 250 pupils are in attendance. The order, intelligence, neatness of person and general deportment of the scholars, was universally observed by the large number of visitors who were present. Mr. Hughes' division acquitted themselves with much credit. The Superintendent excused him from any examination in Geography, on the ground that the necessary maps, although applied for during many months, had never been supplied. Miss Templeton received marked commendation for her progress in the art of teaching, and for the high average of attainment displayed by her pupils. Miss Kerr's division, the youngest, also showed the fruit of vast amount of care and patience. The principal interest of the examination, however, naturally centered in the highest division, that taught by Mr. Beatty himself. The examination in English History was most searching and evinced an intimate acquaintance not only with the text book but with a variety of other sources of information to which they had been led or encouraged to resort by their teacher; so that their knowledge did not consist in a dry, lifeless list of duties and facts, but seemed like a living picture of the past. The exercise in Dictation showed also great proficiency. In Arithmetic both the Senior and Junior sections did excellently well, every one of the Senior sections working all the questions correctly, as also did a large majority of the Juniors. The rapidity and [illegible] shown in mental arithmetic was surprising. The Writing, English Grammar, Geography and other studies, were equally creditable. Some spirited recitations were given. Messrs. McAnnany, Sawyer and Sisson, expressed their high gratification of the examination. Mr. Bowell, M. P., being called upon, addressed the audience in a practical manner, comparing the state of the Common Schools with what it was a few years ago, and exhorting the pupils to prize advantages which if rightly improved would enable the son of the poorest day laborer to reach and adorn the highest positions in the land. He showed how the great superiority of this School was owing in a large measure to the principle of centralization which it partially carried out. Some extra expense had been incurred, but now the people had some return for their money, while for many years previous they had had comparatively none. He expressed his pleasure at seeing so many parents and guardians present, which was as it should be. High tribute was paid to Mr. Thos. Wills as Trustee, by Mr. Sisson, as the one upon whom the labor of effecting the improvements of this School had chiefly devolved.

We also visited the Girls' High School on the day of the examination, in which the Superintendent was assisted by Mr. Rous, County Superintendent for South Hastings, and Mr. Beatty. A large number of visitors showed by their presence throughout the day a lively interest in the proceedings. The Junior Division under the care of Miss Helen Leatch, acquitted themselves in a most creditable manner.—The Reading, Spelling, Writing, Dictation, English History, English Grammar and Arithmetic, were especially deserving of praise. The Senior Division, under the instruction of Miss E. O. Banan distinguished themselves most honorably in the same studies, as also in Derivation, Natural History, and Algebra. Some pleasing recitations, vocal music, and original compositions varied the proceedings. The Superintendent distributed a number of prizes, furnished by the Teachers, the Superintendent and Mr. Wills. One very pleasing feature was a prize given to one of the pupils by her School-mates, on the ground, that had she not been prevented by sickness, she would undoubtedly have carried off the highest prize for diligence and blameless deportment. Mr. Rous expressed at the close, his unalloyed satisfaction at what he had seen and heard. He drew particular attention to the surprising results in Dictation. The Juniors had written ten lines of the IV Book of Reading lessons, page, 172, "The forest of masts, &c.," and out of 33 pupils 17 had no mistakes, and twelve had only one mistake, none more than three mistakes. Seniors, had written in fifteen minutes, fifteen lines, from Book V, page, 108, "The vegetable matters, &c.," and out of twenty-one exercises there were seventeen perfect, including capitals and punctuation, and the other few had simply omitted one small word each. He spoke of the success of this School as a good illustration of the great advantages resulting from classification, i. e. from gathering the more advanced scholars from the other schools into one class. He queried why this same principle should not be further extended, to the middle and lower classes, one Teacher's attention being confined as nearly as practicable to one large class; thus securing the best possible Educational results in return for our School Taxes. The truth was, that we had been throwing away our advantages, and wasting our money in building and patching of little Ward School houses, instead of inaugurating a complete and harmonious system, which would do incomparably better work, and in the end cost no more money. He believed our Teachers, as a whole, were most able and faithful, but our School accommodation had been a standing reproach to the intelligence and public spirit of such a town as Belleville.

M. Bowell, M. P., thoroughly endorsed the views of Mr. Rous, views which, however, he himself, as it was well known, had for years advocated whenever he had had a fair opportunity of doing so. He made some very just observations upon the practical value of different studies, a subject which he thought ought to be kept well in view in our schools. He attached particular importance to the power of writing good and correct English, and would, with the permission of the authorities, hold out two prizes in this study, to be competed for respectively by the junior and senior divisions, the subjects to be announced after the competitors were assembled, the compositions to be written in the presence of examiners, and handed in at the end of the time allotted. One of the prizes at least should be a volume of some value.

Mr. Wills having been repeatedly called upon, expressed also his delight at the success of the girls' school which he had been alluded to as in some sense the author, although he thought they gave him more credit than he deserved. He witnessed with much pleasure the gentle manners of the pupils and the good will existing among teachers and pupils. No one could fail to see how much better it was for girls to be taught separately. He had seen too much of the evils of the mixed system with his own eyes. He should like to see all the girls ladies. Wealth and fashionable airs did not make the true lady, but a gentle, kind and loving spirit which would delight in making beautiful and happy homes. He pointed to the needle work as showing the tastes which were cultivated, and which would be [illegible] in after life, and announced to them that the West Riding County Agricultural Society would assign a portion of their Exhibition to the work of the girls of the High School, for which prizes would be given.

Some very beautiful and touching observations were made by Col. Hughes of the Model School of Toronto, which left a most pleasing impression upon the minds of all.

One of the speakers having made allusion to Napanee and Picton as being in advance of Belleville in intelligent public spirit as respect Schools, Mr. John Forin observed that we could not be compared with Napanee; their central school being an honor and an ornament to the place. Students are going to it from various parts of our County.

In concluding the proceedings the Superintendent expressed his hearty concurrence in the sentiments which had been expressed, and especially agreed with what had been said of Mr. Wills as a Trustee. He was a Trustee who gave his thoughts, his time and his heart intelligently to the work. He was well pleased with the examinations. Sincerely unwilling to give unnecessary offence, he considered it nevertheless his duty, as Superintendent, since so many interested in Common School Education were present, to speak the truth and to point out that we had been, and to some extent, still were, playing the fool with our School money. School No. 2 and the Girl's School, though a marked improvement on the old plan, were after all, comparatively speaking, a mere makeshift, forming no part of a complete and harmonious system which would enable us to take advantage of the density of a town population, as the enlightened people of Hamilton, for instance, had done; and give our boys and girls, each taught apart, a thorough Common School education, and that too (even including the cost of the buildings) at a cheaper rate per pupil than under the old plan. This could be demonstrated by figures from their actual Reports. We must learn to labor and to wait until public opinion becomes more enlightened, and public spirit more aroused, meanwhile using every opportunity, patiently and courteously to promote the needed reform.

We had not the pleasure of attending the examination of the other Common Schools, and therefore cannot speak of them, further than to say we learn they were as satisfactory as could be expected, considering the miserable school accommodation which the teachers have for carrying on their work.

We regret to learn that the Teachers, owing to their not having received their salaries, are unable to take advantage of their holidays. This state of affairs is not attributable to the Trustees, but to the fact that the Council has not paid to the Board the amount due it.

British Columbia.

We have the Victoria, Vancouver Island, British Colonist, of the 5th inst., from which we make a few interesting extracts:

SETTLERS.—A number of gentlemen representing families, arrived on the California yesterday for the purpose of prospecting and settling upon farms upon the Island and Mainland. Some of these emigrants are from California and others from Canada. It is to be hoped they will meet with every encouragement.

We notice frequent shipments of agricultural implements to the mainland, where the farmers are adopting the latest improvements for labor-saving. The Enterprise yesterday carried forward several mowers and reapers.

THE fruit crop on the Island—especially plums—will not reach the average. Sharp frosts in the first part of the last month nipped many in the bud.

EXPECTED.—George Francis Train, the great martyr, is expected to pay this colony a visit before returning East. He will be welcomed by a concourse of persons wearing blue coats and metal buttons, and gasping weighty truncheons in their hands, and will be invited to partake of the hospitality of the vicinity.

THERE was a Fenian "scare" at Victoria on the 5th inst. A special despatch to a California paper says:—"It is reported that on account of the threatened Fenian invasion, H. M. S. 'Zealous' has been ordered back to Esquimelt, accompanied by the gunboat 'Boxer.' Indian scouting parties are being organized for service about the coast, and to furnish early information of the landing of any large body of men."

—Hon. Wm. Hume Blake, late Chancellor of Ontario, arrived in Toronto from Europe on the 24th inst.

—Gen. Barney, of Kookuk, has the largest vineyard in Iowa. In two different inclosures, within two and a half miles of Kookuk, he has 71 acres set in grape vines, with fine oak posts and wire to trail them upon. He has expended in all some $35,000 on his vineyard, and in inclosing the grounds, building, tenant-houses, &c.

—Gen. Sherman remarked the other day that, in his opinion, the shortest way to compel the Indians to settle down to civilized life was to send ten regiments of soldiers to the Plains with orders to shoot buffaloes until they became too scarce to support the redskins.

—A telegram from Montreal of the 26th says: "A fatal accident occurred to-day on the Maid of Canada. Some men were working at the windlass, when one of the handspikes broke, and the capstan swung round knocking down three men. One of these, J. B. Gagnon, died almost instantly. He leaves a widow and eight children. Another, Octave Dateps, is not expected to live. The other was seriously injured internally, but is expected to live.

Business Notice.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless, landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and sunder over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

YATCH RACE.

The Royal Thames Yatch Club channel match from Dover pier to Cherbourg, resulted in the victory of the schooner "Guinevere," owned by C. Thellusson, Esq; Commodore of the Royal Victoria Yatch Club, beating the "Condor" the "Cambria" the "Alarm" and the "Algeria." The course run was about 180 miles, a light breeze prevailing throughout the run. The yatchs started from Dover at 4 o'clock on Wednesday evening and arrived this morning at Cherbourg.

American Despatches.

FROM CUBA.

HAVANA, June 25.—Gen. Buceta, falsely reported to have been killed by his troops, has gone to New Orleans. Cholera has broken out in Guantanomona and vicinity. There were several cases in Santiago and the disease was reported to be raging with great severity in the interior. About the last of May, the schooner Grapeshot landed forty men and a portion of her cargo on the Cuban coast. While the boats were landing men, some of the passengers on board attempted to run the vessel ashore, and a fight took place with the crew and officers, in which the Captain of the Grapeshot received a bullet in the leg. The Grapeshot finally got rid of the whole party, and without landing all of her cargo of stores, proceeded to Tuskar Island, where she received a clearance, and arrived on the 6th inst. at Falmouth, Jamaica; 135 packages of arms and ammunition remaining on board were seized by the customs officers, and the captain abandoned the vessel. The seizure was subsequently declared illegal, and the captain has sued the collector of the port for damages. Several filibusters of the party which landed at Battigures were expected at Santiago. The volunteer force have of their own free will given up the duty of garrisoning Marro Castle, and fortress Cuba, and will be relieved to-morrow by an naval force. They have taken this action to convince the Home Government that they have no idea of disobeying its orders or of opposing the new Captain General De Rodas.

HAYTI.

HAVANA, June 25.—Advices from Port au Prince report that on the 12th inst., President Salnave, after bombarding Aux Caves for forty eight hours, landed 800 men, and assaulted the fortifications. He carried the forts; but the insurgents rallied, re-captured their works, killing or capturing over half of Salnave's forces. The rebel General, Nisseff Tagit, is dangerously ill.

THE LATEST.

FROM SPAIN.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The Herald's Havana special says —In St. Domingo Gens. Cabral and Luperol have joined their forces against President Baez.

Col. Ashby, who was leader of Gen. Wade Hampton's scouts, in the late rebellion, arrived at Nassau last Monday, on his way to Cuba.

The schooner Lahaw has been released as a British vessel. Her Captain demands one hundred pounds damages for each day of her detention.

Commodore Phillimore has gone to Matanzas to investigate the assassination of the English boy Robinson by the Volunteers. The English there regard the outrage as an evidence of the inability of the authorities to protect the foreigners.

ANOTHER BATTLE—CUBANS VICTORIOUS.

Advices from Nuvritas report another engagement between President Del Padre and Las Tunas. The Spaniards 800 strong under Gen. Ferrer were defeated, lost their convoy and retreated to Tunas.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no agency has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a specific certain cure for sudden attacks of Colds—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From REV. FRANCIS LOBDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

(FROM DICKENS.)

Nova Scotia to Her Attorney-General.

Come now, Wilkins, stop your gammon,— cease persuading Uncle Sam in
To believing Nova Scotia is disloyal to her Queen;
If your tongue must keep a wagging, choose
some other theme for bragging,
For a Premier talking treason isn't quite the thing, I ween!

You know well there's no foundation for this cry of "Annexation."
Save with Annand, and with Murray, and such demagogues as they;
They must have their day and perish—but our heart of hearts shall cherish
Our connection with Britannia and Victoria's peaceful sway.

For a century and over we have lived, as
'twere in clover,
With the mighty arm of England to protect us in our need;
Now, by treason light spoken, shall the ties
of years be broken?
Shall our loyalty be flung aside to satisfy your greed?

And when thoughtful Mother Britain deems it wise and right and fitting,
That we found a Greater Britain on this West
Atlantic shore,
Will you still keep on appealing to each narrow local feeling,
And the more she seeks to benefit, embarrass her the more?

Would you leave her for the stranger,—would you place your friends in danger?
Would you war against your Sovereign, and disown the Union Jack?
Would you sell us for position, and forget old tradition?
Would you bury honor, manhood,—yes—and birthright in your track.

Surely, surely, you will rather with your
Leaguers in council gather,
And, undoing all the mischief that yourself
and friends have done,
Tell the world, in tones of thunder, that no man shall keep asunder
Those that millions of Canadians have decided shall be done.

On that day with truths new plighted, and with hearts and hands united,
From our own dear rocky headlands to Vancouver's golden coast,
We will hold a grand ovation by the grave of "Annexation,"
And allegiance to old England shall be still our proudest boast.

Fertilizers of small Fruits.

We should as soon grow a corn crop in a forest as expect a good strawberry crop without the use of manure. We are aware that many believe in letting the blackberry find its nourishment where it can, and it is pretty generally known that it will thrive well on soils where no other fruit can grow, but this does not alter the fact that judicious fertilization on any soil whatever returns back to the giver abundant crops of fruit over and over again. The editor has frequently noticed the shabby treatment of strawberry patches here and there throughout the country, and has watched the progress of some of them from the time of planting until fruiting.

In nearly every case where manuring or cultivation was neglected the crop of fruit was small and the price realized very low. While, on the other hand, wherever the fruit-grounds were well manured and cultivated the berries were larger, sweeter, better picked, and brought a better price in market. Hence, we say, it pays better to manure all kinds of small fruits liberally. It will never pay a man to trust to the natural fertility of his soil.

Wherever a good quantity of stable or barnyard manure, let him apply it broadcast before planting or as a mulch over the plants during the winter; but where this is scarce or dear other articles must be used. All fertilizers containing potash dissolved in a barrel of water will make the runners grow amazingly.

Wood-ashes unleached are without doubt the very best manure to be found. We saw a remarkable instance off this last summer, when a number of runners cut from the parent plant happened to be planted in a field just where there remained the ashes of a bonfire; before the end of the summer the runners were larger than their parents. Since then we have bought up all the ashes we could find, and consider them worth at twenty cents per bushel.—Horticulturist.

LOVE OF THE BEAUTIFUL.—Place a young girl under the care of a kind-hearted graceful woman, and she unconsciously to herself grows into a graceful lady. Place a boy in the establishment of a thorough going, straight-forward business man, and the boy becomes a self-reliant, practical business man. Children are susceptible creatures, and circumstances, and scenes, and actions always impress. As you influence them, not by arbitrary rules, nor by stern example alone, but in many other ways they speak through beautiful forms, pretty pictures, etc., so they will grow. Teach your children, then, to love the beautiful. Give them a corner in the garden for flowers; encourage them to put it in the shape of hanging baskets, allow them to have their favorite trees; learn them to wander in the prettiest woodlets; show them where they can best view the sunset; rouse them in the morning, not with the stern "time to work" but with the enthusiastic "see the beautiful sunrise"; buy for them pretty pictures, and encourage them to decorate their rooms in his or her childish way, give them an inch and they will go a mile. Allow them the privilege and they will make your home beautiful.

Lease of Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed Tobacco.

ORTON'S PREPARATION!

ESTABLISHED 1866.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for Tobacco, in any person no matter how strong the habit may be. If it fails in any case the money will be refunded. Entirely safe—it is impossible to produce a nausea of the weed—no sickness needed to assist nature firmly rooted. With the use of this preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that Orton's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for Tobacco, and leaves the person as free from any desire for it, as before he commenced its use. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobacco and through these upon the blood thoroughly cleansing the poison of tobacco, thus allaying the unnatural cravings for tobacco. No more hankering after tobacco after using Orton's Preparation. Recollect it is warranted.

The time taken to destroy the desire for Tobacco by the use of this Preparation varies slightly in different persons, the average time being about Five days. Some have no desire for Tobacco after using the Preparation Two days.

The Health and Purse of every Tobacco user in the country call loudly, ABANDON THE USE OF TOBACCO.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession.

I, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have used Orton's Preparation for the purpose of destroying the appetite for Tobacco, and can assure those who are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparation will certainly destroy the appetite for Tobacco quickly and permanently, without any bad effect upon the health, and without creating an appetite either for the Preparation or any substitute.

☞ Beware of counterfeits and all articles purporting to be like this, of the same name or otherwise. The great popularity of Orton's Preparation has induced unprincipled persons to attempt palming upon the public counterfeit and inferior articles. Purchasers will please order directly from the proprietor, or his duly authorized agents.

The price of Orton's preparation is $2.00 per box, or three boxes for $5, sent by mail to any part of the country, securely sealed from observation, with passage paid on receipt of price.

Those who are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparation will certainly destroy the appetite for Tobacco quickly and permanently, without any bad effect upon the health, and without creating an appetite either for the Preparation or any substitute.

QUERY?

SHOULD every one employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, at an expense of at least four times what they now cost?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to purchasing medicines, the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, and are we called prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for four times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the practicability of the use of the herbs of the soil from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tetter, ringworm, pimples or humors, weakness of the skin. It regulates the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver and promotes the general vigor of the system, without reducing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Blood Complaint and Indigestion. For costiveness it has no equal. It is a mild and safe aperient and corroborant for delicate persons, a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes, a powerful recuperant after the frame has been reduced by sickness, as well as being an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.

OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success for diseases caused by colds such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, rheumatism, pleurisy, pain in the side, &c. Bouchier and his Mate.

One beautiful summer day there was a great festival in the large park at Vienna. This park is called by the people the Prater. It is full of lovely trees, walks, and little rustic pleasure houses. There were people there, some young and some old, and many strangers too. And all enjoyed such a scene as they had probably never beheld before. Be that as it may, the Prater was always covered with crowds of people.

Among the number were organ-grinders, beggars, and girls who played on harps. There stood an old musician. He had once been a soldier, but his pension was not enough to live on. Still, he didn't like to beg; therefore, on this particular festival day, he took his violin and played under an old tree in the park. He had a good, faithful dog along with him, which lay at his feet and held an old hat in his mouth, so that passers by might cast coins into it for the poor old man.

Many people went by and heard the old musician playing, but they didn't throw much in. I wonder the people did not give more, for he was truly a pitiable object.—His face was covered with scars received in battles, and he wore a long gray coat, such as he had kept ever since he had been in the army. He even had his old sword by his side, and would not consent to walk in the streets without carrying his trusty friend with him.

He had only three fingers on his right hand, so he had to hold the bow of his violin with those. A bullet had taken off the two others, and almost at the same time a cannon ball had taken off his left leg. The last money he had was spent in buying new strings for his violin, and he was now playing with all his strength the old marches he had learned so often when a boy with his father.

He looked sad enough when he saw the multitudes pass in their strength and youth and beauty, but whenever they laughed it was like a dagger to his soul, for he knew on that very evening he would have to go to bed supperless, hungry as he was, and lie on a straw couch in a little garret room. His old dog was better off, for he often found a bone here and there to satisfy the cravings of hunger. It was late in the afternoon, his hopes were almost like the sun—they were both going down together.

He placed his old violin down by his side, and leaned against an old tree.

The tears streamed down his scarred cheeks. He thought that none of that giddy crowd saw him, but he was much mistaken. Not far off stood a gentleman in fine clothes who had a kind heart. He listened to the old musician, and when he saw that no one gave him anything, his heart was touched with sympathy. He finally went to the dog, and looking into the hat, saw only two little copper coins in it. He then said to the old musician, 'My good friend why don't you play longer?'

'O, my dear sir,' replied the man, I cannot; my poor old arm is so tired that I cannot hold the bow; besides I have had no dinner, and have little prospect of supper.'

The old man wiped his face with his feeble hands. The kind gentleman with whom he talked, resolved to aid him as best he could. He gave him a piece of gold and said,—

'I'll pay you, if you will loan me your violin for one hour.'

'O,' said the musician, 'this piece of money is worth more than half a dozen old fiddles like mine.'

'Never mind,' said the gentleman, 'I only want to hire it one hour.'

'Very well; you can do what you will,' said the owner.

The gentleman took the fiddle and the bow in his hands, and then said to the old man,—

'Now, my mate, you take the money, and I will play. I am quite sure the people will give us something.'

The strange gentleman began to play.—His mate looked at him with great wonder; he was so stirred that he could hardly believe it was his old violin that such beautiful sounds came from. Every note was like a pearl. The first piece had not been finished, before the people, observing the strange sight, and hearing such wonderful music, stopped a moment in curiosity.—Every one saw that the fine looking gentleman was playing for the poor man, but none knew who he was.

By and by, the people began to drop money into the hat, and the old dog seemed delighted to receive so many pieces of gold for his master. The circle of hearers became larger and larger. Even the coachmen of the fine carriages begged the people inside to stop and hear the music. Still the money increased. Gold, silver, and copper were thrown into the hat by old and young. The old dog began to growl. What in the world was the matter? One gentleman, as he dropped a large piece of money into the hat, struck him on the nose, and he came very near letting the hat and money fall. But it soon became so heavy that he could not hold it any longer.

'Empty your hat, old man,' said the people, 'and we will fill it again for you.'

He pulled out an old handkerchief and wrapped the money in it, and put it into his violin bag.

The stranger kept on playing, and the people cried out, 'Bravo! bravo!' in great joy. He played first one tune and then another, even children seemed carried away with rapture. At last he played 'God Save Emperor Francis.' All hats and caps flew off their heads, for the people loved the Emperor. The song finally ceased.—The hour was ended, and the musician handed back the violin to the old man.

'Thank you,' said he, 'May God bless you!' and he disappeared in the crowd.—'Who is he? Who is he?' said the people. 'Where does he come from?' A certain person, sitting in one of the coaches, said, 'I know him. It is Alexander Boucher, the distinguished violinist. It is incredible him. He saw the old man needed help, and he determined to help him in the best way he could.'

The people then gave three cheers for Boucher, and put more money into the old man's hat. When he went home that evening, he was richer than he had ever been before. When he went to his bed, he folded his hands and prayed that God would bless good Boucher, so that when he should get to be an old man he might have good friends.

Now I believe that there were two happy people that night in Vienna. Of course the poor musician rejoiced now that he was out of want; but of more value to him than all his money, was the consolation that somebody had proved a friend to him. For it does us all good to know that we have friends, even though they are of no further advantage to us. There was another who was happy, and that was the good man Boucher. How could he go to bed that night without thanking God for putting it into his heart to be kind to the old, friendless, starving soldier.

Next to the benefits which our good deeds confer is that which they confer on ourselves.

Look around you, and you will always find that you can do something to make this world of ours better, as well as yourselves happier.

Feats of a Reporter.

The late Mr. Raymond, of the New York Times, when on the staff of the Tribune, acquired a most distinguished reputation as a reporter, illuminated by two or three extraordinary achievements. On one occasion (this was before the days of the telegraph), Mr. Raymond undertook to report from Boston, a speech of Daniel Webster, then in the full blaze of his career. The rival dailies of New York each sent two "short-hand," or phonographic reporters to work against Mr. Raymond, who was a stranger to their art. His method of reporting was an abbreviated "long hand" of his own invention, which nobody besides himself, lacking his almost marvellous rapidity in penmanship, has been able to imitate. Mr. Webster's speech was one of the finest he ever delivered. Hurrying after its conclusion, to the wharf at Boston, the several New York reporters, Mr. Raymond, among them, took passage on the night boat for New York. Every reporter besides the indefatigable young man of the Tribune, perceiving the impossibility of getting so long a speech "in type" after the boat's arrival in time for the next morning's papers disposed themselves at their ease to enjoy the trip home. Mr. Raymond was missed, but his absence in the rear cabin was not considered singular until late at night. Then one of his rivals made the astounding discovery that the steamboat contained a small printing office of Mr. Raymond's exclusive service, and that the "Tribune man" was reeling off copy at a tremendous rate, which was as promptly taken in hand and "set up" by the compositors along with him. When the boat arrived, late in the morning, Daniel Webster's entire speech, reported by Mr. Raymond, was in type. The report thus prepared —several columns in length—was immediately thrown into the forms, and at 6 a. m. the Tribune served its readers, of course in advance of all other journals, with the full account of what Mr. Webster had said in Boston the previous evening. At another time Mr. Raymond is said to have captured a locomotive which had been chartered by a rival reporter, and getting in with his news ahead of the individual he had outwitted, and of everybody else.

An exchange very sensibly asks:—What's the use of raising your hat to a lady after you have passed her, as we notice a great many young men do? It don't look sensible. Better commence to do the thing in time enough to get the hat raised so that the lady can have the gratification of witnessing the operation. Then again, some chaps fool the lady by raising the hand as if to remove the tile in the most approved manner, but drop it when she gets by.—Gentlemen, these things are not right, and henceforthby take the tile, as well time, by the forelock.

The Emigration Question.

The machinery set in motion by the Ontario Government to promote emigration is working admirably. Although the great tide of emigration still sweeps Westward and carries its hundreds of thousands with it, yet a very large number of emigrants, many of them of the better class, have remained in Canada. Scattered from one end of Ontario to the other, they have been eagerly picked up by our manufacturers, builders and farmers, and probably not one of them remain unemployed. If they have not employment, it is their own fault, for the demand for unskilled as well as skilled labor seems to be as unsatisfied as in the early part of the season. So far as this section of the country is concerned, efforts have been repeatedly made to retain some of the emigrants, who are required for our farmers, but without avail. Only one small party of English who came out in the spring remained here, and they all obtained situations a few hours after they appeared in our streets. We know that the Grand Trunk Station Agent at Belleville has orders for a large number of male as well as female servants, and although he has made repeated efforts, they cannot be got. All this shows that Canada is a good field for the emigrant, that while thousands have settled within our midst already this season, there is room for thousands mo re.—It is computed that in proportion to the number of emigrants who have passed through Canada this season, five times as many remained in the country as have in former seasons. It is evident, therefore, that the various means adopted by the Government to promote emigration are producing good results. The same means have been successfully employed for years by the United States Government, so successfully indeed, that a vast majority of the old world people who come to this country know of but one country, and that is the United States. There will be a change in this respect when our Emigrant Agents have performed their mission, when they have spent a few years amongst the masses, giving them correct information about our climate, our soil, and our resources. We now have two or three Emigration Agents in Great Britain, who are doing a good work; and another, we believe, is going to Ireland, and one to France. One or two ought also to be sent to the Germanic States, for of all the emigrants who come from the old world, the Germans are considered by the United States people to be amongst the most frugal, industrious, and profitable they have.

By late English papers we observe that the emigration question was attracting more than usual attention in high places. We see by the London Standard that on Thursday the 10th inst., deputations from the National Emigration Aid Society, consisting of noblemen, gentlemen, artisans, and laborers, waited upon the Home and Colonial Secretaries, to urge upon the government the necessity of adopting a comprehensive system of emigration. The deputation consisted of a large number of noblemen and others, amongst whom was our emigration commissioner, Mr. Thomas White, of the Hamilton Spectator. The account in the Standard goes on to state that the Duke of Manchester presented a memorial which set forth that economical, moral, and commercial advantages can be largely promoted by a well organized and comprehensive distribution of the surplus labor of these islands upon the waste lands of the British Empire, and that a large emigration, guided by the hand of government, would help to bind more closely to the empire the colonies to which it was directed, and would secure for the mother country the lasting gratitude and loyalty not only for the individuals chiefly benefited, but of the colonies to which they were sent.

Mr. White (Emigration Commissioner from the Province of Ontario) entered into an account of the resources of Canada.—The Dominion was ready to receive 50,000 emigrants, and he could assure his lordship that they would receive a hearty welcome. Mr. Jenkins (candidate for Stafford) said that while wealth had increased in this country, it had not tended to the prosperity of the working classes; on the contrary, pauperism had increased to an alarming extent. The advantages of emigration were not confined to those who go abroad as the removal of a fair and reasonable number of our present unemployed workmen to the colonies would give a stimulus to all branches of trade in England. From these facts and arguments he drew the conclusion that it was incumbent on the State to promote emigration to the colonies, and that every effort ought to be made by private individuals to assist the movement. Mr. G. Richardson said he represented 30,000 dock labourers, and it was only by emigration that they could better their position. Colonel Maude and other gentlemen having addressed the Colonial Secretary, Earl Granville said he had listened with attention to the statements of the deputation, and he should like to have seen a comprehensive financial scheme put forward—how the money was to be raised, how it was to be repaid, and in what time, and the class of people it should be applied to. The subject was an important one, and would receive his most earnest consideration. He would bring it under the notice of his colleagues in the Cabinet. The deputation thanked his lordship and retired. The same deputation waited upon the Right Hon. H. A. Bruce, M. P., the Home Secretary, and presented the above mentioned memorial. Mr. Bruce said the subject was a difficult one. He had always sympathised with the working classes of London. The development of emigration to our colonies was, he considered a sound policy. The deputation might be assured that the government would give its best consideration to the question.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

School Teachers' Holidays.

In your article of the 26th inst., on Common School Examination, you inform your readers that the Teachers are unable to take advantage of their holidays, owing as you say to the fact that the "Council had not paid to the Board the amount due it."

If the sum of $12,450 demanded in 1867 and 1868 from the Town by the Trustees for building school houses and buying real estate, is an "Amount due," your statement may be correct, but omitting that amount, which the Council in mercy to the taxpayers refused to adopt, I ask permission to state that there is not now due from the Town to the School Trustees one penny for teachers' salaries or anything else.

Yours &c.,
THOMAS HOLDEN.

Belleville, June 28th, 1868.

EDITOR'S NOTE.—We readily give insertion to the above letter of Mr. Holden, particularly as he is the Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Town, but regret that he was not a little more candid in this matter as to facts. On reference to the report of the Finance Committee as laid before the Council on Monday evening last, it will be seen that Mr. Holden, there, over his own signature admits an indebtedness of $250 to the Board, which sum was not paid when we wrote the article to which he alludes, and which was not paid until after Mr. Holden's letter was received.—True it passed the Council, but that did not establish the positive assertion, "that "there is not now (the time Mr. Holden's "letter was written) due from the Town to "the School Trustees one penny for Teach-"ers' salaries or anything else." Mr. Holden was not ingenuous in his allusion to the demand of the Trustees of former years to pay for School property and School houses, but on the contrary disingenuous, because he knows that it was the estimate for salaries, &c., for 1869, to which we alluded. Now, it may do to cover up other delinquencies, to refer to a subject that no one knows better than himself, was totally irrelevant to the point at issue.—The "mercy to the tax payers," is a question which the future will decide, and if we are not very much mistaken, that "mercy" will turn out to be a curse, if pecuniary liabilities is to be the test. This is a point which we shall discuss at some future time. In the meantime, suffice it for the Town to know that the Teachers have not received their salaries for the past quarter, and that there are no funds in hand to pay them, the Town Council having taken upon themselves to say what amount should be deducted from the estimates laid before them by the Board of Trustees; or in other words they pay the estimates less the Government grant, which Mr. Holden declares must be deducted, but which the Trustees say was considered when the estimate was made, as a sum not to be paid by the Town, and consequently was not put in the estimate. Mr. Holden, however, has not contented himself with appropriating the Government grant for one year, but taken the Government grants for 1867 and 1868, and deducted them from the School estimates of 1869, which with the $250 that is acknowledged to be due, makes about the sum of $1,250 claimed by the Trustees as unpaid until paid the Teachers will have to lay out of their money. That this view is correct is evidenced by the course pursued by Mr. Kelso, who not only acknowledged the incorrectness of the Finance Committee's Report, but moved its reference back for amendment. It may be that a law suit or two would suit the purposes of some parties, but we opine "mercy to the tax payers" should suggest some other course of action.

Recently Mabel Grey gave a dinner at St. James' Hall. Seventy tickets were issued at £10 a head. They sold rapidly at a premium amongthe husbands, brothers and sons of respectable women. "Every club in London," says one who was there "was represented." The feast was worthy of Lucullus; Mable outdid herself. Men go to churches and listen to denunciations of crime, they subscribe for Magdalene asylums, and here the Sinaitic command-ment, "Non Moechabris," repeated in fashionable and elegant language by accomplished preachers—but then they dine with Mable Grey at £10 a head.

Ontario Rifle Association.

The Ontario Rifle Association match which was commenced on Friday evening, was concluded on the early part of the afternoon of Saturday. This match was open to all members of the Association.—The first prize, a silver cup, presented by the Governor General, was won by Private Bell, of the Queen's Own; second prize a Snider Enfield and $15, was won by Private English, of the 13th Battalion; third prize, a Snider Enfield and $10 was won by Sergeant Kett, of the 37th Battalion; fourth prize, a Snider Enfield, was won by Private Hay, 5th Battalion Grand Trunk Rifles.

The next match was for the President's prizes. The first was for a Snider Enfield and 500 rounds of ammunition, was won by Captain Thompson, of the 19th Battalion; the second prize, for a Snider Enfield and 400 rounds of ammunition was won by Lt-Col. Jackson, Brigade Major; the third prize, for a Snider Enfield and 300 rounds of ammunition, was won by Dr. Oronhyatekha, of Frankford; fourth prize, a Snider Enfield and 200 rounds of ammunition, by Private Master, of the 7th Battalion; the fifth prize, a Snider Enfield and 100 rounds of ammunition, by Sergeant Elliott, of the 7th Battalion. There were also five prizes of $10 each, and ten of $5 each.

This closed Saturday's proceedings. There are three further matches to be disposed of, and it is not likely that the tournament will end until Tuesday night.

A meeting of the Council took place on Friday. It was unanimously resolved that Mr. Gzowski should be President for the ensuing year. On motion, Judge McDonald was appointed Vice-President for the first Military District, Lieut. Col. Skinner for the second, Lieut Col. Paton for the third, and Hon. J. S. McDonald for the fourth. Lieut-Col. Denison was re-elected Secretary and Major Alger also re-elected Treasurer for the ensuing year.

It was further resolved that the next annual rifle match of the Association be held at Toronto, on the 3rd Tuesday and following days in June, 1870.

From Nova Scotia.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

DEAR SIR.—Since writing my last epistle I have allowed a good deal of time to pass away without an attempt to occupy any of your valuable [illegible] have no news to give you, other than what the newspapers contain, and I don't see that much benefit can accrue from re-writing what has been in print already. I once heard my father remark something like the following, regarding a "stolen sermon"—a very excellent production—so excellent that certain parties wished it to be published, but my paternal relative, knowing a little more about it's origin than the others, replied that "as it had been once printed already, there was no use going to the expense of a second edition, unless the original copies were all sold."—Now I feel something like this in reference to any news I can let you have from Halifax. But I shall attempt to summarize what you probably know already.

First then—a great sensation has been created by the arrival of the 78th Highlanders. They are certainly a splendid body of men, though a certain portion of their fine appearance is due to their tailor, to their peculiar dress and to "The gaill of auld gael" will set off any presentable man to advantage. Again, it is a good many years since we had a Scottish Regiment quartered in this somewhat Scottish city. Consequently, every North Briton feel himself in conscience and honor bound, to believe that there has been the like of the 78th here since the 42nd left, nearly twenty years ago. But making all due allowance for those and other causes of exaggerated estimate, they still remain a fine body of men, the finest looking that I have ever seen according to their numbers. Quite a few of the ladies, particularly those of Scottish birth, or attraction, have already caught the "Tartan Fever," and some of them I fear will never recover until after they have committed matrimony. I throw this in parontheically as a warning to your lady readers. The Queen's Birthday was celebrated with great eclat—the whole city seemed to be delivered up to the spirit of enjoyment. There was the usual grand review on the Commons, for which Providence furnished a splendid day, and far into the night the streets resounded with the rumbling noise of carriages, conveying guests to balls, and dinner parties, &c. A grand ball was given by His Honour, Sir Hastings Doyle, to the members of both Houses of the Legislature, the city Fathers, Officers of the Garrison and other favorites of fortune. Through some mistake (I suppose) on the part of the Adjutant or private Secretary, I was not invited! It evidently is not known at head-quarters, that I am the Halifax correspondent of the Belleville INTELLIGENCER. But returning from a friend's residence about ten o'clock, my way led past Government House, so that I saw a brilliant illumination and a great crowd collected outside, listening to the feet and inspiring music, which came floating through the open windows, and out upon the evening air. As A. Ward would say "The ball was a great success, and so were the music, and the crowd outside. Yesterday a grand Salute was fired from the war ships in the harbor, to celebrate the promotion of our respected Admiral. He is now I believe the first naval officer on the North American Station.

The other evening I had the pleasure of meeting your fellow townsman, Geo. Neilson, Esq., at a festival in the Richmond Church, a new charge presided over by our friend, the Rev. John A. Thompson, who once labored as Missionary in St. Andrew's Church, Thurlow. Mr. Neilson, by special request sung several Scottish songs with his usual thrilling effect, and was loudly encored by the appreciative audience. It is pleasant for old friends thus to meet far away in the stranger's land, and yet we can't exactly say that Nova Scotia is a strange land, though by a European standard it would be considered far away, but we Americans don't consider a thousand miles of very much account.

The Legislature was dismissed on Monday last. It is generally considered that the Government have accepted the situation—though they profess that it is only for the time being. The Hants election gave them an awful blow; everything that men and money could do was brought to bear against the veteran statesman of Nova Scotia, and with what effect every newspaper reader knows. The Hon. Joseph Howe is a living wonder even to his nearest friends. No other man in this Province would have dared to do what he has done. He educated public opinion up to Confederation. He then led Nova Scotia into redhot Anti-ism, and now he has turned around and polled some 300 votes over his opponent in a county that went anti by some 600 of a majority not two years ago. He wields an influence here which reminds me strongly of Sir John A. Macdonald's power in your own city of Kingston. I am sorry to see that the Confederation troubles have developed a strong anaexation sentiment in some districts of the country; but wiser councils appear to be prevailing now. The matter was brought up in the Legislature by some of those members who had a little more zeal than judgment; but it was effectually quelched by wiser men. The latest "come out" on the part of the agitators was a motion by Wilkins to carry "an appeal to the Queen's Bench in England, with the purpose of testing the legality of the British Parliament in creating a Legislature in Ottawa with power to tax Nova Scotia." This wild goose scheme was also put down effectually by members of the Government who saw behind the outside curtain, the Attorney General's well filled pockets undergoing the stuffing process, as a certain consequence of the adoption of this suggestion. By the way, Mr. Purdy has called down upon his devoted head the ire of the Chronicle man (Annand) and other members of our excuse for a Government by certain pointed questions in his seat in Parliament; perhaps the unkindest cut of all was given to Wilkins, when he enquired upon what authority he had dared to pocket a lawyer's fee in a case in which he had acted as Judge. But I suppose those little inconveniences are some of the evils which arise from Parliamentary liberty. It is too bad that a man's friends and supporters won't shut their eyes to his little follies and weaknesses; that they won't have a little regard for his feelings and refrain from exposing him even when he does happen to soil his official garments with the mud of dishonour, and corruption. The Separate School question was again brought forward by its sponsors. I say sponsers—not parents—for there is no doubt that it originated in the vatican, begotten by the lust of power, which there dwells seemingly unrestrained by the least shade of modesty. This child of Popery had scarcely made its presence known by a very faint whine in our Legislative hall, when it was most unceremoniously ejected by the indignant voice of thousands of our Protestant population who had loaded the table with petitions against this creature of His Holiness. Bluenose may be, and certainly is divided into opposite camps upon the reunion question, but in the matter of Separate Schools, Confederate-Anti-Annexationists, all are one, (Romanists of course excepted).

Great preparations are on foot for a proper celebration of the immortal memory on the honored 1st proximo. But I must not anticipate—I shall give you (D. V.) an account of our proceedings after they are over. Meanwhile I beg to remain,

Yours very truly,
VOX.

Business Notice.

Not many weeks ago a rich but childless, landed proprietor breathed his last, leaving a large circle of relations to mourn his loss, and squabble over their prospects of sharing his wealth. The day for reading the will at last came; the room was crowded with anxious expectants; the will was opened and to the inexpressible joy of all, the rich gentleman's relations found that to each of them had been bequeathed a case of Royal Italian Bitters.

Latest by Telegraph.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

THE LATEST.

FROM FRANCE.

PARIS, June 27.—The Emperor has written a letter to M. Schneider, President of the Corps Legislatif, in which he says the policy of the Government has been made manifest with sufficient clearness to prevent equivocal interpretation now as before. Elections will continue to perform the task of reconciling strong power with sincerely liberal institutions. Mr. Schneider's resignation of the chair of the Corps Legislatif has been withdrawn.

PROGRESS OF THE FRENCH CABLE.

BREST, June 27.—Despatches from the steamship 'Great Eastern,' report that up to noon on Saturday, she had made 574 knots from Brest, and had paid out 630 knots of cable. She was detained three hours on Saturday morning on account of the interruption of the signals. The defect in the cable was remedied, communication restored, and the expedition moved on.

GREAT REVIEW.

LONDON, June 26.—The Queen reviewed the Guards at Windsor to-day, in honor of the Viceroy of Egypt. There were twenty thousand spectators, and great enthusiasm.

PURCHASE OF TELEGRAPH COMPANIES.

It is stated that it will cost the Government six and a half millions of pounds sterling to purchase the Telegraph lines of the country, as contemplated.

DIFFICULTY IN CORPS LEGISLATIF.

PARIS, June 26.—M. Schneider to-day resigned the Presidency of the Corps Legislatif in consequence of the decoration of M. David, one of the Vice Presidents. The Emperor has refused to accept the resignation.

MAZZINI GOES TO LONDON.

SUBSIDY TO CHINA COMPANIES.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The Committee on Ways and Means, accompanied by ex-Senator Wade and Senator Conkling, is in San Francisco, and was addressed on Friday by a delegation of the Chinese Companies, who urged an additional subsidy to the Chinese steamship line and a modification of the oppressive laws enacted by California against the Chinese emigrants.

FURTHER FROM CUBA.—MORE ABOUT THE LATE BATTLES.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Further particulars are reported concerning the fight near Puerto Del Hadre between the Cubans and the Spaniards. The victory of the Cubans was complete. The Cubans captured an extensive train containing a large quantity of provisions, ammunition, clothing and hospital stores. The loss of the Spaniards was 200 killed. A number of Americans participated in this fight.—The troops which have been concentrating for some time on the Southern coast, numbering over 1,800 have all left for Cuba, and it is believed successfully landed.

ANOTHER FIGHT IN CUBA.

HAVANA, June 27.—Reports have reached Havana that ex-President Cabrall has captured the town of Agua on the southern coast of St. Domingo, near which place he recently landed.

Accounts from Spanish sources of a fight between Government troops escorting a train of supplies, and the rebels on the road between Puerto Del Hadre and Lasturas, says the insurgents attacked the Spaniards and endeavored to capture the train but were unsuccessful.

Rains are incessant in the interior and vomito is spreading.

Grace's Celebrated Salve.

From Mr. E. TUCKER, Depot Master at Salisbury, Mass.

"I have been troubled for years with a bad humor; sometimes outwardly and sometimes inwardly. During the past summer it manifested itself more than usual outwardly, and I used your Salve. All signs of it have since disappeared, without effecting me inwardly, indicating, I think, the eradicating nature of the Salve.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no REMEDY has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand on a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of COLD—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From REV. FRANCIS LOBDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

What is Life?

A little crib beside the bed,
A little face above the spread,
A little frock behind the door,
A little shoe upon the floor.

A little lad with dark brown hair,
A little blue-eyed face and fair;
A little lane that leads to school,
A little pencil, slate and rule.

A little bitheseme, winsome maid,
A little hand within his laid,
A little cottage, acres four,
A little old-time household store.

A little family gathering round;
A little turf-headed, tear-dewed mound,
A little added to his soil;
A little rest from hardest toil.

A little silver in his hair,
A little stool and easy chair;
A little night of earth-lit gloom;
A little cortege to the tomb.

THE DISTURBANCES IN PARIS. During the recent disturbances in Paris, there was but a single attempt to raise a barricade. This absence of barricades is quite a new feature in Parisian emeutes, and there is a very good reason for it. Barricades are possible only in very short or crooked streets, where nature of the ground renders them secure from an attack by artillery.—For this reason, our July riotors did not attempt barricade fighting, for the dullest of their leaders could not avoid perceiving that barricades are impossible in a city where the streets are laid out on a uniform rectangular plan. Napoleon, during the last twenty years, has been steadily converting the tortuous, narrow streets of Paris into broad, straight avenues. There is now hardly a quarter in Paris where any extensive system of barricades could be built. All the new boulevards can be swept from end to end by cannon; and, if the insurgents wished to amuse themselves by building barricades, they would hardly find a place fit for the exercise of their engineering skill, except in the Ile de la Cite or the Ile St. Louis, where their barricades would be about as dangerous to the empire as if they were situated in Hoboken or at Hunter's Point.

A FRUITFUL ARISTOCRACY.—The Marquis of Anglesey is one of a family of 18 brothers and sisters; the Marquis of Huntly, of 14; Earl Fitzwilliam is one of 13, and has 13 of his own; Earl Grey is one of 15; the late Lord Denman left 15; the Duke of Argyle has 12, and the Duke of Leinster is one of 13, and the father of the Duke of Buccluch left 11; the Earl of Minto left 15; the Earl of Beaborough has 14. There are other English aristocrats with 14 and 15 children, and the number of families numbering 11 and 12 is very large. How many "American" families can match these figures?

Albany Lumber Market.

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK ENDING JUNE 22.

There has been a fair business throughout the district since our last report. The receipts by canal have been good, when we take into consideration the shortage of water in the streams of Michigan and Canada, by which it is estimated that at least four or six weeks scaling was lost early in the season. In the opinion of some receivers, this will materially affect the aggregate season's receipts; while others think the receipts, though late, will be full as large as those of 1868.

The demand for New York city is very slack, and the South and East are but moderate purchasers.

The receipts at Chicago for the week ending June 18th, were 32,369,000 feet, against 35,185,000 feet for the corresponding week last year. The shipments for the week, 19,486,000 feet, against 17,700,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1868. The aggregate receipts since January 1st, are 260,090,000 feet, against 302,676,000 in 1868. The aggregate shipments since the 1st January, were 356,125,000 feet, against 211,292,000 in 1868.

The following figures give the receipts at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending June 21st, 1869 and 1868:

	1869.	1868.
Buffalo	3,544,100 ft	3,565,900 ft.
Oswego	10,455,900 ft	11,895,400 ft.

The receipts in Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the third week of June were:

Year.	Boards and Shingles. Scantling, ft. M.	Timber, Staves &c. ft. Pcs.	Lath, Pickets &c. Bs.
1869	9,736,900 9,220		1,446,900
1868	16,264,700 11,185	41,372	8,112,000

The receipts of 1868 include some 11,000,000 feet of boards and scantling detained on the canal during the winter of 1867-8.

QUERY?

Should we employ the noble doctors to bring us our tea and coffee in bottles, as we do our doses of Hunt's Remedy when we are sick?

If not, why should we longer adopt that system in reference to medicines which are the simple extracts of herbs or plants and roots, &c., &c., prepared as tea and coffee?

Each package of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines contains more medical properties than can be procured in any other form for three times the amount of money.

We have in our possession numerous testimonials as to the great benefits as well as the benefits derived from the use of Dr. Thompson's Botanic Medicines, viz:

Dr. Thompson's Blood Purifier

Cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood; such as salt-rheum, scrofula, king's evil, white swellings, tumefactory tetels, old sores, pimples or roughness of the skin, blotches on the stomach and bowels; it tones the liver, and promotes the general vigor of the system, without impairing the strength of the patient. Sold at 50 cents per package.

DR. THOMPSON'S

Stomachic Bitters,

A certain and speedy cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Indigestion. Costiveness is not to be equal; it is a mild and safe invigorant and corroborant for delicate persons; a good alterative tonic for ordinary family purposes; a sure preventative of fever in the house has been reduced by sickness; an excellent as well as an agreeable and wholesome stimulant, for general debility, and diseases having their origin in an imperfect digestion or a deranged state of the stomach. Sold at 25 cents per package.

Dr. Thompson's No. 6.

OR COMPOSITION POWDERS

It is used with success in diseases caused by colds; such as cold chills, chills and fever, headache, pains in the joints or limbs, rheumatism, &c., &c. In fact it may properly be called PAIN KILLER, as it may be used for all purposes for which Pain Killers or Reliefs are used, such as cramps in the stomach, colic, diarrhœa, &c., and for complaints peculiar to females, female complaints or obstructions. It may also be used with great success as a Liniment. Sold at 50 cents per package.

The proprietor has been induced to adopt the present condensed style of putting up the medicine in packages, as he is thereby enabled to supply double the amount of medicine for one-half the regular price of similar preparations.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS

OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original Preparer at the Universal Exhibition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1868, is without exception, the most Genuine, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to the public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served on the Drawing Room immediately before dinner, in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Wine Merchants, Druggists, and Grocers in Canada.

Prepared and sold wholesale by the Proprietor,

Militia Orders.

The following important Militia orders appears in Saturday's Gazette:

"In order to adapt the system of paid drill instruction of the several corps of Volunteers to the requirements of the force consequent upon the regulations relating to drill for the current financial year, the following scale of allowances are authorized to take effect from and after the first day of July, 1869:

"For instruction in drill of each Troop of Cavalry, $40 per annum. For the instructor of each Field Battery of Artillery, who will also act as Caretaker of the Battery Stores, $200 per annum. For each Battery of Garrison Artillery or Company of Engineers or Infantry, $40 per annum.—The above allowances to be paid to the Captain of the Troop or Company, as the case may be, except those for corps in City or Town Battalions.

"The allowance for such Batteries or Companies as are in Brigades of Garrison Artillery or Battalions of Infantry in cities and towns, will be paid to the Officer commanding the Brigade or Battalion to enable him to provide instruction for the corps.

"For drill instruction of Rural Brigades of Garrison Artillery or Battalions of Infantry, including Provisional Brigades or Battalions of not less than four Batteries or Companies, there will be allowed each Commanding Officer thereof (in addition to the $40 per annum to be paid to the Captains as above, for drill instruction of the several Batteries or Companies), for each Battery or Company, included in the strength of the Brigade or Battalion, $25 per annum.

"Commanding Officers of corps to have the appointment and control of instructors and to be responsible for the drills.

"Allowances for drill instruction as above will be paid at the end of each half year, viz: on the 31st of December and the 30th of June, to the commanding officer of each corps upon their respective certificates as to performance of service for which payment is required, approved by the Deputy Adjutant General of the District, stating, that the corps has had the services of a competent instructor during the period for which the claim is made, and that such corps is efficient as regards drill.

"No allowance is authorized by law for payment for instruction of Drill Associations, nor for drill instruction in Colleges or Grammar Schools.

"General Orders No. 1 of 25th January, No. 1 of 1st February, No. 1 of 15th March, and No. 1 of the 26th July, 1867, are hereby cancelled.

"Forty dollars per company per annum, and sixty dollars per Troop of Cavalry per annum, be allowed to the Captain or Commanding Officer, as the case may be, for the care of the arms of such corps as are not kept in public armories under charge of caretakers paid by the Department of Militia and Defence.

"The commanding officer of each battalion will be allowed five dollars per company for each efficient company in his battalion to cover the expense of stationery, postage, &c., during the year, and payment thereof will be made at the end of the financial year on the usual certificate of the Deputy Adjutant General of the district.

"Such battalion of Volunteers as perform annual drill and reported efficient, and have maintained efficient bands during the year, will be entitled to participate in appropriation for efficient bands, the distribution of which will be made prior to the 30th of June, 1870.

"The following regulations apply to such corps as may be permitted to perform the days of annual drill at their local headquarters at times most convenient to themselves:—1st. Proficiency in the following course of drill to the satisfaction of the inspecting officer will be necessary in order to qualify the corps for inspection. 2nd. Squad and company drill, including the manual and platoon exercise and gun drill in cases where artillery corps are supplied with guns. 3rd. Cavalry sword exercise and mounted and dismounted troop and squadron drill as laid down in cavalry regulations. 4th. Squad and company drill, including the manual and platoon exercise skirmishing, as a company, and simple manœuvres in battalion drill, as laid down in the "Field Exercises of Infantry." 5. Each day's drill to consist of two drills of 1½ hours each, or if found more convenient to the men, a drill of 1½ hours will be allowed to count for half a day's drill, at which drills not less than one half the actual strength and at least one commissioned officer of the company shall have attended.

"Brigade majors will make semi annual, and the Deputy Adjutant General annual inspections of the corps in their respective divisions and districts.

"The corps authorized to perform the days of annual drill in camp will be governed by the special instructions issued relating thereto. The allowance of ammunition for practice by corps armed with Snider Enfield rifle during the year ending June 30th, 1870, will be 30 rounds of ball and 15 rounds of blank for each man actually effective, and the same may be drawn upon requisition of commanding officers through the Deputy Adjutant-General of the district. 2nd. Under no circumstances shall practice with ball cartridge be engaged in by volunteers without the men being in uniform and under command of an officer or non-commissioned officer, who shall be held responsible for the proper conduct of the party. 3rd. After firing in target practice, commanding officers will require every man to clean his own rifle before returning it to the company arm racks. 4th. Volunteers are forbidden to tamper with or injure the arms issued for their use. Should alterations or repairs be required they must be effected by a competent armourer or mechanic. 5th. Officers commanding corps are required to keep careful and accurate returns of all target practice, in accordance with forms which will be provided from the office of the Adjutant-General of Militia, and may be obtained upon application to the Brigade Major in each Division. Officers commanding corps will be careful that each Volunteer under their command shall within each year fire at target practice the number of rounds authorized for such purpose, and he will see that no individual volunteer expends more of practice ammunition than his fair share. Ammunition authorized for annual target practice is not to be used at rifle matches.

Officers in command of Corps who may require extra Ball Ammunition are informed that the price of Snider Enfield Ball Ammunition is $24.00 per one thousand rounds, and no quantity less than five hundred rounds will be sold.

"Such extra Ammunition may be obtained in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, on application to the Deputy Adjutant-General at Halifax and Fredericton respectively,—in Ontario and Quebec, on application direct to Head Quarters; and payment therefor is to be made by depositing the money in the Bank of Montreal to the credit of the Receiver General and transmitting the certificate of deposit for the same with the requisition asking for the issue of the ammunition.

"By Command of His Excellency the "Governor General.

A man has just died in New York, in the position of an ostler, at the age of 70, who in early life was a wealthy Irish squire, keeping horses and hounds, and dispensing magnificent hospitality. Fast and reckless habits ran through his large inheritance; and he came to America to go down from bad to worse. For years he was carver at the St. Nicholas Hotel, but dissipation lost him even this position, and he died of apoplexy in an out-bin.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY, JUNE 29.

NEW SENATOR.—Mr. McLellan, the member for Colchester, N. S., has been gazetted Senator, in place of the Hon. B. Weir, deceased.

MEETING.—A meeting of the "Hastings St. Patrick's Protestant Benevolent Society," will be held in the Town Hall, on Wednesday evening, 30th inst., at half-past seven o'clock.

B. B. B. C.—At a meeting of the Belleville Base Ball Club, organized last evening, the following were elected officers for this season: J. G. C. Meagher, President; J. D. Clarke, Vice President: W. N. Thomas, Captain, Geo. G. Wharton, Secretary and Treasurer.

DOMINION DAY.—As the Governor General has issued a proclamation making the first of July a public holiday, the Mayor has issued a proclamation calling upon the people to observe it as such. We have no doubt the request will be generally complied with.

POST OFFICE SAVINGS BANK.—The statement of the Post Office Savings Bank account shows that during the month of May the amount received from depositors was $84,831; interest paid on closed accounts during the month, $519 72; withdrawal cheques paid during May, $43,269 11. In hands of Receiver General, 31st May, 1869, $771,398 82.

RAILWAY TRAFFIC RETURNS.—The Returns for the month of May, 1869, show that the Grand Trunk earned $736,917, against $646,824 the corresponding month of 1868, being an increase for over $90,000. The Great Western earned $294,658, against $280,992, for the corresponding month of 1868. The Cobourg and Marmora Railway shows $6,140 against $3,867 for 1868.

LARGE INCOMES.—The New York Tribune publishes an extra of thirty-eight double columns giving the names of those who pay taxes on large incomes. In this list there are sixty-eight names who pay tax on incomes of one hundred thousand dollars and over. The highest income is that of A. T. Stewart, who pays a tax on $2,019,217; the next highest is Wm. B. Astor, $1,079,212; the next is James M. Beebe, $911,939.

SABBATH SCHOOL CONCERT.—We understand that in obedience to a very generally expressed desire, the authorities of the Wesleyan Methodist Sabbath School, Bridge street, have decided that the Concert, which gave unbounded satisfaction last week, will be repeated in the same Church on Tuesday evening next. We are also informed, that, whilst a sufficient number of the best pieces will be repeated to gratify those who are anxious for a repetition, as well as to meet the wishes of such as were unfortunately absent and now regret it, additional solos and duetts will be introduced into the programme, giving thereby a freshness to the whole. The admission fee will be but ten cents, affording a rare opportunity to all of sharing in an evening of rational enjoyment.

MAIL ROBBERY AT KINGSTON.—Yesterday information was received here that on extensive mail robbery took place at Kingston on Saturday night, and though efforts were made to obtain particulars, the telegraph authorities at Kingston were apparently unwilling to take the trouble to furnish it. If anything important occurs in Belleville or vicinity, our operators pick up the news and send it to all the papers east and west, thus adding to the business and profit of the Company. Not so in Kingston and Montreal. In those offices they seem not only unwilling to put themselves to any trouble to make business for their employers, but neglect to send reports of importance when repeatedly asked to do so. The following account of the robbery, is from the Kingston News:—"Late on Saturday night or early on Sunday mo ning last, two mail bags, made up at the Kingston Post Office—one for Montreal and the other for the railway mail clerk passing east—were stolen from the large mail chest which stands at the door of the Kingston station-house. The staple for the lock on the mail chest was secured on the inside by two nuts. The chest was only used for the night train mails, and was left unlocked in the daytime. During the daytime the mail robber or an accomplice had removed the nuts fastening the staple, and thus prepared the way for getting at its contents at night. The stolen mails contained one registered letter, in which was enclosed merely a promissory note. As far as it can be ascertained there was no money whatever in the stolen mails. The robbery was discovered about four o'clock on Sunday morning, and was at once reported to the station agent. Mr. Nelson immediately informed Mr. Sweetnam, the Post Office Inspector, who proceeded at once to the spot. The two bags and their contents were found within a short distance of the station. The letters had all been opened. Several promissory notes, cheques, and drafts were found lying with the letters. It is surprising that with so many employees about the station such a depredation could have been successfully committed. A vigorous and thorough investigation is being proceeded with."

Crown Lands—Indignation Meeting in Madoc.

The notice of sale by public auction of all the Crown Lands in North Hastings by the Commissioner, has created no little indignation, and justly so, among those who have been toiling for months upon Crown Lands, in the hopes of discovering something that would pay them for their trouble and labor. What is their position now? Having made discoveries, and such discoveries being known, they are left to the tender mercies of speculators, men who may have money, but who have not done a single act to develop or aid in the settlement of the country. In addition to this class of people there are settlers who have gone into the woods, cleared the land, and have lived upon it for years, and now their homes are to be sold at public auction instead of giving them the land in fee. We do not hesitate to say that the man who goes into our back country and settles upon the land, should have it for a mere trifle. It appears, however, that the Commissioner of Crown Lands has got it into his head that a few dollars may be secured to the coffers of Ontario, under the impression that there may be gold or lead upon the lands, though it may send industrious settlers from their homes, and hard working prospectors cheated out of their labor.

After some discussion the following resolutions and petition were adopted:—

"Resolved,—That this meeting would request the Chairman to transmit, with the Petition of His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, the following, as an expression of the views of this meeting, viz:—That we cannot understand why, after all the trouble and expense incurred by the Crown Lands Department with reference to Lot 9 in the ninth Concession of Marmora, and the trouble and expense which the claimants for said Lot have been put, that no decision has been arrived at,—and would respectfully submit for His Excellency's consideration the following facts:—

"1st.—Several parties laid claims for Lot 9 in the ninth concession of Marmora.

"2nd.—The Crown Lands Department sent down a Commissioner, and evidence was taken.

"3rd.—That several parties were assured that some of the applicants had no chance of the lot, but that it was between two claimants.

"4th.—That after some time for consideration, all the Crown Lands in this neighborhood, including Lot 9 in the Ninth, are advertised for sale.

"5th.—That a very unsatisfactory feeling pervades the minds of the people of this section, simply amounting to an entire want of confidence in the administration of the Crown Lands Department, so far as applies to Gold Lands.

"6th.—That in the opinion of this meeting, if the lands must be sold, every miner or other person, who has actually prospected or discovered mineral thereon, should be allowed before the 8th of July next, to stake out a claim, under the General Mining Act of 1869, on some part of the Crown Lands now advertised for sale; that all claims previously sent in to the Department should be reserved from sale, for the benefit of the claimants; and that all disputed claims be settled with as little delay as possible."

"To His Excellency the Honourable WILLIAM P. HOWLAND, C. B., Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, &c., &c., in Council.

"The Petition of the undersigned, the residents of the County of Hastings, in the Province of Ontario, and others interested in the welfare and development of the mineral wealth in and of the former Quinte Gold Mining Division, sheweth,—

1. "That your petitioners hear with astonishment and grief that the Crown Lands situate in said former Quinte Division are to be sold by the Commissioner of Crown Lands by auction on the Eighth day of July next as Mining Lands.

2.—That your petitioners are apprehensive, as they have good reasons to believe that if the said Crown Lands are to be sold as mining lands, they will fall in the hands of a few speculators who will not develop the mineral wealth of said district, but on the contrary will impede the same, on their own terms, which, your petitioners believe, will be as much to their interest as to be beyond the means of the real miners to accede to, and consequently said former Quinte Division will be ruined.

3.—Your petitioners submit and urge, on public grounds, that it is of great importance to have the said lands thrown open to all miners and other persons, as mining claims under sections 18, 19 and 20 of the General Mining Act of 1869, the same as if the said former Quinte Division had been elected a Mining Division under the said General Mining Act of 1869, as by this means, it will attract a large body of men and immigrants who will give an immense impetus to the development of the said Crown Lands, and also to their settlement and occupation, as in fact and truth there are many practical and experienced miners now out in North Hastings, ready and willing to take up mining claims, and who have already prospected and expended largely in exploring and discovering good claims on the said Crown Lands; and that it would not be fair and just to deprive them of the fruits and benefits of their labour and explorations, and that it will be their ruin if the said Crown Lands be sold as aforesaid by auction. Your petitioners therefore pray that these prospectors and explorers may be protected in their rights, the same as if the Crown Lands now to be sold by auction had remained to be a part of what was formerly the Quinte Gold Mining Division, as the sixth section of the Mining Act permits them to explore upon any Crown Lands, surveyed or unsurveyed."

4.—Your Petitioners show that there are many lots in the said former Quinte Division now patented and in the possession of private individuals, which are supposed to contain valuable minerals, but the owners thereof, will not develop them or allow others to do so, except on such terms and for such prices as to make it impossible for any cautious (however willing) miner to comply with—which your petitioners believe will be the case with the Crown Lands if ordered to be sold as aforesaid.

"Your Petitioners therefore pray that your Excellency will be pleased to countermand and withdraw the sale of the Crown Lands in the said former Quinte Division,—or at least to postpone the sale until such time as further inquiries may show whether selling the lands by auction is the best mode of protecting the interests of private individuals as well as of the public generally.

"And your Petitioners will ever pray, &c."

Provincial S. S. Convention.

This important and highly interesting meeting, will be held in this town this year; already the preliminary steps have been taken towards forming a "Local Committee," to act in conjunction with the Executive of the Association; this "Local Committee" composed of the executive officers of the Association in town, the Ministers and three representatives from each Sabbath School, will (D. V.) meet for organization, in the basement of the Bridge street Wesleyan Methodist Church, tomorrow evening at half past seven o'clock. This year's Convention will be more than usually interesting.

The Prince of sacred song singers, "The singing Pilgrim," Philip Phillips, will conduct the service of song, and the representatives from the United States will be men whose lives are devoted to the work.

The Convention will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the 12th, 13th and 14th of October. We have no doubt the people of Belleville will be found equal to the task of providing for five or six hundred delegates, and the Committee will be nobly sustained by the public in their arrangements.

The Mineral Region of North Hastings.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

SIR,—Having just returned from an extended trip northward, in which I have penetrated the wilderness beyond the dividing ridges, to where the waters flow towards the Ottawa, I find myself in possession of many facts that, I have no doubt, will be interesting to your readers.

Since my first acquaintance with North Hastings, I have always believed that the mineral character of the country would naturally improve as we approach the height of land, and it is satisfactory to me to find that opinion amply borne out.—Travelling north, the dolomite bands become broader, farther apart, and more frequently pierced through by the underlying granites and slates, until about the neighborhood of the York Branch, there is nothing of them left but a few detached caps, resting on the older rocks. The granites too (both white granite and syenite) assume a finer grain, and the slates become more chloritic than where we catch our first glimpse of them in Madoc, and they exhibit a more venous structure. But, whilst the fresh development of each day's observations gave me fresh proofs of the mineral wealth of the country, it was melancholy to witness its forsaken aspect. It would appear that a few years ago that section must have been quite an influx of emigrants to this region, who, struggling over almost impassable roads, climbing rocky hills and wading through dismal swamps, made their way into the country with the honest and manly intention of making homes for themselves; but after years of unrequited toil, fortunes faded, hopes blasted, those homes are now desolate, and on many a lonely hearth I saw the wild briar creeping, and the noxious weeds flourishing; the sheltering roof fallen in, and the forest once more occupying the ground that had been cleared by the united energies of man and beast, the inhabitants having wandered forth to seek a livelihood in a foreign land. Something must be radically wrong here; for although North Hastings is not a favored Agricultural region, yet its natural capabilities are quite equal to those of the New England States, whilst its forests and its mines would, under proper management, give it advantages that New England never possessed.

Amongst the few inhabitants left, a general feeling of dissatisfaction prevails. As usual, all blame the Government; and it would be difficult to find in this region a supporter of the present Administration.—They are all satisfied that, under the present ruinous system of Timber Licenses, which leads to such a fearful havoc of timber, the country will in a very few years be disforested; and as for the mining interests coming out successful under the present Crown Land policy, the "Notices" that we see posted up of an auction sale of mineral lands has destroyed the last vestige of hope. No man will now go exploring on the public domain, and as the capitalist is not an explorer, the country must remain locked up, until a brighter day dawns upon the destinies of Ontario and a different set of men get the management of our public affairs. Whatever the Government may think of this vascillating and uncertain policy, the people look upon the present movement as a gross breach of faith. By the "general mining Act of 1869," we were led to believe that a uniform price had been fixed for all mineral land in Ontario, and thus a fair approach made towards a liberal system that would work just as well here as it has done in the United States. Now we are told that that Act referred only to Algoma, and so Hastings must remain at the mercy of a Star Chamber, or a baleful one man power that by an order in Council can ignore an Act of Parliament. However, it is cheering to observe that, under the most trying and discouraging circumstances the spirit of our people is not broken. Amongst mining adventurers there are still a few noble spirits who refuse to be crushed down; but with persevering energy are prosecuting their explorations, chiefly on private property, and in some instances on lands of the Crown, not included in the present sale list; believing firmly that the acts of an unwise Legislation, and an imbecile executive will be evanescent, and like their authors pass away into oblivion. And, that the day is not far distant, when a more liberal and enlightened spirit will actuate our rulers, and when the labors of our explorers now in the field, who are in several instances men guided by the unerring light of science, and possessing the advantages of dearly bought experience, will raise our district to its proper position as the Cornwall of Ontario.

The Reiffinstein Case—How the Defalcations were Committed.

OTTAWA, June 28.—This afternoon Reiffinstein's case was postponed. Mr. Scott, M.P., his counsel, asked that the investigation should be put off till Friday. As far as has been hinted at to the public, the nature of the discovery of misappropriation is somewhat as follows:—Mr. Hodge, who died a year or two ago, had charge of the municipalities list, and checked off payments when made. After his death, the debt was transferred to Reiffinstein, and it is supposed that this gave facility for fraud. The [illegible] was distributed among the [illegible] was apportioned in such a manner that the total amount distributed showed only about $137,000 instead of $156,000. It appears that so far about $16,000 duplicate payments have been discovered since July, 1866.—Before that time no duplicate payments are discovered. On comparing the public accounts of last year figures have been transposed so as to appear that the full amount was drawn. The member for York, Mr. Wright, said by the public accounts, that a larger sum was charged to the municipality of Markham than received, viz.: $1,704 instead of $704. He called the attention of the Audit Office to this discrepancy, when it was found that $1,000 was necessary to balance the accounts. Rumor was busy attributing blame here and there.

On Saturday, Reiffinstein paid over between two and three thousand dollars out of Ontario Bank, to the credit of the Receiver General, on account of a duplicate payment to Hamilton city, which had been at his credit there for over eleven months. About twenty cases of discrepancies have been discovered. The case has created a great sensation in the city. Before the Police Magistrate, to day, Reiffinstein appeared cool, although it was evident that it cost him a great effort. A thorough investigation of the books will be made for years back.

American Despatches.

FROM CUBA—ANOTHER BATTLE.

HAVANA, June 28.—Capt. Gen. DeRods arrived this morning. He was quietly received. He issued a proclamation in which he says the platform of his line of conduct is embraced in three words —" Spain, Justice and Morality."

The insurgents very strong attacked the encampment containing the garrison of Salamanca, near Puerto Principe, on the 20th inst., and captured the entire force, some 80 men.

A number of filibusters who landed from the schooner Grape Shot, and subsequently fell into the hands of the troops, had been executed there. Among them were Charles Speakman, of Aurora, Indiana, Albert Wyeth, formerly operator in Franklin Telegraph Office, New York, and others.

MECHANICS FOR CORNELL UNIVERSITY.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Letters from London state that a party of English mechanics, who are about to emigrate to the Cornell University, who were received at a public breakfast presided over by Mr. Boughton, were to sail for New York on the 26th inst. The movement under which they are emigrating was first suggested to Prof. Smith by Cornell himself.—The Hon. Auburn Herbert, a well known Liberal, had charge of the party. The young men are selected from the different branches of the building trades, and will be employed both in the instruction of those undergraduates who may desire to obtain practical knowledge of them, and in the construction of the University Buildings.

A DENIAL.

NO DIFFICULTY.

A Herald reporter details a conversation with Gen. John Dix, recently United States Minister at Paris. The General thinks our relations with France are of the best and most cordial character. The General says there need be no apprehension of a difficulty arising between England and the United States. The misconception is all on the side of England.

THE FENIAN PRISONERS.

DUBLIN, June 28.—Large meetings were held yesterday in various parts of Ireland and those who favor the proposition to release the Fenian prisoners. At the Cork meeting, there were 5,000 people present; at Dublin, 2,000. Similar meetings were held at Limerick, Ranis, Mullingar, Drogheda, and in all cases able speeches were made and resolutions passed looking to the object in view.

THE EMPEROR AT BEAUVAIS.

PARIS, June 28.—The Emperor yesterday, visited the city of Beauvais, and was received with enthusiasm by the people. The Mayor and Bishop of Beauvais received the Emperor at the city gates, and conducted him to the Hotel de Ville, where they presented addresses of welcome to His Majesty. In reply to the Mayor's speech the Emperor returned his thanks for the welcome he had received from the municipality and people of Beauvias. He reminded the Mayor of his presence in the city, at the inauguration of the statute of the heroine Jeanne d'Arc, eighteen years ago. He was pleased to see the progress which the city and department, of which it was the capital, had made since that period in agriculture and industry. He declared that this prosperity was mainly due to the order which, for the past seventeen years, had prevailed in France, and he was certain that this condition of order would never be seriously disturbed. In response to the Bishop of Beauvais, the Emperor said the addresses of Bishops, when couched in the language of piety, were always received with deference. If his prayers were heard religion would be honoured by a happy people, and France would be great and prosperous.

PRESS PROSECUTIONS—ROCHEFORT TO BE IMPRISONED.

Henri Rochefort, editor of the Lanterne has been convicted of a charge of illegally introducing that journal into France. He has been sentenced to three years imprisonment and to pay a fine of 30,000f. To these penalties are added forfeiture of his rights of citizenship for three years, including the right to vote in any election or to occupy a seat in the Corps Legislatif. Messrs. Limousan and Jourdan, editors of the Siecle have been fined 5,000f. each, and each editor of the Opinion Nationale has been condemned to one month's imprisonment with a fine of 5G0f., all for violations of the Press law.

PARIS, June 28, evening.—The session of the Corps Legislatif was opened to-day. The Emperor was not present, and M. de Haver, Minister of State, made the opening speech. He said the chamber was convoked to verify its authority. The renewal of the Corps Legislatif by universal suffrage afforded a natural opportunity for the nation to express its thoughts, aspirations, and wants; but the political result of that manifestation should not be precipitate. The Government would present resolutions and projects of law, in order to realize the wishes of the country.

QUEENSTOWN, June 29.—The steamships 'Denmark' and 'City of London,' from New York, and 'Ohio,' from Baltimore, have arrived.

BANK ROBBERY.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The Ocean National Bank, corner of Greenwich and Fulton Streets, was robbed sometime between Saturday night and this morning. The authorities of the Bank state that the loss to the institution will not exceed $30,000. The loss sustained by depositors, in the shape of securities cannot at present be ascertained, but it is supposed to be immense—probably exceeding $2,000,000. The vaults were blown open, as were the safes contained in them.

The amounts of private deposits stolen from the Ocean Bank, is stated by the bank authorities to exceed a quarter of a million dollars.—The bank is not responsible for these losses which are mainly if not all bonds.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no remedy has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of COLDS—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From REV. FRANCIS LONDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty."

I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the above affections, to which we are peculiarly exposed."

Prepared by SETH W. FOWLE & SON, Boston, and for sale by Druggists generally. 17a33.

Grace's Celebrated Salve.

From Mr. E. TUCKER, Depot Master at Salisbury, Mass.

"I have been troubled for years with a bad humor; sometimes outwardly and sometimes inwardly. During the past summer it manifested itself more than usual outwardly, and I used your Salve. All signs of it have since disappeared, without effecting me inwardly, indeating, I think, the entire eradicature of the Salve."

Woman's Trials.

Pots, kettles and pans,
Pans, kettles and pots,
I am sick of the sight and would give them all
For a bunch of forget-me-nots;
But my children are mortal, and cannot live
On the scent of a rose-gay fair;
They would much prefer a warm pork pie,
To flowerets rich and rare.

Tubs, soap and suds,
Suds, soap and tubs,
My arms are red and my fingers spread,
With this long-continued rub;
You may talk of your rippling brooks,
You may rave of your streamlets fair,
It would take the waters of both, I ween,
To make these clothes look clean.

Wood, chips and coals,
Coals, chips and wood,
I've arranged them all as well as I can,
But my fire will not burn good;
You may sing of the sturdy oak,
You may praise the lofty pine;
I would rather have some splinters now,
To kindle this fire of mine.

Tis hard indeed to reign
In kitchen and parlor too,
And to meet your friends with a cordial smile,
When you smell that burning stew,
To fold your arms and be calm,
And insist on a longer stay,
When you know your bread is being scorched,
And the soap is all boiling away.

O! wish I had never
A lady's position to
I could then keep on my calico
And wash, and scrub, and bak
Oh, pity me, ye who dwell
In cabins with one small room!
Oh, pity me, ye who never knew
What it was to handle a broom.

New York Butter and Cheese Market.

Messrs. Starin & Floyd, in their special report for the Weekly Times, notices the week's business in butter and cheese thus:

The total receipts of butter for the week ending this day are 12,939 packages, showing a considerable decrease. Western butters are in supply, and being now generally of really good quality, take the place of the better grades of State stocks for many purposes. State firkins and tubs are in very limited supply, and sell rarely at out quotations. Fresh pail and Sussex
parts of the State and Pennsylvania, con-
sinue in ample supply and good demand.
The rate for selections is still continued at 40c, while the great bulk of the trade is done at rates even with other styles of stock. The trade in butter is now sufficient to prevent accumulations of stock, while the receipts are light; but the market is sensitive, and increased receipts would be promptly responded to with lower prices. We quote:

NEW CROP BUTTER.

State firkins, Full yellow, per lb. 35 to 38c
State firkins, Light colored, per lb. 32 to 34c
Western Reserve firkins, Full yellow, per lb. 31 to 33c
State half firkins, Good to Extra, per lb. 35 to 37c
State Welsh tubs, Good to Prime, 32 to 36c
Orange and Sussex fresh pails, Good to Extra. 33 to 40c
Western tubs, Fair to Good. 25 to 29c
State and Western, Common. 20 to 23c

The total receipts of cheese for the week ending this day are 37,266 boxes. We have to note a further average decline in cheese of 1 cent per lb. since our last report. The demand for local and coastwise trade has improved with the approach to moderate rates, and will soon be full, with a small further decline, which will, without doubt, be gradually reached. Export trade has been quite active at the decline, and a large trade is now in progress for Saturday's steamer. Prices are back at the close of the week's trade; but stock is promptly cleared by the receivers, and accumulations of stock are not permitted, if stocks can be made. We quote:—

NEW CROP.

Factories, extra, per lb. 18 to 18½c
Factories, fair to good, per lb. 16 to 17½c
Factories, common. 9 to 15 c.
Factories, skimmed. 6 to 12 c.
Farm dairies, extra. 17 to 17½c
Farm dairies, fair to good. 14 to 16 c

ORTON'S PREPARATION!

ESTABLISHED 1866.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for Tobacco, in any person no matter how strong it fails in any case the money will be refunded. Perfectly safe and harmless. It will most impossible to break off the use of tobacco, by the mere exercise of the will. Something is necessary to assist nature in overcoming a habit so firmly rooted. With the help of the Preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that Orton's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for tobacco, and leaves the person as free from any desire for it, as before he commenced its use. The Preparation acts directly upon the same affected by tobacco and blood thoroughly clean of the tobacco, thus allaying the unnatural craving for tobacco. No more hankering for tobacco after using Orton's Preparation. Recollect it is warranted.

The time taken to allay desire for Tobacco by the use of their Preparation varies slightly in different persons, the average time being about Five days. Some have used the Tobacco after using the Preparation Two days.

The Proprietors of Orton's Purse to every Tobacco user in the country call loudly, DEMAND THE USE OF TOBACCO.

ROYAL ITALIAN BITTERS

OR TONICO REALE.

Del Dottore F. P. Verri, Prof. of Chemistry in the of University Padua, Italy.

THIS Celebrated Preparation—for which a Certificate of Merit was awarded to the original preparer at the National Exposition at Torino, Italy, by whose favor Mr. Gianelli obtained the Recipe, and was also awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition of Canada, held at Montreal in September, 1865, is without exception the most valuable, Salubrious and agreeable Tonic ever introduced to public notice either in Europe or America.

For seventeen years it has, in Italy, been a universal favorite among the elite of society, being generally served in the Drawing Room immediately before dinner; in preference to Vermouth.

☞ The ingredients of its composition have been imparted to the leading Physicians of Montreal, and have received their unqualified approval on every account.

The Proprietor has no idea of parading or puffing it before the public, but merely asks a sound and unprejudiced trial.

Kept by the principal Wine Merchants, Druggists, and Grocers in Canada.

Prepared and sold wholesale by the Proprietor,

A. M. F. GIANELLI,

VOL. 3. BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 30, 1869. No. 51.

Teaching the Deaf and Dumb to Speak.

The Pall Mall Gazette in an article deprecating the establishment of a Church for worship in the sign language, says:—

But can the deaf and dumb be taught to speak and hear? Yes, to articulate with the mouth and to perceive with the eye, so that sight will tell them what the tongue of another says. In The Cornhill of December, 1867, an excellent writer, whose article has few, if any, assertions of a questionable kind, writes thus of an institution in Brussels: "The conventional system of teaching to speak by signs is totally and unexceptionally abandoned, and each individual patient is successfully taught to speak with his lips." And the same writer says, "There can be no reason why our own dumb should not be taught to speak, and so be rescued from that terrible isolation which has been hitherto accepted as their destiny." The writer, to a certain extent, resembles a man who looks abroad for the spectacles which are on his own nose. He goes to Brussels to see a wonder which he might to a modified extent (for not every pupil is brought to the articulately speaking degree of perfection) have seen at home in the Old Kent road, at the asylum for Deaf and Dumb; which is, if not the parent, at any rate the prototype of all similar institutions in England.

The writer in The Cornhill was requested to say something in English to a deaf-mute at Brussels, and he writes: "Accordingly I selected one of them, and said to him, Cler-gy-man. Cler-gy-man immediately said the youth, with a perfect articulation, but without having the faintest idea of what he was talking about."—Well, the present Principal of the Old Kent road Asylum had a visit from the Japanese Embassadors when they were in England, and they spoke to him several words of Japanese (of which he is as ignorant as an unborn babe); he by the mouth transferred the sounds to a deaf and dumb child and the child by the mouth gave them back to the Japanese to their perfect comprehension and amazement. Moreover there is in Burton-crescent a Home for Deaf and Dumb Jews, where no compound system of signs such as is in vogue at the Old Kent-road establishment is allowed, and no spelling upon the fingers practiced; and there, although the principal labors under the disadvantage of being a foreigner (the foreign pronunciation, however, being only faintly discernible), children may be heard to speak simple English sentences, and answer from the lips of a questioner simple English questions, in a by no means perfect, but sufficiently surprising manner. The head at that particular place regretfully announces that the pupils are more apt at picking up low songs, which depraved persons of both genders no doubt take a delight in repeating to them, than anything of a more improving character.

It should be mentioned, also, that the voices of the dumb (by the Irishman's leave) are for the most part so harsh, nasal, and peculiar, that a certain time must be allowed before a stranger can apprehend more than a blur of sounds; but sometimes, as in the case of a little boy at the Jews' Home, there is a voice which would be noticeably sweet and clear among a company of ordinary children. There is a notion, not altogether unfounded, that the deaf and dumb are of a generally weak mental organization; but it is worthy of record that at the present time there is a deaf and dumb barrister of considerable practice (though not, of course at nisi prius), and that visitors to the exhibition at Burlington House look (with pleasure, most likely) upon two pictures painted by a deaf and dumb gentleman who twice gained the silver medal of the Royal Academy.

A Little Man.

Perhaps the most remarkable dwarf of which there is any record, in ancient or modern times, is Count Joseph Borulawski, born in Polish Russia, in 1739. His parents were of the medium size, and had a family of six children, five sons and one daughter. Three of the former, when full grown, exceeded the middle stature; but the other two and the daughter attained only that of children of about the age of four years. At the time of Joseph's birth he measured only eight inches in length; but he was neither weak nor defective; and his mother, who suckled him herself, frequently stated that none of her children gave her less trouble than he. His sister, Anastasia, seven years younger, is represented by him, in his memoirs, as so short that she could stand under his arms. She was a perfect model of symmetry and beauty, having a lively and cheerful temper and a feeling and beneficent heart. At the age of fifteen, being then twenty-five inches high, he was presented to the Empress Maria Theresa, who, on one occasion took him on her lap, caressed him, and asked him what he thought was most curious and interesting at Vienna. He answered that he had seen in that city many things worthy of admiration, but nothing seemed so extraordinary as that which he then beheld. "And what is that?" inquired Her Majesty. "To see so little a man on the lap of so great a woman," replied Borulawski. The Empress then wore a ring on which was her cipher in brilliants. The band being in hers, and he looked attentively at this jewel, she asked him whether the cipher was pretty. "I beg your Majesty's pardon," replied Borulawski; "it is not the ring that I am looking at, but the hand, which I beseech your permission to [illegible] the same time raising it to his lips. The flattered Empress thereupon took a very fine diamond ring from the finger of Maria Antoinette, then a child, and put it on Borulawski's. The notice of the Empress procured him the attention of the whole court, and the marked kindness of Count Kaunitz. By this time the little man was about twenty-eight inches high, could bear fatigue and lift great weights in proportion to his size, possessed mental energy and accomplishments, and a judgment very sound; understood arithmetic, spoke German and French, was ingenious in everything he undertook, lively in his repartees, and just in his reasonings.

Being once upon the lap of the Princess Nassau-Wellbourg, she said, "Are you not very sorry you are not taller?" "No," he replied; "if I was I should not have the honor to sit on your ladyship's knee."—Borulawski was twice the victim of the tender passion, his first love being an actress whom he wished to marry, but who laughed at him. The second was a young French lady, Isalina Barbutan, whom, after much opposition from her patroness, Countess Humiecka, he married. Being informed in a few months after his marriage that he was likely to become a father, and being somewhat impecunious, it was suggested that a second visit to the courts of Europe would enable him to procure the means of leading a life of comfort. The King supplied him with a convenient carriage and off he went. In due time a daughter was born to him. He travelled over Europe, had letters to persons of the highest position, so that in a few years he was enable to retire with ease and comfort. At the end of the last century, having been seen by some of the prebendaries of Durham, he was prevailed upon by that body to take up his abode for life in Bank's Cottage, near their city, they engaging to allow him a handsome income. He accepted this offer, and enjoyed the clerical bounty up to the time of his death, which happened at the same cottage on September 5th, 1837, when he was ninety-eight years of age.—W. A. Sexser, in Harper's Magazine for July.

CONSTABLE DEATH, of Marelabone, apprehended Julia Mahoney for being "dead drunk," the other evening. When Death placed his prisoner in the cells, she made an attempt to hang herself but was rescued by Death. In the morning the prisoner told the Magistrate that she had been apprehended by Death, assaulted by Death, and saved from death by Death. Death denied having struck her, and the Magistrate believing Death, sent Mahoney to prison two months.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30.

☞To-morrow being a public holiday, no paper will be issued from this office.

INQUEST.—On the 28th inst., an inquest was held before Coroner Jonas Canniff, on the body of John Carney Hindes, who was found drowned in the River at Plainfield the same day. A verdict of "accidental drowning" was recorded.

EXCURSIONS AND PIC-NICS.—In addition to the Pic-Nic of the Good Templars to-morrow, referred to in another column, the Irishmen of Belleville announce a Grand Pic-Nic at Bleeker's Grove, which will, no doubt, be largely attended: and there will be an excursion to Kingston by the Rochester, which, owing to the low fare, will, no doubt, attract a large number of pleasure seekers.

MR. HOLDEN'S LETTER.—Mr. Holden complains of the remark made by us in our issue of the 28th inst., that he "over his own signature,admitted an indebtedness of $250 to the Board" of School Trustees in the Report of the Finance Committee laid before the Town Council the week previous, and states that he was correct. Upon reference to that report we find that it says "balance of instalment "due first July for salaries of Teachers, $250," so that Mr. Holden was technically correct when he said on the 28th June that there was not "one penny" due for any purpose, and we willingly take the correction, but the fact that the Council refuses to pay the money required by the Board is not changed, nor that the Teachers will have to want their salaries through that refusal.

GOOD TEMPLAR'S PIC-NIC.—We would remind our readers of the Good Templar's Pic-Nic to-morrow, Dominion Day, on Massassaga Point, per steamer Prince Edward. The committee of management desiring to make it one of the best Pic-Nics of the season, are sparing no pains to make it pleasant and interesting. A special committee has been appointed to carry out the various amusements decided upon, such as foot-races, foot-ball, &c., when prizes will be given to the winners. The Hastings Base Ball Club decided at a special meeting to play a game of Base Ball on the ground.—As there are no sports amusements in the town, we would recommend the inhabitants of Belleville to give them a bumper crowd.

PEN AND PENCIL DRAWING.—We have been shown specimens of Pen and Pencil Drawing by Mr. E. W. Zablocki, which, for artistic skill and finish, are equal to anything of the kind we have ever seen.—The specimens are now on exhibition in Mr. Harrison's window. We understand that it is the intention of Mr. Zablocki to teach drawing here, as he intends remaining in town some time. And we would advise all parents who have children old enough to learn drawing not to lose this opportunity of having them taught this great accomplishment. Mr. Zablocki has been taken lessons from the first masters in France and Germany, and his specimens prove him to be a first class artist. We understand his terms are very reasonable. His advertisement will appear in a few days, and in the meantime he can be found at the office of Messrs. Lazier & Lazier.

NEW DOMINION MONTHLY.—A sort of new series of the New Dominion Monthly Magazine will begin with first July next, the changes being slight, but all in the way of improvement. The Magazine will be printed with new type and the cover, which has been objected to on account of its readiness to soil, will be covered with a more elaborate design. Each number will, as far as practicable, be complete within itself, so that, subscriptions may commence at any time. The back numbers since April can still be furnished. It is scarcely necessary to recommend the Magazine which is now well known. Its matter is partly original and partly selected, but all interesting. It has light reading for a leisure hour, and articles of scientific value for the inquiring mind. It has recipes for the kitchen, music for the drawing room, and tales for the nursery. It is in a form that is likely to be preserved, and it may yet be pursued by children's children many years hence. The New Dominion Monthly has a speciality which should render it valuable to all classes in Canada. It has been favoured with quite a number of sketches of the early history of various parts of the country with interesting accounts of the adventures and privations of the early settlers, not omitting the French colonists of Acadia and Canada and of the U. E. Loyalists, and it is intended to collect, as far as possible, all that is strikingly interesting in the early annals of the various parts of the country ere the knowledge be buried in oblivion. A dollar laid out on a good magazine, bears excellent fruit twelve times a year, and the fruit remains of permanent value. Let every father who wishes to please and profit his family secure for them the New Dominion Monthly.

—The Mercury says that the Quebec City Councillors do not confine their exhibitions of pugilism to the Council Chamber. One of their number fought with a butcher on the market place on Thursday.

Common School Estimates.

The Chronicle of to-day, June 30th, takes up the case of the Chairman of the Finance Committee of the town, in reference to the moneys due the School Trustees, but unfortunately has been led into errors in making its statement. The facts are: in July, 1868, a Requisition was made on the Town Corporation for the sum of $9,306, divided up as follows:—

$3,680 to be paid in sums of $920 on the 1st of January, April, July and October, 1869.

$3,626 for addition to School No. 2, renting, repairing, warming, and for all other necessary expenses, payable on the 14th December, 1868.

$3,000 for building a School in Baldwin Ward.

This last item was not claimed, as it was not needed this year. The sum therefore claimed, was $6,306, which is in addition to the Government grant, which is not taken into account in these figures, as that grant was not included in the amount required of the Town to be levied for School purposes. Of this amount $4,150 has been received by the Trustees, leaving a balance due on the first of July of $1,236. Or if the reader would prefer to include the Government grant—it's as broad as it is long—add the $500 to the amount of the Requisition due on the first of July, $5,386, and you have $5,886; add $500 to the amount paid, $4,150, and you have $4,650, which still leaves $1,236 due the Trustees on the first of July. It might as well here be explained that when the Trustees make up their estimates for the year of the amount to be collected as taxes from the people, they do not, nor never have included the Government grant in those estimates. That grant is always declared to them previous to making up their estimates, and is considered as so much cash on hand. True, it passes through the Town Treasurer, but is entered separately from the Requisition, and the attempt to include it in the amount of the Requisition, and thus charge it to the Board, is not only wrong but an act of injustice to say the least.

The Chronicle is in error when it says the Trustees had received in 1868 a large excess over the amount of the Requisition of 1867. The easiest way to settle this point is to copy the account of 1867-68 between the Town and the School Trustees from the Town Treasurer's Books. There it will be found the Board is credited with

By Government Grant	$ 536
By Requisition	4,500
Total	$ 5,036

The Board is debited with the following sums:—

Government Grant	$ 536 07
Dec. 12, 1867, to cash	382 50
do 14, do do	235 00
Jan. 11, 1868, do	785 00
Feb. 4, do do	1,200 00
April 28, do do	378 50
May 6, do do	606 50
July 21, do do	532 42
Total	$5,036 00

Here it will be seen that the account is balanced, and that the amount of the Government grant is entered separately and not included in the Requisition. The account between the two Corporations is squared, as shown by their own books, and it is a matter of interest to know what right the Chairman of the Finance Committee has to meddle with the accounts of the Trustees, and charge and credit their moneys in his reports as may suit his convenience and interest. It is certainly a high-handed piece of business, and for their own self-respect the Trustees should not submit to it.

We have clearly shown that in April after the last payment was made, there was due the Trustees the sum of $316, and to-morrow there will be due $1,236. There can be no disputing these figures. And yet we have the Chairman of the Finance Committee positively asserting not only over his own signature but in his place in the Council, and in conversation with Trustees, that the $250 passed at the last meeting of the Council paid the Trustees in full of all demands up to the first of July; and the Chronicle while it affects sympathy for the teachers, backs up the Chairman and the Council. We do not believe the Chronicle would willingly lend its influence to wrong the Teachers or misrepresent the position of the Trustees; but it is evident our contemporary has been misled, as a reference to its figures and the facts as they appear in the Requisition, and in the Town Treasurer's Books, will abundantly prove.

The Chairman of the Finance Committee may not be willing that the Teachers should suffer any inconvenience, but unfortunately the facts are against him. There was due the Trustees on the first of April, 1869, $1,236; and although repeated efforts were made to obtain a sufficient sum to pay the quarter's salaries due the Teachers on the 1st of April, it was not until near the close of the month it could be obtained, and then after a protest on his part that there was nothing due the Trustees, and that the amount then paid, $670, was only loaned to the Board. It mattered very little to him that the Teachers were unable to pay their board bills, and other accounts they had incurred—that they were subjected to the most serious inconveniences and annoyances; and although the Trustees met him in the kindliest spirit, and asked only for enough to satisfy the urgent demands of the Teachers, they were put off from day to day, and it was not paid until after it was due nearly a month. And we have a repetition of the same game now. The schools closed on the 25th of June for the summer vacation. The Teachers had made arrangements to spend their holidays with their friends, and made application for their quarter's salaries. The answer they received, is it not already given in the announcement of the Chairman of the Finance Committee in the Town Council, and in his letter published in the Intelligencer of Monday? Does that answer show that he cares much for the convenience of the Teachers? Does it not show that in the attempt to get rid of the liabilities of the Town the Trustees, he has resorted to a subterfuge unworthy the position he holds as Chairman of the Finance Committee of a Town like Belleville?

Dominion Day.

The Governor General's Proclamation calling upon the people of the Dominion to join in the due and proper celebration of the first of July, next, virtually establishes that day as a public holiday for all time to come. The words of the proclamation are: "NOW KNOW YE, that I, John "Young, Governor General of Canada, do "hereby proclaim and appoint THURSDAY, "the FIRST day of JULY next, and every "succeeding First day of July, as the day "on which the anniversary of the formation of the Dominion of Canada be duly "celebrated." Of course, without an Act of Parliament, the first of July cannot be held to be a legal holiday, and we presume Banks and Public offices will be obliged to pursue their usual avocations, and those having notes falling due on the 1st of July will be obliged to meet them on that day. But we fancy when our Legislators go back to Parliament, they will take an early opportunity of constituting the 1st of July a Statutory holiday. This should have been done last session, and would have been done if there had not been too much disposition to conciliate the feelings of the Rouges of Quebec and the Repealers and Annexationists of Nova Scotia. Why the feelings of these enemies to our country should have been consulted at all, we could not understand, and expressed our regret at the time that the Government did not take up the Bill of Mr. McConkey, and establish the 1st of July as a Statutory holiday.

There are many reasons why this day should be set apart as a day of public rejoicing, and not the least amongst these reasons, is the love of country which such public celebrations foster and encourage.—The Act of Confederation virtually made British America a nation, which under the fostering care of the mother country, is destined very soon to rival in greatness and in power, the neighboring Republic. While making efforts to extend the borders of this nation, to give it good laws, to make it socially, morally and commercially, a land to be desired by not only ourselves and our children, but by the peoples of the Old World who seek a home on this continent—we should show to these peoples, and to our children, and to our envious neighbors over the lines, that we prize our liberties, are attached to our institutions, are cannabis of Confederation, and have a genuine, earnest love of country. Let us celebrate it heartily, enthusiastically, and help our children to celebrate it in such a manner that they will learn to prize the blessings they enjoy, and to maintain in its entirety the structure we have builded, when they take our places. Let the boys celebrate it with fire crackers and fire-works, and with all the ardor and enthusiasm of young blood. Let the young men celebrate it with military parades, trades processions, pic-nics, and public gatherings. Let the old men celebrate it in a becoming manner, and let us all with one accord, celebrate the natal day of our Dominion as men who have a proper estimate of the liberties we enjoy, and the institutions we have established. God save the Queen, and the New Dominion.

A GOOD ONE.—A young blood residing not a half-dozen miles from this place, was the victim of rather a good joke one Sunday night recently. He was trying to be particularly "sweet" on a young lady and had paid her a number of visits at the residence of her parents. The old folks had somehow got the idea into their heads that the children were too young to "keep company," and conveyed the desired hint by calling the girl out of the room and sending the weak kneed swain sweetness from that source since.

A PUFF.—Some editor has been puffing a bar-keeper. Hear him: "Mr. James Smitherman, proprietor of the above institution, asked us to give him—it—a puff, at the same time handing us a greenback, whose dimensions we shall not mention.—We do not know anything about a fall saloon, but Jim says he keeps splendid whiskey, and we suppose he does, for he buys of Garrett & Craig, and they were never known to sell bad whiskey—oh no! Jim thinks the weary should stop at his ranche and 'wet his whistle,' as it will help him along amazingly. No doubt it will help him to squander his money, waste his time, destroy his health, beggar his family, gain the contumely of society, embitter his whole life, make a widow of his wife, and orphans of his children, and cause him to fill a drunkard's grave, damn his soul, and make more work for the devil. Does this puff suit you, Jim? If not, we will refund the money."

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

MR. EDITOR.—With pleasure I drop you a short account of a Sabbath School anniversary, celebrated by the Halloway W. M. S. School, on Monday, June 28th. The promoters of the noble work of Sabbath School instruction of that neighborhood, manifest a very commendable interest in their work. They hold annual festivals in connection with the school for the purpose of keeping up and deepening the interest as well as encouraging the pupils. The proceedings in connection with the anniversary of this year, were highly satisfactory to all witnesses, equalling, and in some respects surpassing anniversaries of former years. Though the morning betokened an unfavorable day and doubtless discouraged many from coming, and especially other schools, as schools from filling their appearance, yet the attendance upon the whole was larger than anticipated, owing to the inclemency of the weather. The Halloway School and scattering pupils from some other schools, with their parents and guardians, assembled in the grove (a delightful spot near the gravel road) a little north of Wallbridge's Mill, about 12 o'clock noon, where an abundant and palatable repast (in pic-nic style) was furnished by the good ladies. To which repast great justice was done, as your correspondent can sadly testify, as he was a party interested, though spite of his frequent showers, none were frightened so badly as to leave their appetites un ill fully satisfied with the good things, after which the company repaired to the Orange Hall, near by, to be edified by a "feast of reason and flow of soul." Though densely crowded and very warm, yet the best of order was maintained during the future proceedings of the day. John Turner, Esq., was unanimously called to the chair, which he filled with great credit to himself and satisfaction to the audience. After prayer by the Rev. Mr. Howell, the Rector, the Chairman delivering himself of an admirable speech, called upon Messrs. Fulton, the indefatigable Superintendent of the School, Bird and Rose, the Revds. Howell and Wood, (Baptist) who delighted the audience with their practical and appropriate addresses. The interest of the whole was very much enhanced and enlivened by the excellent manner in which Mr. Fulton's singing class acquitted themselves. The anniversary was a grand success. In conclusion we sincerely wish increasing prosperity to Halloway Sabbath School. So important a nursery in the Church deserves the sympathy of all. Having closed with the Benediction by the Rev. Mr. Wood, the company separated with the pleasing assurance of having spent the day very profitably.

THE PRESS ON THE CUBAN EXPEDITON.

LONDON, June 29.—The Star to day, commenting on the reported departure from New York of Col. Ryan's expedition for Cuba, brings the circumstance to bear upon the question of the claims now pending between the United States and Great Britain. It says "We are interested in the conduct of the United States Government in this matter. America now stands in relation to Cuba exactly as England in relation to the Southern Confederacy. Her neutrality laws must be thoroughly and effectively enforced, or she will lose the hold she has gained on public opinion, which insures a fair consideration of the Alabama claims. The Alabama escaped unarmed, with an ordinary merchantman's crew on board, and we are justly held to have incurred a high degree of responsibility for the consequences. The departure of a party of 800 men from New York harbor, as far as can be judged from present accounts of the affair, appears to be an infraction of neutrality just as flagrant as the escape of the Alabama, and one which could have been much more easily prevented.

BRAZIL.

LISBON, June 29.—The French mail steamer from Rio Janeiro has arrived with dates of June 8th. A revolution has broken out at Montevideo, caused by the disorganized condition of the finances. Carballa had raised the standard of insurrection in the provinces. Advices from Asuncion are to the 14th of May. The allied forces had commenced their march into the interior. They captured many prisoners on the way, and took the town of Yoriey by surprise. The Paraguayans had abandoned their position at Pahlmoc.

DEMONSTRATION IN FAVOR OF RELEASE OF FENIAN PRISONERS.

DUBLIN, June 29.—A meeting was held in this city last night to urge upon the Government the release of the Fenian prisoners. Nearly 4,000 people were present. Mr. Butt, a prominent lawyer, made a long speech, in the course of which he said the motto of all true Irishmen ought to be, "Bide your time, put your trust in God, and keep your powder dry." If the English Government persisted in keeping these men incarcerated, all its professions of conciliation would be useless. Mr. Williams, of Dungarvon, made an impassioned speech. He declared 500 of the Fenian prisoners would not accept mercy; they demanded justice from the Ministers. If the latter refused it, let the blood be upon their own heads. He would not have war, yet advocate a resort to the sword, for that document was now out of time.

American Despatches.

INDIAN TROUBLES.

NEW YORK, June 29.—A despatch from Portland, Oregon, reports the Indians in the Alsea reservation are arming and leaving because of their dissatisfaction at the change from civil to military supervision.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—A heavy shock of earthquake was felt at Seattle and Olympia, Washington Territory, yesterday. No damage done.

THE LATEST.

STORM IN CONNECTICUT.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 29.—The damage by the storm on Monday in many parts of the States was very serious, principally by floods in the streams. The damage to the Naugatuck Railroad is immense, and several bridges are reported down, and regular travel will be interrupted for several days.

FENIAN SENATE.

CHICAGO, June 29.—The Senate of the Fenian Brotherhood is in session. It is understood they are preparing a programme of action on the Alabama claims, as far as they effect the Irish question.

CUBAN EXPEDITION SAILED.

NEW YORK, June 30.—It is now ascertained beyond a doubt that an expedition, consisting of 400 men, destined for Cuba, sailed from this port on Saturday night.

DEATH.

Lieut-Commander W. A. VanFleck, United States Navy, died last night of yellow fever, on board the hospital steamer 'Illinois.'

FROM ST. DOMINGO.

Advices from St. Domingo to the 8th inst, give particulars of an unsuccessful bombardment of Puerto Platto by the 'Telgrafo,' under Gen. Luberon, who is acting in concert with Ex-President Cabrali for the overthrow of the Baez Government. The bombardment was kept up for six days, but no material damage was done owing to the distance at which the 'Telegrafo' stationed herself.

Luberon and his crew have been declared pirates, and will be punished as such if captured.

A NEW AIR SHIP.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Recent successful experiments have been made in this city with the working model of a trial navigation machine. It not only ascended in the air but was propelled in any required direction by machinery. It is capable of conveying eight or ten persons, and is constructed with a view to the purpose of making a trip to New York. The inventor is confident that the trip can be made in twenty-four hours.

EXPEDITION CAPTURED.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The Cuban expedition which left this port on Saturday night was captured last night about forty miles down the Sound. All the tugs, men and arms will arrive at the Brooklyn Navy Yard under the escort of United States Gunboats and two Revenue Cutters, this afternoon.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no remedy has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it on hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of Colds—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From Rev. Francis Lobdell, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

Prepared by SETH W. FOWLE & SON, Boston, and for sale by Druggists generally. 17a35.

Grace's Celebrated Salve.

From Mr. E. Tucker, Depot Master at Salisbury, Mass.

"I have been troubled for years with a bad humor; sometimes outwardly and sometimes inwardly. During the past summer it manifested itself more than usual outwardly, and I used your Salve. All signs of it have since disappeared, without effecting me inwardly, indicating, I think, the eradicating nature of the Salve. SETH W. FOWLE & SON, Boston, Proprietors.

Man's Trials.

Dress, bonnets and shawls,
Shawls, bonnets and dress,
I am sick of the sight and would give them all,
For a lodge in some wilderness;
But my wife is a lady and is not content
With what homely old women should wear,
And my daughters prefer the huge chignon
To ears of their own glossy hair.

Paste, brushes and paint,
Paint, brushes and paste,
My heart is pained and my pocket drained,
By this long continued waste;
You may boast of the treasured of mines,
Or the riches of Lording or Peer,
It would take the wealth of all, I think,
To furnish my house for a year.

Wood, chips and coals,
Coals, chips and wood,
I have furnished them all as well as I can,
But my victuals are not cooked good;
You may talk of your bangueting halls,
Of fashion and gayeties rare,
I would rather have a warm dinner now,
To ease this stomach of mine.

In parlor and counting-house too,
It indeed is hard to attend,
And to meet your wife with approving smiles,
When you look on that 'Grecian Bend,'
To hold your tongue and be calm,
When you witness the horrid outlay,
And know that your funds are sinking low,
And your credit is gone to decay.

Oh, I wish I had never tried,
A husband's position to hold,
I would then keep on my broadcloth coat,
And rattle my silver and gold.
Oh, pity me, ye who dwell
In a hut on some bank cool and shady,
Oh, pity me, ye who know full well
What it is to be tied to a lady.

Tent Caterpillar.

We strongly urge the people of this section—gardners, orchardists, and farmers, especially—to immediately enter upon a war of extermination with this destructive insect. Scarcely a tree of any kind can be found that does not contain one or more nests, and each of these will, if not destroyed, within a few days turn out hundreds if not thousands of the caterpillars to devour the young foliage, and thus render a crop of fruit impossible. Every one is deeply interested in this matter, and should regard it a duty, to demolish the last vestage of a nest wherever found. The early hours of the morning is the proper time to push the work. A good plan is to wrap a piece of cloth on one end of a stick, and after dipping it in coal oil, thrust it into the nest, taking care to let none of the insects escape the bath. In cases when the nests can be readily reached, it is advisable to use a gun loaded only with powder. Here again we must put in a plea for the little birds. We believe it beyond all question that this affliction of caterpillars is attributable solely to the wanton destruction of insectivorous birds; and the weevil, midge and other insects would probably be unknown if the agriculturalist's natural assistants, the feathered tribes, were protected, instead of being slaughtered out of pure wantonness. Let the statute be stringently enforced, and every person who shoots a robin, oriole, cat-bird, night-hawk, blue-bird, swallow, or chick-a-dee, be promptly punished.—Windsor Journal.

A shrewd old gentleman once said to his daughter: "Be sure, my dear, you never marry a poor man; but remember that the poorest man in the world is one that has money and nothing else."

A young gentleman was escorting a young lady home, a mile or two, and not wishing to walk, he remarked: "Mary let's take a boss." But Mary, blushing to the eyebrows, drew back, and with modesty replied: "Oh, George, not right here in the street."

Mr. Aird, a noted London barrister, was a printer; so, too, was Douglass Jerrold, John Kitto, the editor of the pictorial Bible, was by trade a shoemaker; Dr. Livingstone was a factory operative; John Cassell a journeyman carpenter; and Wm. Gifford, the founder of The Edinburgh Review, first a cabin boy and then a shoemaker's apprentice.

—An election manœuvre in the olden time has just been quoted to show the mild style of the present, in comparison with former doings:—The non-resident freemen of Berwick-upon-Tweed, living in London, being put on board two vessels in the Thames, a few days previous to the election of 1768, in order to be conveyed to Berwick by water. Mr. Taylor, one of the candidates in opposition, covenanted with the naval commander of this election cargo, for the sum of £400, to land the freemen in Norway. This was accordingly done, and in consequence Mr. Taylor and Lord Delavan secured their seats without any further expense.

A ROTTEN SPOT.—An extraordinary phenomenon is reported from Peru. By volcanic action in the recent earthquakes a fissure has been opened in the dry bed of a former river, from which issues fetid water so pestiential in its exhalations that all animals but man fall dead when brought in the neighbourhood. Horses have dropped down at a distance of twelve miles from the fatal spring. The whole country around is thickly strewn with the carcasses of mules and the buzzards might revel in their unfailing repast if they, too, did not expire in the mephitic atmosphere. Rifle whiskey that kills at eighty yards, is nothing in comparison with this natural poison. The upas tree dwindles in its desolating effects. What the gasses are that are destructive to the inferior animals, yet work no injury to man, it would be worth the while of scientific men to inquire. The Peruvian government has ordered a careful investigation of the phenomenon.
